Mr. CROW. Mr. President, as Chairman of the Committee on Corporations that had this bill before it for consideration, and having later been the Chairman of the Committee of Conference on the part of the Senate and having in the meantime stood under the censure of standing obdurately against the enactment of any workman's compensation act, I feel that some word of explanation from me is due the Senate and the public at this time. In the argument against the workman's compensation bill, as offered in this Senate by the Commission, I stated that the opposition was not to the principle, but to the plan. We maintained that this compensation act had been drafted for the benefit and advantage of the trusts as against the small employers of labor. The allegation that we stood against this bill because we stood for the interest of these corporations was false. We were against this bill because we maintained that under its provisions the trusts would be given a greater grapple hold on the industries of this Commonwealth than were given to it under any tariff law that was ever enacted. After the amendment had been put into this bill reluctantly by the members of this Committee, having submitted that this bill was unreasonable and asking for some other proposition or some other plan, we were met with the statement that it was this bill or none and in the extremity of the situation we put into the bill the optional clause that prevented the middle man, the small employer of labor, from being swallowed up by the big corporations of the State. After the conference committee was appointed we were in frequent conference with members of this commission and finally another plan was submitted known as the insurance plan. We read that bill over, and what was the change? Absolutely none, so far as our contention was concerned. It only provided that the little fellow, if he did not feel able to meet the situation under the original bill, could take himself out from under it and take out State insurance, we said no. If we are to have a state insurance plan, let every corporation, big and little, come under its provisions. Let a reasonable rate be established that will not work confiscation to the small, unfortunate employer of labor." And the proponents of this bill said "No. We maintain that if the trusts or big corporations, with its fine equipment, with its new machinery, with its up-to-date appliances, can so reduce the loss of life and accidents in its operations to bring the cost of compensation down to one half of one per cent., as they can, they should have the advantage over the small employer of labor who burdened with debt and misfortune is unable to put into his plans the up-to-date machinery that would put him on a parity with the trusts; unable to do that through financial difficulties he should bear the whole burden and weight of the compensation act and the difference between the one half of one per cent. and six per cent., which they claim would be a proper and just charge against the small fellow." In other words a charge of five and one half per cent. on the pay roll in favor of the trusts and against the small employer of labor, was a proper plan of compensation, in order to give the trusts the advantage over the fellow who was unfortunate enough not to be able to equip his plant with machinery that put him on a parity with the big fellow. We submitted this plan in order to try it out; take a maximum assessment of two per cent. on the pay roll, take, if you please, one-half of one per cent. as a minimum. Let the Commission to be appointed graduate the charge of two per cent. as a maximum and one-half of one per cent. as a minimum, according to the hazard of the employment, and let the money be paid into the State treasury, the fund administered by the commission and the payment of the compensation guaranteed to the employees, instead of its payment being dependent upon the solvency or the insolvency of the employer. If there is a deficit at the end of the year, let the deficit be paid out of the State treasury in order to fasten upon the rich fellow, the fellow who has made his fortune and retired from active business, living in his castle, and basking in the sunshine of his pergola, contribute his share by paying the deficit out of the State treasury. The theory that because a man is the employer of labor, the burden for accidents that are the result of the act of Almighty God, as well as those for which he is otherwise in no wise responsible should be borne by him alone, I do not approve. I think that society, the people at large, have a common interest in this proposition and it is entirely equitable, that a part of the burden fall upon society as an institution. That plan was rejected because the proponents of this bill maintained that the advantage that the big fellow would have, that the corporations would have, with its finely equipped plant over the fellow who was unfortunate enough not to be able to so equip his, was an unfair proposition. And I feel, sitting here under the odium of the charge of standing for the big corporate interests of the State against labor, that I am entirely justified in making this statement.

Mr. NULTY. Mr. President, I am against the resolution. Two or three days ago after we had begun to look over it, and I read it for the first time, I thought it was a good thing, but I have changed my mind. What ought to take place is the discharge of the Committee of Conference on the Compensation act because I have been informed that a disagreement has taken place with the conferees representing the House. We are now approaching the closing hour of the session, and it is quite evident that the members of the Senate are opposed to the passage of the Workmen's Compensation Act, which has passed the House by an overwhelming majority. Gentlemen of the Senate, it will be the greatest mistake we have ever made if we adjourn the Senate without passing this important legislation. Twenty-four of the leading industrial States of our Union have passed compensation laws, many of which are more drastic than the law prepared by the Commission appointed by the Governor two years ago, which bill we are now considering. In view of the fact that every political party represented here and every Senator has been pledged to pass such legislation, I can picture the wrath of the deceived working man and the general public when it is plain to them that they have been purposely betrayed by the members of the Senate who are ignoring their pledge in opposing the passage of this legislation. The action of this Senate can be accounted for by the fact that a large number of its body are employees of labor, and the representatives of corporations who are here lobbying have been successful in inducing a large number of the Senators to oppose this legislation, which has been grossly misrepresented and very much misunderstood. The passage of this law means more than compensation; it means accidents prevented; it means that the factory and mining laws will be complied with and unusual precaution taken by employers to reduce or eliminate accidents. This law going into effect would mean the saving of hundreds of lives between now and the next session of the Legislature. Gentlemen, those opposing this humane legislation, which will mean the saving of hundreds of lives, the prevention of numerous accidents, the elimination of the misery and unhappiness that results therefrom, must and shall assume the responsibility. The blood of the unfortunate victims of the industrial accidents that will occur and could be prevented by the passage of this act will be on the hands of men who have opposed its enactment, and the wails of the widows and orphans, the groans of the industrial wounded shall ring in their ears continuously because of their failure to live up to the pledges you have made to the people you represent. It is within your power to conserve human life that is being unnecessarily sacrificed and stopped with the terrible slaughter that is now daily taking place in our industries. Your failure to discharge this committee of Senators, all of whom are the bitterest opponents of this humane legislation, will you make yourselves accessories to this criminal proceeding. It was evident from the selection of the committee that favorable action was impossible. As usual you will seek to conceal yourselves behind precedent and Senatorial courtesy, but gentlemen, if you are sincere such proceeding will not deter you from doing your duty and fulfilling the pledge made to the people of the Commonwealth. It is such betrayal of trust that has made the people clamor for the initiative, the referendum and recall. Let us discharge this conference committee, let the consideration to the Senate chamber, strike out the vicious amendments inserted in the Senate committee, restore the bill to its original form as prepared by the Commission, which was appointed two years ago by the action of the Legislature, give to the laboring men the bill as it has been approved by them, the passage of which has been urgently requested by the back bone and sinew of this State, which is labor, and you will be doing your full duty to them.

Mr. HILTON. Mr. President, just a word, I am against this resolution. A very able commission was appointed two years ago to investigate an act of this kind and present it to us. They gave a great study to an act of this kind and it is what is the most practical kind of a law you can have upon that line. The Conference Committee of the House reports to me that the Conference Committee of the Senate absolutely refused to take out the optional clause that was put in in the Senate. In my opinion, that optional clause makes a farce of the bill. I am a large employer of labor, my partner and I employ over four hundred men, and while we favor this bill and wish to come under it yet if you make some optional clause, as it is today, it is human nature for us to take advantage of it and not come under the act, so for that reason I do not think you can get any benefit out of any act unless everybody is compelled to come under it. In that way we get a compensation act that is equal to all. Now rather than pass this resolution to continue unto another session I would rather see it go before the next campaign and bring it up before next Legislature as a recommendation of this commission, instead of having any new kind of an act and I hope the members of the Senate will vote it down and let us make an issue of it at the next campaign and unless we get the compensation act that is before the Senate, we will find that the next session of the State Legislature will pass this act, if not a more drastic one.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Hilton?

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from McKean, Mr. Hilton, allow himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HILTON. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from McKean, Mr. Hilton, if he does not often have discounts at bank the same as any other business man in the running of his business.

Mr. HILTON. Mr. President, Yes, sir.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, on which he pays six per cent. Is that not true?

Mr. HILTON. Mr. President, Yes, sir.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, now under the compensation act you are paying six per cent. on the pay roll and the large employer of labor would have to pay but one-half of one per cent. on the pay roll. How are you going to do business with such competition?

Mr. HILTON. Mr. President, I will answer the Senator from Philadelphia in this way, that anybody can bring up an argument against a bill by certain questions of this kind, by bringing out some details that we are not familiar with, but I am going to state this that we are not afraid to meet the new conditions and believe that it will work out in justice to us all. I realize that certain things have got to be worked out by the practice and I am confident that it will work out in justice not only to the employee but to the employer.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, has the Senator from McKean any liability insurance now?

Mr. HILTON. Mr. President, about a year ago the Superintendent of our works took out insurance something like you speak of.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, I am talking about your firm not your superintendent, you are a member of the firm,—the firm.

Mr. HILTON. Mr. President, if the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. McNichol, allows me to answer the question, I will do it. I do not propose to be interrupted when I am trying to answer this question? I made the answer that the superintendent of our works notified me that he had taken out a little insurance as a speculation a short time ago and we had one man injured and we tried to collect the insurance and the agent came around and made the statement that they would make no payment unless it was enforced by a law suit. With this compensation act it is another proposition. We do not want to go into courts and have difficulties of that kind. There is no protection to employers in insurance of that kind.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, don't you think it is a proper thing to insure and pay the premium to insurance companies for the purpose of compensating your men, as all business men throughout the country are doing today.

Mr. HILTON. Mr. President, I am willing to admit that there are several different kinds or ways of handling the question. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. McNichol, may have one way, I may have another. I think as a body we had better take the way of the commission, that have spent two years in studying this question. I think this is as fair to small men as to large men.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, from what source has the Senator from McKean, Mr. Hilton, gathered that information.

Mr. HILTON. Mr. President, as I said before I am willing to take the recommendation of that commission and from what investigation I have made in a rough way I am satisfied with it.

Mr. NULTY. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. McNichol.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. McNichol permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. NULTY. Mr. President, I am in the undertaking business in the City of Philadelphia. I have four instances where insurance was taken out and when they went to the companies they were told they had no case. The firm by which they were employed said "we had nothing to do with it; it is up to the insurance companies." The insurance companies said to the families "we only protect the employer as far as a law suit is concerned, if they are brought in the court, and they must go in the courts to get it." I don't know how many others in the same business have had similar cases.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, in any accident upon any work that we are engaged in and we have employed five thousand men, each man has received his compensation from the insurance company which is one of the most reputable in the United States, and anything over the amount of compensation that the insurance company is liable for, the firm with which I am connected makes up the balance. I can't answer for any other insurance companies and if the gentleman will deal with some fake insurance companies, that is another question.

Mr. HILTON. Mr. President, A few years ago we were erecting a building and we put twenty-four rafters in that building, and in the rush to try to get the building completed we neglected to put braces under those rafters, and along towards the fall of the year a heavy snow storm came up and some of the rafters fell and came down on a workman and almost killed him, and he was laid up for two or three years. The reason I remember this is there was a case where the employee came near losing his life through carelessness of the employer, and the thought occurred to me at the time, that if we had a workman's compensation act, we would have naturally been insured to protect ourselves against this workman's compensation act and insurance companies would have compelled us to have those braces under those rafters just the same as they would compel us to have devices through our factory to protect them from any other kind of an accident, and I believe that employers if we have an act of that kind will protect themselves and that is not only fair to the employee but to the employer.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. HILTON and Mr. FARLEY and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—38.

Alexander,	Endsley,	Jones,	Mills,
Beidleman,	Gerberich,	Judson,	Morgan,

RECESS.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, I move the Senate do now take a recess until two o'clock.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

AFTER RECESS.

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed the Senate will be in order.

ELECTION OF PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORARY.

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer resolution at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. SPROUL offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

Resolved that the Senate do now proceed to the election of a President pro tempore whose term of office shall commence with the final adjournment of the Legislature and that the clerks act as tellers.

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. President, I am directed by the Caucus of the Republicans in the Senate to present the Honorable Charles H. Kline of Allegheny County as their candidate for President Pro Tempore of the Senate.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, I second the nomination.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I present the name of the Honorable James A. Miller of Lehigh County as the candidate of the caucus of the Democratic members for President, Pro Tempore of the Senate.

Mr. WASBERS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, I move that the nominations be now closed.

Mr. CATLIN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The PRESIDENT. The roll will be called by the Chief Clerk.

The roll was taken as follows:

For Mr. Kline.

Alexander,	Endsley,	Magee,	Salus,
Beldleman,	Graft,	Martin,	Sensenich,
Buckman,	Gerberlich,	McIlhenny,	Sheatz,
Catlin,	Homsher,	McNichol,	Snyder,
Clark,	Hunter,	McNichols,	Sproul,
Cooper,	Jarrett,	Miller,	Thompson
Crow,	Jones,	Mills,	Vare,
Dalx,	Kurtz,	Moore,

For Mr. Miller.

DeWitt,	Heacock,	Judson,	Nulty,
Farley,	Hilton,	Kline,	Sones,
Hall,	Huffman,	Morgan,	Wasbers,

The PRESIDENT. The Clerks agree in their tally and the result of their ballot is Mr. Kline thirty-one votes and Mr. Miller, twelve votes. Mr. Kline having received a majority of all the votes cast he is elected President pro tempore of the Senate to serve until the next session of the Legislature. The Chair appoints the Senator from Delaware, Mr. Sproul, and the Senator from Lehigh, Mr. Miller, as a committee to escort the newly-elected President pro tempore to the Chair.

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. President, I have the honor to present to you the newly-elected President pro tempore of the Senate, Hon. Charles H. Kline of Allegheny County.

OATH OF OFFICE ADMINISTERED TO PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORARY.

The PRESIDENT. The oath of office will be administered to the newly elected President pro tempore by Hon. George Kunkel, President Judge of the Twelfth Judicial District.

And the oath of office was accordingly administered.

The PRESIDENT. Senators, I present to you the Honorable Charles H. Kline, who has been duly elected President pro tempore of the Senate for the interim, an honorable member of your body who has well earned this distinction. (Applause).

Mr. KLINE. Mr. President and Members of the Senate of Pennsylvania:—I assure you that I appreciate very much indeed the great honor you have conferred upon me this day in electing me your President for the recess of 1913 and 1914. It is the greatest honor that can come to a member of the Legislative branch of our State and who would not feel proud to be the presiding officer over such a representative body of men of a State that whose people by the nobility of their nature and the majesty of their intellect, have made the grand old Keystone State preeminent among the States that go to make up our great and glorious Nation.

As this is for the recess only, it would be useless for me this day to speak of principles and policies. Every man in this Senate is, to a certain degree, interested in politics for he believes it is the duties which he owes to organized society to which he belongs and through which we can boast of the onward march of progress of our great and glorious Nation. So, today I am going to take up your time for a few moments in the discussion of a much misinterpreted word and much misunderstood man, the man who believes in doing his duty to his State and Nation and that word and that man is Politician.

I was born and raised in a community where I imbibed an idea that is very rare in these muckraking days; that a man who takes an active interest in public affairs, and that is all a politician is, was not necessarily a knave and was not despised and rejected of men. I imbibed another idea; that because a man took an interest in public affairs, which led him to fill offices, that he did not necessarily sponge the ten Commandments from his slate, nor leave the Golden Rule out of his daily diet. I share in the opinion of that great diplomat, one of the grandest Representatives the United States has ever had at the Court of St. James who well said, make the actual politician as disreputable as you please, the business of politics remains the highest of human concerns.

Was it not the immortal Lincoln who so beautifully said: "We are the heirs of those brave men and women who brought upon this Continent a new Nation conceived in liberty and dedicated to the proposition that all men are equal." And I add, born of humanity's upward struggle, cradled in education, nurtured upon the true principles of democracy and warned by the radiant sunbeams that emanate from Calvary's Holy Cross. Was it not he, whom his contemporaries called the common ordinary politician when he sagely said, "Honest statesmanship is the wise employment of individual meanness for the public good."

It is neither fair, honest, nor just, nor indeed a sign of good wisdom to judge the whole class of public servants by the weakness and dishonesty of a few, but it is fair to apply to political men, as a class, the same tests and gauges as to other classes of men and things. Would it be right to say there is no honesty among bankers because a few have been dishonest; that there are no good marriages because of an occasional divorce suit; that all doctors are quacks because one or more has been bred by them; that there are no good churches on account of a few back-sliders; no patriots because there was an Arnold; no soldiers because there are deserters; nor no true Apostles because there was a Judas—no no. I have learned to judge men in political life by the same standards I measure out for myself and those I meet in every walk of life.

Let us protest against the unreasonable and unfair spirit of National, State City and County suspicion and injustice; that spirit that stamped Washington as a selfish self seeker, John Marshall as a pliant tool of party, Abraham Lincoln as a political schemer and William McKinley as a time server; that spirit that has crushed the hopes and poisoned the minds of a long line of public servants in low and high places: that spirit that has never made any men better because it never strengthened them by confidence.

I desire to array myself with that grand army of men who feel that the way to make better legislators in Nation and in State, better Governors of Commonwealths, better Mayors of cities, is to seek for and see what good there is in them rather than to assume that each and every one are bad. Let us always remember to get good out of any man, the glad-hand discounts the cynics tongue every time.

In conclusion, my friends, permit me to say, fear not the unjust criticisms of the pessimist and maligner for they are neither a benefit to themselves nor their country. Do that duty toward yourself and your fellowmen as you see it and the whole world will applaud you and ere long I hope to see ushered in that grand-millennium for which all Christendom yearns "confidence in ones fellowmen."

Mr. HALL. Mr. President, I cannot refrain from adding something to what the President pro tempore has said. I feel sure that I voice the sentiments of this side of the chamber in the minority when I say that there is no man in this House more entitled to the honor than Hon. Charles H. Kline. We of course are sorry that our colleague, Senator Miller, was not elected but that is the fortune of politics, but we all think, I believe we do, that we could not have gotten a better man than Senator Kline.

RESOLUTION THANKING HON. GEORGE KUNKEL, PRESIDENT JUDGE TWELFTH JUDICIAL DISTRICT FOR ADMINISTERING OATH OF OFFICE TO PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE.

Mr. BEIDLEMAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. BEIDLEMAN offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

Resolved, That the thanks of the Senate be extended to the Hon. George Kunkel, President Judge of the Courts of Dauphin county for his favor and courtesy in administering the oath of office to the duly elected President pro tempore the Honorable Charles H. Kline.

COMMUNICATIONS FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Secretary of the Governor being introduced presented communications in writing from His Excellency the Governor of the Commonwealth which were read as follows:

APPROVAL OF SENATE BILL NO. 1146.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, June 27, 1913.
To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen:—I have the honor to advise you that I have this day approved and signed Senate Bill No. 1146, entitled "An Act to amend an act approved the twentieth day of June one thousand nine hundred and one entitled 'An Act relating to the collection of city school and poor taxes in the several cities of the third class in this Commonwealth and providing that the city treasurer of each of said cities by virtue of his office shall be the collector of the said several taxes prescribing his duties and fixing his compensation' by extending to August first the date for the payment of taxes."

JOHN K. TENER.

APPROVAL OF SENATE BILL NO. 881.

Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, June 27, 1913.
To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen:—I have the honor to advise you that I have this day approved and signed Senate Bill No. 881, entitled "An Act to permit viewers to award damages for the vacation of streets roads or highways to abutting owners where no land is actually taken."

JOHN K. TENER.

APPROVAL OF SENATE BILL NO. 363.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, June 27, 1913.
To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen:—I have the honor to advise you that I have this day approved and signed Senate Bill No. 363, entitled "An Act to authorize all cities and boroughs in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to construct and maintain comfort and waiting stations and drinking fountains in the public highways of such municipalities and providing the manner of ascertaining and collecting the damages caused by the construction of such improvements."

JOHN K. TENER.

APPROVAL OF SENATE BILL NO. 120.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, June 27, 1913.
To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen:—I have the honor to advise you that I have this day approved and signed Senate Bill No. 120, entitled "An Act regulating pay of election officers and Clerks at certain elections hereafter held within this Commonwealth."

JOHN K. TENER.

APPROVAL OF SENATE BILL NO. 13.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, June 27, 1913.
To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen:—I have the honor to advise you that I have this day approved and signed Senate Bill No. 13, entitled "An Act providing for the incorporation regulation and government of cities of the third class regulating nomination and election of municipal officers therein and repealing consolidating and extending existing laws in relation thereto."

JOHN K. TENER.

VETO OF SENATE BILL NO. 436.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, June 27, 1913.
To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

I return herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 436, entitled: "An Act permitting building associations or other corporations whose charters have expired or whose affairs have been wound up to satisfy mortgages."

A similar bill was vetoed in 1911, and House Bill No. 1316 of this Session, which is identical in form with this bill, was on May 22, 1913 disapproved.

For the reasons therein given this bill is not approved.

JOHN K. TENER.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass, the objections of the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding?

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. President, I move that the question, together with the further consideration of the question be postponed for the present.

Mr. CROW. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

VETO OF SENATE BILL NO. 992.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, June 27, 1913.
To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen:—I return herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 992, entitled:

"An Act providing for the rechartering of building and loan associations after expiration of their charter and for the taking over of all of the property and assets by the re-chartered corporation."

The general corporation Act of April 29, 1874, provides for the renewal of charters of building and loan associations which are about to expire.

This bill, if it were to become a law, would authorize the re-chartering of such corporations whose charters have expired without limitations as to the time for making application for such recharter. Under such a law the charter of a building and loan association might expire to-day, and could be re-chartered upon application twenty-five years after such expiration.

For this reason the bill is not approved.

JOHN K. TENER.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass, the objections of the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I move that the question, together with the further consideration of the bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. HUNTER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL OVER IN ORDER.

Mr. CROW. Mr. President, I ask that Senate Bill No. 1262 (House Bill No. 117), on third reading, entitled:

An Act to regulate nominations and elections for all offices of judge of a court of record providing for non-partisan nominations and elections for said offices abolishing certain existing methods of nomination in such cases and the use of party or political names or appellations at elections with respect to said offices imposing certain duties upon the Secretary of the Commonwealth county commissioners and election officers and clerks and providing penalties for the violation of the provisions hereof and the punishment of certain offenses go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1325 (House Bill No. 969), as follows:

An Act relative to commissioners of townships of the first class and regulating their term and election

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That at the municipal election held in the year one thousand nine hundred and fifteen and quadrennially thereafter the qualified electors of each township of the first class shall elect the commissioners for such township who shall serve for a term of four years from the first Monday of January next succeeding such election If such township shall have five or more election districts the qualified electors of each district shall each elect one commissioner. If such township shall have four election districts the qualified voters of the district having polled the largest vote at the preceding election shall elect two commissioners and the remaining district each one commissioner. If the township shall have but three election districts the qualified voters of the two districts polling the largest vote at the preceding election shall each elect two commissioners and in the remaining district one commissioner. If the township shall have but two election districts the qualified voters in the district polling the largest vote at the preceding election shall elect three commissioners and in the other district two commissioners shall be elected. If the township has but one election district the qualified voters of such district shall elect five commissioners. The terms of the present commissioners of townships of the first class are hereby extended to the first Monday of January one thousand nine hundred and sixteen.

Section 2. All acts and parts of act inconsistent with this act are hereby repealed.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to.

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HEACOCK. Mr. President, I wish to call the attention of the members of the Senate to this bill and its features. It is a bill to increase the length of the term of commissioners of townships of the first class from two years to four years and to increase the term of the present incumbents whose terms expire on January 1st next, to two years. Mr. President, the county which I have the honor to represent has five townships of the first class. These commissioners' terms expire next January and there is no desire by anybody that I have heard of in those districts that their term should be increased two years, except the incumbents, who are not willing to have the question submitted to a vote of the people, and I sincerely trust that the members of this Senate will not pass this bill. They were certainly not elected for that purpose.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, this bill, as has been said by the Senator from Montgomery, Mr. Heacock, regulates the term of office of Commissioners in townships of the first class and does extend their term for a short time, but that is done only so that their terms of office may conform to the terms of the amended Constitution of the State. These commissioners receive no salary whatever, they serve entirely without compensation, and I therefore see no reason for increasing their terms, so that their election may come up at the time which will be in accordance with the Constitution of the State as amended and I therefore hope that the Senate will pass this bill.

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. President, I do not like to disagree with my neighbor from Montgomery, but the Commissioners of our first class township are very strongly in favor of this bill. It simply does in first class townships what has already been provided for in all other municipal subdivisions of the State, the cities, boroughs and other townships, inasmuch as it makes the offices comply with the new constitutional amendment regulating municipal elections and terms of office.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, this bill is not necessary to make it comply with the Constitutional amendment. The real intention of this bill is to extend the terms of certain present officers two years more without going before the people. There is no reason why this bill should go through except that, and that is the reason why it should not go through. First class townships in Pennsylvania are municipalities and these office holders have an extremely great amount of power and unless there is some restriction regulating the first class townships, as there is in boroughs where there are town councils and other officers, it seems to me unwise to extend this power without vote before the people.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—22.

Alexander,
Beidleman,
Buckman, Catlin,

BILL OVER IN ORDER.

Mr. CROW. Mr. President, I ask that Senate Bill No. 1896 (House Bill No. 1588), on third reading, entitled:

An Act regulating political parties providing for and regulating the nomination of candidates of political parties for certain public offices election of delegates and alternate delegates to National party conventions State Committee-men and of certain party officers a method whereby electors of political parties may express their choice of candidates for the office of President of the United States and their reimbursement by the State of the expenses of the same also providing for the nomination at fall primaries of candidates for the office of Judge of the Supreme and Superior Courts when such office is to be filled at a municipal election and providing penalties for the violation of the provisions of this act and for the punishment of certain offences provided for herein and repealing inconsistent legislation go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON SECOND READING.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON HOUSE BILL NO. 984.

He also laid before the Senate communication from the House of Representatives informing the Senate that the House of Representatives has adopted the report of the Committee of Conference on House Bill No. 984, entitled:

An Act to provide for the registration and enrollment of voters of the State according to their respective party preferences fixing the compensation of registry assessors for making said registration and enrollment and prescribing penalties for false registration or enrollment and for voters voting or attempting to vote and for election officers permitting or conspiring to permit them to vote at a primary by or on any other than their own party ticket

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the consideration of the report of the Committee of Conference on House Bill No. 984, as follows:

To the Members of the Senate and House of Representatives:

We, the undersigned, Committee on Conference on the part of the Senate and House of Representatives for the purpose of considering House Bill No. 984, entitled "An Act to provide for the registration and enrollment of the voters of the State according to their respective party preferences, fixing the compensation of assessors or registry assessors for making said registration and enrollment and prescribing penalties for false registration or enrollment and for voters voting or attempting to vote and for election officers wilfully permitting or conspiring to permit them to vote at a primary by or on any other than their own party ticket," beg leave to submit the following amended bill as our report.

J. P. McNICHOL,
W. E. CROW,
J. K. P. HALL,

Committee on the part of the Senate.

JOHN W. FLYNN,
CHARLES J. RONEY, JR.,
JOHN F. LOWERS,

Committee on the part of the House of Representatives.

An Act to provide for the registration and enrollment of the voters of the State according to their respective party preferences fixing the compensation of assessors and registry assessors for making said registration and enrollments and prescribing penalties for false registration or enrollment and for voters voting or attempting to vote and for election officers wilfully permitting or conspiring to permit them to vote at a primary by or on any other than their own party ticket

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That at each and every registration of voters held under any of the election and registration laws of this State whether it is a personal registration or otherwise and in all cities counties boroughs townships and all other districts there shall be a registration and enrollment of the voters according to their respective party preferences and affiliations. Provided however that if at any time the laws of this Commonwealth shall provide for the nomination of a candidate or candidates for any office or offices at non-partisan primaries then and in that case every enrolled or registered qualified elector shall be entitled to receive and vote such non-partisan primary ballot in accordance with the provisions of the law authorizing and establishing such primary

Section 2 In all election districts in cities of the first second and third classes where personal registration is required any elector desiring to participate in the primaries of any party shall at the time of registration state under oath to the registering officers the name of the party of which he is a member and whose ballot he desires to vote at the primaries and it shall then be the duty of the proper registering officers to write the name of such party opposite the name of the elector on the registration list in a column which it is hereby made the duty of the Registration Commissioners to provide in the registration books for that purpose. If any elector about to register and enroll as a member of a party is challenged he shall not be registered as a member of that party unless he makes oath before the said registrars that at the last preceding November election at which he voted he voted for a majority of the candidates of that party. Provided however That the group of Presidential electors shall be counted as two candidates And provided further That any qualified voter may enroll as a member of any party which has secured by order of the court of common pleas of Dauphin county the exclusive use of a party name or political appellation for the ensuing primary. If a voter does not desire to vote at a primary election he shall not be required to answer as to his party affiliation or membership and such party affiliation or membership shall not be recorded.

When an elector in cities of the first second and third classes registers his political party at the fall registration he may vote the ballot of that party at the succeeding fall and spring primary. Should he change his political affiliation by voting for a majority of candidates of some other party at the November election and desire to change his party vote at the spring primary he may appear before the registrars of his division at the spring registration and upon taking oath that at the preceding November election he voted for a majority of candidates of some other party it shall be the duty of the registrars to change his political designation on the register and if otherwise qualified he may vote the ballot of the said party at the spring primary. Any elector who has registered at the fall registration but did not designate his political party may appear before the registrars of his division at the spring registration and under oath designate the party of which he is a member and for whom he desires to vote at the ensuing spring primary provided he takes oath if challenged that at the last preceding November election at which he voted he voted for a majority of candidates of that party and if otherwise qualified he may vote the ballot of said party at the spring primary. Provided however That the group of Presidential electors shall be counted as two candidates and Provided further That any qualified elector may enroll as a member of any party which has secured by order of the court of common pleas of Dauphin county the exclusive use of a party name or political appellation for the ensuing primary.

Section 3 In all election districts (other than in cities of the first second and third classes) the registry assessor shall within forty-five days after the approval of this act make an enrollment of each voter residing within the district in which he is authorized to make an assessment and registration of voters and thereafter at the time of making the annual assessment in addition to the duties now authorized and required by law make an enrollment of all the voters in his district. Said assessor or registry assessor shall leave at the residence of each and every voter in his district found to be absent when his residence is visited by the assessor or registry assessor at the time of making the annual assessment a certificate of enrollment which shall be in the following form

Certificate of Enrollment

Date.....191..

I.....a duly qualified voter residing inelection district hereby declare that I desire to be enrolled as a member of the..... party and express my desire to vote the ticket of theparty at the.....primary election next ensuing and request that my name be enrolled on the assessor's list as a member of said party for the purpose of participating in said primary or primaries

(Signature of Elector)

Witness.....
(Address)

The above certificate of enrollment shall be furnished to each assessor or registry assessor by the county commissioners of the various counties at the time of the delivery of said assessor's books by the county commissioners

Section 4 The assessor or registry assessor making the enrollment in districts other than in cities of the first second and third classes shall ascertain if possible at the time of making the annual assessment by personal inquiry of the elector the party politics preferences or affiliations of the elector and note and record the same with the residence and other particulars required in making the assessment and in case the elector is not at his residence at the time the said assessor or registry assessor visits the residence of the elector he shall leave a certificate of enrollment which the elector may fill out and give to the assessor or registry assessor at some time prior to or on the sixty-second or sixty-third day preceding each primary at which time said assessor or registry assessor shall sit at the polling place and receive said certificate at which time the same shall be recorded by the assessor or registry assessor in the register

Section 5 The county commissioners shall have the register so prepared as to permit the assessor or registry assessor to insert the party enrollment of each elector Upon the receipt of the certificate of enrollment from the elector the assessor or registry assessor shall insert in the registry after said elector's name his party enrollment. Provided however If an elector has at any time received party enrollment under the provisions of this act it shall be the duty of the assessor or registry assessor to insert in the said registry from year to year at the time of making the annual assessment said party enrollment after the name of the said elector until such time as a certificate of enrollment is presented to or filed with him by the said elector to a contrary effect. Each elector not already enrolled desiring to participate in the primaries must file with the assessor or registry assessor his enrollment certificate. If an elector does not desire to vote at a primary election he shall not be required to sign or execute the above certificate as to his party affiliation or membership and such party affiliation shall not be recorded

Section 6 If an elector in districts other than in cities of the first second and third classes enrolled as a member of a party is challenged at the primaries as to his party enrollment he shall make oath before the election officers that at the last preceding November election at which he voted he voted for a majority of the candidates of that party. Provided however That the group of Presidential electors shall be counted as two candidates

Section 7 The assessors or registry assessors shall be entitled to the same per diem compensation for sitting at the polling places on the sixty-second and sixty-third days preceding each primary as is now allowed by law for the making of the original annual assessment which shall be paid in the manner now authorized by law

Section 8 Should the registrars assessors or registry assessors make a mistake in recording an elector's party the said elector may have the registry corrected amended or altered so as to secure a correct registration in the same manner and by the same processes as are provided by law for the correction and amendment of the registry in other particulars. Provided That such amendments shall not be made later than ten days before any primary election at which the voter desires or intends to vote

Section 9 An elector duly registered and enrolled as a member of a political party if otherwise qualified may vote the ballot of said party at a primary subject to the provisions of this act. No elector enrolled and registered as a member of any one particular party shall be allowed to receive or vote the ballot of any other political party at a primary election and no elector who is not enrolled and registered as a member of some political party shall be permitted to vote at any primary election

Section 10 Any registrar assessor or registry assessor willfully violating any of the provisions of this act or wilfully registering any false statement of an elector or registering as the member of a political party one whom he knows not to be such or excluding from a party registry or enrollment any voter whom he knows to be entitled thereto shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and on conviction thereof shall be punished by imprisonment for not more than one (1) year and a fine of not more than one thousand dollars ($1,000) or either or both in the discretion of the court

Section 11 Any elector who shall wilfully make any false affidavit or statement to any registry assessor or registry assessor with intent to procure the false party enrollment or registration of himself or of any other voter shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and on conviction thereof shall be punished by imprisonment for not more than one (1) year and a fine of not more than one thousand dollars ($1,000) or either or both in the discretion of the court

Section 12 Any voter or elector of this Commonwealth willfully voting or attempting to vote at any primary election in violation of the provisions of this act or any election officer wilfully receiving or conspiring to receive the vote of any elector casting the ballot as an elector of any political party not qualified as a member of said party under the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by imprisonment for not more than one (1) year and a fine of not more than one thousand dollars ($1,000) or either or both in the discretion of the court

Section 13 All laws or acts of Assembly inconsistent or in conflict herewith be and the same are hereby repealed

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

BILL RECOMMENDED.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 1262 (House Bill No. 117), entitled:

An Act to regulate nominations and elections for all offices of judge of a court of record providing for non-partisan nominations and elections for said offices abolishing certain existing methods of nomination in such cases and the use of party or political names or appellations at elections with respect to said offices imposing certain duties upon the

Secretary of the Commonwealth county commissioners and election officers and clerks and providing penalties for the violation of the provisions hereof and the punishment of certain offenses be recommended to the Committee on Elections.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

PRESENTATION OF TESTIMONIAL TO HON. DANIEL P. GERBERICH.

Mr. SPROUL. At this time of the Legislative Session, when the work has been all completed and the acrimonious feeling that sometimes characterizes legislative bodies has all been mellowed in good feeling and fraternizing, it becomes the duty and prerogative of the oldest member of the Senate to present to the retiring President Pro Tempore some little evidence of the regard and affection and esteem in which his fellow members have held him. Now it is a very particularly pleasing duty for me at this time to present in behalf of the members and officers of the Senate to our retiring President pro tempore the beautiful silverware which is assembled upon this table. Coming in at a time in the history of the Senate when high political feeling ran and presiding here through a long and tedious session, our distinguished Senator from Lebanon has at all times maintained himself with that fairness and composure and dignity which should characterize the presiding officer of this body and has further endeared himself to all the officers and members connected with this Senate. He has been at all times absolutely fair and impartial and has treated everybody with courtesy, and many times under hard circumstances has kept his temper well and has maintained the best traditions of the high office which he has filled. Years ago, when I was a young man like Uncle Dan, and was President of this body, I received a beautiful testimonial here and I want to say there is nothing that I have in my possession that is more precious to me, outside of the live folks there, than the evidence given here that the Senate of Pennsylvania held me in great regard. I am sure when the Senator from Lebanon, Mr. Gerberich, goes home and takes this silverware with him he will feel like I have and every President has, and that he will always prize it most highly and will hand it down to his children and his children's children, as an evidence of the regard and esteem which the members of this body have felt for you. It is my earnest wish and the wish of every member of this body and of all those here that this beautiful present of silver will always reflect the same handsome face of Senator Gerberich, and today I have great pleasure in presenting you on behalf of the officers and members of this body this silver testimonial.

Mr. GERBERICH. My dear friend Senator Sproul, fellow members and clerks of the Senate, words fail to express my feeling. I have been with you for half a year occupying a position which I did not well merit. I have not done anything that I should not have done to merit your kindness to me at this time to this extent. I have simply done what I felt it my duty to do and sometimes fell short of that. The kindness that I have received from every member of this body is one of the greatest legacies that I take with me and entertain in my heart as long as I live, and it has been indeed a pleasure from the time you elected me to that position until this time. Not one incident has happened that marred the pleasure and the good fellowship that has been maintained all this session. I can only say, "Thank you" and thank you and particularly thank you in behalf of my good wife and daughter-in-law. I know it will be an heirloom and a memento which shall always call up in my mind this momentous occasion to me, and I shall always have, I know, the warmest feeling and kindest words and good wishes for you boys for the assistance you have given me in my work. I thank you again, that is all I can say.

PRESENTATION OF TESTIMONIAL TO HON. ARCHIBALD W. POWELL.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President and fellow members of the Senate, It devolves upon me to act as your representative in presenting this testimonial to our former Senator and now Auditor General of this great Commonwealth, Hon. Archibald W. Powell. On these occasions we who have been associated together begin to realize that the word friendship is truly represented. In our battles and differences in this body, and in the contentions of opposite political faiths, all of us in this chamber at least have maintained the personal regard, personal welfare and friendship of one another. Upon his retiring from this chamber it was thought appropriate that the Senators and the officers of this body should give some expression of their feeling of delight that one of our members had been taken and elevated to the high office he now occupies. I trust that he will receive it in a spirit it has been given to him, that he will take it to his home, and in the years to come will look back upon it with the some degree of kindness, friendship and loyalty to us, as we do to him, and that he will enjoy long life and good health and enjoy the memento or souvenir which we now present him. Mr. Powell, I have the pleasure of presenting you this testimonial as an offering on a part of the Senate.

Mr. POWELL. Mr. President, it seems hard for one who has fought as hard as you know I have always fought for a particular brand of opinion, not because I believed it was the only particular opinion, but that it was mine, and I fought for it because it was mine,—I say it seems hard for me to realize that other members of the Senate feel toward me as I have always felt toward them, that no matter what particular brand of opinion a man has, no matter what particular affiliations, party or otherwise, that he might have, so long as he is sincere in that opinion and so long as he is loyal to the opinion which he has, whether in my opinion good or bad, that that man was a man, and that he was my friend to that extent. They tell me that in the service of the army men very soon get rid of the husk and the frills of life and get down to the kernel and to the real man under the uniform or in the clothes. In two or three days there will be gathered on a battlefield, and I believe it to be the greatest battlefield in our history, which is located within the confines of our Commonwealth, men who wore uniforms of different colors fifty years ago, men who fought each other all day and hours into the night, after long marches, and who, when the fighting was over for that particular day, met at the same spring and took their turn filling up the Union or the Confederate canteen, whichever it might be, and the next day the fight continued and the same men who on the night before filled their canteens at the same spring, swapped tobacco and told stories, fought all the better because the night before they had fraternized together. And I assure you that no man who ever went out of the Senate of Pennsylvania with more reward for it than do I, and no man ever went out of the Senate of Pennsylvania with a higher opinion of the body which he left than I. The members representing here the fifty Senatorial districts of this great Commonwealth to my mind have a higher duty and a higher office than the members representing the Congressional districts in the Congress of the United States. You are here, and we were here, to legislate for a Commonwealth of seven millions of people and time after time I have seen one Senator sincere for the interests of his district absolutely aligned against another Senator equally sincere for the needs of the people of his district, and it was only through lack of vision, lack of time only, that lack of a correct interpretation of sentiment and the proper conception of the needs of other districts. It is hard for a man in the great cities to know what the men living on the ridges of Fulton County want and it is hard for the men on the ridges of Fulton County to know what are the needs of the great cities. I have been sitting in this chamber for some time and when I was called here I was just working on one more bill upon which Senators have after long, arduous labor, long fightings and long misunderstanding substantially agreed. I never questioned the integrity of any member of this chamber, I would be the last man to do it. I have differed with a great many Senators here and they have differed with me. Of course, in my opinion, they were wrong, and in their opinion I was wrong, but we have always been personal friends and I think that is true of every Senator I ever sat with. If I ever did any Senator in the State of Pennsylvania any wrong I do not know it and it was unintentional. The world has always been much better to me than I have been to the world and I have always liked the Irish idea of getting mercy and not justice. I have never been one of the men who have gone around with a pessimistic face demanding justice. I do not want justice. I want a little bit more if I can get it, and am willing to get a little bit more if I can get it, and I can say the world, as the Senate of Pennsylvania, has always been so much better to me than I have been to it, but I cannot fully express the appreciation which I feel at the magnificent present you have given me.

I assure you I shall cherish it and shall long cherish the memories of my service in the Senate of Pennsylvania and the friendships thereof. There is no way to express what men really feel after long, hard service, fighting, battling, backward and forward, with reference to the desires and intentions and misunderstandings and misconceptions of the purposes of others. When all is said and done, I do not believe that there is a Senator in the State of Pennsylvania who even in the heat of a fight gets over, and some of the Senators have been out to that test even in the heat of a fight just over when the people in the galleries and the people of the State would think there is great bitterness between them, I do not believe there is any Senator who would intentionally do a meanness or wrong to a fellow Senator, and that is the highest tribute I can pay to this body or any other body. I respect the manhood of the members of the Senate of Pennsylvania and whatever should be my opinion in the future I still shall claim the personal friendship and be glad to render my personal friendship in return to every member in this distinguished body and I feel proud to be called, as I am and I suppose always will be, "Senator." It will be a term that will cling to all of you; no matter how many Governors or Auditor Generals or State Treasurers go out of this body, the title that will hang to you, that you will cherish always, and will be the one commonly used and that shows that here in this body we make friendship and break enemies and not make enemies and break friendship. No matter what else may be done that is the supreme test of manhood in my opinion. I thank you.

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. President, just as a matter of information, he has not mentioned it, but it is rather a happy coincidence that this is also another red letter day for the Auditor General. This is his fifteenth wedding anniversary and I think taking that big crate of silver home will probably help him to explain why he was away on such an important day.

Mr. POWELL. Mr. President, this is the first time I am called upon to doubt the word of a Senator of this body. In some way or other the Senator's multiplication table has got mixed up with his remarks. I am glad of the fact that I have been eight years married and have a family to show for it.

PRESENTATION OF TESTIMONIAL TO HON. CHARLES H. KLINE.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President and members of the Senate, in the lives of many of the Senators here to-day there are many thoughts, no doubt, but to my mind this has been a gala day in the life of one of our fellow members. A certain gentleman whose name is Kline should have been named Brutus because of the things that are coming to him to-day. From the sincere admiration towards the man and with a feeling of gratitude, the members of the committee have honored me to present to the Senator this token of their esteem and admiration and I take pleasure in arising at this time to present to him what seems to me to be almost a jewelry shop. It seems to me as though the men of that committee tried to buy all the things after the other men had been taken care of. But be that as it may, this is to my mind a memorable occasion. An occasion like this, when men whose thoughts are different and along different lines unite to do honor to one of their members, it is certainly a memorable occasion, and to my mind, as I grasp a spirit of friendship, that spirit which makes all men to be blind to our faults and kind to our virtues, that condition of mind which shows us the wickedness of injustice and the depravity of selfishness and the beauty of self-sacrifice. That condition can but help to make of all the men assembled here in this body grander and nobler beings. Men who are living that life which leads toward the Golden Life, which we are taught to lead, and which speaks of the good fellowship of men. I believe when we start to think of these things and forget our differences we are certainly marching a step forward. One who has been on this Appropriation Committee for a few days and a few months would find out the calibre and kind of man we had as our Chairman, and as we traveled through this State and went to the institutions sometimes our trips were happy and contented, and sometimes we were discontented, possibly not satisfied with our surroundings, but when we followed the leadership of our Chairman in the places of suffering humanity in this Commonwealth and saw the wants and needs of the people, whom we were trying to help, and saw the kindness and willingness and earnest efforts of this Chairman, we learned to admire, love and respect him, not because he was Charles H. Kline, not because he was Chairman of the Appropriation Committee, not because he was a Senator of Pennsylvania, but because we thought that under the garments he wore he carried a heart that any man might be proud to own, that his sympathies were in the right direction, that his manliness was directed for the uplifting of his fellowmen, but I pictured in my mind this great big, stalwart, able-bodied man sitting on the floor with two hundred orphan children around him and singing "My Country 'Tis of Thee," "Home, Sweet Home" and "Star Spangled Banner," it brought to my mind a picture which I had not expected. I am reminded of the poem "Abou Ben Ahdem." You all recollect that when Abou arose and saw the angel, he said

"What writest Thou?" The vision raised its head,
And in a voice made all of sweet accord,
Answered "The names of those who love the Lord"
"And is mine one?" said Abou. "Nay not so."
Replied the angel. Abou spake more low,
But cheerily still and said "I pray Thee then Write me as one who loves his fellow men."
The angel wrote and vanished. The next night
He came again with a great awakening light,
And showed the names of those who in love of God had blessed
And lo, Ben Ahdem's name led all the rest!

I believe the motto of our Chairman and friend, Charles H. Kline, is "Write me as one who loves his fellow men," and that his is a motto which he should be proud to follow, and we, the other Senators here, be glad to trail on behind.

Mr. KLINE. Mr. President and Fellow Members of the Senate of Pennsylvania, it is highly gratifying indeed to know that ones honest efforts are appreciated by those who know what a gigantic task it is to equitably administer the funds of the State of Pennsylvania, and that alone is sufficient to compensate one for that gigantic task. My good friends, the method which was adopted two years ago, that is to try to keep the appropriation within the revenues of the next two years, received the applause of all who were connected with the magnificent institutions all over our State and who believe in a businesslike and economic administration of the State funds. We tried to do that same thing this year as best we could. We have practically four hundred and fifty institutions and our Committee has visited ninety-five per cent. of the same, nestling in all sections of this great State of ours; not to learn of their financial condition, because that rests with the Auditor General but to learn of their physical condition, their wants and their necessities and lastly the amount of charitable work performed, which is the basis upon which all appropriations are made. My friends, you may talk and boast of this great Commonwealth of ours, of all our natural resources, of all our great commercial and industrial advantages, but when you think of the great good that this great Commonwealth does in the interest and behalf of suffering humanity then all else pales into insignificance; but when you think of the four million dollars spent by the health department, more than any other State in the United States, to keep down disease and save thousands of lives and the distribution of antitoxin, the prevention of the pollution of streams, etc., to preserve the health of our seven and a half millions of souls it makes us feel proud. The appropriation of almost fourteen million dollars to take care of our many dependents, over twenty thousand in the State of Pennsylvania today in our institution for nervous diseases. Thousands of dollars are appropriated for those who spent the best days of their lives and are now awaiting the final summons to the Great Beyond; thousands of dollars to the homes for the poor orphan children to be brought up in a Christian environment so they may go out before this whole world as a benefit instead of a menace to organized society; thousands of dollars to care for the soldiers and their orphans, thousands to those dear little souls who are given an education that they may have an equal change with those who have been more fortunate, and we today with patriotism that courses through our veins, love them; thousands of dollars, yes, millions of dollars for the relief of suffering humanity in the magnificent hospitals that adorn our State and the sad part of it all, my friends, is that ninety per cent. of the people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania do not realize the good that our State is doing in the interest and behalf of humanity, but we who do think more and more of the holy trinity of our State "Virtue, Liberty and Independence." This is one of the brightest spots in my life; after all, my friends, what is there better than driving out the dark clouds that hover around many heads and letting in the sunshine and good fellowship which has been so beautifully displayed here today, and what a beautiful thought it is. The mornings are the thoughts of God and the evenings are his glorious dreams. The sun and the stars are his mighty looms upon which he weaves the light and air, but let the looms of love for one moment cease then this great earth of ours with all its grandure and beauty will lie naked and dead upon the cold bosom of eternity. So it is in human life with thoughts of human kindness in our hearts and homes but let the looms of love for one moment cease then happiness would die upon the heartstone and perish among the roses at the door. My dear friends, permit me to thank you, very kindly indeed, for this beautiful token of esteem and in behalf of myself, and the dearest soul in the world to me, my wife, permit me to thank you from the bottom of my heart.

PRESENTATION OF TESTIMONIAL TO HON. FRANCIS S. McILHENNY.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, the form of government under which we live is commonly described as a representative form of government. It has often occurred to me that perhaps it is better described as a government by Committee. The various Committees of this body pass more directly and are more intimately in touch with all the legislation which is passed in this General Assembly than the General personnel of the representatives of either the Senate or House of Representatives. I have the honor of being a member of the Committee on Judiciary General, which Committee is the second only in importance only to the Committee on Appropriations. That is the Committee which is known as the working Committee of this body, that is the Committee to which is referred the bills of general character, and especially the bills which have to do with the changes in the administration of our courts and the general laws of the Commonwealth, not pertaining to any particular subject; that is the Committee which has met more often saving and excepting possibly the committee on Judiciary Special more often than any other Committee of this body. To that Committee during the session were referred a total of three hundred and twenty-seven bills of which there acted upon favorably and reported out with an affirmative recommendation two hundred and two bills. That committee held a total number of executive sessions for the consideration of the legislation referred to it of fifty-five meetings. That Committee held public hearings for the general public interested in various legislation to the number of fifteen. That Committee reported House Bills to the number of a hundred and twenty-nine and Senate Bills to the number of a hundred and ninety-eight and I therefore claim that it is a Committee that has done as much if not more work, general hard work, than any other Committee, saving only and excepting the Appropriation Committee, which had to devote so much time to travelling around the State. As Chairman of that Committee at the beginning of this session, there was appointed the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. McIlhenny. He held hearings on all the bills that were referred to that Committee, and it was known as an open Committee, and it made no difference whether the Chairman of that Committee was favorably inclined to the bill under consideration or not, it received the same fair consideration as any other bill and I can only say as the representative of that Committee that we were entirely satisfied with the manner and consideration and treatment that we received at his hands. At this time as the curtain is about to be rung down on this legislative session and perhaps upon the political careers of some of the members of this Senate it has been thought by this Committee that we should present to our Chairman, Senator McIlhenny, some little token of our esteem and friendship for him, and on behalf of that Committee I take great pleasure in presenting the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. McIlhenny, these two silver flower vases.

Mr. McILHENNY. Mr. President, and Members of the Senate, I have been upon my feet so often this session, I assure you much more often than occasion warranted, that I will not long delay you now, but never have I risen to my feet with such great pleasure that I do now to receive these beautiful gifts. Senator Buckman has very truly said that the Judiciary General Committee has done a great deal of real hard work at this session, and we had more bills referred to us than to any other Committee except the Committee on Appropriations. We have met two or three times a week, fifty-five meetings in all, many of them running into two or three hours at a time. Every bill was taken up and considered and voted upon strictly upon its merits. The attitude the Committee took was that they must show their value or they would not be reported out. We realized thoroughly that legislators are apt to roll up more laws than the people can readily digest in one session and we made it our purpose to only report out such bills as had sufficient merit and sufficient public necessity to be inscribed upon the pamphlet laws. I cannot adequately express my appreciation to that Committee for these very beautiful vases but I can assure the members of that Committee as long as I shall live they shall remain with me in memory of the pleasant hours that we spent together; never once in all these meetings has there been one word of friction. The meetings have all been in good temper. We have been the best of friends and I believe the Committee has earned the reward of work well done. I can only say I shall keep these vases as long as I live and shall retain them as pleasant memories of the long session of nineteen thirteen.

PRESENTATION OF TESTIMONIAL TO CHIEF CLERK HARMON M. KEPHART.

Mr. CLARK. Mr. President, after the brilliant oratory of those who have made their presentation addresses and the kindly expressed sentiments of the recipients, you hardly expect much light from my sputtering tallow candle. There is however one matter that we must not overlook. I desire unanimous consent to call that matter up and I am sure that the sentiment that I shall express concerning it will meet with your approval no matter how poorly it may be uttered. When in the course of human events it seemed that the legislative session of 1913 was drawing to a close, it was thought that merit should be recognized and when a man elected selected or appointed to fill that office discharged the duties of that office with credit to himself, with satisfaction to those with whom he is associated, he deserves a mede of praise and when, Mr. President, it is discovered that he not only has the qualifications to discharge the duties of the office to which he has been called, but that he possesses a dual personality, so that he can discharge the duties of another position then I think it is an added reason why he is entitled to recognition. Such a person we have with us, a dual personality, as chief clerk, he as one personality, as chief another. We have that man among us, therefore let it be resolved by the Senate of Pennsylvania (without the concurrence of the House or with it if necessary, for no doubt it would now be given) that Harmon M. Kephart is the man. Therefore as a token of our esteem for his many good qualities we have chosen to present him with a ring. Do not be startled. It does not have any particular significance, symbolically speaking. It has no end and in that respect we hope that it represents his official tenure, and therefore, Harmon M. Kephart, we present this to you because of your efficiency as an official, because of your courteous conduct, because of your integrity as a man, and last but not least because of your loyalty as a friend. Take it and as you gaze upon it in the days of your future, may it recall to you in the days of your past the very many pleasant associations you have had with us and we with you.

Mr. KEPHART. Gentlemen of the Senate, I thank you for this expression of your good will and esteem and for the courteous treatment extended me throughout the session. Words cannot express my feelings.

PRESENTATION OF TESTIMONIAL TO SECRETARY OF THE SENATE W. HARRY BAKER.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, and Fellow Members of the Senate, there are a great many men in the Senate who are deserving of reward today. Time and opportunity does not permit us to reward everyone but there is a man yet who has not been spoken of, whom we would not dare forget and I therefore say it is with the greatest pleasure that I on behalf of the Members of the Senate of this session of 1913 tender to you, W. Harry Baker, Secretary of the Senate, an emblem of our appreciation of you and of your service. This gift but in a small way expresses our gratitude to you for the efficient manner in which you have performed your duties. You have always been obliging and courteous and uniformly gentle with us even when a request has been made to be informed upon what bill we were voting. Two years ago when the office of Secretary of the Senate was established after caucus it was unanimously agreed by the minority that no fitter man could be proposed for the office to which you aspired. You have never failed us in any instance. In these days we hear very much of the boss of the Senate. And there has been great speculation among Senators and among the people at large as to who the Boss is. But I believe I am free to say that I believe I am expressing the opinion of the majority or those who know that it is entirely proper and I felicitate you, Harry, on holding this position. But you are a genial, likable and able Boss. We would be like a rudderless ship without your leading hand. And it is for this as well as for your other commendable qualities that we remember you. And regardless of party faith we all here on the floor regard your efficiency of the highest type. In these last hours we are about to adjourn the Legislature and to separate after working together for a long period, we here feel that we can but in a little repay you, Mr. Secretary, for all you have done for us but we do desire that this token be accepted by you as an earnest testimonial of our great regard which we have felt during all the period we have worked together and which we know will continue.

Mr. BAKER. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I desire to express my thanks and appreciation for this beautiful remembrance and to assure you that it will always remind me of the very pleasant recollections and associations of the session of 1913.

BILLS SIGNED.

The PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE (Mr. D. P. Gerberich) announced that the Chief Clerk having reported that the following bills had passed both Houses of the General Assembly and the same being correct, the titles were publicly read as follows:

Senate Bill No. 884, entitled:

An Act to provide for the appointment of registrars of electors to be deputy poll tax collectors in cities of the first class of this Commonwealth a method of collecting such taxes penalties for violation of its provisions and to repeal acts or parts of acts inconsistent therewith

Senate Bill No. 1894, entitled:

An Act regulating the sale of bichloride of mercury and providing a penalty

Whereupon,

The PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE (Mr. D. P. Gerberich) in the presence of the Senate signed the same.

RECESS.

Mr. KLINE. Mr. President, I move the Senate do now take a recess until seven o'clock.

Mr. CROW. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

AFTER RECESS.

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed, the Senate will be in order.

HOUSE MESSAGE.

The Clerk of the House of Representatives, being introduced, presented extracts from the Journal of the House of Representatives, which were laid upon the table.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON SENATE BILL NO. 876.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from Committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. McNICHOL presented the report of the Committee of Conference on Senate Bill No. 876, entitled:

An Act to provide for the nomination and election of candidates for the office of United States Senator and the filling of vacancies in said office

RESOLUTION APPOINTING COMMISSION TO REPORT ON THE ADOPTION OF A STATE SONG.

The Chair cleared his table and laid before the Senate communication from the House of Representatives presenting to the Senate for concurrence the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the House of Representatives, June 27, 1913.

Whereas, numerous bills establishing a State Song for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania having been offered to the present Legislature, and,

Whereas, the proximity of adjournment prevents the present Legislature from deciding the merits of the proposed songs, therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concurs), that a commission of six members—three being members of the House of Representatives and three members of the Senate,—be appointed by the Speaker of the House and President Pro tempore of the Senate respectively and that said commission report to the next legislature, or to a special session of the Legislature if one be held, such recommendation as to selection of the song for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania as they may deem wise.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from Committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. McNICHOL, from the Committee on Elections, reported as amended, Senate Bill No. 1262 (House Bill No. 117), entitled:

An Act to regulate nominations and elections for all elective offices of cities of the second class and all offices of judge of a court of record providing for non-partisan nominations and elections for said offices abolishing certain existing methods of nomination in such cases and the use of party or political names or appellations at elections with respect to said offices imposing certain duties upon the Secretary of the Commonwealth county commissioners and election officers and clerks and providing penalties for the violation of the provisions hereof and the punishment of certain offenses

HOUSE APPOINTS COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE.

He also laid before the Senate communication from the House of Representatives informing the Senate that the House insist on its non-concurrence in the amendments made by the Senate to House Bill No. 243, entitled:

An Act to prevent deception in the sale of paint putty turpentine and linseed oil or any substitutes therefor and providing penalties for the violation thereof and has appointed Messrs. Rockwell, Peachey and Benson as a Committee of Conference to confer with a similar committee of the Senate (already appointed) in relation to the differences existing between the two houses in relation to said bill.

HOUSE CONCURS IN AMENDMENTS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 1141.

He also presented communication from the House of Representatives informing the Senate that the House has concurred in the amendments made by the Senate to House Bill No. 1141, entitled:

An Act to fix the compensation and allowances for members of the General Assembly

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON HOUSE BILL NO. 416.

He also laid before the Senate communication from the House of Representatives informing the Senate that the House has adopted the report of the Committee of Conference on the subject of the differences existing between the two Houses in relation to House Bill No. 416.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the consideration of the report of the Committee of Conference on House Bill No. 416 as follows:

An Act to prevent occupational diseases and to provide for the health of employes exposed to the danger of lead poisoning and other occupational diseases by regulating certain manufacturing establishments providing for medical examination and reports and requiring sanitary precautions and appliances and making violation of its provisions a misdemeanor and providing penalties for violation thereof

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON HOUSE BILL NO.

To the members of the Senate and House of Representatives:

We, the undersigned Committee of Conference on the part of the House of Representatives and the Senate, for the purpose of considering House bill number four hundred and sixteen, entitled "An Act to prevent occupational diseases and to provide for the health of employees exposed to the danger of lead poisoning and other occupational diseases by regulating certain manufacturing establishments providing for medical examinations and reports and requiring sanitary precautions and appliances and making violation of its provisions a misdemeanor and providing penalties for violation thereof," beg leave to submit the following amended bill as our report.

APPOINTMENT OF HON. FRANKLIN MARTIN TO BE A MEMBER OF THE SOLDIERS' ORPHANS' SCHOOL COMMISSION.

The President announced the appointment of Hon. Franklin Martin to be a member on the part of the Senate of the Soldiers' Orphans' School Commission, vice Jacob C. Stine-man, deceased.

RECONSIDERATION OF REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON HOUSE BILL NO. 103.

Mr. SNYDER. Mr. President, I move that the vote by which the report of the Committee of Conference on House Bill No. 103, entitled:

An Act to provide that certain teachers of long experience in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania shall be appointed permanently and defining the manner of changing their positions and salaries making it the duty of the president and secretary of each school board in this Commonwealth to enter into certain contracts and providing penalties for the neglect or refusal to perform such duty was adopted be reconsidered.

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. SNYDER. Mr. President, I desire to ask the Senate to adopt this motion. The House sometime since passed a bill known as House Bill No. 103, The Teachers Tenure of Office Bill, it was passed with a provision that after a teacher had taught ten years in a district that he be employed permanently and the second section provides that a teacher cannot be removed from this position or his salary changed without his consent or the recommendation of the principal or by a majority of the school board. The House amended the bill and changed it from a majority to two-thirds. The Senate then refused to concur in that amendment and appointed a Committee of Conference. The House did the same the Committee met and agreed to adopt the bill in its original form. The House refused to adopt the Committee's report and that leaves the bill fall unless the Senate will recede from its action. Now I submit to the Senate of Pennsylvania that it has come to the relief of every department and of all the officials of every department of the government except perhaps the teachers of Pennsylvania. Now it is not my purpose at this time to extol the virtues of the teachers of Pennsylvania neither, is it my purpose to inflict a speech on this subject upon the Senate. It is well recognized or ought to be by the members of the Senate of Pennsylvania that the school teacher has been the most important factor in the development of the manhood of this State and that he deserves recognition. You have failed to recognize him in his salary and it seems to me you should recognize him in the permanency of his position. The House has for some reason or other, based not on a fact but entirely on fiction, and rather as an excuse for defeating this bill refused to concede to the Senate bill although it was more liberal than that that the House made in the last instance. Now unless the Senate recedes from its position the bill will fall and it will be brought forth in the Senate again if in the will of providence I can return here two years from now just simply to repeat that bill upon the Senate because I wish to say as long as I am a member of the Senate of Pennsylvania I shall introduce bills of this sort until a House and Senate will make up their minds it is proper to take care of the school teachers just as proper as it is to take care of its labor and industries in every department of government. I appeal to every Senator to permit this motion to be adopted.

The motion was agreed to.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the report of the Committee of Conference?

Mr. SNYDER. Mr. President, I move that the Committee of Conference on House Bill No. 103 be discharged from further consideration of this bill.

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. SNYDER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate reconsider the vote by which the amendments made by the House to this bill were non-concurred in.

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Schuylkill, Mr. Snyder.

Mr. PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Schuylkill, Mr. Snyder, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SNYDER. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, what is the question now.

Mr. SNYDER. Mr. President, the House passed amendments to the second section of this bill which made it necessary in order for a teacher to be removed from his office or his salary to be changed to have a two thirds vote of the directors instead of a majority as passed in the first instance. Now for instance if there is a directorate of five it will take three, a directorate of seven under the House amendment it will take five more than a majority.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate concur in the amendments?

Under each group of names of candidates shall be printed as many blank spaces defined by light lines or rules three-eighths of an inch apart as there are to be candidates nominated for such office.

(On the back of such ballot shall be printed in prominent type the words "Official primary ballot of Party" and there shall also appear on the back of such ballot the face simile signatures of the County Commissioners of the county.)

The ballot shall vary in form only as the names of districts offices candidates or the provisions of this act may require.

The names of candidates shall appear in alphabetical order under the respective offices.

Opposite or under the name of each candidate except candidate for the office of President of United States who is to be voted for by the electors of more than one county shall be printed the name of the county in which such candidate resides and opposite or under the name of each candidate who is to be voted for by the electors of an entire county or any Congressional Senatorial or Representative district within the county shall be printed the name of the township borough or ward and city as the case may be in which such candidate resides.

The voter may designate his choice as is indicated by the instructions shown on the form of ballot above set forth. If he shall vote for more persons for any office than there are candidates to be nominated or elected for such office or if for any reason it may be impossible to determine his choice for any office his ballot shall not be counted for such office but the rest of his ballot if properly marked shall be counted. No ballot shall be rejected for any technical error which does not render it impossible to determine the voter's choice.

Section 6 The names of candidates for nomination as President of the United States and the names of all other party candidates shall be printed upon the official ballot of a designated party upon the filing of nomination petitions in their behalf signed by qualified electors of the State or of the political district or division as the case may be within which the nomination is to be made or election is to be held and the filing of affidavits by the candidates as provided in this act and the names of no candidates shall be printed upon an official ballot of a political party to be used at any primary unless such petitions shall have been filed and unless such candidates except they be candidates for the office of President of the United States shall have filed affidavits as hereinafter provided.

(a) Each signer of a nomination petition shall sign but one such petition for each office to be filled and shall declare therein that he is a member of the party designated in such petition. Provided however That where there are to be elected two or more persons to the same office each signer may sign petitions for as many candidates for such office as and no more than he could vote for at the succeeding election. He shall also declare therein that he is a qualified elector of the county therein named and in case the nomination is not to be made or candidates are not to be elected by the electors of the State at large of the political district or division therein named in which the nomination is to be made or the election is to be held. He shall add his occupation and residence giving city borough or township with street and number if any and shall also add the date of signing. No nomination petition shall be circulated prior to sixty (60) days before the last day on which such petition may be filed and no signature shall be counted unless it bears date within sixty (60) days of the last day for filing the same.

Said nomination petition may be on one or more sheets and different sheets must be used for signers resident in different counties. Each sheet shall have appended thereto the affidavit of some person not necessarily a signer and not necessarily the same person on each sheet setting forth that the affiant is a qualified elector of the State or of the political district or division as the case may be referred to in said petition his residence giving city borough or township with street and number if any that the signers signed with full knowledge of the contents of the petition that their respective residences are correctly stated therein that they all reside in the county named in the affidavit and that each signed on the date set opposite his name and that to the best of affiant's knowledge and belief the signers are qualified electors and members of the designated party of the State or of the political district or division as the case may be.

(b) Each candidate for any State county or city office shall file with his nomination petition his affidavit stating his residence with street and number if any and his postoffice address his election district the name of the office for which he consents to be a candidate that he is eligible for such office and that he will not knowingly violate any election law or any law regulating and limiting nomination and election expenses and prohibiting corrupt practices in connection therewith. Provided That in no event shall any person's name be printed upon the official ballot of any party as a delegate State committeeman National committeeman or party officer unless he is a qualified elector of said party.

In the case of a candidate for nomination as President of the United States it shall not be necessary for such candidate to file the affidavit required in this section to be filed by candidates but the postoffice address of such candidate shall be stated in such nomination petition.

(c) Each candidate for election as delegate or alternate delegate to a national party convention may include with his affidavit the statement hereinafter set forth in this section but his failure to include such statement shall not be a valid ground on the part of the Secretary of the Commonwealth for refusal to receive and file his nomination petition. Such statement if any be made shall be in substantially the following form:

DELEGATE'S STATEMENT

I hereby declare to the voters of my political party in the (here insert "State of Pennsylvania" if a delegate or alternate delegate at large otherwise insert ".....District") that if elected and in attendance as a delegate to the national convention of the party I shall with all fidelity to the best of my judgment and ability in all matters coming before the convention support that candidate for President of the United States who shall have received the highest number of votes cast in the (here insert "State" if a delegate or alternate delegate at large otherwise insert ".....District") by the voters of my party for said office at the ensuing primary and shall use all honorable means within my power to aid in securing the nomination for such candidate for President.

Signature of candidate for delegate or alternate delegate.

On the ballot used at the primary after or under the name of each candidate for delegate or alternate delegate to a national party convention shall appear the words "Promises to support popular choice of party in the (here insert "State" if a delegate or alternate delegate at large otherwise insert ".....District") for President" or "Does not promise to support popular choice of party in the (here insert "State" if a delegate or alternate delegate at large otherwise insert ".....District") for President" according as if the candidate included or failed to include the above statement with his affidavit.

Section 7. The nomination petitions in the case of candidates for the office of President of the United States Senator of the United States member of the House of Representatives of the United States for all State offices for the office of delegate or alternate delegate to a national party convention and for the office of member of the State or national committee shall be filed at least four weeks prior to the primary with the Secretary of the Commonwealth. Nomination petitions in all other cases shall be filed at least three weeks prior to the primary with the county commissioners of the respective counties.

Nomination petitions of candidates shall be signed

(a) If for the office of President of the United States or of Senator of the United States by at least one hundred qualified electors in each of at least ten counties of the State.

(b) If for a State office to be filled by a vote of the electors of the State at large for the office of Representative from the State at large in the Congress of the United States for the office of delegate or alternate delegate at large to a national party convention or for the office of member of the national committee by at least one hundred qualified electors in each of at least five counties of the State.

(c) If for the office of a member of the House of Representatives of the United States to be filled by a vote of the electors of a Congressional district or of delegate or alternate delegate to a national party convention other than delegate or alternate delegate at large or of judge of any court other than a court whose judges are to be elected by a vote of the electors of the State at large or of State Senator by at least two hundred qualified electors.

(d) If for the office of a member of the State House of Representatives or for the office of member of the State committee or an office to be voted for by the electors of the entire county by at least one hundred qualified electors.

(e) If for the office of inspector of election at least five qualified electors.

(f) And for all other offices and all other party offices by at least ten qualified electors.

Section 8. No nomination petition shall be refused or set aside except for

(a) Material error or defects apparent on the face thereof or on the face of the appended or accompanying affidavit or

(b) Material alterations made after signing without the consent of the signers or

(c) Want of a sufficient number of genuine signatures of persons qualified with respect to age sex residence and citizenship to be electors.

The invalidity of any sheet of a petition shall not affect the validity of such petition if a sufficient petition remains after eliminating such invalid sheet.

Application to set aside any nomination petition shall be by petition to the Court of Common Pleas of the county in which such nomination petition has been filed setting forth specifically the matters objected to and must be filed within five days after the last day for filing said nomination petition. Upon the presentation of such a petition the court shall make an order fixing a time for hearing which shall not be later than ten days after the last day for filing said nomination petition and specifying the time and manner of notice that shall be given to the candidate named in the nomination petition sought to be set aside.

If the matters objected to are such as are specified in subdivision (a) of this section the court upon hearing the case may in its discretion permit amendments within such time and upon such terms as to payment of costs as the said court may specify.

In case the petition to set aside a nomination petition is dismissed the petitioner shall pay the whole of the costs of the proceeding including all witness fees.

Section 9. The Secretary of the Commonwealth immediately after the last day fixed for the filing of said petitions with him shall forward to the county commissioners of each county a correct list of candidates of each party for the various offices as shown in such petitions with their respective residences and postoffice addresses as shown in their affidavits and shall also at the same time notify the said candidates by mail that their names have been so certified to said county commissioners. In the case of each candidate for delegate or alternate delegate to a national party convention the Secretary of the Commonwealth shall certify as to whether such candidate has included with his affidavit the statement provided for in subdivision (c) of section six of this act.

The county commissioners shall have on file in their office on and after the Wednesday preceding the primary open to public inspection forms of the ballots with the names and such statements and notations as may be required by the provisions of this act printed thereon which shall be used in each election district within such county.

Section 10. The county commissioners shall prepare and furnish to the election officers for use at the primaries as many official ballots of each party as are equal to double the largest entire vote cast for any candidate of said party within the election district at any of the last three preceding general elections. Provided that the county commissioners upon request made in writing by any candidate of any party within four weeks prior to the primary shall furnish such additional number of ballots in any election district as said county commissioners may deem necessary.

The county commissioners shall also furnish specimen ballots for the use of electors at the polls equal in number to one-fourth the whole number of official ballots said specimen ballots to be printed on colored paper and to be of the same size and form as the official ballot.

On the back of each specimen ballot for the primary next preceding the election of a President of the United States the county commissioners shall print subdivision (c) of section six of this act.

The official ballots shall be bound in books of one hundred each in the same manner as ballots at elections and shall be delivered to the officers of election in the same manner as ballots are or hereafter may be required by law to be delivered to officers of election for use at elections.

The county commissioners shall prepare and furnish to the election officers at the primaries such ballot boxes properly numbered for each election district lists of voters forms including forms of affidavits for obtaining assistance in marking ballots and for voters challenged as to identity party membership residence and bribery blanks return sheets blank books and other supplies as they are or hereafter may be required to furnish by law to said officers for use at elections and shall deliver them in the same manner as at elections. The said supplies shall have printed upon them appropriate instructions and shall be in appropriate form for use at the primaries. They shall also provide for the opening of the polling places for the compensation of the owners thereof.

Section 11 The primaries shall be conducted by the regular election boards duly elected under existing or future laws who shall receive the same compensation for their services as they receive at elections. Inspectors of elections shall have the right to appoint clerks to assist them as at elections who shall receive the same compensation that clerks receive for such services at elections. Vacancies in election boards shall be filled in the manner now provided by law. Before entering upon their duties the election officers and clerks shall be sworn and execute written oaths as is now required by law.

The polls shall be open between the hours of seven o'clock ante meridian and seven o'clock post meridian. All persons licensed to sell liquors either at wholesale or retail or as bottlers shall be compelled to keep their places of business closed on said days for holding said primary only between the hours of six o'clock ante meridian and eight o'clock post meridian.

Primaries shall be conducted in conformity with the laws governing the conduct of general elections in so far as the same are not modified by the provisions of this act or are not inconsistent with its terms. Provided That no elector shall be permitted to receive any assistance in marking his ballot unless he shall first make an affidavit that he cannot read the names on the ballot or that by reason of physical disability he is unable to mark his ballot.

Section 12 The County Commissioners shall keep an accurate account of the entire expense of holding such primaries including the preparation and delivery of supplies voting materials et cetera and the total amount shall be paid in the first instance by the County Treasurer upon the order of the County Commissioners. As soon as convenient thereafter the County Commissioners shall prepare an itemized statement of the amount so paid verified by oath and send the same accompanied by the receipted vouchers to the Auditor General who if he finds the same correct shall draw a warrant on the State Treasurer for the proper county for the amount so approved which shall be paid by the State Treasurer out of the money in the State Treasury appropriated for said purpose.

Section 13 The qualifications of electors entitled to vote at a primary shall be the same as the qualifications of electors entitled to vote at elections within the election district where the primary is held except that with respect to the payment of taxes it shall be sufficient if an elector shall have paid within two years before the next succeeding election a State or county tax which shall have been assessed at least two months before the said election and paid on or before the day of the primary and in cases where personal registration is required on or before the registration day on which the elector registers. Each elector shall prove his qualifications and his identity in the same manner in which electors in the election district in which he offers to vote are or hereafter may be required by law to prove their qualifications or identity on election day and may be challenged as at elections.

Each elector shall have the right to receive the ballot of the party for which he asks. Provided That if he is challenged he shall be required to make oath or affirmation that at the last preceding election at which he voted he voted for a majority of the candidates of the party for whose ballot he asks.

If such last preceding election at which such elector voted was a general election at which Presidential electors were voted for he shall in determining the number of candidates for which he voted at such last preceding election count the group of Presidential electors as two candidates.

Upon executing such affidavit the voter shall be entitled to receive the ballot for which he has called and to cast his vote according to law. If he is unable or unwilling to take such affidavit he shall be denied the right to receive such ballot but he shall not be deemed thereby to be guilty of any violation or attempted violation of this law.

Section 14 The ballot boxes lists of voters (a copy of which shall be posted outside of the polling place) and other records shall be delivered into the custody of the officers who are or hereafter may be required by law to keep similar records of elections.

Upon the closing of the polls at such primary the election officers shall forthwith proceed to open the ballot boxes and take therefrom the ballots and first count the number cast for each party and make a record thereof and then count the vote cast for the different persons named upon said party ballots and make a record thereof and when said count is finally completed they shall certify in due and proper form to the number of votes cast for each person upon the respective party tickets. They shall then replace the ballots so counted and canvassed in the boxes and lock the same. They shall then place all stubs and unused ballots in an envelope or package to be furnished by the County Commissioners and forthwith seal the same and they shall also place the returns of votes and the register of voters aforesaid for each party together with affidavits made pursuant to the provisions of this act in separate envelopes and forthwith seal the same. All of said envelopes shall then be kept by the judge of election and shall on or before noon of the Thursday following be deposited by him in person or by registered mail with the County Commissioners who shall on the succeeding day at noon publicly commence the computation and canvassing of the returns and continue the same from day to day until completed and for that purpose to have the right to petition the Court of Common Pleas for the use of its processes to enforce the provisions of this act in relation to the returns of the election officers.

The stubs and unused ballots and all returns of votes registers of voters and affidavits returned to the County Commissioners as aforesaid shall be carefully preserved by them for a period of at least one year.

Section 15 Upon the sworn petition of five qualified electors of any election precinct division or district that any act of fraud or error which upon information which they consider reliable they believe has been committed in any election precinct division or district of the county the court of common pleas of said county shall order the county commissioners to open the ballot box of such election precinct division or district and recount the votes such recount to be conducted in such manner and under such condition as the court shall prescribe. Any person aggrieved by any decision of the county commissioners may appeal therefrom within ten days from the decision of the county commissioners to the court of common pleas of the proper county whose duty it shall be to hear the said appeal. The court on said appeal shall have full power and authority to hear and determine all matters pertaining to any fraud or error committed in said election precinct division or district and to make such decree as right and justice may require. Contests of primaries shall be originated and conducted as in cases of elections.

Section 16 The County Commissioners shall make the proper certification of returns of votes cast for the candidates of the candidates of the various political parties for nomination for the office of President of the United States; senator of the United States member of the House of Representatives of the United States for all State offices for the office of delegate and alternate delegate to a national party convention and members of the national committee and members of the State committee to the Secretary of the Commonwealth who shall tabulate the same and shall certify to the county commissioners of the respective counties the result of the computation of the vote for all such offices as shall be voted for at the succeeding election at least thirty days prior to the date of such election and shall also certify within said time to said county commissioners the names of the Presidential electors chosen and certified to him as hereinafter provided.

The Secretary of the Commonwealth shall forthwith prepare a statement from said returns showing the total number of votes cast in the State and in each Congressional district of the State for each candidate of each political party for nomination as President of the United States and shall make public announcement thereof. He shall also forthwith send a duplicate of such statement to the County Commissioners of each county.

The Secretary of the Commonwealth shall also forthwith ascertain from said returns the persons in each political party who have been duly elected as delegates and alternate delegates to the national convention of such party and the persons in each party who have been duly elected members of the national committee or State Committee of the party and shall forthwith issue to each of such persons a certificate of election which certificate of election in the case of delegate and alternate delegate to a national party convention shall show the number of votes received in the State or in the political district of the State as the case may be by each candidate of such delegate's and alternate delegate's political party for nomination as President of the United States. The Secretary of the Commonwealth shall also certify to the State chairman of each respective party the votes cast for each candidate for the office of State committeeman.

Section 17 Candidates of the various political parties for nomination as herein provided for except for the office of the President of the United States who receive a plurality of votes of their party electors in the State or in the political district or division as the case may be at a primary together with the candidates for the office of Presidential elector nominated as hereinafter provided shall be the candidates of their respective parties and it shall be the duty of the proper officers to print their names upon the official ballots for use at the succeeding election as is now or may hereafter be required by law.

The name of the person in each political party who receives at a primary a plurality of the votes of such party in the State at large for United States Senator shall be printed upon the official ballot for use at the succeeding election as the candidate of his party for said office under the heading "United States Senator."

Candidates of the various political parties for the office of delegate and alternate delegate at large to a national party convention who receive a plurality of the votes of their party electors in the State at large shall be the duly elected delegates and alternate delegates at large to the national convention of their respective parties. Candidates of the various political parties for the office of delegate and alternate delegate other than delegate and alternate delegate at large who receive a plurality of the votes of their party electors in the political district or division in which they are candidates shall be the duly elected delegates and alternate delegates to the national convention of their respective parties.

Candidates of the various political parties for the office of member of the State committee or for the office of member of the national committee in cases where the rules of the party provide that such office shall be filled by a vote of the party electors who receive a plurality of the votes of the party electors at a primary shall be the duly elected members of the State or national committee of their respective parties.

Candidates for other party offices who receive a plurality of the votes of the party electors at a primary shall be the party officers of their respective parties.

In case of a tie the candidates receiving the tie vote shall cast lots before the county commissioners or the Secretary of the Commonwealth as the case may be on the third Friday after the primary and the one to whom the lot shall fall shall be entitled to the nomination or election. Provided however That in any case where the fact of a tie vote is not authoritatively determined until after the third Wednesday after the primary the day for casting lots shall be the second day after the fact if such tie vote is authoritatively determined. If any candidate or candidates receiving a tie vote fail to appear before twelve o'clock noon on said day the County Commissioners or the Secretary of the Commonwealth as the case may be shall cast lots for him or them. For the purpose of casting lots any candidate may appear in person or by proxy appointed in writing.

Where a nomination petition has been duly filed under the provisions of this act and thereafter and before the day of the primary the candidate named in said petition dies the original signers of said petition or the majority of them may sign another petition proposing a new candidate for said office at any time prior to the printing of the ballot. Said petition filed shall have the same force and effect as the original petition.

Vacancies happening or existing after the date of the primary may be filled in accordance with the party rules as is now or may hereafter be provided for by law.

Section 18. The nominee of each political party for the office of President of the United States shall within thirty days after his nomination by the National Convention nominate as many persons to be the candidates of his party for the office of Presidential elector as the State is then entitled to. If for any reason the nominee of any political party for the office of President of the United States fails or is unable to make the said nominations within the time herein provided then the nominee of such party for the office of Vice-President of the United States shall as soon as may be possible after the expiration of said thirty days make the nominations.

The names of such nominees with their post office addresses shall be certified immediately to the Secretary of the Commonwealth by the nominee for the office of President of Vice-President as the case may be making the nomination.

Vacancies happening or existing after the date of nomination of Presidential electors shall be filled by the nominee for the office of President or Vice-President making the original nomination. Nominations made to fill vacancies shall be certified to the Secretary of the Commonwealth in the manner herein provided for in case of original nominations.

Section 19. Any of the candidates for nomination including candidates for President of the United States to be voted for at a primary under this act may at any time before four o'clock of the Friday next succeeding the last day affixed for filing nomination petitions withdraw his name as a candidate by a request in writing signed by him and acknowledged before a notary public or justice of the peace and filed with the Secretary of the Commonwealth if such candidate filed his nomination petition with the Secretary of the Commonwealth and in all other cases with the County Commissioners.

The Secretary of the Commonwealth upon the filing of requests for withdrawal in the manner herein provided shall forthwith certify to the County Commissioners of the proper county a correct list of candidates filing such requests.

Section 20. Upon the petition of five or more citizens who are lawful voters of any election district setting forth that the appointment of overseers is a reasonable precaution to secure the purity and fairness of the primary in said district it shall be the duty of the court of common pleas of the proper county in its discretion to appoint two overseers of election in said district who shall be entitled to remain within the polling place during the casting and counting of the ballots.

Section 21. Each candidate shall be entitled to appoint two watchers at the primary in each election district division or precinct in which such candidate is to be voted for who shall be qualified electors of the district division or precinct. Each watcher shall be provided with a certificate from the county commissioners stating his name the district in which he is authorized to act and the name of the candidate appointing him and shall have the right to remain in the room outside of the enclosed space. Watchers shall be required to show their certificates when requested to do so.

If any election officer officiating at any primary shall refuse to permit a watcher appointed under the provisions of this act to be present as herein provided such officer or officers shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and on conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding one thousand ($1,000.00) dollars or to undergo an imprisonment not exceeding one year or both in the discretion of the court.

Section 22. Any person or persons who by violence or intimidation shall threaten or drive away said watchers or overseers shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and on conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding one thousand ($1,000.00) dollars or to undergo imprisonment for a period not exceeding one year or both in the discretion of the court.

Section 23. If any person shall knowingly and willfully sign any nomination petition without being qualified with respect to age sex residence and citizenship to be an elector of the State or of the political district or division as the case may be named in said petition and a resident of the county named on the sheet which he signs or if any person shall set opposite a signature on a nomination petition a date other than the actual date such signature was affixed thereto or if any person shall set opposite a signature on the nomination petition a false statement of the signer's place of residence or if any person shall sign more nomination petitions than permitted by the provisions of this act he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not more than one hundred ($100.00) dollars.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the report of the committee of conference?

Mr. SNYDER. Mr. President, before the "Yeas" and "Nays" are taken I wish to make a statement to the Senate. The Senate has taken every precaution deemed wise in order to secure a satisfactory women's employment and child's labor bills at this session of the Legislature, and in pursuance of a so-called obligation made by a so-called Republican party last fall. In pursuance of that duty the committee first of all made every effort to bring about the passage of a proper, a sane and a just bill that would answer all the needs and requirements and demands of the industrial world of the State of Pennsylvania. The committee was confronted with one proposition and that was that the women of this State were never consulted so far as the committee found out, neither were the immediate guardians of the children consulted concerning their welfare. A self-appointed committee of, I have no doubt, well meaning philanthropists, appeared before the committee on several occasions and asked, instead of the women and children themselves, for a proper bill for their protection. After several weeks of hard, and, I believe, honest consideration and thought and labor, the committee reported the bill from the committee, to the Senate, both bills, the Child Labor and the Women's Employment Bill, the committee of the Senate thought were proper and just answered every demand and every requirement. These bills went to the House for concurrence. The House refused and appointed a committee of conference, and after some considerable meetings and discussions this bill now before us was adopted. It may be said that the conference report is due to the effect of the demand made by the people of this State. Now the committee on the part of the Senate wish to say that there was no demand, so far as I know, from any particular active interest in this State for the bill, the way that it is reported but because it gives the champions and those who are interested in the industrial welfare of the State an opportunity that it be heralded broadcast throughout this Commonwealth and States of the Union that Pennsylvania is not in favor of legislation that is for the benefit of the women and children. The report of the committee was adopted and agreed to, and you will notice that with very few changes the Senate amendments were adopted and accepted more to show that the self-appointed champions of the women of this State received recognition for their labors at Harrisburg. Now, then, I desire to read with regard to the bills—the female and child labor bills—this statement, that it may be properly on the record and no mistakes. This part of my remarks I desire to read:

The action of the House conferees in defeating the bill regulating the hours of labor for women and minors by refusing to accept the bill as amended in the Senate is so remarkable as to warrant some comment. The last Republican State Convention pledged the party to the passage of a bill looking to the improvement of conditions surrounding the employment of women and minors. The bill as passed by the House was drawn by the Consumers' League and Child Labor Association embodying their views upon the work periods and restrictions of various kinds. These bills were confessedly drawn by people without any practicable knowledge of business conditions and without consultation with business men. The terms of the bill were such as to make the operation of many mills difficult and some impossible. When the bills reached the Senate they were amended so as to make one uniform work period of fifty-four hours per week and not over ten hours in any one day, except in certain specified instances. These exceptions were necessitated either by the nature of the particular industry or by desire to allow the employees to make up time lost by accidents to machinery, or by holidays, or in order to make a shorter day in the week. The bill as passed by the Senate lessens the working hours allowed by law from sixty and fifty-eight hours per week to fifty-four hours per week and from twelve hours per day to ten hours per day. They eliminate night work for women, increase the authority of the schools over minors, and require of the latter the certificate of a physician picked by the school board that the particular child to whom employment is to be given is physically capable of working at the intended occupation.

That that bill embodying such substantial gains over present conditions should be rejected and minors should be left in their present conditions which have been described by the proponents of the bill as intolerable, drives one to the conclusion that these people are more interested in playing politics than in the welfare of the women and minors. This seems an inevitable conclusion from the fact that they have refused these very substantial gains when they could not get all for which they had asked.

Now, gentlemen of the Senate, in pursuance of the obligation, if you please, resting upon every Republican member of the Senate of Pennsylvania, these bills were reported out of committee and amended by the Senate in the condition they went through the House, after honest, patriotic service and after labor rendered to them which I believe is as capable of doing justice to the children and women of this State as any proponent of any child labor bill anywhere in the length and breadth of this Commonwealth. I am not going to discuss here to-night the conditions in Massachusetts or any other State. You will find heralded throughout this Commonwealth to-morrow and the next few days that the State of Pennsylvania is more backward in her interest for the women and children of this State than other States. You will find that the Senate of Pennsylvania, especially the Republican members, are reactionaries and opposed to the uplift of the women and children of this Commonwealth. You will find to-morrow heralded throughout the length and breadth of this State an indictment against this Senate as being opposed to the welfare of the people of this Commonwealth, and aligned with the so-called interests of this Commonwealth. I want to say personally, I hold no brief, as I said before, for any particular association, corporation or party because if you believe the history heralded and published throughout this Commonwealth in the last few months, there is no more Republican party, and therefore every Republican member stands here without a party and only responsible to his own conscience, as a citizen and as a member of this Senate, and is not responsible any longer to any particular organization or any affiliation of any party. The bill as it was passed by the Senate was rejected, if you please, by the members of the House, until some other interests besides the political interests went to them and said: "Unless you accept this bill and stop playing politics you will have none." And let me say to you, the men interested in this bill are men who have no children, who have no property, and who represent no particular industry. And I believe that the manufacturers of this State and the men who employ women and children are just as patriotic and just as much interested in the welfare of this Commonwealth as the men who in 1860 went to war and whose deeds you are celebrating next week on the fiftieth anniversary on the field of Gettysburg, and with the history of this State at Gettysburg, Valley Forge and Lake Erie, I will say that the members of this Senate who vote for this bill for the benefit of this State are just as patriotic as the men who come here who are without families, without a party, without any responsibility to back them, and therefore, I say it with a conscience, without malice towards anybody that the people that are interested in the women and child labor bills of this State, that they refuse to accept as passed by the Senate, are not in the interest of the women and children of this State, but are in the interest of a party, that is trying to destroy the industrial welfare of this State unless you accept them and their proposition. It is a saying said by somebody else, that "a reformer is never willing to do any reforming unless you accept him and the reforms he offers," and that is just what these bills prove. Unless you accept the men who propose them and their ideas, you are neither a Republican or Democratic nor are you a patriotic citizen. You are simply a reactionary and are untrue to your State and the interests of your country. I wish to say to you that I come from a county and it has been held throughout this Commonwealth that because the chairman represents that county he has no interests in the women and children of this State. Let me say to you,

"If all the hills were jewels fine,
And all the rivers were filled with wine
And they were mine, my little boy still would be Dearer, dearer far to me."

and for that reason, speaking as a father, I am interested as much in the welfare of the children of this State as any man who is a paid agent for any political party, it matters not whether that party be Republican, Democratic, Progressive, or what-not, and I believe that the Senators of this State are just as patriotic in the fulfillment of their duties as these men are and I believe it is just to you to say that you have acted, not only on this bill, but every other bill, with the same patriotic duty, with the same feeling for your oaths, as these men who say they are bound to the women and children of whom they are neither fathers nor brothers and with whom they have absolutely no alliance except that of a paid lobbyist. The Republican party platform of last fall cuts no figure with us or with me. That platform was made in the enthusiasm of the hour, in a spirit of hysteria, when everybody almost in this State was willing, because of their fealty, whatever you may call it, their alliance to a man who was dominating the party—I say dominant in the party—and who was more the party than all the platforms they could issue. That platform adopted by the Republican party assembled in Harrisburg, and regularly called, when men still thought they were Republicans, but when they left Harrisburg and began to find the Republican party still had men in it who did not believe in them or follow them in every particular, they denounced the Republican party, they said: "Get thee behind me, Satan. we will have none of you," we will start our own organization and the Republican party, so-called, can go to the winds. Forget what it has done for the State of Pennsylvania, forget that it has placed by its laws and its platforms in the statute books of this State such tax laws, such laws protecting the health of the children, the health of the men and women, that the Constitution in every particular, can be carried out with regard to liberty, with regard to happiness, with regard to life, that it promised you. And yet these very men, these men who have neither platform or party to-day, who are simply the followers of their own prophet, come to you at eight o'clock this evening and say: "Gentlemen, unless you accept our platform, we be unto your party." They have told us long since that the Republican party is non est. They have told us, and their leader has told us time and time again, to take one good look at this body and forever bid it "Good-bye, because it is the last stand of the Republican party." These bills are not made with regard to party, with regard to any selfish interest, they were agreed upon by the committee in the Senate of Pennsylvania because they are right, because they are just and because they give to every man who has his money invested in the great industrial interests of Pennsylvania seven hundred and fifty million dollars in all they represent. And what does that mean but patriotic service such as no other State throughout the length and breadth of this land. These men, the same men that made it possible to celebrate Gettysburg, that made it possible to celebrate Lake Erie, and put Valley Forge or its memorials upon the walls of this Capitol. That kind of patriotism has made these seven hundred and fifty million dollars invested, and I for one do not propose to destroy it at the behest of party wreckers and party destroyers because they say so.

I want to say I am a Republican, I am not ashamed of being a Republican, and I intend to continue being a Republican, whether or not there is any Republican connected with it, that does not concern me, and I want to say for the Senate of Pennsylvania, that I acted upon this bill and I believe you did from motives as patriotic as the men who died upon this soil and within this State to save this Nation, and I do not want to have our motives impure and the State indicted and heralded throughout this continent that this State is not in the forefront of this legislation.

Only to-night and yesternight and the night before, you passed laws that gave back to the people forty million dollars into the treasuries of their hospitals, of every school, of every township and of every institution for the uplift of the people of Pennsylvania. You passed a bill that from the first of July will give back to this great people whom they said these men who represent a new party, a new theory, and they say the people have been denied their rights.

Why, there is no State in this Union that can parallel its record, whether it is progressive or any other kind. Let me say to you, to-night, gentlemen, so far as I am concerned, the Republican platform has no binding cinch or cinch upon me, or any other Republican Senator, because that party has been put in the rear. That party is no longer in existence, and this primary law that was passed to-night, I did not vote for it for that reason, I am told that in order that the Republican organization may be kept intact, in order that it may be sent back to the man who is on the throne, in order that they may hand the party back, they demand that we pass a State primary law which is a rich man's law, which makes it impossible except a rich Progressive, or Republican, or Democrat, to ever have a State office, unless promoted by some rich Progressive. The poor man's day has passed for State office in Pennsylvania under this uplift, and that is why I was opposed to the State primary law. The poor man's day has passed in each county in the State under that primary law and yet it is all attributed to what? The men who by reason of political coincidence in the State of Pennsylvania have by accident sought to gain the reins of power and then not satisfied with that old ship of State, not satisfied with its history and for personal reasons alone, they have been trying to destroy the Republican party, and now wish the people to denounce it, and I want to say the only man who because of his generous sentiment and not in behalf of anybody,—he may be mistaken, and I believe he is, and the strongest champion, the same strong man and the sanest proposition made on these bills, came from a stalwart Republican Senator, and I must say I am sorry I had to differ from him in regard to his policy and in regard to his proposition and I could not agree to accept the proposition made by him, even by the Child Labor people, but the lobby, if you please, the insidious lobby, threatened that they would run their wagon over the remnant of the Republican party and the men who still believe in Republican principles. Now, gentlemen, I wish to say to you that if unwittingly or in my range have done aught to offend, I desire to, I desire to reconcile you to friendly feeling. But believe me, when I say that after this hysteria has passed and men have become sane and believe in sane legislation and after theory is no longer in vogue, you will find the Republican Senators here, going on in the same regular way to build up this State with the help of patriotic Democrats and with the help of so-called sane Republicans and this State will keep marching on regardless of the men who desire to destroy party organization and desire to make it not a monarchy, not a republic, but an autocracy. I am opposed to this so-called progressiveness, because it does not progress. It is all prophecy and is not fact. And the same spirit that made this State—the same spirit that gave one million soldiers, the same spirit of the boys under eighteen—thirty thousand of them—who went to the late war of the rebellion—the men say these boys cannot work in factory—these men—the Civil War, as you know, was fought by boys between sixteen and eighteen and twenty years, these boys whom these uplifters want to put out of labor and everything in spite of all that I believe the State of Pennsylvania will progress and that after all every citizen will have power and dignity of the sceptre.

Mr. HALL. Mr. President, there is much the gentleman has said that is true, but he forgets in his arraignment that there is another party in this State called the Democratic party. The Democratic party is always right when it does not go out and mingle with people like the people he is talking about outside of the party. The Democratic party will always be all right on all the questions affecting this State. I desire to call the gentleman's attention to the fact that we are still here for the right.

Mr. SNYDER. Mr. President, I accept the amendment of the gentleman from Elk.

And the question recurring.

Will the Senate agree to the same?

COMMUNICATIONS FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Chair cleared his table and laid before the Senate communication in writing from His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, which was read as follows:

VETO OF SENATE BILL NO. 502.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, June 27, 1913.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen:—I return herewith, without by approval, Senate Bill No. 502, entitled:

"An Act to amend section six of an act approved the twenty-third day of May one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four entitled 'An Act dividing the cities of this State into three classes regulating the passage of ordinances providing for contracts for supplies and work for said cities authorizing the increase of indebtedness and the creation of a sinking fund to redeem the same defining and punishing certain offenses in all of said cities and providing for the incorporation and government of cities of the third class' by authorizing the councils of cities to provide for minimum rates of wages to be paid for maximum hours of work to be done under contracts with such cities and validating existing ordinances which so provide"

A similar bill was disapproved in 1911. I then said:

"It is to be observed that no attempt is made to regulate the hours of labor throughout the State, but it is proposed to authorize the cities of the Commonwealth to enact ordinances regulating the hours of employment of workmen or laborers working for the city in the performance of contracts awarded for city supplies and work."

Because this legislation would authorize the regulation of the maximum hours of employment only in the cases of persons employed to perform certain contracts awarded by cities under the powers vested in them to enter into such contracts, the conclusion seems unavoidable that the proposed legislation is a 'special law regulating labor,' and therefore prohibited by Section 7 of Article III of the Constitution.

The fact that the proposed amendment would apply to all cities is immaterial, for the subject matter is not within the authorized purposes of classification. There can be no real distinction between labor performed in a private enterprise and labor performed pursuant to a public contract. City councils, of course, have no higher rights in matters of legislation than the legislature which clothes them with authority to enact certain ordinances, and if the State could not constitutionally pass an act regulating the hours of employment in the performance of certain city contracts, it cannot constitutionally authorize the cities themselves to enact ordinances regulating such hours of labor."

For these reasons, the bill is not approved.

JOHN K. TENER.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass, the objections of the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding?

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, I move that the question, together with the further consideration of the bill, be postponed for the present.

Mr. CATLIN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

VETO OF SENATE BILL NO. 139.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, June 27, 1913.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen:—I return herewith without my approval, Senate Bill No. 139 entitled "An Act providing what effect shall be given to admission to practice in the supreme court when the person so admitted applies for admission to practice in the other courts of this Commonwealth."

The purpose of this bill, no doubt, was to authorize the Board of Examiners of the various judicial districts throughout the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to pass upon the moral standing and integrity of all applicants for admission to practice in the various districts, notwithstanding the fact that such applicant had been admitted to practice before the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania; but unfortunately the bill is unlimited in its scope, and might be construed to authorize the Board of Examiners in any judicial district to refuse admission to an applicant for other reasons.

For this reason the bill is not approved.

JOHN K. TENER.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass, the objections of the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding?

Mr. McILHENNY. Mr. President, I move that the question, together with the further consideration of the bill, be postponed for the present.

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

VETO OF SENATE BILL NO. 1347.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, June 27, 1913.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen:—I return herewith without my approval, Senate Bill No. 1347, entitled:

"An Act to repeal sections one to eight inclusive of an act approved the thirteenth day of June one thousand nine hundred and eleven entitled 'An Act creating a County-Sinking Fund Commission in the several counties of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and prescribing its powers and duties' but limiting the repeal to counties having a population of five hundred thousand or under."

This bill not only repeals the act providing for a sinking fund commission in several counties, so far as it affects counties having a population of 500,000 or under, but it provides that it "shall not operate to revive any act or part of an act not in force at the date of the approval of this act." The provisions of this bill are indefinite and it is difficult to determine what the result might be if it became a law.

For this reason the bill is not approved.

JOHN K. TENER.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass, the objections of the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding?

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I move that the question, together with the further consideration of the bill, be postponed for the present.

Mr. MILLS. Mr. President, I second the motion.
The motion was agreed to.

APPROVAL OF SENATE BILL NO. 1153.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, June 27, 1913.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen:—I have the honor to advise you that I have this day approved and signed Senate Bill No. 1153, entitled "An Act authorizing and regulating the survey appraisal and patenting of lands in beds of navigable rivers or streams permitted by the Government of the United States to be abandoned and filled as no longer of use for ordinary purposes of navigation."

JOHN K. TENER.

APPROVAL OF SENATE BILL NO. 1162.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, June 27, 1913.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen:—I have the honor to advise you that I have this day approved and signed Senate Bill No. 1162, entitled "An Act to amend section two of the act approved the fourteenth day of June one thousand nine hundred and eleven entitled 'An Act relating to roads providing for the election and appointment of township supervisors in second class townships defining the powers duties and limitations relating to road tax and the expenditures thereof abolishing the work tax defining certain duties of the clerk of court fixing penalties for violation of this act and making an appropriation to carry out its provisions' so as to provide for a further adjustment of valuation of property made between the date of the levy of the tax and payment of same."

JOHN K. TENER.

BILLS SIGNED.

The PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE (Mr. D. P. Gerberich) announced that the Chief Clerk having reported that the following bills had passed both houses of the General Assembly and the same being correct, the titles were publicly read as follows:

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE.

Mr. MAGEE. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now proceed to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1262 (House Bill No. 117), entitled:

An Act to regulate nominations and elections for all elective officers of cities of the second class and all offices of judge of a court of record providing for non-partisan nominations and elections for said offices abolishing certain existing methods of nomination in such cases and the use of party or political names or appellations at elections with respect to said offices imposing certain duties upon the Secretary of the Commonwealth county commissioners and election officers and clerks and providing penalties for the violation of the provisions hereof and the punishment of certain offenses

Mr. McNICHOLS. Mr. President, I second the motion.
The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1216 (House No. 117), as follows:

An Act to regulate nominations and elections for all elective offices of cities of the second class and all offices of judge of a court of record providing for non-partisan nominations and elections for said offices abolishing certain existing methods of nomination in such cases and the use of party or political names or appellations at elections with respect to said offices imposing certain duties upon the Secretary of the Commonwealth county commissioners and election officers and clerks and providing penalties for the violation of the provisions hereof and the punishment of certain offenses

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That hereafter all candidates for any elective office of cities of the second class or for the office of judge of any court of record whether such office of judge be filled by the vote of the electors of the State at large or of the electors of any county or judicial district in the State shall be nominated in accordance with the provisions of this act and in no other manner The term "office of judge" or "office of judge of any court" when used in this act shall mean the office of judge of any court of record

Section 2 Candidates for any office within the provisions of this act to be filled at any election shall be nominated in the manner hereinafter provided at the regular primary provided by law for the nomination of candidates for other offices to be filled at such election and all laws relating to such primaries shall continue to be in force and to be applicable to the said offices in so far as may be consistent with the provisions of this act No nomination by any political party of any candidate for any such office shall hereafter be made under any law of this Commonwealth

Section 3 Official primary ballots hereinafter called "non-partisan primary ballots" for the said offices shall be prepared for the primary by the County Commissioners and no other ballots for such offices shall be used thereat These non-partisan primary ballots shall be printed on white paper of uniform quality and shall be uniform in size style of printing and general appearance and but one form of non-partisan primary ballots shall be provided for each polling place The non-partisan primary ballot shall be substantially in the following form

Non-Partisan Primary Ballot

District Ward City of

County of State of Pennsylvania

Under each group of names of candidates shall be printed blank spaces defined by light lines or rules three-eighths of an inch apart equal in number to the number of candidates for whom an elector would be entitled to vote for such office at the ensuing election.

On the back of such ballot shall be printed in prominent type the words "Official non-partisan primary ballot" and there shall also appear on the back of such ballot the fac simile signatures of the county commissioners of the county. The ballot shall vary in form only as the names of districts, offices or candidates or the provisions of this act may require. The names of the candidates shall appear on the official non-partisan primary ballots in alphabetical order under the respective offices. Opposite or under the name of each candidate who is to be voted for by the electors of more than one county shall be printed the name of the county in which such candidate resides and opposite or under the name of each candidate who is to be voted for by the electors of an entire county shall be printed the name of the township, borough or ward and city as the case may be in which such candidate resides.

The voter may designate his choice as indicated by the instructions shown on the form of ballot above set forth. He may vote for no greater number of persons for nomination to any office than the number for which he could vote at the succeeding election for the same office. If he shall vote for a greater number of persons for nomination to any office than he would have a right to vote for at the ensuing election for the same office or if for any reason it be impossible to determine his choice for any office his ballot shall not be counted for such office but the rest of his ballot if properly marked shall be counted. No ballot shall be rejected for any technical error which does not render it impossible to determine the voter's choice.

Section 4. The names of all candidates for nomination at any primary for any of said offices shall be printed upon the official non-partisan primary ballot at such primary upon the filing of nomination petitions in their behalf signed by qualified electors of the State or of the political district or division as the case may be within which the nomination is to be made and the filing of affidavits by the candidates as provided by this act and the names of no candidates for any of said offices shall be printed upon any official non-partisan primary ballot to be used at any primary unless such nomination petitions shall have been filed and unless such candidates shall have filed affidavits as hereinafter provided. The petitions and affidavits herein required shall contain no reference to any political party or policy and party membership shall not be necessary to qualify any person to be a candidate or to be a signer of a nomination petition within the provisions of this act.

(a) Each signer of a nomination petition shall sign but one such petition for each office to be filled and shall declare therein that he has signed no inconsistent petition. Provided, however, that where there are to be elected two or more persons to the same office each signer may sign petitions for as many candidates for such office as and no more than he could vote for at the succeeding election. He shall also declare therein that he is a qualified elector of the county named in the sheet which he signs and in case the nomination is not to be made by the electors of the State at large of the political district or division therein named in which the nomination is to be made. He shall add his occupation and residence giving city, borough or township with street and number if any and shall also add the date of signing. No nomination petition shall be circulated prior to sixty (60) days before the last day on which such petition may be filed and no signature shall be counted unless it bears date within sixty (60) days of the last day for filing the same.

Said nomination petition may be on one or more sheets and different sheets must be used for signers resident in different counties. Each sheet shall have appended thereto the affidavit of some person not necessarily a signer and not necessarily the same person on each sheet setting forth that the affiant is a qualified elector of the state or of the political district or division as the case may be referred to in said petition his residence giving city, borough or township with street and number of any that the signers signed with full knowledge of the contents of the petition that their respective residences are correctly stated therein that they all reside in the county named in the affidavit and that each signed on the date set opposite his name and that to the best of affiant's knowledge and belief signers are qualified electors of the state or of the political district or division as the case may be.

(b) Each candidate shall file with his nomination petition his affidavit stating his residence with street and number if any and his post office address his election district the name of the office for which he desires to be a candidate that he is eligible for such office and that he will not knowingly violate any election law or any law regulating and limiting nomination and election expenses and prohibiting corrupt practices in connection therewith.

Section 5. The nomination petitions in the case of candidates for the office of judge shall be filed at least four weeks prior to the primary with the Secretary of the Commonwealth. Nomination petitions in all other cases shall be filed at least three weeks prior to the primary with the county commissioners of the respective counties.

Nomination petitions of candidates shall be signed
(a) If for the office of judge to be filled by a vote of the electors of the state at large by at least one hundred qualified electors in each of at least five counties of the State.

(b) If for the office of judge of any court of record other than a court whose judges are elected by a vote of the electors of the state at large by at least two hundred qualified electors of the county judicial district as the case may be.

(c) If for any other office within the provisions of this act by at least ten qualified electors of the political district or division within which such nomination is to be made.

Where a nomination petition has been duly filed under the provisions of this act and thereafter and before the day of the primary the candidate named in said petition dies the original signers of said petition or the majority of them may sign and file another petition proposing a new candidate for the same office at any time prior to the printing of the non-partisan primary ballot. Said petition so filed shall have the same force and effect as the original petition.

Section 6. No nomination petition with the aforesaid appended and accompanying affidavits shall be refused or set aside except for

(a) Material error or defects apparent on the face thereof or on the face of the appended or accompanying affidavits or

(b) Material alterations made after signing without the consent of the signers or

(c) Want of a sufficient number of genuine signature of persons qualified with respect to age, sex, residence and citizenship to be electors.

The invalidity of any sheet of a petition shall not affect the validity of such petition if a sufficient petition remain after eliminating such invalid sheet.

Application to set aside any nomination petition shall be by petition to the court of common pleas of the county in which such nomination petition has been filed setting forth specifically the matters objected to and must be filed within five days after the last day for filing said nomination petition. Upon the presentation of such a petition the court shall make an order fixing a time for hearing which shall not be later than ten days after the last day for filing said nomination petition and specifying the time and manner of notice that shall be given to the candidate named in the nomination petition sought to be set aside.

If the matters objected to are such as are specified in subdivision (a) of this section the court upon hearing the case may in its discretion permit amendments within such time and upon such terms as to payment of costs as the said court may specify.

In case the petition to set aside a nomination petition is dismissed the petitioner shall pay the whole of the costs of proceeding including all witness fees.

Section 7. The Secretary of the Commonwealth immediately after the last day fixed for the filing of said petitions with him shall forward to the county commissioners of each county a correct list of candidates for the various offices as shown in such petitions with their respective residences and postoffice addresses as shown in their affidavits and shall also at the same time notify the said candidates by mail that their names have been so certified to said county commissioners.

Section 8. The county commissioners shall have on file in their office on and after the Wednesday preceding the primary open to public inspection forms of the non-partisan primary ballots with the name and such notations respecting residence as may be required by the provisions of this act printed thereon which shall be used in each election district within such county.

Section 9. The county commissioners shall prepare and furnish to the election officers of each election district for use at the primary one set of official non-partisan primary ballots of not less than seventy-five for every fifty and fraction of fifty voters therein as contained upon the assessor's or registrar's list.

The county commissioners shall also furnish specimen non-partisan primary ballots for the use of electors at the polls equal in number to one-fourth the whole number of official non-partisan primary ballots said specimen ballots to be printed on colored paper and to be of the same size and form as said official ballot.

The official non-partisan primary ballots shall be bound in books of one hundred each in the same manner as ballots at elections and shall be delivered to the officers of election in the same manner as ballots are or hereafter may be required by law to be delivered to officers of election for use at elections.

Section 10 The qualifications of electors entitled to vote for candidates for office within the provisions of this act at a primary shall be the same as the qualifications of electors entitled to vote at elections within the election district where the primary is held except that with respect to the payment of taxes it shall be sufficient if an elector shall have paid within two years before the next succeeding election a state or county tax which shall have been assessed at least two months before said election and paid on or before the day of the primary and in cases where personal registration is required on or before the registration day on which the elector registers Party membership shall not be necessary to entitle any person to receive and vote a non-partisan primary ballot at any primary at which a candidate for any such office is to be nominated.

As soon as a voter is admitted within the rail in the voting room at the time of a primary the election officer having charge of the ballots shall detach one of said non-partisan primary ballots from the stub and give it to the voter but shall first fold it as required by law if the voter is entitled to receive a party ballot he shall receive it at the same time he receives the non-partisan primary ballot. Not more than one non-partisan primary ballot shall be given to a voter. Provided however That where a voter inadvertently spoils a non-partisan primary ballot he may obtain another as provided by law first returning the spoiled ballot which shall be cancelled preserved and returned as in like cases at elections.

The voter shall mark said non-partisan primary ballot and deposit it in the ballot box at the same time he marks and deposits the party ballot if any.

The ballot check list and the voting check list at primaries shall have separate columns for party ballots and non-partisan primary ballots and the officers or clerks keeping such lists shall make separate checks or notations for each class of ballots as they are issued and deposited.

When after the closing of the polls at a primary the ballots are taken from the ballot box the election officers shall after counting and making a record of the number of ballots for each party count the number of non-partisan primary ballots cast and make a record thereof and after counting the vote cast for the different persons named on the party ballots and making a record thereof shall count the vote cast for the different persons named on the non-partisan primary ballots and make a record thereof and when said count is finally completed they shall certify in due and proper form to the number of votes cast for each person upon the non-partisan primary ballots in addition to certifying the party vote as provided by law the non-partisan primary ballots and their stubs and the unused non-partisan ballots shall be disposed of in the same way as the party ballots stubs and unused ballots are disposed of accordingly to law and the returns of non-partisan votes and register of voters shall be placed in envelopes sealed kept and deposited with the County Commissioners and the returns by them computed and canvassed all as provided by law with respect to party registers and returns.

Section 12 The County Commissioners shall make the proper certification of returns of votes cast at any primary for the candidates for nomination for all offices of judge of any court to the Secretary of the Commonwealth who shall tabulate the same and shall certify to the County Commissioners of the respective counties the result of the computation of the vote at least thirty days prior to the date of the succeeding election.

Section 13 The candidates for nomination at any primary for any office within the provisions of this act to be filled at the succeeding election equal in number to twice the number to be elected at the succeeding election who shall have received at such primary the highest number of votes cast for nomination to the office for which they are candidates (or if the number of all the candidates voted for as aforesaid be not more than twice the number to be elected then all the candidates) shall be the nominees for such office and their names and none other except as hereinafter provided shall be printed as candidates for such respective offices upon the official ballots which are provided according to law for use at such succeeding election. Provided That whenever at any primary any candidate for nomination to any of the aforesaid offices to which but one person is to be elected at the succeeding election shall receive a number of votes greater than one-half of the total number of votes cast for such office at such primary and greater than one-half of the number of ballots cast in the political district or division within which the nomination is to be made at the last preceding regular election such candidate shall be the sole nominee for such office and his name and none other shall be printed as candidate for such office upon the official ballots for use at such succeeding election.

In case of a tie the candidates receiving the tie vote shall appear and cast lots before the county commissioners or the Secretary of the Commonwealth as the case may be on the third Friday after the primary and the one to whom the lot shall fall shall be entitled to the nomination. Provided in any case where the fact of a tie vote is not authoritatively determined until after the third Wednesday after the day of the primary the day for appearing and casting lots shall be the second day after the day on which the fact of such tie vote is authoritatively determined. If any candidate or candidates receiving a tie vote fail to appear before twelve o'clock noon on said day the county commissioners or the Secretary of the Commonwealth as the case may be shall cast lots for him or them. For the purpose of casting lots any candidate may appear in person or by proxy appointed in writing.

Section 14 If after any primary and before the succeeding election any candidate nominated pursuant to the provisions of this act shall die or shall by virtue of any present or future law be disentitled to have his name printed on the ballot for the election a vacancy shall be deemed to exist which shall be filled by the otherwise unnominated and not so disentitled candidate for the same office next in rank with respect to the number of votes received at such primary. If after any primary and before the succeeding election there should not be any candidate whatever nominated living and entitled to have his name printed on the ballot for any office which is within the provisions of this act and which is to be filled at the succeeding election or not enough of such candidates for any such office to equal the number of persons to be elected thereto at the succeeding election other candidates may be nominated for such office with the same effect as though nominated at the primary by the filing of nomination petitions on behalf of and affidavits by such candidates in the manner and form and according to the directions hereinbefore provided in Sections four and five of this act with respect to getting the name of a candidate for such office printed upon the ballot for the primary varied in so far as may be necessary to fit the different purpose. Such nomination petitions and affidavits may nevertheless in such cases be filed at any time after the primary and before the succeeding election but as soon as enough of such after-primary nomination petitions shall have been filed to provide a number of candidates including any previously nominated and still remaining available equal to twice the number of persons to be elected to the office no more such petitions shall be received. The Secretary of the Commonwealth shall immediately upon the filing of any such after-primary petition and its accompanying affidavit in proper form in his office forward to the County Commissioners of the county or counties whose electors are entitled to vote at the election for the office a written statement of the name residence and postoffice address of the candidate therein named as shown in his affidavit as well as the name of the office for which he is a candidate and shall at the same time notify the said candidate by mail that his name has been so certified to the County Commissioners. As soon as any such substituted or additional candidate shall have been duly nominated as herein provided his name shall be used by the proper officers as though he had been nominated at the primary so far as time will allow and in case such after-primary nomination be filed with or transmitted to the County Commissioners after the ballots have been printed the said Commissioners shall prepare and distribute with the ballots suitable slips of paper bearing the substituted or added name together with the title of the office and having adhesive paste upon the reverse side which shall be offered to each voter with the regular ballot and may be affixed thereto.

Section 15 Whenever an office within the provisions of this act is to be filled at a regular or special election because of the prior happening of a vacancy in such office nominations of candidates for such office for such election shall be made as follows.

If such vacancy is to be filled at a regular election or at a special election to be held at the same time as a regular election and if such vacancy happened not less than thirty days prior to the last day for filing nominations petitions for the office for the regular primary antecedent to such election nominations shall be made at the primary preceding such election in the same manner that candidates for the same office are nominated under the provisions of this act when there has been no antecedent vacancy occasioning the election.

In all other cases within the purview of this section candidates for such office shall be nominated with the same effect as though nominated at a primary by the filing of nomination petitions on behalf of and affidavits by such candidates in the manner and form and according to the directions hereinbefore provided in Sections four and five of this act with respect to getting the name of a candidate for such office printed upon the ballot for the primary varied in so far as may be necessary to fit the different purposes. Any number of candidates may be so nominated. Such nomination petitions and affidavits shall be filed the same length of time prior to the election as corresponding nomination petitions are required to be filed before a primary shall be filed in the same office and the same proceedings shall be had with respect thereto with relation to the election as herein provided with respect to a primary. Provided however said nomination petitions shall not be deemed to be filed too late if filed within ten days after such vacancy happened.

Section 16 At the head of every official ballot furnished for an election at which any candidate for any office within the provisions of this act is to be voted for there shall be printed immediately after the instructions now by law required to be printed thereon the following additional instructions in the same style and size of type to wit "A cross (X) in the party square in the first column does not carry a vote for any judge or for (here insert names of any other offices for which candidates have been nominated under the provisions of this act) To vote for judge or any city office mark a cross (X) opposite the name of the candidate desired."

The group of candidates for the office or the several offices within the provisions of this act shall be printed on the ballot at the head of the second column shall be enclosed in a solid border not less than one-sixteenth of an inch in width and shall be headed with the following words printed in bold face type not less than sixteen point in size "Judicial and city ticket Non-partisan" Said instructions shall vary as the names of the offices to be filled may require.

The names of the candidates nominated as provided by this act shall be printed on the ballot in alphabetical order under the titles of the respective offices and without any party name or appellation and the names of no other candidates for such offices shall be printed on said ballots. At the right of the name of each candidate shall be a square for the insertion of a cross mark and following the list of candidates for each different office to be filled (or under the name of the office itself if there are no candidates) shall be left blank spaces all as required by law.

Section 17 Any candidate for nomination to be voted for at a primary under this act may at any time before four o'clock Post Meridian of the Friday next succeeding the last day fixed for filing nomination petitions for the office for which he is a candidate withdraw his name as a candidate by a request in writing signed by him and acknowledged before any officer authorized by law to take acknowledgments and filed with the Secretary of the Commonwealth if such candidate's nomination petition was filed with the Secretary of the Commonwealth and in all other cases with the county commissioners.

The Secretary of the Commonwealth upon the filing of requests for withdrawal in the manner herein provided shall forthwith certify to the county commissioners of the proper county a correct list of candidates filing such requests.

No candidate for any office within the provisions of this act nominated at or after a primary may withdraw his name as candidate for election.

Section 18 Each candidate for any office within the provisions of this act shall be entitled to appoint one watcher at the election in each election district precinct or division in which such candidate is to be voted for who shall be a qualified elector of the district precinct or division in which he is authorized to act as such watcher and who shall serve without compensation. Each watcher shall be provided with a certificate from the county commissioners stating his name the district in which he is authorized to act and the name of the candidate appointing him and shall have the right to be present in the voting room outside of the enclosed space during the time that the ballots are cast and counted and the returns made out and signed by the election officers and may keep poll books and challenge lists. Watchers shall be required to show their certificates when requested to do so.

If any election officers officiating at any election shall refuse to permit a watcher appointed under the provisions of this act to be present as herein provided such officer or officers shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and on conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding one thousand ($1,000.00) dollars or to undergo an imprisonment not exceeding one year or both in the discretion of the court.

Section 19 Any person or persons who by violence or intimidation shall threaten or drive away said watchers shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and on conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars or undergo an imprisonment for a period not exceeding one year or both in the discretion of the court.

Section 20 If any person shall knowingly sign any nomination petition provided for by this act without being qualified with respect to age sex residence and citizenship to be an elector of the State or of the political district or division as the case may be named in said petition and a resident of the county named on the sheet which he signs or if any person shall knowingly set opposite a signature on a nomination petition a date other than the actual date such signature was affixed thereto or if any person shall set opposite a signature on a nomination petition a false statement of the signer's place of residence or if any person shall knowingly sign more nomination petitions than permitted by the provisions of this act he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not more than one hundred ($100.00) dollars.

If any person shall knowingly make a false statement in an affidavit required by the provisions of this act to be appended to or to accompany a nomination petition or if any person shall fraudulently sign any name not his own to any nomination petition or if any person shall fraudulently alter any nomination petition or if any person shall alter any nomination petition without the consent of the signers he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not more than five hundred ($500.00) dollars or to undergo imprisonment for not more than one year either or both at the discretion of the court.

Section 21 The invalidity of any portion of this act shall in no wise affect the validity of any other portion thereof which can be given effect without such invalid portion.

Section 22 All acts or parts of acts inconsistent with this act be and the same are hereby repealed in so far as they conflict with the provisions of this act. Provided however that the repeal of said acts shall not in any way interfere with or affect any proceeding pending at the date of the approval of this act.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. MAGEE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to amend the bill in section 13, line 25, by striking out after the word "made" the following words: "at the last preceding regular election."

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The amendment was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

NAYS—1.

Beidleman,

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments, in which the concurrence of the House is requested.

RECESS.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now take a recess for five minutes.

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

AFTER RECESS.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor John M. Reynolds) in the Chair.

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed, the Senate will be in order.

HOUSE MESSAGE.

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced, presented extracts from the Journal of the House of Representatives, which were laid upon the table.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION FOR APPOINTMENT OF COMMITTEE TO INVESTIGATE ALLEGATIONS AGAINST CERTAIN PERSONS CONCERNING THE DEFEAT OF CHILD AND WOMAN'S LABOR LEGISLATION.

Mr. SNYDER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. SNYDER offered a resolution, which was twice read, as follows:

Whereas, It is alleged that Henry G. Wasson, of Pittsburgh, and certain persons connected with the Philadelphia North American and Child Labor and Woman's Labor Legislative Committees acted in bad faith, with the view and for the purpose of defeating the Child and Woman's Labor legislation of this session for political purposes when an opportunity had been given to obtain legislation which would have been acceptable to the Child Labor organizations of the State of Pennsylvania the manufacturers and employers of labor affected by it and the representatives of labor in the State, and

Whereas, It is desirable that the members of the Legislature by whom this legislation has been considered and the public now so much interested in the subject and so anxious at this time to see enacted into law fair and equitable legislation on the subject have full knowledge of the fact and circumstances under which this legislation has been throttled and finally defeated; therefore, be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That the President pro tempore of the Senate shall appoint three Senators and the Speaker of the House of Representatives shall appoint three members who shall constitute a joint committee whose duty it shall be to make a full and thorough investigation as to the truth of the allegations herein referred to. Said committee shall have power to elect its own chairman, to sit after the adjournment of the Legislature, to employ legal counsel and such other officers and employees as may be needed to enable it to properly perform its duties as aforesaid; and the expenditures for the same shall be provided there for in the General Appropriation Bill to be passed at the next session of the Legislature and shall be paid out of the State Treasury upon vouchers signed by the chairman of said committee. Said committee shall have power to issue subpoenas signed by its chairman requiring the attendance of persons and the production of papers as in its judgment will assist in the performance of its duties as aforesaid.

Said committee shall make a full report in writing to the Governor of the Commonwealth of its findings together with the testimony as soon as possible and the Governor shall transmit the same to the next General Assembly.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. SNYDER. Mr. President, I present this resolution to conform in part with the thoughts indicated before the Senate before the recess. I desire to say that as Chairman of that committee the Judiciary Special Committee has full knowledge of this proceeding and of the agreement of Senator Vare with respect to the child and woman's labor bills, and without committing the committee to anything in particular, Senator Vare in good faith met this committee representing the child labor and woman's bills and made an agreement that if they would consent to certain conditions and certain exemptions and certain amendments, that he would use his best offices to bring about a satisfactory bill, satisfactory to the representatives of child labor, of women's labor, the employers, and the representatives of the Federation of Labor. In pursuance of that agreement Senator Vare did have several conferences, and as indicated in the hearings before, the chairman of the committee then told Senator Vare that he did not believe these gentlemen were acting in good faith, that they were not acting for an economic or humanitarian purpose, and that the newspaper represented the political policy these representatives advocated, that it is a matter of political preferment and I believe it was a perfidious transaction and the purpose of it was not only to indict the Republican party but also to bring misrepresentation upon the members of the Senate who were friends of the bill and had fought for it because they had been published as reactionaries. I therefore ask the Senate to adopt this resolution in order to find out who has dishonored this State, who has dishonored his party, who has dishonored the principles or purposes which he so broadly published throughout this Commonwealth, and whether or not Wasson, the authorized chairman of the Republican party, who is a pronounced candidate for the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, should not come to the bar of this Senate and show whether he acted in good faith with the members of this Senate, with the members of the Legislature, and with the representatives of labor for the purpose of defeating legislation that he declared from time to time he was in favor of.

And the question recurring.

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

Ordered. That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

The PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE (Mr. D. P. Gerberich) in the Chair.

BILL SIGNED.

The PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE (Mr. D. P. Gerberich) announced that the Chief Clerk having reported that the following bill had passed both houses of the General Assembly and the same being correct, the title was publicly read as follows.

House Bill No. 221, entitled:

An Act fixing the salary of registers of wills in counties containing a population of one million five hundred thousand and upwards and providing for the payment of fees or commissions earned by said officers into the county treasury

Whereupon,

The PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE (Mr. D. P. Gerberich) in the presence of the Senate signed the same.

BILL SIGNED.

The PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE (Mr. D. P. Gerberich) announced that the Chief Clerk having reported that the following bill had passed both Houses of the General Assembly and the same being correct, the title was publicly read as follows:

House Bill No. 1117, entitled:

An Act to provide for the ordinary expenses of the Executive Judicial and Legislative Departments of the Commonwealth interest on the public debt and the support of the public schools for the two fiscal years beginning June first one thousand nine hundred and thirteen and for the payment of bills incurred and remaining unpaid at the close of the fiscal year ending May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred and thirteen

Whereupon,

The PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE (Mr. D. P. Gerberich) in the presence of the Senate signed the same.

NOTIFICATION THAT HOUSE IS READY TO ADJOURN.

Messrs. Glenn, Roney and Swift a committee of the House of Representatives, being introduced, informed the Senate that the House of Representatives is now ready to adjourn sine die, and were extended the thanks of the Senate.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE TO NOTIFY HOUSE THAT SENATE IS READY TO ADJOURN.

Mr. HUNTER. Mr. President, the Committee appointed to notify the House of Representatives that the Senate is ready to adjourn sine die desire to report to the Senate that they have fulfilled the duties of their appointment.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE TO WAIT UPON THE GOVERNOR.

Mr. SNYDER. Mr. President, the Committee appointed by the Senate to act with a like committee from the House of Representatives to wait on His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, desire to report that we have waited on His Excellency the Governor of the Commonwealth and he wishes to state that he has nothing further to present.

ADJOURNMENT SINE DIE.

The PRESIDENT. This being the day and hour fixed by concurrent resolution for final adjournment and the hour of twelve o'clock midnight having arrived I hereby declare the Senate adjourned sine die.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

FRIDAY, June 27th, 1913.

The House met at 10:30 A. M.

The SPEAKER (George A. Alter) in the Chair.

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. J. E. Wright, delivered the following prayer:

O God, as we look into Thy face this morning our hearts are stirred to thankfulness, and our lips to praise. Thou hast been wonderfully good to us and we recognize that goodness. Thou hast given us experiences of exceptional interest which will contribute not merely to our personal enrichment, but as we also believe to the enrichment of the Commonwealth and to the good of the people. We thank Thee for what our eyes have seen and what our ears have heard indicative of the progress of the purposes of God. Thou art manifestly working Thy righteous will and Thou hast chosen us to be Thy agents and ministers in bringing that will about. We rejoice in the honor and the dignity of it and also in the fact that we are not alone but are only a little section or fragment of a great host of earnest men who are steadily striving for the things that are good and trying to make the world better. For the part Thou has given us in this world-wide struggle, we give to Thee our thanks. Whether in public life or in private life, may we acquit ourselves like men and be strong in the Lord and in the power of his might. We rejoice that Thou hast brought us face to face during these many months. And now, as we separate and return to our homes, may we have approving consciences to reward us, with the blessing of Heaven and the favor of the people. And Thy name shall have the praise of it forever. Amen.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of the proceedings of yesterday.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the proceedings of yesterday when, on motion of Mr. Moses, the further reading was dispensed with and the Journal approved.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE.

The SPEAKER asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. Newton who was compelled to go home on account of illness.

BILL PASSED IN ORDER.

The SPEAKER. Bill No. 1, on third reading, (Senate Bill 989), had better be passed in its order. Manifestly it is not worth while to consume the time of the House in passing it.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of H. R. bill No. 2251 (Senate No. 1894), entitled:

An Act regulating the sale of bichloride of mercury and providing a penalty

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON HOUSE BILL NO. 1383.

To the Honorable, the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen: We, the undersigned, Committee of Conference, on the part of the Senate and House of Representatives for the purpose of considering House bill No. 1383, entitled "An Act making an appropriation for the purpose of further carrying out the provisions of a joint resolution approved the fourteenth day of June, one thousand nine hundred and eleven, entitled 'A joint resolution to provide for the participation of the State of Pennsylvania in the Panama-Pacific International Exposition to be held in San Francisco, California in nineteen hundred and fifteen to celebrate the completion and opening of the Panama Canal and the four hundredth anniversary of the discovery of the Pacific Ocean and providing for the appointment of a commission and making an appropriation to defray the expenses of the same,' " beg leave to submit the following amended bill as our report:

JOHN T. MATT,
FREDERICK C. EHRHARDT,
C. M. C. CAMPBELL,

Committee on the part of the House of Representatives.

CHARLES H. KLINE,
THEODORE M. KURTZ,

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON HOUSE BILL NO. 221.

To the members of the Senate and House of Representatives:

We, the undersigned Committee of Conference, on the part of the Senate and House of Representatives, for the purpose of considering House bill number two hundred and twenty-one, entitled "An Act fixing the salary of registers of wills in counties within which are or may be located any cities of the first class, and providing for the payment of fees or commissions earned by said officers into the county treasury after deduction of expenses which expenses said registers are authorized to incur," beg leave to submit the following amended bill as our report.

T. HENRY WALNUT,
E. J. McALEER,
SAMUEL B. SCOTT,
Committee on the part of the House.

SAML. W. SALUS,
EDWIN H. VARE,
AUGUSTUS F. DAIX, JR.,
Committee on the part of the Senate.

An Act fixing the salary of registers of wills in counties containing a population of one million five hundred thousand and upwards and providing for the payment of fees or commissions earned by said officers into the county treasury after deduction of expenses which expenses said registers are authorized to incur

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That hereafter the salary of registers of wills in every county of this Commonwealth containing a population of one million five hundred thousand and upwards shall be ten thousand ($10,000) dollars a year

Section 2 The register of wills in said counties shall pay into the county treasury all fees or commissions of any kind earned by them for services performed either for the county or for the State or otherwise after deducting therefrom counsel fees and other legal expenses incurred in the collection of the same and the said registers being authorized and empowered to employ an attorney or attorneys to aid them in the collection in the orphans' court and other courts and otherwise of inheritance taxes provided that the amount so deducted for counsel fees and other legal expenses shall not exceed twelve thousand dollars per annum

Section 3 This act shall not affect the compensation of any register of wills elected prior to the enactment hereof during the term for which he shall have been elected

Section 4 All acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed

On the question,

Will the House adopt the Conference Report??

Mr. S. B. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I desire to inform the House that the House Conferees have maintained the whole position of the House in this matter.

The SPEAKER. The Chair congratulates the Conferees. On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the Conference Report?

RESOLUTION EXTENDING TIME OF FINAL ADJOURNMENT.

Mr. HUMES. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer a resolution.

The SPEAKER. The resolution will be read by the Clerk. The Clerk read the resolution as follows:

In the House of Representatives, June 27, 1913.

Resolved (if the Senate concur) that the time for adjournment sine die of this General Assembly be extended until twelve o'clock tonight.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. HUMES. Mr. Speaker, if this resolution is not adopted, and the strict letter of the resolution that has already been acted upon by the House and the Senate is complied with, we will be in the position of having the State wide primary bill and several other conference reports die. I do not believe that this House can afford to place itself in that position. The conference report on the State wide primary bill, in the condition practically that it passed the House, is now in the hands of the printer and it will probably be late in the afternoon before it will be placed on the desks of the members, so it may be acted upon. I trust no chance will be taken in this particular of placing ourselves in the position that the gavel may fall finally before that conference report is acted upon, and I trust that the members will see this in the right light, and adopt the resolution.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I don't believe that this House is going to make the mistake of not extending the session twelve hours rather than to take the responsibility suggested by the gentleman from Crawford. The House will have to carry the responsibility. It is only a question of twelve more hours and the House certainly is not going to refuse to adopt this amendment.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, is it essential for us to adopt this resolution now. It is quite possible that we will not reach the afternoon session. We have seen morning legislatures extended quite late. It might be possible that this clock will not reach the hour of twelve o'clock, noon, until we have completed our work. Of course, if it is the desire of the Chair that this resolution shall be adopted, I dare say that none of us will oppose the Chair's desire, but session after session we have sat here and the clock has always been accommodating and never had reached the hour of twelve o'clock noon until we have completed our work. The gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Humes, is anticipating that the Clock will move faster than usual. Of course, all of us will bow to the desire of the Chair.

The SPEAKER. In reply to the interrogation of the gentleman, I desire to state that the clock has kept such excellent time during the session that the Chair hesitates at having the clock impaired. While the Chair is making this statement, the Chair should also add that the substantial reason for having a definite extension is that the conferees on the Child Labor Bill are not very far apart and if they had a definite extension of time, the Chair feels that it would be very helpful. However, if the work of the House is completed at six o'clock this evening, the Assembly can adjourn then, at that time, notwithstanding the resolution.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask that if it is true if there was any point raised, and no argument went on the records of the House and sometimes the clock does not move forward very fast—but if some member should rise to an argument on the question, it would appear on the record. I think we should adopt this resolution.

Mr. STEIN. Mr. Speaker, will the House pardon me for just one second in calling attention to the fact of the remarks of the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Humes. It seems to me rather strange that he wants us to do in six hours what this House has not been able to do in six months and now the statement is made that if we have twelve hours satisfactory action can be taken on this bill. The time is entirely inadequate for the purpose. I therefore ask the members of the House to vote it down.

Mr. SNYDER. Mr. Speaker, let us be true to ourselves; true to our constituents and let us stay here until the work is done.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I dare say that if it is the desire of the Chair, as indicated, that the House should adopt this resolution, none of us will oppose it.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Whereupon a division was called, and 115 gentlemen or more than the majority of the whole House having voted in the affirmative,

The resolution was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

REPORT OF CONFERENCE COMMITTEES.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON HOUSE BILL NO. 416.

To the members of the Senate and House of Representatives:

We, the undersigned Committee of Conference on the part of the House of Representatives and the Senate, for the purpose of considering House bill number four hundred and sixteen, entitled "An Act to prevent occupational diseases and to provide for the health of employees exposed to the danger of lead poisoning and other occupational diseases by regulating certain manufacturing establishments providing for medical examinations and reports and requiring sanitary precautions and appliances and making violation of its provisions a misdemeanor and providing penalties for violation thereof," beg leave to submit the following amended bill as our report.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the conference report?

Mr. WALNUT. Mr. Speaker, this bill is known as the Lead Poisoning Bill. As it was originally introduced, it covered the manufacturers of all white lead products. It also covered tile and pottery works and other businesses that dealt with lead solution and lead products in any form. The purpose of the bill was to protect workmen against lead poisoning. On the investigation of the Federal Department of Labor it showed very clearly that there is marked necessity for such a bill. The only provisions contained in the bill were those requiring the introduction of certain sanitary precautions for the protection of the men employed in these places. The bill passed the House without a dissenting voice and it passed the Senate without a dissenting vote. It then went to the Governor and was recalled from the Governor for the purpose of making corrections of certain typographical errors. Immediately after its recall, opposition developed from the tile workers in the western part of the State, but it passed the House again, however, and went to the Senate, and then further opposition developed, not only from the tile workers but from people who dealt in enamel and porcelain ware. The evidence produced on the subject showed clearly that if any precaution was needed anywhere it was needed in that particular industry. As high as thirty per cent. of the employees in connection with lead solution were affected and injured by the work that they performed. However, the bill passed the Senate, was reconsidered and referred to a conference committee and one member of that conference committee said that he would not agree to report the bill back unless we absolutely took from it the provisions affecting the pottery works and the porcelain and enamel works. Their position was absolutely indefensible to my mind and they had no argument to advance. The only position they took was that the persons engaged in that business objected to the introduction of the shower baths and wash stands and other similar sanitary devices. They were of no great hardship to the industry but would merely require and permit the employee to be properly cleanly and protect himself against the most serious defects of his employment. The only position they took was that the operators of these businesses were opposed to the inconvenience, the small inconvenience, necessitated by these sanitary improvements. They absolutely refused to report that bill back to the Senate unless the amendment was made striking out those industries from the purpose of the bill. I tried for three days to get the conferees of that committee together. We met together yesterday and I found that they were absolute in their position which they took and they didn't pretend to defend it or offer any argument. They simply stated, "We will not agree to the bill unless that provision is stricken out." In order to save the bill in its application to the other industries covered, we, therefore, found it necessary to strike those provisions out of it. I, therefore, ask the gentlemen of this House to pass this bill, notwithstanding this improper amendment required by the Senate.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the conference report?

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON SENATE BILL
No. 884.

To the Honorable the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Gentlemen:—The Committee of Conference to which was referred the differences existing between the two houses on Senate bill number eight hundred and eighty-four, entitled "An Act to provide for the appointment of registrars of electors to be deputy poll tax collectors in cities of the first class of this Commonwealth a method of collecting such taxes, penalties for violation of its provisions and to repeal acts or parts of acts inconsistent therewith," respectfully beg leave to submit the following amended bill as our report.

JAMES P. McNICHOL,
EDWIN H. VARE,
SAML. W. SALUS,

EDWIN R. COX,
GEO. T. CONRADE,

Committee on the part of the House of Representatives

An Act to provide for the appointment of registrars of electors to be deputy poll tax collectors in cities of the first class of this Commonwealth a method of collecting such taxes penalties for violation of its provisions and to repeal acts or parts of acts inconsistent therewith

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met it is hereby enacted by the authority if the same That the receiver of taxes in cities of the first class of this Commonwealth shall designate one of the registrars appointed by the Registration Commissioners for each election district in said cities to be deputy poll tax collector for such district who shall receive poll tax from persons who have been duly assessed in said district and make proper receipt therefor on any of the registration days provided by law

Section 2 The receiver of taxes shall prepare blank poll tax receipts bound together in books containing fifty each impressed with the proper seal of the city which said books shall be issued to the said deputy collectors of poll tax from time to time as required and the stub of each receipt together with all unused receipts shall on or before the second day next succeeding each registration day be returned to the receiver of taxes and kept by him as a part of the records of his department for a period of two years

Section 3 The said deputy poll tax collectors shall give bond in form and amount approved by the receiver of taxes and shall for their services receive ten percentum of the amount collected by them which shall be in addition to the compensation allowed them by law for their services as registrars They shall make a full return of all moneys (less their commission of ten percentum) and blank receipts received by them on or before the second day next succeeding each registration day

Section 4 Any deputy poll tax collector who shall upon request refuse to accept the payment of a tax and to furnish a receipt therefor from an elector upon whom said tax has been properly assessed and who offers the same according to law or who shall accept payment of a tax from and issue a receipt to any person other than the said elector or his duly authorized agent or attorney shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not exceeding five hundred dollars

Section 5 All acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith the hereby repealed

On the question,

Will the House adopt the conference report?

Mr. S. B. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, this report is not signed by myself, because I dissented from the conclusions of the conference committee. If the House will again read the names of the other members of the conference committee, "James P. McNichol, Edwin H. Vare, Samuel W. Salus, Edwin R. Cox and George T. Conrade," it will appreciate why it was impossible for me to impress my opinion upon them. But, Mr. Speaker, the difference is this: This bill provides for the appointment of a deputy receiver of taxes from among the registrars in cities of the first class. It is very important for the convenience of the voters that they be able to purchase their poll tax receipts at the same time they register. The way it is done now is the reason for the loss of a great many votes which ought to be cast. There is also a provision whereby party workers can procure the tax receipts. Therefore, Mr. Speaker, this bill in its major purpose is a good one and I do not care to take the responsibility of running any campaign against the passage of the bill, but I desire to point out to the House that the bill as it comes from the conference committee provides that the receiver of taxes may appoint his deputy from any one of the four registrars. That means, of course, that he will appoint him from those of his own party, which means that the office of receiver of taxes will be able to create a machine in the City of Philadelphia consisting of over 1,100 members, a tremendous brigade. It was the desire of the House that his choice should come from the majority party in the division. Of course, that sometimes would be one party and at the same time in some divisions would be of the other party. Therefore, his machine would be broken and it would not be so easy to control. However, Mr. Speaker, the amount of money in each case is extremely small and the emoluments are small and the general purpose of the bill is good; therefore, I feel the House ought to pass this bill, although I cannot agree with the report.

Mr. COX. Mr. Speaker, it has been contended that as the receiver of taxes collects the money for this poll tax, he has the right to appoint his fiscal agents, therefore, it would be nothing more than proper to permit him to select from one of four, instead of tying him down to two of the majority party. I believe this bill is a very fair and progressive bill, in that it permits the purchasing of tax receipts in every division in the City of Philadelphia, and it would give the reform receiver of taxes, should he be elected, the same privilege that the Republican receiver of taxes has to-day. I believe this bill is fair and impartial.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative, and the conference report adopted.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. MILLER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. MILLER. Mr. Speaker. I feel that before this session adourns that some further record should be made of the workings of the conference committee on the Employers' Liability Law.

I think that is relevant and important that the record be complete? I stated a week ago yesterday the history of the conference committee up to that time, and I predicted that there would be an absolute disagreement between the conferees of the House and the Senate. That disagreement was reached on Wednesday night of this week. It was the eleventh meeting or attempted meetings between the two committees. I will not use up any time this morning in attempting to convey to you the dilatory tactics or the delayed meetings that took place between the fifth meeting, which occurred a week ago on Wednesday, and the eleventh meeting, which occurred on Wednesday night of this week. Let me say that in all that time there was never a clear proposition submitted to the committee on the part of the conferees of the Senate. Let me say that during the entire day of Tuesday of this week, that members of the commission which drafted this act were here, endeavoring to submit a plan which would satisfy the Senate conferees, the State insurance plan, which they said they were willing to agree to in connection with the bill prepared by the commission, yet their plan, no matter how reasonable, was rejected. It simply means this, that we must gather from these actions one conclusion and that is that the dominating power in the other body wants no employers' liability law in any form. I am not going to speak at length, or criticize the judge or find fault with anyone, but I believe there are men in that body who honestly digested that proposed bill, and after digest, honestly and sincerely believed that it should be enacted into law. There were other men who did not believe that the bill as prepared by the commission was entirely fair, but still honestly in their hearts wished a compensation law, but I believe that the majority of that body and the dominating power in that body, no matter what their professions were, wanted no compensation bill in any form, and they have succeeded in doing just what they wished to do and succeeded in reaching that result. I have no sympathy with men who have made campaign pledges or promises and said they favored a fair compensation bill and then rejected this bill in toto or accepted it with the optional clause in it, which made it amount to absolutely nothing. I have no sympathy with those men, because when they made those statements and those assertions during the campaign they knew they said something which in their hearts was not true; because as early as Spring of last year this bill in practically the same form in which it was introduced in this House was published and known to everyone. Hearings were had upon it during July of last year, and if any one disagreed with it when he made those campaign pledges it was his duty to except from these pledges the bill prepared by the Industrial Accident Commission which had been at work for two years.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would ask the gentleman to yield the floor for a moment.

SENATE MESSAGE.

RESOLUTION CONCURRED IN BY SENATE.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has concurred in the concurrent resolution of the House as follows:

In The House of Representatives, June 27th, 1913.
Resolved (if the Senate concur) that the time of adjournment of this General Assembly be extended until twelve o'clock tonight

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Lehigh will continue.

Mr. MILLER. I wish to occupy no further time of this House but simply say that it is quite clear to this House and to the public at large where the responsibility is to be fixed for the broken pledges and for the disappointment meted out to the people of Pennsylvania. The difference between this body and the body on the other side is that the dominating force of this House, the majority of members here, wish the Compensation Bill, and were honest in striving for it, while the majority on the other side were against a Compensation Bill in any form and succeeded in stifling that legislation.

RESOLUTION REQUESTING INFORMATION FROM THE AUDITOR GENERAL.

Mr. J. R. K. SCOTT offered the following resolution, which was twice read, considered and agreed to.

Whereas, The contingent items of the general appropriation bills of the various sessions carry large sums of money, and,
Whereas, It is important to intelligently regulate these and other items in the future general appropriation acts,

Therefore, be it resolved, by the House of Representatives that the Auditor General of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania be requested to tabulate the vouchers of expenditure of such item or items of the general appropriation bills of 1911 and 1913 and report to the next House of Representatives or at any intervening special session of the present House of Representatives such tabulation and any other facts or information obtainable in such vouchers, and such suggestions for future remedial legislation as he may deem necessary in said matter.

REPORT FROM THE COMMITTEE APPOINTED TO INVESTIGATE CHARGES AGAINST JUDGES OF THE FOURTEENTH JUDICIAL DISTRICT.

Mr. WHITAKER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer a report from the committee appointed to investigate the charges preferred against Judge Umbel and Judge Van Swearingen.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the report.

The Clerk then read the report as follows:

House of Representatives,
Harrisburg, Pa., June 27, 1913.

To the House of Representatives:

The Special Committee of the House of Representatives appointed to investigate the charges and allegations lodged by H. S. Dumbauld against Hon. Robert E. Umbel, President Judge of the Fourteenth Judicial District, and to inquire to what extent said charges involve the judicial conduct of Hon. J. Q. VanSwearingen, Associate Judge of said Fourteenth Judicial District, respectfully report that your Committee, after causing to be subpoenaed all witnesses desired by the complainant and respondents, sat at Uniontown on Thursday and Friday, the nineteenth and twentieth instants, and commenced the taking of testimony. Over two hundred witnesses have been subpoenaed, and upon the statement of the complainant and respondents that fully three weeks would be required to present their testimony, the Committee adjourned its hearings until Monday June 30th.

The examination of but three witnesses was possible during the two days' session, and the testimony of these few witnesses called by the complainant was not sufficient to disclose whether or not the charges against Judge Umbel are well founded or not. As the implication of Judge VanSwearingen is confined in the complaint to his relations with one, Samuel E. Frock, one of the witnesses heard, it is but fair to state that this witness, in his testimony, did not show guilty complicity in the matter complained of on the part of this judge.

At the Committee's request the Attorney General has prepared an opinion as to the right of the Committee to sit after adjournment of the Legislature, which opinion is attached hereto, and is, in part as follows:

"I am therefore of the opinion that, as a legal proposition, the power of your committee to hold hearings and compel the attendance of witnesses, and the production of books and papers, et cetera will not cease by reason of the adjournment of the General Assembly."

Your committee, having been unable to complete its duties and being in doubt as to whether or not it should proceed with the investigation after adjournment, submits the matter to the House and requests instruction.

Respectfully submitted,

Signed SAMUEL A. WHITAKER,
CLEON E. BERNTHEIZEL,
JOHN M. FLYNN,
AUGUSTINE P. CONNIFF,
J. H. DEFREES.

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, I move that the committee be authorized to continue its investigation under the resolution and report its findings to the Speaker of this House when completed.

Mr. ULERICH. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. STEIN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer as a substitute motion the following: That the committee be discharged with the thanks of the House and that further proceedings be suspended until the next session.

Mr. KEEGAN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. SPEISER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. SPEISER. Mr. Speaker, my point of order is that the motion by the gentleman from Tioga is out of order. The investigating committee has been authorized and proceeded under a resolution of this House—under a joint resolution and ceases to exist after this House adjourns sine die. In the ruling of the Catlin Commission it was held that a Committee acting under a resolution of one of the Houses of the Assembly would have no right to subpoena witnesses and no right to insist on that subpoena being obeyed during the recess or interim of the General Assembly. Therefore, the Committee would be without power. I think the gentleman's motion would be futile.

The SPEAKER. The Chair over-rides the point of order for this reason: There is no parallel between the Catlin Commission and this Committee. The Catlin Commission was appointed to investigate matters over which the Senate had no particular jurisdiction above or other than the jurisdiction of the House. This committee is solely and exclusively within the jurisdiction of the House. The question is whether or not the House shall prefer charges. The Attorney General has given an opinion in which he says "There is no doubt of the right of the committee to proceed with the investigation after the adjournment of the House and it is likewise the opinion of the Chair and, therefore, the point of order is over-ruled.

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, in relation to the substitute motion offered by the gentleman from Allegheny, I don't know where it emanated from or what the purpose of it but if it comes from the private interests who are effected by this resolution bearing on the case of Judge Umbel, it seems to be a great mistake on his part or any one to allow this investigation to become squashed at this time. There are grave charges in this allegation on which the resolution was based and the public in this State have been informed throughout the State of these charges and if these proceedings are squashed at this time, I believe that this House would do a great injury to the Judiciary of this State. There is a feeling growing up throughout the State against the Judiciary and some of it is justified and some is not, but here we have a specific allegation against a judge—several allegations which, if true, should prevent that man or any ordinary man from sitting on the bench of this State. If we, as a House of Representatives after hearing these allegations and appointing this Committee and having power, if we believed that the Committee has a right to go on and find out whether there is anything wrong in it, and if there is anything wrong and we stop then indefinitely, we are doing a great wrong to the public in this State. If there is not anything wrong the Committee can find that out and then some action can be taken as the circumstances may warrant. I believe the substitute motion by the gentleman from Allegheny should be voted down and that this motion should be adopted that this matter may be sifted to the bottom.

Mr. STEIN. Mr. Speaker, I am glad that the gentleman from Tioga made the remarks he did as it will give me and all the other gentleman who will support my views in the matter an opportunity for placing ourselves on record as to our purpose in offering this substitute motion. I can say with my friend from Tioga that no man has more respect or belief in the uprightness of a man as a judge than myself; no man places a stricter line of conduct that should be followed by a judge than myself. The reason that I have recommended the substitute motion is because it is the only source that will adequately put the case in hand. You must remember that these are charges that came in almost in the very last week of the session. Every fact has been open history in the county of Fayette or the western part of it for at least three or four years. Why, in all fairness if the charges are so serious as the petition would indicate was it not presented earlier in the session so the thing could be adequately taken up and we could have gone into the facts of the case. It is true that the Attorney General seems to indicate that the Committee has power to sit after the adjournment of this House. The Attorney for the State, Mr. Bell, says wisely that it will be strictly legal but it is for the House to determine to do it. While it may be technically correct for this Committee to continue the investigation after the adjourning of this House, but he very much doubts the wisdom of such a course and I believe he is right. If the Committee should sit, there are a hundred and fifty witnesses that have been actually subpoenaed and there are possibly a hundred and fifty more from whom testimony might be taken. What happens to that county? The two judges on the bench serve the public as judges; one of them is under investigation and while the existing presumption is that until his guilt is proven he is innocent and yet he will be resting under these charges and the respect due the Judiciary is undermined and the respect cannot exist because that Judge is under a charge. That judge, if this committee continues is not given the right of a speedy trial and you may know that there will be delay and you know as well as I do that justice delayed is equivalent to justice denied. There can be no square deal to this man. Assuming that the charges are true, and I say there is nothing absolutely in it, but if true is it fair that the matter be held up to the suspicion of the Commonwealth for two years without any opportunity of having an adjudication of his conduct. Is it fair to any man of the Commonwealth to have two years elapse between the indictment and trial. If any man in this House or if your neighbor comes with some political reasons and brings an indictment against you, would you consider it a fair deal to refuse, on the part of that neighbor to give you a trial for two years and to hold you up for that length of time. There is another very serious question: Who can tell in two years what will happen to the gentlemen on this Committee? Who will be here to read the notes of that Committee? What will become of all the work that these men have prepared? It is quite possible that none of these men who are members of this Committee will be returned although I hope that every one will return to this House in consideration of the good work that they have done, but in the case of their not returning what would be the result of their findings. It would simply be taking time and funds of the State to open scandal and charges attaching to the name of a judge who has not done anything wrong. In justice to them and in justice to ourselves and in justice to the principles of fair play, I say that this testimony should be filed. I am not asking that the charges be smothered and thrown out but let us do nothing until the next session so that the man may have a speedy trial if it is justified.

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, the argument of the gentleman from Allegheny, is not feasible. He states that it would be unwise to let this matter go over for two years and that nothing can be done that would be fair to the judge, presuming him to be innocent. Yet he says if we investigate now or continue to investigate, we put the judge under a cloud for two years. If the Committee finds there is nothing of it, they report to the Speaker and the judge is exonerated and that clears his skirts. If the result of the investigation would justify the calling of an extra session, of this House then His Excellency the Governor could call an extra or special session to take this matter up.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, at what expense.

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, if we can protect the Judiciary of this State I say the expense of an extra session should not be considered for an instant.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Tioga be interrogated?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Tioga, Mr. Rockwell, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, yes, sir.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, I want to ask the gentleman from Tioga, if the committees of the House don't die with the House?

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, I suppose that the standing committees of the House, when the House adjourns, sine die, would virtually cease to exist. But when there is a special committee it is different. Here is a special committee of the House of Representatives meeting under certain power and it is absolutely different from any other committee I know of.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, the reason I asked the gentleman that question is simply this: I am convinced, irrespective of any opinion of the Attorney General or anybody else that there are two separate functions that can be delegated to members of this House. One of these is the function of commissioner; the other the function of committeeman.

The Constitution provides in matters of this kind that a committee shall be appointed and that committee shall file its report and on that report this House shall sit as a Grand jury, either to prefer charges or to ignore the bill, so to speak. Now, the position of continuing this committee is untenable to me and to my mind for several good reasons.

That is, good to me at least. One of those reasons is simply this: When this House adjourns sine die, the House as a House passes out of existence. True, as members of this House we continue until December 14th and can at any time be called together for such purposes as may be indicated in a special call. If no special call be issued, then and in that event a new House convenes, our terms of office having expired. After the House adjourns sine die unless by a bill or resolution be duly passed according to the provisions of the law, every committee, I contend, Mr. Speaker, dies absolutely, and the authority conferred upon it by this House for the purposes of this House dies with the adjournment sine die. Mr. Speaker, if a commission be appointed for any purpose, that commission is authorized to report at any such subsequent session as it may be continued to and its work extended to. Now, this House as constituted today is made up of what? It is made of 206 members and those 206 members are an entity in this House. And this House, according to a resolution which now stares us in the face, will adjourn sine die at 12 o'clock tonight. This House some weeks ago, acting upon suggestions which could have been in the possession of the House upon the very day of its opening, this House some weeks ago appointed a committee for the purpose of reporting back to us, as members of the grand jury, if you please, the result of their investigation. They started upon that work conscientiously. They find that they are unable to complete that work. They make the report to the House of 1913, to the session which created it, to the 206 members who are here now. After adjournment, to whom can they report? To the Speaker? No, not to the Speaker, because of the fact that their report is made to this House and this House dies. It might be said that we might be reconvened in a month from now. It has been said in the newspapers some time ago that the effort would be made to continue the session of this House past the 4th of July and that then His Excellency, the Governor, would recess the House and send us home and call this same House again for the purpose of continuing its legislative work. It has also been indicated that this House might die its natural death at the hour fixed for final adjournment and that, after an election was held, the House might be reconvened again. The same House? Yes, the same House so far as the members are concerned, and yet probably the personnel of this House may be changed quite a little. This House, under its constitutional authority delegated to it by the Constitution, commissioned a committee, appointed would be better, perhaps, for the purpose of returning to this House a certain matter. That committee now comes back to this House and says, "We cannot complete our work." Is this House going to say, "Continue your work, not as a committee, continue your work as a commission. Report your work to an individual, our Speaker, whose office as presiding officer of this House dies with the House, but whose official position continues because of the fact that the laws continue in his hands and certain powers in the interim." Can the Speaker recall the House? No. There is only one authority in this State that can recall this House and that authority is His Excellency, the Governor. Is this committee appointed to report to His Excellency, the Governor? This committee was appointed to report to this House. If, Mr. Speaker, during a recess of the session, a sufficient statement of facts be lodged in the hands of His Excellency the Governor and on that information a person holding a judicial position in this great Commonwealth it is concluded ought to be impeached and it so impresses itself upon his mind and he believes that in justice to the people and protecting their rights he should convene this House, he can do so on his own motion. But now the question is as to the disposition of this committee. Is there any authority at law, and I defy any member of this House to point it out to me, because if it is a law I want to know it—is there any provision of the law, can anyone ever cite me of an instance where a committee of this House has been appointed for the purpose of reporting to this House, or a committee of any other House which has been appointed for the purpose of reporting to that House, that their work was continued during the time of an adjournment sine die? Certainly not. Simply because of the fact that this committee was appointed and brought into being on charges preferred makes it no different from any other committee appointed by this House and now acting for this House. Why, every committee, your committee on appropriations, your committee on Highways, your Committee on Railways, Corporations, Municipal Affairs or Centennial Affairs, dies with this House absolutely. Their work has been concluded. And likewise, Mr. Speaker, your committee of investigation which was created for doing a thing which it says it cannot do, dies with this House. Does anyone here think that the continuance of this committee and any report which they may make is going to be of such serious importance as that a session is going to be convened for the purpose of considering whether or not this House as a grand jury, because that is all it is, as a grand jury files its bill of indictment with the Senate and says to the Senate, "Act upon this and try this case"? Certainly not. As was suggested by the gentleman from Delaware, though of course he did not say it on the floor, what can be done with the expenses? Where is the provision for the expense? A great question has been raised here time and time again over arguments about the expenses of those who come on account of registration or other matters. Where are the expenses coming from to pay those people who are called away from their business affairs by this committee? Not a commission but a committee to report to this House which has passed out of existence. There can be no question, Mr. Speaker, in my mind but that the committee has acted fairly in this matter, that the charges were unfairly filed at a time when they had no right to be filed. If there were merit in those charges that were lodged in the hearts and the minds of the people who had those facts when this session convened, why were they not filed until this session is about to close? If there were merit in those charges, they should have been filed at that time. The committee after acting on the charges filed at the wrong time,—and I will say the committee has acted fairly and investigated the charge which comes to this House,—says to this House that we are ready to continue or discontinue. And now, Mr. Speaker, if we act according to law as it is and the rules of the House as they have been made by precedent time and time again and no new precedent established, if we live up to what a committee means and no more, we will say to this committee, "You have done all that you can do and now we discharge you from further consideration of this matter. It can be taken up by our successors when they come to fill our places and do their duty by the Commonwealth, because of the fact that we have done ours."

Mr. JOSIAH HOWARD. Mr. Speaker, we should not be afraid of an extra session, because I believe the workmen's compensation should be passed at the extra session if it is not passed at this. But, Mr. Speaker, the members of this House who are not attorneys perhaps think the same way that I do. I would like to know, Mr. Speaker, whether it is practicable to continue this committee or whether it is impracticable. That is, will this committee make a report which will be published? If the report of the committee is not published until the next session of the Legislature, then there would be no purpose in continuing this committee, but if their report is published immediately after it is made, then the report would be practicable. It would be taken up for action. No action could be taken for two years. There could be no purpose for continuing this committee, but if this committee can report in two or three months and that report is made public, it may exonerate the judge or we may be called for an extra session. Now, I would like to know, Mr. Speaker, whether that report would be made public, and if so, I will vote accordingly.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will state in response to the interrogatory of the gentleman from Cameron that in the event of this committee's being continued and in the event of its making a report, that the Chair would make the report public unless the accused Judge should satisfy the Chair that the publication of the report would be an injustice to him. It would be published unless withheld at the request of the judge.

Mr. JOSIAH HOWARD. Then, Mr. Speaker, we certainly ought to continue this committee and permit it to make its report.

Mr. STONE. Mr. Speaker, we as representatives of the State of Pennsylvania can as Democrats who are honorable, Republicans who are honorable or Progressives who are honorable vote for this resolution. It is not fair to us as members of this House; it is not fair to those judges who are charged to make this postponement. Nobody should be afraid of the daylight. We have a committee that will go on and perform their duty and complete their evidence within a week or so as our Honorable Speaker has suggested to you. When the report is made if it is against him it will be published. If it is for him it will be published. The world will know and action can be taken upon the report by this Committee, in whom we all have confidence. Therefore, for the honor of the House of Representatives, for the integrity of the bench, to both as much as ourselves, let us vote this proposition down and vote to let the Committee perform its duty.

Mr. KITTS. Mr. Speaker, I was in the Judiciary General Committee when this matter was brought up and although I was impressed that the informer in this case from Fayette County had furnished that kind of information that warranted an investigation, I felt that it was a good deal like a person who puts a writ in the hands of a sheriff to serve a few minutes before the expiration of the last day on which it could be served. I think this session of the Legislature is like a court when the question comes in in this manner and that the old common law "tardi venit" should be put into operation. Suppose there is some question,—and I quite agree with the position taken by the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Stein, and Mr. Allen—that if the Sergeant-at-Arms, together with this Committee, goes down to Fayette County to carry out this investigation and the attorneys representing those two judges should through some legal decision that they may have, say to the witnesses, or public officials that they shall disobey the subpoenas of the Sergeant-at-Arms, what would be the result? It would be dragged into the courts and on through the superior and supreme courts in litigation. It seems to me it is a needless waste of the State's money. We do not know at the present time, from the opinion of the Attorney General, absolutely whether we have the authority to let the Committee go down there and sit and hold meetings and compel the attendance of witnesses and take the testimony, or whether or not we do not have it. Therefore, it seems to me it would be a fool hardy proposition to spend the State's money when we are not sure of our stand on this proposition, with no one to whom we will report or where we will report. I want to call the attention of the House to one fact: It seems to me it is a hardship upon this Committee and upon the Sergeant-at-Arms inasmuch that there has been no appropriation made for this investigation. Do we expect the Committee to go down into Fayette County and sit during the Summer and Fall and let them go there and pay the expenses out of their own pockets, pay their hotel bills and mileage and the Sergeant-at-Arms to do likewise? I think that if this Committee should be expected to sit during the recess of this Assembly, some financial assistance should have been made in the way of an appropriation bill, and for one I am in favor of the motion as made.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, I move the previous question.

Mr. KITTS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The SPEAKER. Perhaps no other gentleman desires to speak. The Chair will put the question.

The question is on the adoption of the motion offered by the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Stein, as a substitute for the motion offered by the gentleman from Tioga, the motion of the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Stein, being, that the Committee be dismissed and investigation now dropped.

On the question,

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. STEELE and Mr. SWIFT.

Mr. CONNIFF. Mr. Speaker, as a member of the Committee, I ask to be excused from voting.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will not be recorded.

Mr. DeFREES. Mr. Speaker, for the same reason, being a member of the Committee, I desire to be excused from voting.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will not be recorded.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, owing to my position as a member of the Committee, I would rather not be recorded.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will not be recorded.

Mr. WHITAKER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to be relieved from voting, being a member of the Committee.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will not be recorded.

Mr. BERNTHEISEL. Mr. Speaker, when my name was called, I answered present. As a member of the Committee I desire to make sure that I am not recorded.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is not recorded.

Mr. HESS. Mr. Speaker, aye.

Mr. GEORGE A. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I challenge the vote of the gentleman from Lancaster, Mr. Hess.

The SPEAKER. On what grounds?

Mr. GEORGE A. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, that he was not in the House when his name was called.

The SPEAKER. Was the gentleman from Lancaster, (Mr. Hess) in the House when his name was called?

Mr. HESS. Mr. Speaker, no sir, I was not.

The SPEAKER. The challenge is sustained.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, aye.

Mr. GEORGE A. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I challenge the vote of the gentleman from Lackawanna, Mr. Davis, on the ground that he was not in the room when his name was called.

The SPEAKER. Was the gentleman present when his name was called.

Mr. DAVIS. I was leaning against the rail in the room.

The SPEAKER. In what room?

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, in this room.

Mr. THOMAS. Mr. Speaker, Mr. Davis was here at the rail when his name was called.

The SPEAKER. The challenge is not sustained. The word of the gentleman from Lackawanna (Mr. Davis) determines the matter.

Mr. HESS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to explain that I was present when the question was put and the roll began, but I was out at the telephone when my name was called.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will not be recorded.

Mr. GANS. Mr. Speaker, I voted under a misapprehension and desire to change my vote from no to aye.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will be so recorded.

Mr. ULMAN. Mr. Speaker, I wish to change my vote from no to aye.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will be so recorded.

Mr. FREY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to be recorded as voting no.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will be so recorded.

Mr. ULRICH. Mr. Speaker, I call for a verification of the roll.

The SPEAKER. The roll will be verified.

This was done as follows:

MEMORIAL SERVICE.

Mr. SPEISER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the next half hour be taken up in holding a memorial service in honor of the late Honorable Edward H. Fahey.

Mr. RONEY. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was unanimously agreed to.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, The Hon. J. R. K. Scott kindly take the Chair.

Mr. J. R. K. SCOTT in the Chair.

The CHAIRMAN. Gentlemen of the House, our late colleague, generous in his life time, loyal in his friendship, strong in his allegiance to his party, loved by all irrespective of political color, it is now indeed meet that we his colleagues in our sorrow pay our respects to our lamented brother, the Hon. Edward H. Fahey, of the Eighth Legislative District, Philadelphia.

The CHAIR recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Roney.

Mr. RONEY. Mr. Chairman, twice during this session the angel of death has visited us, and upon each occasion has taken away a worthy brother. The last to be called to final judgment was that big, open hearted, generous soul, the Honorable Dr. E. H. Fahey, of the 8th legislative district, of Philadelphia. It is peculiarly sad to hold these services at this time, the last day of the memorable session of 1913, as we commemorate the passing on a notable life on the last day of a notable session. I trust that the memory of the Honorable Edwin H. Fahey shall live in the minds of us as long as we shall have impressions of this session. Let us, therefore, in the closing hours of this legislature bow our hearts in silent prayer and hope for his eternal peace, and I know that his memory shall live in our minds until our lives shall be adjourned sine die.

Mr. STEIN. Mr. Chairman, as has been said, "In the midst of life there is death and in the midst of joy there is sorrow." We are gathered here this afternoon to pay a last work of tribute to the memory of a departed brother. It is but an example of that age-old truth. We are gathered here today and as for myself it is a duty both sad and grand to render a last word of tribute to the memory of "Doc" Fahey as he was familiarly known to us all. I want to say that of all the friendships I formed in this House I dare say the first one, outside of my immediate colleagues from Allegheny, was that most obliging and courteous friend from Philadelphia, the Honorable Doctor Fahey, whose memory we are today honoring. In his life he was the same at all times, always obliging, always with a kind word, always with a helping hand, and with a readiness to render assistance wherever he could.

Of all the names that I shall carry with me the rest of my life, and I believe I will remember most of them as long as God grants me my life, there will be one who stands out pre-eminent and above all those and that is our dear departed Doctor Fahey. I believe, Mr. Speaker, and Gentlemen, that we should not be true to the respect we owe him if we did not offer to him in this way the respect we had for him. I am sure that I voice the sentiment of all who hear me saying these words that he is one who has been good and true to us and to me his memory will rest as one to be remembered through life.

The CHAIRMAN. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McNichol.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. Chairman, it caused quite a shock for the members of this House to learn of the death of the gentleman whom we now commemorate. He left us evidently in full possession of health and but a few days after the tidings of his death was flashed over this Commonwealth and each and every day that we have assembled here our thoughts were called to his memory by the appearance of the silent tribute (indicating flowers) resting upon his desk. It calls to mind the uncertainties of this life; it calls our attention to the fact that when we think we are the most secure our hold upon life is the most uncertain. I am sure that the members of this House appreciate the gentle character of the genial Doctor. He was always courteous and always willing to serve friend and foe alike. He drew no distinction when it came to serving the man. He recognized in each and every one with whom he came in contact as a brother. I am sure that we will always remember his presence here and the days that we served with him and when we are called upon to perform our religious devotion that each and every one of us will offer a prayer for the happy repose of the soul of our late brother.

The CHAIRMAN. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. R. J. Baldwin.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Chairman, it is of course with sorrow that we rise to speak of our departed friend. In this hour of bright sunlight, spreading its light and rays to all the outside world, we now reach the time when the ceremonies relate to the closing of the life of a departed friend and also to the closing of the life of a memorable session of the Legislative body of an empire. I have known our departed friend for a decade. It is nearly twenty years since I first met him and became acquainted with him in connection with public affairs. It is nearly twenty years since he first became a Representative in the Legislative Halls of the best eight millions of people on the map of the world. He came from the same beautiful county that your humble member from Delaware came. He was born in the County of Chester close by the county of Delaware. His people and my people grew up in the same community? I knew his father and his mother and I knew his brother and am well acquainted with him. He had the respect and the confidence of his people. He came from what we call the lower walks of life. His people were what we call poor people. Whatever his worldly affairs he may have attained, were through the efforts of his own energies and his own intelligence. He rose from what you might term a common working man, to be one of the counsellors in a legislative body that wielded such far reaching influence in the social structure of the greatest State in the galaxy of states that compose this great Republic, that is the admiration and the wonder of the world. It is no mean achievement on the part of any individual. He who can do so is not an ordinary man, and aside from his achievement from that standpoint, I knew Doctor Fahey only to love him. Never in my political career, did I ever doubt a word that Doctor Fahey spoke to me in earnestness. He was loyal to his friends and truthful at all times; honest and upright. This is the best that can be said of any man. I never in all my experience in this legislative body heard a single individual ever criticize Doctor Fahey in a way that would be disrespectful or intimate that he was not loyal to his friends and a soldier that marched to the front in any army that he might enlist in. It is with sadness, Brother Members, and Mr. Chairman, that I have many times looked back and seen that vacant chair, draped in mourning and yet it is only the lot that must come to all of us. But nevertheless, it makes us sad. But after all, the law of God and nature is perhaps the best. Life passes but a span; each can perform his mission well and serve his people and his community during the active period of his life and when that summons appears, and the law of nature says that we must step aside and allow others of the younger generation to take our places, no doubt it is right. Therefore, by friends, while we have lost a friend, while we are seeing his vacant chair with sorrow and regret, yet we can with confidence feel that he has gone to that eternal reward where all good soldiers finally rest. I hope that our brother members will always keep fresh in their memory the honorable Representative, Doctor Fahey, who so ably represented a portion of that magnificent city, which is one of the greatest and grandest on the map of the globe.

The CHAIRMAN. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. S. B. Scott.

Mr. S. B. SCOTT. Mr. Chairman, almost eight years ago now, I came to these halls for the first time, a raw, green, inexperienced member of the House. My first Committee assignment was upon the Committee of the Municipal Corporations which our deceased friend presided over and from that time until the time of his lamented death, I feel that I can say with the utmost conscientiousness that we were friends. Mr. Chairman, that friendship might to some seem peculiar for on account of the accidents of birth and the vicissitudes of politics and all sorts of other causes, there were many differences existing between us but never of a personal nature. And the possibility of that friendship is due to his remarkable sweetness of temper and his great capacity for friendship. We were almost seat-mates and always for me he had nothing but kindness and sweetness of expression, not connected with the same political party or of the same Christian faith, many things divided us and yet I have for him, in my heart nothing but love. Mr. Chairman, in memory of that departed spirit I desire to repeat the words of the great poet which merges all difference but retains the elemental and final hope of all.

Sunset and evening star,
And one clear call for me,
And may there be no moaning of the bar,
When I put out to sea.

But such a tide as moving seems asleep,
Too full for sound or foam,
When that which drew from out the mighty deep,
Turns again home.

Sunset and evening bell,
And one clear call for me
And may there be no meaning at the bar
When I put out to sea.

For though from out this bourne of time and place,
The flood shall bear me far
I hope to see my Pilot face to face,
When I have crossed the bar.

The CHAIRMAN. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Elk, Mr. Flynn.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Chairman, I feel that I cannot let this occasion pass without paying my humble tribute to our departed friend, Doctor Edward H. Fahey. I knew Doctor Fahey during my entire legislative career with the exception of one session and I and he also had previous experience in the Legislature before my coming. Coming here as I did, very much the same as the gentleman from Philadelphia, who has just spoken, young and inexperienced, I can look back now upon the many kindnesses which were shown me by Doctor Fahey. It seemed a pleasure to him at all times to serve his friends. Although, we differed on questions of politics and sometimes during the session in the past political feelings ran very high but I never knew the time when that made the slightest difference in his attitude towards his fellow members. He always had the same pleasant smile and the same happy greeting and the same desire to help wherever he could. His character was almost irresistible. Almost up to the day of his death, he maintained this disposition and we hope that in the Hereafter his reward will be such as he so richly deserved.

Mr. BASS. Mr. Chairman, this is indeed a very sad occasion to me. I grieve for the loosened grasp of the generous hand, for the silence of the golden mouth, the stillness of the sympathetic heart. Dr. Fahey was indeed a very kind friend to me and as I look upon this table covered with crape and this vacant chair, I am made to understand that he is gone, forever gone, where shadowy forms rehearse in silent show the exalted contemplations of the soul. Here is the last stage of all earthly progress; here is the logic of all flesh; here is the unstrung heart; the shattered dreams; here is an instance of that fate which neither the zeal of youth nor the resources of age nor the capabilities of power nor the fascinations of wealth or genius, not even faith, with its undimmed light in God, can baffle or resist. Life is constantly going out and let us Mr. Speaker, let us as men calmly, seriously and sensibly, recognize the important teachings of this sad event. Let us ask ourselves this question: Had the call come to me, could it have been said of me what is honestly said of him? Would it have been said; could it have been said that we were as faithful, as dutiful to our State and to mankind as was he. I want to say just one or two other things because of certain things that you will understand, gentlemen. Dr. Fahey was a very brave man. He belonged to the bravest race of men. While it is true that he was born in Chester county, the oldest county in the State and a Pennsylvanian, he bore the strong characteristics of his great race. His ancestors came from the Isle called the Emerald of the Ocean, so favored of nature, so oppressed of number, so famous and yet so unfortunate, the land of the shamrock and of the harp and of chivalry and of genius, whose warriors, whose orators and whose bards adorn all modern history with their works, and whose children, like the chosen tribes, are scattered as the leaves and around all standards but their own are entwining their wreaths.

"Lead, Kindly Light" was rendered by Messrs. Swift, Stein, Mitchell, Walsh and Thomas.

Mr. SWIFT. Mr. Chairman, it may seem strange and peculiar, and yet I feel called upon or prompted at this moment to say a word. The members of this House will remember the last evening that Doctor Fahey was with us. Back of the rail a group of us were sitting. Doctor Fahey was standing by my side and he took me by the arm and said, "Doctor, I wish you would sing." I said, "I cannot sing tonight." You will remember possibly he insisted and walked with me into the lobby and said, "I wish you had sung; maybe I will never get to see you again." That was on Thursday night. I took the train and went to Pittsburgh. On Monday morning I picked up the paper and the first thing I saw was the death of Doctor Fahey. I feel, Mr. Chairman, perhaps I was remiss; I feel perhaps we might have spent a moment in song,—that piece which is sung around the world today, "Lead, Kindly Light." Gentlemen, I do not know but that the ears of that man, unhampered by the physical conditions, and the spirit of that man may have heard and understood the feeling we have put into this song today. I do not know, but I want to just leave this word of tribute: A kinder heart, a more loving hand, a more cheerful spirit, you or I never met in this world; his words of cheer and comfort, his ever constant smile, his happy disposition expressed in act and word, has made every member of this House with whom he came in contact feel better and more than that be better.

The Chaplain (Rev. J. E. Wright) offered the following prayer:

O God, it is eminently fitting that at intervals we should turn from the routine of work and from the enjoyment of our pleasure and engage in such serious thoughts as those which come before us in this memorial service. We thank Thee for the pleasure of association and fellowship and we thank Thee for the beautiful tributes just uttered with reference to our late colleague, Doctor Fahey, whose heart was so true and tender; whose face was always lighted with a cheerful smile; whose hand was always stretched out in kindly fellowship and who spent so many years in faithful service in this House. O God, we believe that one who lives as he lived has surely not lived in vain. We thank Thee for the impressions which he evidently made and for the reward which has been given to him. May we all try so to live as that when the summons come to us to go, we may respond with cheerfulness, without apprehension, knowing that we have done our best and that God is over us for good; and His name shall have the praise of it forever. Amen.

Mr. SPEISER. Mr. Speaker, I offer the following resolution.

The CHAIRMAN. The resolution will be read.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

RESOLUTION.

Whereas, Almighty God has removed from among our midst our late lamented colleague, the Honorable Edward H. Fahey, Representative of the 8th Representative District of Philadelphia, and

Whereas, his loss is one to be greatly mourned and is of great moment, and whereas, Honorable Edward H. Fahey was a man of virtue and honor, a friend and a brother and beloved by all of his colleagues of this Legislature, therefore it is unanimously

Resolved, by the House of Representatives, That we express our sorrow and our sense of loss at the departure of a good friend and splendid legislator and that this resolution and the remarks made at these memorial exercises, be spread upon the Legislative Journal.

Mr. CONRADE. Mr. Chairman, I move the adoption of the resolution by a rising vote.

Mr. CONNOR. Mr. Chairman, I second the motion.

The resolution was unanimously agreed to.

The CHAIRMAN. The memorial services are now concluded.

PRESENTATION ADDRESSES.

Mr. McALEER in the Chair.

Gentlemen of the House, before going on with the ceremonies which are to follow, the Committee Appointed to prepare for the same desire to thank the members of the House for their generous and prompt responses. I thank you in the name of the Committee composed of Mr. Charles A. Shaffer, Mr. E. E. Jones, Mr. Geary and your humble servant, and now I will ask that the Rev. Dr. Swift will step forward.

Dr. SWIFT. Mr. Chairman, not long since Hans and Jacob were walking down the street. Hans put his hand tenderly upon the shoulder of Jacob and whispered in his ear "Jacob, did you ever buy a gold brick." Jacob said "Nein; once I bought one that I thought was a gold brick.

We have no bricks that we think are gold bricks to give today. We have, however, the privilege and the honor to present something which shall express at least the spirit and the thought and reveal the heart of the members of the Assembly of 1913. Merit in all ages has carried with it its reward. Not only does it bring a compensation which may be expressed in things material, but it brings a compensation to those who have been faithful, that cannot fade away, and we believe that in this hour, while little gifts of material things may convey to a slight extent the thought of this House towards some who have served it so well, yet we believe that the expression of love and gratitude because of this service rendered, is a thing that each member of this House has expressed and would impress that thought upon the men and the hearts of those who have served us so well. I have reference particularly to Mr. Clarence Seiler, Mr. George Wills, Mr. A. L. Glass, Mr. Willard Black, Mr. James G. Connor and Mr. David G. Davies and Mr. F. W. Morrison. These we present with that which expresses to every heart a thing that never ends. It has a story—the ring of pure gold. Will these gentlemen stand up that are named, please? The ring expresses that thought of endless and unending love and respect and confidence and to each of these gentlemen this House presents a purse of gold, which carries with it that that means the purest, the loveliest, the best expression of nature to us all, and so this House presents these purses as their expression of constant recognition and constant memory of the services they have so faithfully rendered from the opening of this session until the present time.

Will Mr. Jacob Lightner please stand up? To you, because of your fidelity and your constancy to the Speaker, who has so faithfully served this House and whom you have so faithfully served, because of your courtesy to us all, we present to you, in the name of this House, the ruby ring. Wear it where you can see it and whenever you look upon it remember the faith and the confidence this House has in you.

Mr. John W. Barrett please stand up. Feeling that you have served us and always on time rendered a service that was needed, meeting every demand of this House, we wish to place in your hands this token, a gold watch, which tells the story of our thought and spirit of our interest.

Mr. Ira D. Meals, please stand up. I need not say that this House has watched you, in your services, in your constancy, in your effort to meet every demand, not simply by day, but by night, and we desire to place in your possession a token of our love, a token of our expression, something that will reveal every day to you, as you go to and from your duties, the fact that this House appreciates not only the services that you have rendered here this session, but that which you have rendered previous to this and will render hereafter. The desk and chair before you, Mr. Meals, is yours. Receive it in the same spirit and the same thought that this House presents it.

The Chair would ask the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Stein to please come forward.

Mr. STEIN. Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen of the House, Ladies and Gentleman, you will observe that the Speaker, in timing this occasion has descended from the sublime to the ridiculous in placing me after Dr. Swift. I would request that all you gentlemen please keep quiet, because you cannot tell who is going to get something. The Chairman informs me that I can present any of these presents to any one to whom I please, and of course that includes myself, if I am eligible.

Now friends, it is often said that we reserve the best things of life until after life and that kindly words that we ought to speak of each other during our earthly career are usually left unsaid until the funeral services, but today, ladies and gentlemen, it is my privilege and my very pleasant duty to reward by some small token of appreciation the very valuable services that our competent and very courteous clerk, Mr. Lieb, has performed.

He is such an accommodating and obliging fellow, that his heart goes out to all of us and we thought that we would honor him through the person he honors and that is his better half, Mrs. Lieb. And I therefore present to them a set of dishes and some silverware. You will see that there is room at the table for the head of the House and for the better half and for generations to come. We present this to you, Mr. Leib, and we hope you and your family may use it, and that every time you may have occasion to use it that you will think of the kindly appreciation that every member of this House has had for you for the very faithful and valuable services you have rendered.

Mr. LEIB. Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen of the House, on behalf of Mrs. Leib and myself, I certainly desire to thank you one and all for your kind gift.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Chairman, I have been delegated by my colleagues to present to one of the employees of the House a token of the high esteem in which he is held by the members of the House. Each session of the Legislature develops many heroes. Many of us are given the opportunity to stand in the limelight and to make a mark for ourselves which will go down to posterity, but we have in the person of Mr. James N. Moore, the man behind the gun, as it were, the man who keeps us all straight in and with our legislation, the man who prepares our bills for us and points out the errors which perhaps we have made in them and in various other ways helps us in our work as legislators. I think that I but voice the sentiments of every member of this House when I say that each and every one of us look upon him as a friend, and on behalf of the gentlemen of the House I present to him this purse of gold. Also on behalf of the Chief Clerk of this House I present him with a beautiful scarf pin, and in doing this I wish him and his health and prosperity for years to come.

Mr. JAMES N. MOORE. Gentlemen of the House, I wish to assure you that I fully appreciate the gifts, not only for their value, but for the recollection that they carry.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen of the House, a pleasant duty has been assigned to me, that is the participation in the recognition of some of our friends in the House by the general body. No more pleasing assignment could have been made, had the selection rested with myself, than to have been designated to honor and recognize our genial friend, Tom Garvin. It must certainly be pleasing to a man who started out in his official career meeting an opposition and recognizing that at the completion of that career that those who were his opponents realized now the error of their way and had they to do it over again, our good friend would have been selected to the office he is now filling unanimously. We have selected as an expression of our appreciation a tribute that I know will not only please Mr. Garvin, but will be more appreciated by his better half because the better halves have a more intimate knowledge of the usefulness of such a beautiful rug as is hung upon the rail here. And in presenting this to him, I wish him and her and theirs long life, health, wealth and prosperity.

Mr. THOMAS H. GARVIN. Mr. Chairman and Members of the House, I want to assure you that I can fully appreciate the gift that you have presented to me and my good wife and mine as has been said in the presentation of this magnificent rug and I assure you that it will take a place in my household and we will always be ready to have it tramped over by any member or friend of this body that may take the opportunity of calling on me. In extending that to Mrs. Garvin, I might say that Mrs. Garvin is present and hears this and joins with me in extending to you our sincere thanks. I trust that the statement made by the gentleman is the sentiment of the members of this House. I have tried during by official capacity here to render the proper service to each and every person irrespective of party, creed or district he may have come from, with the same courteous treatment.

Mr. HESS. Mr. Chairman, Mr. Speaker and Members of the House of Representatives, Ladies and Gentlemen. An occasion such as this is always full of sentiment and under pathos. When a body of men come together to lend their minds and their energies to accomplish a common purpose it is full of meaning. And particularly is this true when that purpose is to enact laws for the common good. In the rivalries that will exist; in the struggles that will ensue; as minds and hearts, and souls are thrown into contact with those of our fellows, relations and attachments will be established that cannot be lightly broken nor carelessly cast aside. And now that the hour of parting has come, when the good-byes will be said, when hands will be clasped that will never be clasped again, when we realize that each one of us must return to the even tenor of our own way and that we will pass out of one another's lives except as we shall dwell there in memory it seems to me that we touch the most beautiful side of our human nature.

The imaginary slight and the honest difference of opinion that have lead to harsh words and harsher thoughts are now forgotten, as we allow our minds to recall the splendid memories that have resulted from our experience during the last six months. We started amid the chill of winter and amid the chill of a sharp party and faction rivalry, but as we have labored conscientiously together our hearts have become mellowed and softened like this perfect day in June, and our lives are in tune with higher ideals and a richer brotherhood.

Very much impoverished indeed must be the heart and life that will not feel drawn toward loftier aspirations as a result of its experience in this legislative session and of this hour. And that will not carry away with them memories that will contribute their fragrance and their brightness when life's pathway seems darkest, memories that will precede the timid spirit and beckon it on even through the dark river itself.

Mr. Speaker, your administration as speaker of this House will pass into history as a successful and as a progressive administration. It is true that not all of the bills that were favored by you and this House have been enacted into law, but a large majority of them have. Those that have not have been accorded such fair treatment as to silence the voice of the most reckless critic. Your administration, Mr. Speaker, will always be honored by the absolute fairness with which you have treated all members and all issues. As an executive officer you showed a high order of ability but that is not the best that can be said of you. The distinguishing feature of your administration has been an unswerving devotion to a conscientious knowledge of the right. Your fair treatment to all has made those whose opinions differ most widely from your own, your staunchest friends. Mr. Speaker, it now becomes my very picaresque privilege and duty to present to you, on behalf of the members of this House, these tokens of the very high esteem and respect in which we hold you. I present to you this Keenophone and it is the wish of every member of this House that your life may always be filled with melodies as sweet as those dispensed by this modern invention. I present you this magnificent Grandfather's clock also. May your life ever be in tune with its time without an unworthy tremor and as sweet as the chimes which have been put into this clock by its maker. I also present to you this portrait. May your influence upon those that have the good fortune of coming in contact with you during the session be as lasting as the work of the artist upon the canvass before us. We ask you to accept these tokens not for their monetary value but with the assurance that their presentation is inspired by a wealth of esteem and affection beyond price and that cannot be measured by earthly standards of value. We want to congratulate you upon your success during this session. We hope that your coming days may be full of honor.

We hope that prosperity may abide with you and your family and we hope that in presenting to you these tokens of the high respect and regard and esteem in which we hold you together with the hope that the choicest blessings or life may come to you and that you may be spared to live a long life to bless this and future generations. And we hope that in presenting these gifts to you we are presenting them to the next Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

GIFT FROM MR. GARVIN.

On behalf of the Chief Clerk, Mr. Garvin, I will present to you a very handsome traveling bag.

The CHAIRMAN. Is the House ready to hear from the next Governor.

Mr. ALTER. Mr. Chairman, and Members of the House, the magnificent presents which you have just given me, like the kind treatment which through all this session, you have extended to me, is so far beyond anything I can ever hope to deserve and so infinitely beyond any power of mind to give expression to, that I can simply say—I thank you sincerely from the bottom of my heart. When, almost six months ago, this House bestowed upon me the highest honor in its possession I said, in accepting that honor, that "I hope for the co-operation and help of every member of this House in discharging the duties which then devolved upon me." I want to say that from that day to the present, that request has been complied with by every member of this House. The treatment of the Speaker by the members of this House has been marked by uniform courtesy and consideration at all times and I say this absolutely without any qualification or exception. It is altogether probable that I see sitting before me the Speaker of the next House. I observe some gentlemen now looking as if they were having their pictures taken. I know not whether it will be one of them or not and I don't know whether he sits to the left of the Speaker's chair or to the right of the Speaker's chair but I still am enough of a partisan to hope that he does not sit too far to the right of the Speaker's chair (indicating the Democratic side of the House.) But whoever he may be, the best hope that I can express for him is that the body over which he presides may be as earnest and sincere in striving for the welfare of Pennsylvania as the body over which it has been my privilege to preside. Mr. Chairman, as has been said, we shall never all meet here again but I hope that the love which I have for the members of this House may be reciprocated to such an extent that many of them may avail themselves of the invitation which I now earnestly extend to you, to come to see me at Springdale and I shall take great pleasure in having them listen to the beautiful music which I shall be able to play and until the time approaches for their departure, if there is anyway to entertain them, I shall be willing on that occasion to turn back the hands of the clock.

REPORT OF CONFERENCE COMMITTEE.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON HOUSE BILL NO. 984.

To the Members of the Senate and House of Representatives:

We, the undersigned, Committee on Conference on the part of the Senate and House of Representatives for the purpose of considering House Bill No. 984, entitled "An Act to provide for the registration and enrollment of the voters of the State according to their respective party preferences, fixing the compensation of assessors or registry assessors for making said registration and enrollment and prescribing penalties for false registration or enrollment and for voters voting or attempting to vote and for election officers wilfully permitting or conspiring to permit them to vote at a primary by or on any other than their own party ticket," beg leave to submit the following amended bill as our report.

Section 7 The assessors or registry assessors shall be entitled to the same per diem compensation for sitting at the polling places on the sixty-second and sixty-third days preceding each primary as is now allowed by law for the making of the original annual assessment which shall be paid in the manner now authorized by law

Section 8 Should the registrars assessors or registry assessors make a mistake in recording an elector's party the said elector may have the registry corrected amended or altered so as to secure a correct registration in the same manner and by the same processes as are provided by law for the correction and amendment of the registry in other particulars Provided That such amendments shall not be made later than ten days before any primary election at which the voter desires or intends to vote

Section 9 An elector duly registered and enrolled as a member of a political party if otherwise qualified may vote the ballot of said party at a primary subject to the provisions of this act No elector enrolled and registered as a member of any one particular party shall be allowed to receive or vote the ballot of any other political party at a primary election and no elector who is not enrolled and registered as a member of some political party shall be permitted to vote at any primary election

Section 10 Any registrar assessor or registry assessor wilfully violating any of the provisions of this act or wilfully registering any false statement of an elector or registering as the member of a political party one whom he knows not to be such or excluding from a party registry or enrollment any voter whom he knows to be entitled thereto shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and on conviction thereof shall be punished by imprisonment for not more than one (1) year and a fine of not more than one thousand dollars ($1,000) or either or both in the discretion of the court

Section 11 Any elector who shall wilfully make any false affidavit or statement to any registry assessor or registry assessor with intent to procure the false party enrollment or registration of himself or of any other voter shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and on conviction thereof shall be punished by imprisonment for not more than one (1) year and a fine of not more than one thousand dollars ($1,000) or either or both in the discretion of the court

Section 12 Any voter or elector of this Commonwealth wilfully voting or attempting to vote at any primary election in violation of the provisions of this act or any election officer wilfully receiving or conspiring to receive the vote of any elector casting the ballot as an elector of any political party not qualified as a member of said party under the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by imprisonment for not more than one (1) year and a fine of not more than one thousand dollars ($1,000) or either or both in the discretion of the court

Section 13 All laws or acts of Assembly inconsistent or in conflict herewith be and the same are hereby repealed

On the question,

Will the House adopt the conference report?

Mr. J. R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, the adoption of this report is to my mind the beginning of the culmination of a fight that ought to make this Legislature memorable. This law, accompanied by the law which will surely come, a State-wide primary and the non-partisan judicial law, is an accomplishment that is well worth while. The enrollment law alone would not be desirable; the enrollment law with a State-wide primary; the enrollment law with a non-partisan bill, which a future Legislature will enact and which will bring about a non-partisan ballot in all municipal and county offices, is a step in the right direction. This bill should be supported by men of all parties. As I contended in the beginning of this session as a strict party organization man of my party, these measures that have been advocated by those who have been called reformers, those bills which have by many of our party been frowned upon, are the best legislation that an organization can have written upon the statute books. This enrollment bill not only stops the raiding of the Independent party primaries, of the raiding of the minority party by the majority party, but it also prevents the majority party from being raided by the minority party or by the independent party in the moment of a great upheaval. It is a perfectly proper party measure and as was said by myself before the Senate election committee on the State-wide primary bill, not to pass legislation of this character by party men was fool-hardy and short sighted. To complain of any of us who claim strict party allegiance upon the floor of the House because of advocating such legislation as this. The test-outs of this bill now under consideration and the State-wide primary bill, together with a non-partisan ballot bill, will show clearly the position that those of us party men took in appealing for this character of legislation, so laudable and so proper. And now I ask the indulgence of the House for but a moment to say in defence of the position that I took and the position that the gentleman from Allegheny and others of our friends, as party men took; our position on this reform election legislation. We have tried to show that the enrollment bill is a proper bill for the independent party a proper bill for the Republican party, and that the State-wide primary is a reform called for by the people who favored this character of reform, and is the best reform that any political organization can have; and the non-partisan municipal bill, the non-partisan judicial bill, the non-partisan county office bill, is a reform that, while we cannot pass it all at this session, will be passed at some future session. The test-out of this present bill will show clearly the benefit of the non-partisan bills. Those of us party men, strict organization men, who have been scoffed at and frowned upon by others, know that it was due to lack of intelligence and failure to see the force of our position. So far as Republican members are concerned. I would ask that you give to this bill, though offered by a Democrat, your full support as being a perfectly proper measure and a measure that a member of any party can well support, and also support the State-wide primary bill which is now in conference report and which will shortly be on the table. These two bills should go together. We have the word of the sponsor of this enrollment bill that we have his support and his friends' support and the support practically of the whole House on the State-wide primary bill, and this enrollment bill will get the support of the great portion of those of us here.

Mr. HUMES. Mr. Speaker, in 1906, when our first primary law was enacted, it was in response to a general demand for legislation of that nature and the only thing that has discredited the primary act of 1906, in so far as the primary system of nominations was concerned, was the fact that there was no method of keeping the members of each party within their own party, and the only attack that has ever been made upon the primary system, in so far as it has been adopted in this State, has been based upon that difficulty. Before we adjourn we will, I believe, have enacted a State-wide Primary Bill, extending the primary system through the entire State and in order that that law may be preserved in all its integrity and in order that all it proposes may be fully carried out, it is absolutely essential that this enrollment bill should be the companion bill of the State-wide Primary Bill, and I trust that this bill will receive the unanimous support of the House as well as the State-wide Primary Bill.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, I do not claim that in the enactment of this law we will have reached perfection in our election laws, but I do say for this bill that it will go a long ways to prevent an evil which has crept into our system of making nominations, and I do say that with the enactment of this law and the enactment of the State-wide Primary Bill as agreed upon by the conferees of both the House and Senate, that we will have taken a long step forward in perfecting the system of nominating party officials. We have gone a step further in this bill. Mr. Speaker, and have provided that in case any partisan nominations are provided for that this act will protect those who do not care to register as party men, that they may go into their own primaries and nominate their candidates for offices, and I certainly believe if the members of this House understand this measure, what it is designed for, that each and every one of them will heartily support the passage of this conference report.

Mr. MOSES. Mr. Speaker, two years ago I introduced a bill similar to this, but the committee, in their wisdom, at that time thought that we were not progressive enough to adopt it and reported it out with a negative recommendation. I want to say to the members of this House that I am heartily in favor of this bill, and I believe that every member of the House ought to vote for it.

Mr. S. B. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I cannot claim that I ever served the public in this Legislature but I do believe that the type of constituency which it has been my honor to represent may some day select representatives who will be of value to the State and I feel that this bill is directly aimed at the existence of local independent parties. If the non-partisan municipal primary law should pass this session, the only parties we would have would be parties of State or National importance and then I would be one of the happiest and most ardent supporters of this law myself; but the practical effect of this bill taking into consideration the other features of our present law will be this: That people will be compelled to enroll in parties where they think the most important subjects are to be decided, and therefore they will enroll in National or State parties and these parties of local independence, which I think are one of the most satisfactory and hopeful outgrowths of modern politics, will be crushed out of existence. For that reason, Mr. Speaker, I feel under the necessity, much as I realize that the good features which this bill is intended to introduce into our law, I feel under the necessity of opposing the bill at this time.

Mr. H. B. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, about fifteen years ago, the State of Pennsylvania departed from its usual attitude in politics and they went into politics. Before that time if you ran for office, you remember, any of you who are old enough, you had to pay your own expenses for tickets. You had to pay your own expenses for other things that are now furnished by the State, but for some reason a certain class of reformers—call them what you may—thought it a good plan that the State should go into politics. They went into politics. They have been going deeper into politics every day and every year since. This party enrollment bill, as it is called, is another step to put the State deeper into politics than it ever has been before and I believe, while it looks a little bad at present, I believe that if this bill passes the fellows who are urging it to-day will be the sorriest mortals in regard to it in a few years. They think that it is going to help political parties. It may, gentlemen. I doubt it very much. I want to ask you gentlemen from the country districts, how are you going to explain to those Republicans and those Democrats and those of independent proclivities, when you go home, for having passed this enrollment act? When the old farmer who has been put down on the list by the assessor as a Republican or Democrat, when he does not consider himself either—

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker. I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Huntingdon.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Huntingdon permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. H. B. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, after I am through I will allow Mr. Flynn to interrogate me. —when he comes up to vote and discovers that there is an "R" or a "D" at the end of his name and he cannot vote for any one excepting the party which is opposite his name, what is he going to say to you gentlemen who vote for this bill? There will be curses loud and far. Now, Mr. Speaker, this bill is putting us deeper into politics. The State of Pennsylvania, the entire State, has no more right to regulate the Republican politics or Democratic politics than it has to go into the Presbytery and tell them how to vote for an elder or deacon. Therefore, gentlemen, I claim that every man who has any independent proclivities about him to-day in this House will vote against this bill. There is no reason for it whatever. It is simply a step in the wrong direction, as the gentleman who sits in front of me with the red necktie knows. Now, gentlemen, I am not in the habit of making long speeches.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Huntingdon.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Huntingdon permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. H. B. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, yes, sir.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman from Huntingdon how he would possibly vote at the primaries to-day unless he declared his party affiliation?

Mr. H. B. DUNN. That is what I say, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, even if this bill were not enacted into a law, how could he vote?

Mr. H. B. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, I want to answer that question by stating as Mr. S. B. Scott stated, now that after he finds out that he cannot vote except by declaring his party affiliation to the register, then he would not go to the polls at all.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman does not understand the question. I asked if this bill were not enacted how a voter could vote at the primaries without declaring his party affiliations?

Mr. H. B. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, the same way he does it now.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, he doesn't do it now.

Mr. H. B. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, he does do it now.

Mr. RONEY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Huntingdon.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. H. B. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, yes, sir.

Mr. RONEY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman when an elector goes into the election booth on a primary election day how he gets a ballot?

Mr. H. B. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, at the primary election he asks for the ticket.

Mr. RONEY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman a further question, whether the elector does not have to state to the Election Board the kind of ballot he wants?

Mr. H. B. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, he certainly does.

Mr. RONEY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask how then he conveys the impression or argument to this House that the elector can conceal his party affiliation at the primary.

Mr. H. B. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, as it stands to-day at the primaries the elector goes and asks for certain party ballots, and unless he is challenged he gets that party ballot.

Mr. RONEY. Mr. Speaker, is it not a fact that if the elector is challenged he cannot get his ballot until he states under oath that he voted for a majority of the candidates of the party, for whose ballot he is asking, at the last preceding election?

Mr. H. B. DUNN. Certainly, that is a fact, and when the challenge comes it is all right; but in how many places in the country do they challenge them on account of being a Republican or Democrat. You are afraid in the country districts to challenge a man for fear he will vote the wrong way. You can get them in the city where you have five or six fellows with bludgeons. You challenge a man in the country and you get the bludgeon back the other way. I hope every man of independent proclivities will vote against this bill and I know he will not be sorry for it afterwards.

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the author of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Elk (Mr. Flynn) permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, yes, sir.

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Elk explain to the House if there is any way in there for any election district outside of the cities of the first, second and third class, if any elector has failed to get himself recorded or properly enrolled within 60 days of election, is there any way in this bill providing that he can get so registered?

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, I understand that the registration can be protected up to within ten days of the primary.

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, that is all. Mr. Speaker, I want to call the attention of the House to Section 8 and

I believe from the answer given by the gentleman from Elk, that he does not understand his own bill.

Section 8, which is the only portion that provides for the corrections that I can find, says: "Should the registrars, assessors or registry assessor make a mistake in recording an elector's party, the said elector may have the registry corrected."

Now, if there is any man in this House who can point out to me anything else in this bill how a man is able to get registered within 60 days of election, just recorded or registered, I would like him to point it out. To my mind, with that clause in that bill, in the country districts you are going to disfranchise at the primary anywhere from 25 to 40 per cent. of the voters.

Mr. RONEY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Tioga.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Tioga permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, certainly.

Mr. RONEY. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman not know that the registrar or the assessor that assesses makes a personal visit to the home of the elector and if he finds him absent he leaves a blank for him to fill out?

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, that may be under the provisions of this bill, but I take it from the gentleman's remarks that he does not understand the situation in the rural districts. Therefore, I shall vote against the bill.

Mr. MITCHELL. Mr. Speaker, I am afraid the gentleman from Huntingdon has given the impression that once a party choice has been made it is irrevocable. While I have not read the bill, as it came back from the Senate, if it is as it was when it left the House the voter can change his alignment, can change his choice as far as the party he wishes to align with. It imposes no hardship on him and does not record him with a party whose politics he does not endorse. I believe that this is an excellent piece of legislation. It is needed in the cities and will inflict no hardship in the country. Party raiding has become a curse in many localities, and therefore I think the bill should pass.

Mr. JOSIAH HOWARD. Mr. Speaker, this bill does not change the present law except a man in registering must declare his party affiliations ten days before the primary election. But, Mr. Speaker, if he is not at home when the assessor calls the assessor is compelled to leave a printed slip, and the man may register himself in writing, or appear and be registered. I think the bill is good legislation, and I am going to vote for it.

Mr. PIPER. Mr. Speaker, I feel somewhat inclined to take the same position on this bill that my colleague from Philadelphia, Mr. S. B. Scott, takes. I have found that under the present primary election act when men are compelled to come to the polls and ask for any particular ballot, that it is working a hardship on some men. I personally believe in the progressive measure, and to an extent, probably, this bill is progressive. Personally, I have never failed at any time to declare my party affiliations and to ask for the particular ballot I desired. I have no fear at any time of anyone knowing with what party I was affiliated, but we have found this in my district: We have found cases where a man who may have a small drygoods store or small shoe store or small hat store, has been threatened from time to time that if he did not take some particular party ballot that his business might slow up, that it would be boycotted. Therefore, I believe that in the protection of the parties, the bill should not pass. If anyone should desire to have information of how many people are going to line up with that party, let them canvass and find out, as they have always done. There is no reason why they should be prepared beforehand, and know the enrollment? I shall vote against this bill.

Mr. RONEY. Mr. Speaker, I feel it wholly inappropriate at this time to talk long. In view of what the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Scott, and the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Piper, have said, a word or so would not be amiss. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Piper, talks against the whole primary law. He does not seem to think it is right that a man should be compelled to give his party affiliations. Of course, it is useless to talk about the primary law. This is progressive legislation, and we will never get away from it. It is not an attempt to stifle the independent parties, as stated by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Scott. On page 4, line 17, you will find the following: "That any qualified voter may enroll as a member of any party." Now, Mr. Speaker, the reason I am for this bill is because this bill, and the State-wide Primary Bill, and the Non-partisan Ballot Bill as to the judges I consider to be triplicate bills. In my ward there is strong cohesive spirit and loyalty to party leadership. This bill would prohibit any raiding of parties. I realize that we have reached the point where party raiding is gone, and I am for this bill, which in my district is not an advantage, unless you have always got the advantage when you are right. In this State-wide Primary Bill and this Enrollment Bill and the Non-partisan Ballot, you have progressive legislation for which any man standing for pure elections must stand. For these reasons I am heartily in favor of the bill.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I have the greatest confidence in the sincerity of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. S. B. Scott, and as I have sat here with him session after session I have the greatest admiration for his judgment, but I take it that he is not calmly sitting down to-day and viewing his own past career and his teachings. That the majority party should be embracing a piece of progressive legislation means but this, that it is a result to a certain extent of the six years of warfare by men like Mr. S. B. Scott, in the Legislature. What does this bill mean? It means from the standpoint of the gentleman from Philadelphia, that we have now reached the first stage of protecting party integrity. When a man goes to register he enrolls himself as a Republican, as a Democrat, as an Independent or whatever party it may be, or he does not enroll himself at all. If he does not enroll himself but registers only he can in secret vote for whatever candidate he wants at the general election. When he enrolls as an independent, he is compelled at the primary to vote his independent ticket. If he enrolls as a Republican, he votes the Republican ticket at the primaries. When he enrolls as a Democrat he is compelled at the primaries to vote the Democratic ticket. Isn't that fair and proper? Now we have the complaint that in the primaries the independent voter has complained that those of us in the majority party come over and raid their party, and raid the Democratic party. With this enrollment we cannot do that. But the enrollment does more than that. If there comes a great upheaval, if there comes a popular idol such as at the last Fall election, it then stops the independent from coming into the Republican or Democratic primaries and raiding those parties. In my own case, Mr. Speaker, I saw the evidence of the evil of the present law without the enrollment. I am in a ward which is a part of a district composed of three wards. There was no question of my majority. The law as it now stands permitted my friends to raid the Democratic and Independent party ticket in the primary and while I was a Republican fighting the Washington and Democratic party, I was their candidate and they could not stop me from being a candidate because I was their candidate so far as the law was concerned. What does this bill do? It stops, as the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Roney, says, the raiding of the weak party, and those of us who have wards where we are strong in the Republican party want that stopped. We do not want to do it ourselves and we do not want anybody else to do it. We want to keep the parties to themselves.

When the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. S. B. Scott, says that this will stop the advancement of the municipal independent party, I say it does not. As was said by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Roney, this bill is one of the three bills, the Enrollment Bill, the State-wide Primary Bill and the Non-partisan Ballot Bill. What has been advocated by the gentleman from Philadelphia and his friends is this, that they would take municipal politics from National and State politics. Why should we be bound by a question of tariff or non-tariff in the selection of a mayor? What control should party principles have upon our selection of the district attorney and a councilman? The Enrollment Act and the State-wide Primary would give the people the management of their own party. Then there will come just as sure as there is a Legislature in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, the non-partisan ballot for municipal officers. No matter whether they appreciate it now or not, the day is coming when the parties will stand on principle only.

Then there will be no such thing as the patronage of a mayor or the patronage of a register of wills or recorder of deeds to keep up the party. A non-partisan ballot will eventually eliminate that. The Civil Service Law will help to eliminate it. The Corrupt Practices Act will help to eliminate it. When the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. S. B. Scott, raised his voice against the Enrollment Act, he voiced against the work of his six years of life in this Legislature. Let us not stop on the threshold, nor listen to the objection made by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Piper. His voice is against the whole primary law, when he says the little storekeepers can not go in and disclose their politics because they are afraid of their trade. This bill protects him. Under the present law, the little storekeeper will ask for a Republican ballot, a Democratic ballot or an Independent ballot and he discloses his party by asking for any one of these. He does not disclose his candidate but he does disclose his party allegiance. That is all the enrollment does. It says to that man, if you don't want to disclose your party, of course you cannot take an active interest in your party machinery; you cannot be a worker in your party; you cannot work in your party affairs but you can still stand in the great rank of your party. How does that come out? It says, a man may register and not enroll; that entitles him to come to a general election and vote but it deprives him of going to a primary. If he finds it to his business advantage not to disclose his party but he wants to exercise his right as a voter, he exercises that at general election when he can mark his ballot behind the curtain of the booth. This is a measure in the right direction. Those of us who are active in party affairs, who are misunderstood, scoffed at, called traitors to our friends, insulted on the floor of this House by our personal friends because we stand for the principle of clean politics. When our leaders take the course which those of us here have advocated, they will then learn that the people of Pennsylvania want to be Republicans because the Republican party has made it the richest State in this whole Nation. To make the Republican party what it has been in the past is the work of the men who are sincere and true in our party. I feel, Republican members of this House, that it is up to us to help save our party and this measure that is brought up before us by a Democrat is one of the best measures that we can join and it ought to have our fullest help. This measure is the first step; inside of another hour, we will put through the next step in the State-wide Primary Act. Then the third step, the Non-partisan Judiciary Ballot. When that stage is reached, we will have eliminated the criticism that has burdened us down and driven from our ranks many self-respecting and upright honest citizens who were formally members of the Republican party.

Mr. ULERICH. Mr. Speaker, I have no doubt that every man has made up his mind how he is going to vote on this question and I move the previous question.

The motion was seconded by Messrs. Moses, Aaron, O'Neill, Eichenberger, Dickinson, North, Wildman, Alworth, Zimmerman, Kitts, Klepper, C. A. Shaffer, Savacool, Bergey, Lowers, Keepert, Davis, Tract, G. C. Irwin, Josiah Howard, Currier, Downs, Swift, Frey, Mechling, Morrow, Kenna, Murphy and others.

On the question,

Shall the main question now be put?

The motion was agreed to.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. MILLER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. MILLER. Mr. Speaker, I have been reading over this bill during this debate and I am unable to discover how we are going to enroll in cities of the third class. The bill does not provide for cities of the third class.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, that is not correct. The bill has been reprinted and that is taken care of.

The SPEAKER. When was it reprinted?

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, night before last.

The SPEAKER. What is the file folio?

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, 12277.

The SPEAKER. Of course, it is not strictly in accordance with parliamentary proceedings to permit this interruption after the ordering of the call of the roll, but a thorough understanding of what the members are voting upon is more important, that the members should understand the matter. By referring to file folio 12277, it will be seen that the correction is made which has been referred to by the gentleman from Lehigh, Mr. Miller.

On the question recurring,

Shall the report of the committee on conference be adopted?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken.

Mr. S. B. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I call for a verification of the roll.

Whereupon, the roll was verified as follows:

The House reconvened at 6.00 o'clock P. M.

The SPEAKER (George E. Alter) in the Chair.

COMMUNICATIONS FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Private Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented communications in writing from His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, which were read as follows:

VETO OF HOUSE BILL NO. 483.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, June 27, 1913.
To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen:—I return herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 483, entitled:

"An Act to amend an act approved the thirtieth day of April one thousand eight hundred and sixty-four entitled 'An Act imposing additional taxes for State purposes and to abolish the revenue board' as hitherto amended by providing for the return by the State Treasurer of seventy-five per centum of certain State taxes to the respective county city borough school districts or incorporated district where collected."

This bill provides for the return to the respective municipalities, school districts and incorporated districts of the Commonwealth, of seventy-five per centum of the tax collected upon the bonds issued by such municipalities.

I withhold my approval from this bill for the reason that the revenues of the State do not justify its approval at this time.

(Signed,) JOHN K. TENER.

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection the communication will lie upon the table. The Chair hears none.

VETO OF HOUSE BILL NO. 1236.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, June 27, 1913.
To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen:—I return herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 1236, entitled:

"An Act to amend sections three ten twelve fourteen seventeen twenty twenty-two twenty-four twenty-six twenty-eight thirty-three thirty-four forty-three forty-five forty-six forty-seven fifty-three fifty-four and fifty-nine of an act approved the seventh day of June one thousand nine hundred and one entitled 'An Act providing for the examination licensure and registration of persons firms or corporations engaged or engaging in the business or work of plumbing or house drainage and prescribing certain rules regulations and requirements for the construction of plumbing house drainage and cess pools in cities of the second class and imposing fines penalties and forfeitures for violation thereof' and to further amend sections two eight twenty-one twenty-five twenty-nine thirty-five and sixty of said act of June seventh one thousand nine hundred and one as the same were amended by the act of May fourteen one thousand nine hundred and nine by further providing for the examination licensure and registration of persons firms or corporations engaged or engaging in the business of plumbing or house drainage and by providing further rules regulations and requirements for the construction or reconstruction of plumbing house drainage and cess pools and making changes in said rules regulations and requirements as heretofore existing."

This bill makes radical changes in the plumbing laws of cities of the second class and is far-reaching in its effect.

In view of the fact that there has been created by legislative enactment a Commission for the purpose of investigating and reporting to the General Assembly upon a proper and safe construction of buildings within the Commonwealth, which Commission, among other things, is charged with the duty "of suggesting new legislation relative to construction of buildings and codifying legislation in regard to the same." I am of the opinion that the better course would be to await the result of the investigations, conclusions and suggestion of this Commission before changing the present law on this subject.

For this reason the bill is not approved.

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection the communication will lie upon the table. The Chair hears none.

VETO OF HOUSE BILL NO. 1633.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, June 27, 1913.
To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen:—I return herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 1633, entitled:

"An Act to amend an act approved the eighth day of May one thousand eight hundred and seventy-six entitled 'An Act to establish a State Board of Agriculture as the same was amended by an act approved the thirtieth day of March one thousand nine hundred and eleven by providing for representation of the Pennsylvania Conservation Association on the State Board of Agriculture.'"

This bill makes another increase in the State Board of Agriculture by adding a member appointed by the Pennsylvania Conservation Association. To increase the State Board of Agriculture by the addition of representatives of various associations, unless halted, will soon affect the efficiency of that Board and make it unwieldy.

I know of no good reason for the increase of membership suggested by this bill.

For this reason the bill is not approved.

(Signed,) JOHN K. TENER.

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection the communication will lie upon the table. The Chair hears none.

APPROVAL OF HOUSE BILL NO. 1719.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, June 27, 1913.
To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen:—I have the honor to advise you that I have this day approved and signed House Bill No. 1719, entitled "An Act amending article eleven of an act entitled 'An Act for the government of cities of the second class' approved the seventh day of March Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and one changing the provisions relating to the Sinking Fund Commission."

SENATE MESSAGE.

AMENDED HOUSE BILL RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, returned bill from the House of Representatives numbered and entitled as follows:

House Bill No. 1141:

An Act to fix the compensation and allowances for members of the General Assembly with the information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments, in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk.

In line 11, after the word "Whatever" insert the following: "Shall be allowed whatever Provided however That every member of the General Assembly who shall have served any portion of a regular special or extraordinary session shall be paid the full salary fixed for the particular session served and in case of death any unpaid balance of the full amount shall be paid to the member's legal representatives"

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments of the Senate?

Mr. CARTER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to explain this bill in a few words to the members. Instead of paying fifteen hundred dollars a session and fifty dollars for stationery and one hundred dollars for stamps, this bill gives us a straight salary of two thousand dollars and mileage, which is a better way than the present system. If any member of the House or Senate were to die during his session here his heirs would have the right to collect the part of the salary due him. I had no evil intent in mind in introducing this bill and I would like very much to have the House pass it at this time.

Mr. J. R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Carter, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. CARTER. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask him what provision is made as to a special session

Mr. CARTER. Just the same as we were getting before this bill was introduced.

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, the only point I want to suggest is this: If I were elected a member I could come here a week and then resign and get my two thousand dollars.

The SPEAKER. For the information of the gentleman from Tioga I would say His Excellency, the Governor, could refuse the resignation sent to him.

Mr. ROCKWELL. The resignation is made to the Speaker.

Mr. ALLEN. The right to refuse lies in the hands of the Governor. He could refuse to accept the resignation, and you would still remain a member of this House.

On the question recurring,

Will the House concur in the amendments of the Senate?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

SENATE MESSAGE.

APPOINTMENT OF CONFERENCE COMMITTEE.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has insisted upon its amendments, non-concurred in by the House of Representatives, to House Bill No. 243, entitled:

An Act to prevent deception in the sale of paint putty turpentine and linseed oil or any substitutes therefor and providing penalties for the violation thereof and has appointed Messrs. Vare, Sheatz and Kurtz a committee of conference to confer with a similar committee of the House of Representatives (if the House of Representatives shall appoint such committee), on the subject of the differences existing between the two Houses in relation to said bill.

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, I move that the House adhere to its non-concurrence in the amendments made by the Senate to House Bill No. 243, and appoint a committee of conference to confer with a similar committee of the Senate, already appointed, to consider the differences existing between the two houses in relation to said bill.

Mr. MARTIN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

APPOINTMENT OF CONFERENCE COMMITTEE ON HOUSE BILL NO. 243.

The SPEAKER. On the part of the House, the Chair appoints Messrs. Rockwell, Peachey and Benson as a committee of conference to confer with a similar committee of the Senate, already appointed, in relation to the differences existing between the two houses on said bill.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

RESOLUTION IN RELATION TO A STATE SONG.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following resolution.

The SPEAKER. The resolution will be read by the Clerk.

The Clerk then read the resolution as follows:

Whereas, Numerous bills establishing a State song for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania have been offered to the present Legislature, and

Whereas, The proximity of adjournment prevents the present Legislature from deciding the merits of the proposed songs,

Therefore be it Resolved, (if the Senate concurs), That a Commission of six members, three being members of the House of Representatives and three members of the Senate be appointed by the Speaker of the House and President pro tempore of the Senate respectively, and that said commission report to the next Legislature, or to a special session of the Legislature, if one be held, such recommendation as to selection of the song for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania as they may deem wise.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the resolution?

The resolution was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

SENATE MESSAGE.

SENATE MESSAGE.

SENATE ADOPTS REPORT OF CONFERENCE COMMITTEE ON HOUSE BILL NO. 884.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has adopted the report of the committee on conference on the differences existing between the two houses in relation to House bill numbered and entitled as follows:

Senate Bill No. 884:

An Act to provide for the appointment of registrars of electors to be deputy poll tax collectors in cities of the first class of this Commonwealth a method of collecting such taxes penalties for violation of its provisions and to repeal acts or parts of acts inconsistent therewith

BILLS SIGNED BY THE SPEAKER.

The Speaker announced that the Chief Clerk having reported that the following bills had passed both houses of the General Assembly and the same being correct, the titles were publicly read, as follows:

Senate Bill No. 884:

An Act to provide for the appointment of registrars of electors to be deputy poll tax collectors in cities of the first class of this Commonwealth a method of collecting such taxes penalties for violation of its provisions and to repeal acts or parts of acts inconsistent therewith

Senate Bill No. 1894:

An Act regulating the sale of bichloride of mercury and providing a penalty

Whereupon,

The SPEAKER, in the presence of the House, signed the same.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Mr. ULMAN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up from page two, bills on third reading postponed, Senate Bill No. 1209. Agreeably to order,

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of H. R. bill No. 2040 (Senate No. 1209), entitled:

An Act authorizing each city in this Commonwealth to prepare adopt and amend its own charter regulating the preparation adoption and amendment thereof providing penalties for violations of the act and repealing certain laws relating to the government of cities

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, the persons who are advocating this measure remind us very much of the traveler in the desert who looks ahead and beholds a grand oasis but upon approaching the spot he finds nothing but a waste of sand—a mirage. That is the gentleman here will find if this bill passes. The bill that is now before this body has been advocated consistently by the men who most were violently opposed to the Clark bill, that has now been signed by the Governor, and it has been the disposition of the friends of that measure not to compromise any measure that came up. This bill has the pretense of becoming a home rule bill and has under one of the sections of that bill the following: A man cannot solicit of his neighbors to vote for a bill or to vote for a candidate who might be running for one of the commissioners or one of the jobs. The section of this bill, number twelve, reads as follows:

Section 12. At any election held under the provisions of this act it shall be unlawful for any person other than a candidate for the office of commissioner in any manner directly or indirectly to request solicit ask or command any person to vote for or against any candidate for the office of commissioner or for or against the adoption of any charter or amendment thereto. Any person who shall violate any of the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and on conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not less than one hundred dollars ($100.00) nor more than five hundred dollars ($500.00) and to undergo an imprisonment in the jail of the proper county for a period not to exceed ninety days. This section shall not apply to any newspaper or periodical regularly published in the proper county or to any address delivered at any public meeting or to any printed matter mailed to the residence of any elector

Furthermore, there is another section in this bill that we are very much opposed to and which will, if passed, embarrass and handicap and harrass the commissioners of third class cities and that section is the section that requires only ten per cent. of the voters of any city to put into operation an election for the purpose of expedience of this new form of government. Who is advocating this bill? We don't hear any advocacy of this bill in cities of the first class or from the cities of the second class. But we do hear an advocacy of this bill from two representatives of cities of the third class, and both of these men have been the despot Desmond of the Clark bill from the time of the inception of it in this House. Now, Mr. Speaker, aside from the fact that this is not in form and in keeping with the bill that has just been signed by the Governor.

POINT OF ORDER.

I raise the point of order that this bill is absolutely unconstitutional. I will quote from page 226 of Ayers' Appeal, which reads as follows: "Classification with a view of legislating for either class separately is essentially unconstitutional unless there exists the necessity therefor."

The courts have repeatedly sustained the appeal in that case and it would seem to me that it would be the most absurd, the most useless, the most nonsensical thing for us to pass a law which the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania has time and time again declared to be unconstitutional at this time. I therefore, Mr. Speaker, raise the point of order that this bill is unconstitutional.

Mr. HUMES. Mr. Speaker, the point of order raised by the gentleman from York must of course be listened to attentively by the House. Had it been raised by the gentleman from Schuylkill, we might have felt that more attention need be given to it, but I might say with reference to the point of order of the gentleman from York and for the information of the Chair that this question has been studied most carefully by a number of lawyers in the House and by others in the State and the constitutional question received special attention by the Legislative Reference Bureau. The consensus of opinion is that this bill is so drafted as not to be unconstitutional but to be in absolute keeping with the case of Locke's Appeal, which is now the recognized authority on this subject. I do not think that at this time the House nor the Chair care to go into a protracted discussion of this legal question, but I believe it is absolutely constitutional, and if it is not constitutional, how can it harm anyone?

The SPEAKER. Following the usual practice in the House, the Chair will submit the point of order, being a constitutional question, to the House in the first instance.

Mr. MILLER. Mr. Speaker, having been a strong advocate of the commission form of government, I am naturally opposed to this bill, but I intend to discuss is now from a constitutional basis. I believe it is unconstitutional for three reasons—First, in Section 12, it reads as follows: I shall not read it, but shall briefly say that it shall be unlawful for any person other than a candidate for the office of commissioner, not only directly, but indirectly, to request, solicit, ask or demand any person to vote for or against any candidate for the office of commissioner or for or against the adoption of any charter or amendment thereto. But from this inhibition there is expressly excepted newspapers and men upon the same. I hold that provision a direct violation of the constitutional provision of the right of free speech. A man should certainly have the right to discuss and argue and request all fellow citizens to vote for or against the charter prepared by the commissioners or vote for or against a candidate. There is a whole line of cases which says that there can be no distinction made between a newspaper and a citizen. that a newspaper is not a person distinct from a natural person. I hold that this violates the right of free speech under Article III, Section 7, of the Constitution. I further believe it to be unconstitutional because it violates Article III, Section 7, in this respect. Section 7 of Article III prohibits any local or special legislation along this line, incorporating cities, towns or villages, or changing their charters. The Legislature cannot do that. The Legislature cannot change the charter of any particular town or city or borough, and since the Legislature cannot do it, how can it delegate that power to some other body? How can it delegate the power to construct separate charters, a distinct charter, in each of the third class cities in this Commonwealth? I hold it is a violation of that section just as much as though the Legislature tried in each case to construct a charter for each city, because by attempting to delegate a power which the Legislature itself does not have, it contravenes the express constitutional provision. I hold, further, that it is unconstitutional because all the legislative power of this Commonwealth is vested in a General Assembly which consists of a Senate and a House of Representatives. Now what do we mean by legislative power? I will tell you what it means. In the language of the court in O'Neill against the Insurance Companies, 166 Pennsylvania, it reads as follows: "The words 'legislative power' means the power and authority under the Constitution to form or govern, to make laws and repeal laws." Under this bill we attempt to delegate that legislative power which is vested in the Legislature alone to each separate third class city. We attempt to delegate it, and any delegation of that power is unconstitutional. It says this legislative power cannot be delegated.

It is delegating power to repeal one of the legislative powers of the Commonwealth, because the effect of the Clark bill which was signed to-day is to create a distinct form of government in every third class city in this Commonwealth. Now, that form of government remains the government of that city until, under the Snyder bill, that city constructs a charter of its own liking, and then when that charter is adopted, by the act of adopting the Clark bill is repealed in that city. I say when the Legislature delegates that power to repeal, it delegates one of those legislative powers which cannot be delegated under the Constitution, and for those three reasons I hold that this bill is unconstitutional.

Mr. WILDMAN. Mr. Speaker, I cannot conceive how any gentleman on the floor of this House who believes that the people shall rule, who believes in self-government and who believes in home rule can oppose this measure.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would call the attention of the gentleman from Dauphin to the fact that the matter at present under consideration is the point of order on the constitutionality of the bill and that the merits of the bill or expediency of the legislation is not now before the House.

Mr. WILDMAN. Mr. Speaker, as to the constitutionality of the bill, I desire to say that I have secured the opinion of several attorneys of the City of Harrisburg on this question who have gone into it thoroughly, and while I have the greatest respect for the legal ability of the gentleman from Lehigh, at the same time I also have some consideration for the knowledge of the attorneys of the City of Harrisburg. The attorneys of Harrisburg have advised me that whilst there is a question on the constitutionality of this measure, at the same time there is nothing definite, and that it will be a question for the higher courts to determine. The question is not clear; in their opinion the matter is constitutional. Now, it is merely a question of legal jurisprudence, and in the event that this matter should be unconstitutional, it certainly does no harm for this House to pass it, for if it is unconstitutional it will not become operative and it will not go into effect.

Mr. ULMAN. Mr. Speaker, I wish to state that I am not an attorney, but I have consulted a great many attorneys and they have gone over the question very carefully and I have been advised that there is nothing unconstitutional in the bill.

On the question,

Shall the point of order be sustained?

It was sustained.

MOTION TO PRINT THE MINUTES OF THE COMMITTEE ON JUDICIARY SPECIAL IN THE APPENDIX OF THE LEGISLATIVE JOURNAL.

Mr. MITCHELL. Mr. Speaker, I wish to make a motion with a preface. Last January when this House convened and when the committee assignments were made there were a number of us who upon learning they had been assigned to the Committee on Judiciary Special, felt, so to speak, that it was not a desirable connection. We have heard stories of the past and have heard that that particular committee had been known as the "Pickling Committee" of this House. I will admit that it was with some misgivings that I entered upon the duties of that Committee, but at the first meeting of that Committee, or before we gather, the Chairman stated frankly that that Committee in the past had been known as the "Pickling Committee." He stated to the members of the Committee that at this session that reputation would be lived down and that he would protect the reputation of every member of that Committee.

Mr. Speaker, at the last meeting of the Judiciary Special Committee, I was directed by unanimous vote of those present to offer a motion. The Chair has been very generous in assigning bills to this Committee. I believe it has handled legislation equally important, almost as important, at least, as that assigned to the Judiciary General Committee. It has had many bills. That Committee has had a regular meeting date and adopted at the very first meeting certain rules of procedure and has had special meetings from time to time, all after full notice to the members. Every meeting of that Committee has been open to the public. Every bill which has been assigned to that Committee has been acted upon within the time required by the rules of this House and the rules of the Committee. Every bill has been reported to this House in one way or another. Every measure has had full free discussion and a full hearing. I am directed also to state that at every session of this Committee a stenographer has been present and full minutes of the proceedings of that Committee have been kept as well as a record of every bill.

I therefore move, at the request of the Committee, that the records of the proceedings, the minutes of the House Committee on Judiciary Special, be spread at length upon the appendix of the Legislative Journal.

Mr. BROSIUS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The SPEAKER. Can the gentleman state about the number of pages that will be taken up with this matter?

Mr. MITCHELL. Mr. Speaker, I am not able to say how much it will consume in type. There are 209 folios, largely roll calls. It is brief. It is not a transcript of everything that was said, but the action and roll call on every bill, and those who appeared before the Committee, etc.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, as a member of that Committee, I merely wish to state that I do not think any praise or any encomium could be too great to attach to the work, to the fairness and the order that was exhibited by the Chairman of that Committee during its entire proceedings. I must say, and I know that all the other members of the Committee were struck with admiration both at the learning and at the methods and manner in which that Committee was conducted, and I feel that in saying a word of recognition of the services of our worthy Chairman of this Committee, I am only voicing the sentiments of the full membership of that Committee and I feel that we do owe a debt of gratitude and even that the House owes a debt of gratitude for the work that was accomplished by reason largely of the efficiency of its worthy Chairman.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I take it that the minutes that were kept of the meetings of the Committee was a proper course to take, but the spreading of them on the record would undoubtedly entail a great deal of expense, and I would request the gentleman from Erie to allow his motion to be amended by merely allowing us to file the minutes, which keeps them upon the record of the House and any time a member wants to refer to them he can. That will relieve us of the expense.

Mr. MITCHELL. Mr. Speaker, I accept the amendment. That will be satisfactory to the members.

The SPEAKER. The motion is that the minutes of the Committee be filed in the records of the House. This would cause them to be kept in the office of the Resident Clerk, where they could be sent at any time.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

The SPEAKER. The Chair might express his appreciation of the prompt work which has been done by this Committee upon the bills referred to it. Perhaps the Chair's appreciation has been shown by the number of bills which he has referred to that Committee.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I thank the Chair.

IN MEMORIAM.

JOHN F. COX.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, I feel that no member of this House has appreciated the good fellowship of the other members more than myself, all during this session. This morning I felt deeply and sincerely the effect of the services which were held for our departed brother, Dr. Fahey. I was affected by this service, Mr. Speaker, and appreciate the fact that twice during this session we have felt the effect of the Grim Reaper. My mind, however, went back just a little further. It went back to the last session, Mr. Speaker, and to the session before the last. Twice filling the Chair, once in the session of 1909, and then succeeding himself in 1911, was one whom the members of this House who are now upon the floor and who had the honor of serving in either session, one whom they loved and respected, and it seems to me, Mr. Speaker, that the record of this House would not be completed were not at least a word said in relation to the Honorable John F. Cox, who, during the interim between the session of 1911, was still serving, under the law, as Speaker, and died.

I do not propose, Mr. Speaker, at this time to impose upon the forbearance of the members of this House by consuming any considerable time in passing upon his merits and demerits. I had felt, Mr. Speaker, coming from the same district as he represented, having had the honor of serving with him in a previous session, knowing him as I did, loving him as I did, I had felt Mr. Speaker, that just a little of the space in the Journal should be awarded to me, to pay my tribute of respect. Following his death I was called upon by the Bar Association of Allegheny County, as one of the representatives of that body, to eulogize his memory. A copy of the remarks made by me at that time I have in my possession now, and I simply ask, Mr. Speaker, that I be allowed to print these in the Legislative Journal of this session.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears no objection, and it is so directed.

The remarks are as follows:

IN MEMORIAM.

JOHN F. COX.

Before the Allegheny County Bar Association

Friday, November 24th, 1911

By Hon. George W. Allen

Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen of the Bar:

I would be remiss, indeed, were I to allow this opportunity to pass without attempting to express by heart's sentiment for my colleague and my confidential friend, John F. Cox.

To truly know a man, one must know his mind, his heart and his soul—the entity—the man as nature endowed him, and as he lives his life.

Would that all of you had known John F. Cox as we knew him! Had you had this advantage, your estimate of the man, however great it may be, would be the greater by an hundred fold.

Many of you knew him in his professional life; some, in his political life; numbers of you, in his social life; and still others, but casually; the great majority, however, from but a single view point, while we knew him from every point of the compass, and truthfully state, that while all held him in affectionate regard, those who knew him best loved him most.

In his professional life, he was a most successful practitioner, due to his splendid logic and his power to sway the judgment of men by his exceptional flow and use of language. He was ever ready in convincing illustrations and his word pictures warmed the hearts and thrilled the souls of his hearers.

In his social life, he was the bright and effulgent star, around whom all gathered to enjoy his profound philosophy, his practical wisdom, his happy thought, his rich humor and sparkling wit.

In his political life, his cordial greeting and his sincere interest in the things which were nearest to those with whom he came in contact left imprints and recollections which will be handed down to the coming generations.

His mind was a store-house of family information. He knew the brothers and sisters, the uncles and aunts, the cousins and nephews, and the one particular matter in which each one whom he met most interested, and his ability to use this information proved his greatest political asset.

After spending days, weeks and months with him in political work, we can truly say, it appeared that he knew almost every one of his constituents and that they all know and honored him.

In his daily life and to the casual observer, he appeared to the very greatest disadvantage to himself. His care-free, go-lucky, rough-and-ready greeting and demeanor dimmed the eyes and dulled the appreciation of even the most observant, to the fact that beneath it all were the basic principles of seriousness, sincerity and tenderness.

Indulge me to call attention to his peculiar fitness as a leader of men, which, perhaps, best evidenced itself in the performance of his official duties as Speaker of the House of Representatives.

In his rulings he extended the most liberal construction of parliamentary usages to those opposed to his own views upon matters of legislation; his protection of the weaker members from the attacks of the stronger was like the careful caution of a fond father for his cherished child; he abstained from and prevented all trickery and "sharp practice;" he ruled with absolute fairness, and thereby endeared himself to the representatives of all factions and all parties. His judgment was revered, his official acts respected, and he was loved by every member of that body of men.

In his professional and social life, we knew John F. Cox many years, and we admired him; in his political, his physical and his spiritual life, we knew him but a few years, years during which his visits were unannounced, when he came and relieved his mind and soul of their burdens of sadness and their surcharges of happiness; and so, his sorrows and his joys, his ambitions and his soul's yearnings, his very life were, to me, an open book upon which Death has placed an eternal seal.

For more than two years the ravages of relentless disease had been preying upon and weakening his physical constitution, yet few, if any, ever heard one word of complaint—one murmur—pass his lips. While suffering excruciating pain and undergoing its incident of mental anguish he laughed and joked with those about him, forgetful of self and thinking only of the happiness of others.

On Friday preceding his Final Call, he visited with me for almost two hours. Little wonder then, that when the message, "John F. Cox is dead," reached us on Monday morning, November 6th last we lived then as we live at this hour, in a very uncanny environment, face to face with the present and future, in the very presence of Death.

"John F. Cox is dead."

Surprised, shocked, amazed, astounded, we stop and stand stupefied and paralyzed as we hear the words. We fail, for the moment, to realize their meaning. We cannot believe them, and yet they are too true. The fact finally impresses itself upon us, and we begin to appreciate and understand just what it means.

A happy home has been transformed into a house of sorrow; an admiring and affectionate community has lost one of its foremost and most distinguished citizens; fraternal societies convene in sincere sadness and drop a tear of respect and reverence; the House of Representatives has had removed from its head a leader of exceptional ability and tact, leaving vacant a place which can be filled but in part by any of his colleagues.

"John F. Cox is dead."

The eyes of one who always saw the good in friend or foe are closed forever upon the canities of life; the lips, which spoke only kind and tender words, are sealed in death; the heart, which swelled and throbbed in appreciation of the successes of his fellow-man, is stilled forever in his breast of lifeless clay; the warm hand, the clasp of which meant more than words can tell, the affectionate laying on of which thrilled old and young alike, is stiff and cold.

"John F. Cox is dead."

The loving and devoted husband and father, to whom home and fireside was a foretaste of heaven—the friend, alike, to high and low, to rich and poor—the whole-souled, mirth-loving companion, whom all loved who knew him—the soul-speaker, from whose lips the feeling responses and vibrations of a kind and sympathetic heart poured forth words which moved to tears his fellow men and left recollections which time can never efface—the leader of men, whom all were pleased to follow—the politician, who always stood in the open and who spoke no unkind word of his bitterest opponent—the statesman, with lofty ideas and a determination to attain to the highest and best for his people, his state and his country—a commoner in manner and in bearing, a king in merit and in worth—a man who revered his God—John F. Cox has passed over.

Death has closed his eyes in sleep, he has awakened in the spirit land.

May Peace and Happiness be attendant companions to his ever living soul.

RESIGNATION OF HON. MAURICE J. SPEISER.

The SPEAKER laid before the House the following resignation, which was read by the Clerk:

Harrisburg, Pa., June 28th, 1913

Honorable George E. Alter,

Speaker of the House of Representatives, and Members of the House of Representatives.

Gentlemen: I hereby with great regret tendered my resignation from this body to take effect when this session adjourns sine die.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I move the resignation be accepted.

Mr. RONEY. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. S. B. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, fifty years ago was the battle of Gettysburg. Forty years ago there served in this House W. W. Brown, of Philadelphia. To-day he is with us and I feel that it is fitting that we should hear a few words from him.

The SPEAKER. Is there any objection? The Chair hears none, and the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. S. B. Scott, will escort Mr. W. W. Brown to the platform.

ADDRESS OF HON. W. W. BROWN.

Mr. W. W. BROWN Mr Speaker, and Gentlemen of the House of Representatives of Pennsylvania: When I was a member of this body forty years ago, our sessions were held in the old Capitol. It was a beautiful building and I thought a great deal of it. When I came into this building this evening and saw this structure with all its modern improvements and modern beauty, I was proud to be a citizen of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Whatever may be said of the furnishing of the Capitol no man has ever had the temerity to say that the building was anything but a credit to the great Commonwealth. I chance to be on my way to the great battlefield of the war for the Union. I may say the greatest battlefield perhaps of all the world. At least, it seems to me that more has sprung from it in the realm of achievement, of glory and of success of any war that was ever fought in the interest of freedom in the world's history. Gettysburg was the high tide of the Rebellion. We don't call it Rebellion now very often. We call it the War for the Union or the war between the States but we are not very particular what we call it; it was a great affair in the history of a great nation. When I was here forty years ago a gentleman from Philadelphia was Speaker. His name was Elliott, long since passed to his reward. My contemporaries have all passed on so far as I know but I am glad to be here and to tell you that I love the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania above all territory that exists on this globe. It has been my home all my life. I came here in 1873 and left here in 1876. My brother succeeded me in the Legislature and is known far better in this city than myself. It was he who made the dedicatory speech upon the life and character of General John F. Hartranft at the unveiling of the equestrian statue which I have just have had of viewing with great satisfaction. He remained in the Pennsylvania Legislature about six years and also was a member of the Grand Army of the Republic and has the satisfaction and gratification and I may say the glory of having served in the division of General John F. Hartranft. I suppose that any man who has had that satisfaction has enough to glory over during the remainder of his life but I think that he fell short of being in the biggest affair of the Rebellion, after all because his elder brother who is here now talking to you was in one of the old Buck Tail Regiments and I never was in a fight in that regiment that it didn't open the battle. At the Battle of Antietam, I heard General Hooker say, and you will remember that General Hooker was a man who when he said something, meant it. Up to the time that General Hooker came in command you remember that cavalry of the service hadn't done anything. He said something must be done with the cavalry of the American Army and they redeemed themselves and furnished glory to that branch of the service so great and so sublime that it can never wear away. I heard him say at that battle, "General McNeal the cavalry has failed to find the enemy." Now, I never knew the Buck Tail Regiment to fail in finding the enemy when they went to hunt for it. Just about a half hour after that time—it was twilight in the evening about this time, there was a belching of cannon aimed at that little regiment but the little regiment moved on first in a calm way, afterwards in a quick step until it became a double quick and in a few minutes we were face to face with as desperate a fight as ever was put up on this continent. Our Colonel fell; our captain fell and many more fell but the battle was over and the enemy had been shown the fighting qualities of the Buck Tail Regiment. That was on the 16th day of September, 1862. I suppose I ought to apologize for passing the limit. I want to conclude by saying that having been a member of that regiment was my glory, whatever there is attached to me was because I was a member of that regiment and not that I was a big fighter.

Mr. S. B. SCOTT in the Chair.

POEM.

Mr. HOBBS read the following poem, composed by himself:

Pennsylvania House of Representatives—Session of 1913.

On January seventh, of the present year,
At twelve o'clock, noon, we assembled here,
Chief clerk, Mr. Garvin, took the gavel in hand,
And the House came to order at his gentle command.
When the votes had been counted, not a man was rejected,
And the two hundred seven were confirmed as elected.
When the oath of office was conferred upon all
We assumed a great duty, neither trifling nor small.

The next of importance was the election of Speaker
To determine which ones were stronger or weaker;
Some time was devoted to words of high praise
Which were made quite impressive by the orators' ways.
Several ballots were taken without even a falter,
Then the right man was chosen: Hon. Geo. E. Alter;
And from that day to this, he's been faithful and fair,
With firmness and honor he has filled the chair.

(3)

The routine of business was then soon completed;
The Senate and House, each other had greeted,
Until the hour of nine, we took a recess,
Being well gratified, though I need not express,
At the time to convene we were ready for work,
Not one of our members intending to shirk.
Preliminary matters for the rest of the day
Were promptly disposed of without any delay.

(4)

From the Executive Chamber a message there came
From His Excellency, The Governor, bearing his name;
The document in full was read by the clerk
Laying a solid foundation upon which we should work,
Touching all the great questions of our grand Commonwealth
Financial, social, and the good of our health.
Thus the work of the day had come to a close;
To meet against on the twentieth—from our seats, we arose.

(5)

The time intervening very quickly passed by,
To enact legislation, we were ready to try.
The Committee on committees gave in its report,
But, in whole, the members would not lend their support.
So, in selecting the clerks a contest was waged
In which our good members were hotly engaged.
The result of the battle: Lieb, Garvin and Black
Were permitted to stay, or allowed to come back.

Introduction of bills increased every day,
Until a large number had started their way
To victory or defeat, as might be decided
According to opinions as they might be divided.
The respective committees had the first good chance
To hold-up a bill, or let it advance.
But I think as a rule they've been liberal, indeed,
By permitting good measures, their course to proceed.

(7)

On each member's desk the calendars grew
Adding something each day, decidedly new.
If we felt so inclined we could study and learn Something pertaining to each bill in its turn,
So as not to depend upon arguments made,
But use our own judgment as a practical aid;
Although by discussing a great issue at stake
We are less apt to err or make a mistake.

(8)

Time, in its course, kept speeding along
Till the robin was heard to sing his sweet song;
This was a sign that Spring-time was here
With seed-time approaching, yes indeed, very near.
The seed for new laws, though extensively sown,
Up to that time very little had grown.
We began to feel worried lest the harvest would pass,
The sheaves not yet garnered, and then, Oh, Alas.

(9)

We are not yet dismayed, so kept up our will
To do our full duty, while on Capitol Hill;
With great perservance and unceasing task
We've endeavored to do all our people should ask;
For progress and justice our record is good
On our party platforms we've consistently stood;
For the good of the State, from the east to the west,
As a law-making body, we have done our best.

(10)

Let us pay a tribute to some of the boys—
Especially to those who are inclined to make noise.
The conspicuous fellows, most frequently heard
Are the ones to whom I would give just a word;
To personify all, would take too much time
And add very little to this sort of rhyme;
'Tis not my intention to offend any one,
So take it for granted, 'tis only in fun.

(11)

The gentleman from Crawford, who clearly assumes Minority leaders, the undaunted Humes—
The gentleman from Bedford, strong Mr. Matt,
If he dislikes a bill, he just knocks it flat;
Our unfortunate friend who is physically blind
Most surely can see with the eye of the mind.
As honest and true as was old Uncle Abe
Is the gentleman from Butler, Sincere Mr. Grabe.

The Dutchman from Lehigh who is chock full of wit,
Is ready for battle, and has plenty of grit.
Our great legal critic with remarkable power
Is George W. Allen, and he never will cower;
From the county of Delaware we've a fluent mouthpiece
For the old Constitution, and he never will cease;
Our firm Mr. Bayle, on land if in ferry
Stands up for the farmer and Commodore Perry.

Our friend Mr. Rockwell who championed the cause
To give women the right to help make the laws—
From the very same county comes a man of great nerve
Who's a leading promoter of our forest's conserve;
From old Susquehanna comes our friend Mr. Jones
Who would build us good roads and throw out the stones;
There's John Robert, too, always ready to fight
For the good of the State, and that which is right.

(14)

The great temperance leader, with rhetorical gift
Is not very slow, because he is "Swift;"
For reform if the State our friend Mr. Scott,
Though recently converted, is Johnny on the Spot.
There is also another of this illustrious name,
Who is far on the road to honor and fame;
Of political schemes there is much we could learn
From a very fine gent, we call Mr. Shern.

There's a handsome young man, I mean Mr. Speiser,
Who is able to spout like a Yellowstone geyser.
We have a good farmer who is able to teach ye
All about farming:—wide-awake Mr. Peachey.
For patriotic sentiment we cannot surpass
The eloquent gentleman, unique Mr. Bass.
The maker or dealer of whiskey or wine
Is ably protected by shrewd Mr. Stein.

(16)

"Abandon the rope"—we read from the press;
"Apply chair electric," declares Mr. Hess.
We've a man in our midst, who is not very tony,
Who is making his mark—our brave Mr. Roney;
From the same old town there's a nut hard to crack
Hit him with a hammer, and "Hank" will hit back.
Our friend Mr. Gibson, who sits at my right,
While not very large, has courage and might.

(17)

Our friend Tom McNichol should not be passed by,
For he's strong in debate as to wherefores and why.
The dairyman lawyer is favorably known
Who hails from old Bradford, Representative Stone
A veteran before me, who stands on each plank
Of his party platform, Our Captain Wiltbank;
With a broad, genial smile and continued good cheer
The last name we mention is Eugene McAleer.

(18)

There are others no doubt entitled to praise
Who have done good work in various ways;
Even those who are quiet, unassuming, yet true
May achieve as good record as the louder ones do,
"Those who talk much cannot always talk well;"
This may be the reason why many bills fell.
We can say to the people:—"Just take us together
And we've made a fair average in all kinds of weather."

Our House employees from basement to dome
Have done very well, and soon may go home;
The several clerks with diligence rare
Have done their full duty, with no time to spare.
The Sergeant-at-arms and those who assist Haven't had any trouble, for none would resist.
The fleet-footed pages, always ready to run
And perform their duties as though it were fun.

(20)

Sad was the news which made our hearts grieve;
It was early in March—we could hardly believe
That Uncle John Reibel had passed from this life
No more to take part in political strife;
"Father of the House"—he was honored by all
Who had formed his acquaintance in this stately hall;
He had fought for his country in peace and in war,
Now his work is o'er and he's gone on before.

Again we were shocked, and great our surprise,
'Twas our friend Dr. Fahey—his sudden demise;
'Twas the first day of June, and a few days before
He was happy and smiling with us on the Floor;
Sad were our hearts, each one felt regret,
So 'twas deemed very proper to show our respect;
We attended the funeral, our tributes to pay,
As surrounded by flowers, the lifeless one lay.

Our venerable chaplain has been faithful and true,
Invoking God's blessing on me and on you;
When each daily session was opened with prayer
The words he has spoken were chosen with care;
He has sought to impress on each member's mind
To do all he can for the good of mankind;
These inspired thoughts, coming down from above,
Should guide us to act in the spirit of love.

(23)

This biennial session, from the first to the last,
We look upon now as a thing of the past
There's been sadness and joy, friendship and strife—
These things, intermingled, are conditions of life.
In official conduct we've a right to be free;
Therefore, we could not at all times agree;
But as beings, all mortal, let us think of each other
As true friends, indeed; each member a brother.

Now, my dear friends, we're about to depart
To our respective homes; very soon we shall start.
On Friday at midnight, our labors will end,
So I'll offer a word as a colleague and friend:
May fond recollections, most worthy and kind,
Be firmly impressed on each member's mind;
And wherever your station, forever be true
To our old Commonwealth and the Red, White and Blue.

Now briefly, my friends, I wish to conclude;
On your valuable time, 'tis not fair to intrude.
This Honorable Body of nineteen-thirteen
Has not been controlled by party machine.
Legislation progressive has been the chief aim,
And the people in future will give it this name;
This is all, fellow members, and my last words to you
Are my very best wishes, God-speed and Adieu.

SENATE MESSAGE.

Whereupon.

The SPEAKER in the presence of the House signed the same.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 64.

Mr. PIPER. Mr. Speaker, I call up concurrent resolution of the Senate No. 64.

The resolution was read as follows:

Asking the Congress of the United States to enact the Hamil bill (House of Representatives ninety-two thousand two hundred and forty-one) known as the Straight Pension bill for the pensioning of Civil Service employees of the United States Post Office Department

Whereas At a convention held in the city of Rochester State of New York in September one thousand nine hundred and eleven at which thirty thousand letter carriers employed by the United States Post Office Department including representatives of the letter carriers from nearly every city and town in Pennsylvania were represented resolutions were adopted asking Congress to enact the Hamil straight pension bill (House of Representatives ninety-two thousand two hundred and forty-one) which provides for a pension to Civil Service employees of the United States Post Office Department under conditions prescribed in the bill and

Whereas The Legislature of the State of Pennsylvania is in hearty sympathy and accord with the project to pension these faithful servants of the Government

Therefore be it resolved (if the House concur), That the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania heartily recommend to Congress the speedy passage of the said Hamil bill (House of Representatives ninety-two thousand two hundred and forty-one) and request the speedy passage of the said Hamil bill (House of Representatives ninety-two thousand two hundred and forty-one) and request the Senators and members of the House of Representatives in Congress from the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to give their support to and vote for the said bill

And be it further resolved, That the Secretary of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania be and he is hereby instructed to immediately after their adoption forward a copy of these resolutions to the President of the Senate of the United States to the Speaker of the House of Representatives of the United States and to the Senators and Representatives in Congress from the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania

On the question,

Will the House concur in the resolution?

It was concurred in.

Ordered. That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

SENATE MESSAGE.

RESOLUTION CONCURRED IN BY SENATE.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has concurred in the resolution of the House of Representatives as follows:

In the House of Representatives, June 27, 1913.

Whereas, Numerous bills establishing a State Song for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania have been offered to the present Legislature, and

Whereas, The proximity of adjournment prevents the present Legislature from deciding the merits of the proposed songs

Therefore Be It Resolved, (if the Senate concurs), that a Commission of six members, three being members of the House of Representatives and three members of the Senate, be appointed by the Speaker of the House and President Pro. Tem. of the Senate respectively and that said Commission report to the next Legislature or to a special session of the Legislature if one be held such recommendation as to selection of the song for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania as they may deem wise.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 65.

Mr. RONEY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up Concurrent Resolution of the Senate No. 65.

The resolution was read as follows:

In the Senate June 24 1913

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That the Governor of the Commonwealth be and he is hereby authorized to appoint three citizens of any city of the first class of this Commonwealth who together with three Senators to be appointed by the president pro tempore of the Senate and three members of the House of Representatives to be appointed by the Speaker of the House of Representatives shall constitute a commission to serve without compensation and whose duty it shall be to consider the laws of the Commonwealth relating to the government of cities of the first class and especially to the structure and organization of councils thereof and to report to the next Legislature whatever changes may be deemed necessary in said laws for the government of cities of the first class together with a draft of an act or acts of assembly to accomplish such changes Said commission shall have power to elect its own chairman to sit after the adjournment of the Legislature to employ legal counsel and such other officers and employees as may be needed to enable it to properly perform its duties as aforesaid Its expenditures shall be provided for in the general appropriation bill to be passed at this session of the Legislature and shall be paid out of the State Treasury upon vouchers signed by the chairman of said commission The said commission shall have power to issue subpoenas signed by its chairman requiring the attendance of such persons and the production of such books and papers as in its judgment will assist in the performance of its duties aforesaid The said commission shall make a full report in writing to the Governor of the Commonwealth of its findings with such recommendations as it may deem proper six months prior to the meeting of the general assembly in the session of one thousand nine hundred and fifteen which report shall be published for public information

On the question,

Will the House concur in the resolution?

It was concurred in.

Ordered. That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 60.

Mr. RONEY. Mr. Speaker, I call up concurrent resolution No. 60.

The SPEAKER. The resolution will be read by the Clerk.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 60.

In the Senate, June 24th 1913

Resolved (if the House concur), That the President pro tempore of the Senate shall appoint ten Senators and the Speaker of the House ten members of the House of Representatives, who together with the present President pro tempore of the Senate and the present Speaker of the House of Representatives shall be additional members of the Panama Pacific International Exposition Committee and who shall have all the rights and privileges of the original members of said committee

On the question,

Will the House agree to the resolution?

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the Chairman of the Appropriation Committee as to whether or not there has been placed in the General Appropriation Bill any item over and above the three hundred thousand dollars appropriated by separate act to the Pan-American Exposition.

Mr. NORTH. Mr. Speaker, in reply to the gentleman from Philadelphia, I will say, not to my knowledge.

Mr. RONEY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. John R. K. Scott.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, yes, sir.

Mr. RONEY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman whether there is in the General Appropriation Bill any extra provision for the payment of the expenses of the additional members called for by this resolution.

Mr. W. H. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, on the part of the Conferees I will say, there is no appropriation in the General Appropriation Bill to cover this.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, my inquiry is as to whether the three hundred thousand dollars provided cannot be used for these additional members. I suggest it be amended to say 207 members.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, on the resolution, it appears to me to be one of those peculiar resolutions thrown out as a bait to this House. The House as a House, you will recall, when acting upon the bill for the appropriation for the Panama-American Exposition Commission reduced the amount of the bill from four hundred and fifty thousand to three hundred thousand dollars. Following that and while the Appropriation Committee was in process of repair on the Senate side and while this bill was on the Senate side and being repaired by the addition of one hundred and fifty thousand to the bill, which has been stricken off in this House, preceding the return of that bill to this House, comes a resolution which perhaps would add ten additional votes, or perhaps more than that in anticipation of appointments, to getting through the bill with $450,000.00 appropriated instead of $350,000.00. I look upon this resolution as simply a bait, which was thrown out to the members of this House to secure for the appropriation bill which was amended in the Senate to the extent of one hundred and fifty thousand dollars, to secure the necessary number of votes to pass that bill in that form. However, this House, in its wisdom, refused to stand for the amendment of the Senate and insisted on its position and a Conference Committee was appointed. That Conference Committee has reported to this House that three hundred thousand dollars was the amount that should be appropriated for that purpose. The House has adopted that stand as a proper stand. Now comes up, Mr. Speaker, this resolution to add 22 additional members to the Commission. I suggest that inasmuch as only 20 members of the original commission were appointed, and inasmuch as the financial statement which was filed by that Commission showing its trip, preliminary trip, if you please, to San Francisco, showed that there were no less than 36 who accompanied that expedition, that if 22 additional members be allowed, there is no telling how many will be attached to the expedition. I believe Mr. Speaker, that it would be wrong for this House to stand for additional members to that Commission for this reason. The Commission had originally the authority entrusted to it, to select on the grounds of the Panama Exposition a place for a suitable building for the State of Pennsylvania. All of that has been done doubtless because of the fact that figures were fixed. Doubtless plans have been made as to what sort of structure will be erected. Now what will 20 or 22 additional members do by adding them to this Commission. What will it benefit the State whether 22 members of this Great Commonwealth, selected by His Excellency, the Governor, to represent this State and to look after the business affairs of the exhibits—are not 20 men, business men, if you please, a sufficient number to take care of and complete this work? Is there a necessity, a crying necessity, for the addition of 22 new members to this Commission? Is it possible that this House feels, and that the Senate feels, that by the appointment of 22 new members, that this new addition which would be in excess of the number originally appointed, should perhaps undo all that had been done, should prescribe a program of its own? Is it necessary from a business standpoint that 22 new names be added to this Commission for the purposes provided for in the original resolution, or is it simply a question, Mr. Speaker, of adding a sight seeing expedition, of giving 22 other people not members of the House and Senate, 22 other people—I believe this resolution calls for them being members of the House and Senate—but 22 others to add to this Commission, simply for the purpose of giving them an outing to San Francisco and return, a junketing expedition, absolutely nothing else? This House, Mr. Speaker, has stood in many matters upon the real merit of the matter. Now wherein lies the merit here? Any man who believes in simply providing junketing expeditions is entitled to and should vote for this resolution. Any man who believes in conserving the revenues of the State and spending them in a way that will be a benefit to the State and the purposes for which they are intended should vote against this resolution. Any man who thinks that he will be and ought to be one of the favored ten to be appointed is justified in voting for the resolution. Any man who discloses to this House that if he wants to go to that exposition he goes on his own funds, ought to vote "No" on the resolution. Mr. Speaker, I do not believe that the intelligence of this House will be stifled and place itself on record by supporting any such resolution as is now offered as sop to the members of this House.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I took the position at the time the appropriation bill providing for the Panama Exposition was up before us that I did not think $450,000.00 was too much for that purpose. I presumed at the time I argued in favor of that sum of money that it would be spent for the benefit of the State of Pennsylvania. I am not positive whether when we leave here we will have provided for more than $300,000.00 or not, but it was insinuated at the time by a member on the floor of the House, as it had been a number of times, that I held certain relations with the administration that would assure me of being allowed to participate in this demonstration at the expense of the State. I am very glad that the resolution has come over. It gives me a chance at the present time to refute that insinuation. In the first place I know that the bill provides for the expenditure of this money at the hands of those who will have charge of it in the best interests of the State. Power has been given the Commission to hire additional men or an additional number of employees necessary to carry out the project. Probably the person who introduced this resolution had in mind the fact that there will be twenty more working men added to it. I do not believe that the twenty men appointed under its provisions will be the people who will take off their coats and work for this proposition. Having that opinion and knowing that the Commission has the power to employ any necessary number of people, I am opposed to this resolution of adding twenty more names because they will not be the people who will use the money for the benefit of the State.

On the question recurring,

Will the House concur in the resolution?

It was not concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 63.

Mr. RONEY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time concurrent resolution of the Senate No. 63.

The resolution was read as follows:

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 63.

In the Senate, June 24, 1913.

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That the Chief of the Department of Mines is hereby authorized to examine into the condition and method of operation of the slate stone marble and granite quarries ore and clay banks ore and graphite mines and any other mineral operations of the Commonwealth also to examine into the condition of the petroleum drilling casing and protecting said wells and to make a report to the Governor for transmission to the General Assembly of one thousand nine hundred and fifteen covering said examinations and containing recommendations for legislation necessary to meet the existing conditions

On the question,

Will the House concur in the resolution?

Mr. RONEY. Mr. Speaker, this resolution carries no appropriation. I recall last session that a bill was introduced to regulate the quarrying of stone and there was the largest public demonstration on that bill of any bill of last session. It fell by the wayside. There was a similar bill introduced this session which also fell. I think it is very important that the Chief of the Department of Mines makes this investigation without any additional cost to the State and give the next General Assembly some real information on this proposition.

On the question recurring,

Will the House concur in the resolution??

It was concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

SENATE MESSAGE.

SENATE RECONSIDERS VOTE BY WHICH CONFERENCE COMMITTEE REPORT WAS ADOPTED.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed the House that the vote by which the Senate adopted the report of the committee of conference on Senate Bill No. 103, entitled:

An Act to provide that certain teachers of long experience in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania shall be appointed permanently and defining the manner of changing their positions and salaries making it the duty of the president and secretary of each school board in this Commonwealth to enter into certain contracts and providing penalties for the neglect or refusal to perform such duty was reconsidered and the committee discharged from further consideration of said bill; and the question recurring, will the Senate concur in the amendments made to said bill by the House of Representatives? They were concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, as a matter of information, I would like to know what the position is at this time. The position, it seems to me, is rather peculiar, following the report of the Senate. This is, as I understand, the teachers' ten-year life-time tenure bill. If I can state the history of the bill right, the bill was introduced in the Senate and passed. It was introduced in the House, voted down, reconsidered and passed to a committee, amended and afterwards passed in an amended form in the House. The return therefore was made to the Senate. The Senate refused to concur in the amendments inserted by the House, and notified the House accordingly. The House refused to recede from its amendments and thereupon a conference committee was appointed on the part of the Senate and on the part of the House. Up to that time we had a bill, according to my views. That bill was declined by the Senate. It was referred to a conference committee, and the Conference Committee brought in a bill along the lines of the original bill as a report of the conference committee. The Senate adopted the report of the committee, but the House refused, and the bill falls, because of the fact that the last stage was the report of the conference committee. After the bill fell in the House, the Senate recedes, takes back, discharges the committee, and its action in referring the bill to the conference committee was reconsidered. Now what are we going to do? The bill is absolutely in the waste basket so far as this House is concerned, and I ask the Chair for information as to what position this bill now occupies in this House.

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, I would supplement the remarks of the gentleman from Allegheny by this statement. After the House refused to accept the conference committee report, a motion was made to reconsider action. That motion was voted down, and there can be no further action taken on this bill now.

Mr. C. M. C. CAMPBELL. Mr. Speaker, the Senate has asked for no further action. The report of the conference committee was refused by the House, and the Senate notified of that fact. A motion was made to reconsider the bill and accept the amendments as put in by the House.

QUESTION OF INFORMATION.

Mr. HUMES. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of information. Can one branch of the legislature discharge a joint committee? The conference committee is a joint committee of the two houses. As I understand it, one branch cannot discharge a joint committee, therefore the bill is still in the hands of the Committee on Conference.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would only state that these questions are interesting, but purely academic. The House refused to adopt the report of the Committee on Conference. As the gentleman from Tioga has indicated the House refused to consider this action. The Senate was so notified. The Senate has now taken action which appears at least unusual but the position of the House is simply this: that the Senate has sent us word as to what it has done. We have received the communication, but we have nothing to do. The Senate will have to thresh that out with the Governor and the courts.

Mr. HUMES. Mr. Speaker, on a question of information, I would like to inquire as to whether or not the Speaker would consider it within his province to sign the bill, showing the passage of this bill, based upon the action of the Senate in reconsidering its action as messaged at this time.

The SPEAKER. If the bill should come to the House with the certificate of the House Committee on Compare Bills, that this was the form in which this bill passed the House, and certified to by the proper officers of the Senate that this was the form in which it passed the Senate, the Chair probably would be in duty bound to sign the bill.

Mr. HUMES. Is it possible that that condition might arise, and that the bill become a statute of this State.

The SPEAKER. It is possible.

MOTION TO RECONSIDER VOTE.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, in anticipation of such a condition arising, I move you that the vote by which the House passed this bill finally be reconsidered.

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. RONEY. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. RONEY. Mr. Speaker, my point of order is that the bill is not before the House.

The SPEAKER. The point of order is well taken. The bill is not before the House. The House simply has the message from the Senate as to what the Senate has done on the bill. The bill, however, is in the Senate.

BILLS SIGNED BY THE SPEAKER.

The SPEAKER announced that the Chief Clerk having reported that the following bills had passed both houses of the General Assembly and the same being correct, the title was publicly read as follows:

House Bill No. 416.

An Act to prevent occupational diseases and to provide for the health of employees exposed to the danger of lead poisoning and other occupational diseases by regulating certain manufacturing establishments providing for medical examinations and reports and requiring sanitary precautions and appliances and making violation of its provisions a misdemeanor and providing penalties for violation thereof

Whereupon,

The SPEAKER in the presence of the House signed the same.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Allen.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, during this interim, I want to say just a word while there is nothing special taking up the attention of the House. A few evenings ago, while one of the real bits of legislation one of the greatest pieces of legislation that came before it at this session, was being considered, my integrity was somewhat attacked upon the floor of this House. My honesty of purpose was brought into question in relation to my position on certain matters. My position in relation to the Chair was brought into question. At that time, I paid no heed to the matter for the reason that I have consistently from the time this House was organized acted in the same way that I have heretofore, and that was to support as far as possible, the Chair, at least in the decorum required of members, and did not break in on the House in its deliberations for the purpose of expressing myself in reply to any such attacks as were then made upon me. In the first place, Mr. Speaker, my position in this House has been perfectly consistent with the platform which I announced to the people of my district long before there was a Republican Convention—away back in the early part of the year 1912, when without any fear or hope, really, of favor I simply announced these principles upon which I stood and there are many of these self-same cards which are still scattered throughout my district. So that the members of this House may know what I then said to the people of my district in relation to where I stood upon legislative matters, I will state that I then announced, as my platform for being a candidate for nomination to the Legislature as follows:

I SHALL FAVOR

The initiative, the referendum and the recall.

The nomination of all State, county, township, city and borough officers by direct vote of the people.

The election of United States Senators by the direct vote of the people.

A new and up-to-date Constitution.

A complete codification of the laws.

A corrupt practice act positively limiting the expenses of a candidate for office.

The repeal of all ancient, antiquated and "dead" laws, whether local or general.

The repeal of all mercantile tax laws.

Lower taxes and equitable tax laws.

The regulation of Public Service Corporations.

The regulation of industrial conditions.

Self-regulation and self-government for boroughs and townships.

In brief: Whatever my constituents—THE PEOPLE—may desire, rather than what any "political machine" or "political boss" may demand.

Upon that platform, I was elected a member of this House and to those principles, so far as my intelligence would allow me to see, I have consistently stood, showing how I feel disposed in my position in relation to legislation.

My actions towards the Chair, Mr. Speaker, were brought into question. I believe that no member of this House outside of the gentleman who voiced this sentiment, and I am charitable enough to say that I believe that he did it under the excitement of the moment, and perhaps on suggestion, will say but that I have been as decorous in my action toward the Chair, that I have obeyed the orders of the Chair, that I have at no time attempted to embarrass, as any other member of the floor of this House. I did feel, Mr. Speaker, just a little hurt on last evening when after the Utilities Bill had been passed this House was given over to merriment immediately, turned over for the purpose of enjoyment. I felt keenly at that time, at the moment, the failure of recognition on the part of the Chair, because in as polite a way as I knew how with the best intentions in the world I asked the recognition of the Chair, so that I might simply say briefly what I thought of the Public Utilities Bill, although I was going to support that measure. The reason being that I had said I believed in the regulation of public service corporations. I rose in my place and addressed the Chair and the roll call was started. I don't feel, Mr. Speaker, that there was anything between the Chair and myself and I would not speak of the matter at this time, were it not for the fact that several, I may say a great number of the members of the House, noticed the action at that time and felt, perhaps, the sting more keenly than I. I believe in my own heart that it was unintentional on the part of the Chair and that nothing of that kind was meant, but I do claim in your presence, and if I am not correct in these matters I desire the Chair to give to me now the censure that I deserve. I claim to have supported the Chair and to have paid as much respect to the Chair as any other man upon the floor of this House, notwithstanding the fact, Mr. Speaker, that I had sought to occupy the place that you now hold and the members in this House, in their wisdom, selected you instead of me. I do feel that under the conditions which have existed all during this session that the members made no mistake in your choice. My place was an humble place on the floor of this House where at times I might break forth and voice my individual sentiments. For this privilege I thank you.

The SPEAKER. The Chair is extremely glad that the gentleman from Allegheny has referred to the incident of last night, wherein the gentleman stated that he desired to address the House on the utilities bill and was not recognized. The Chair is glad of this because of the statement of the gentleman from Allegheny that it seems to have been assumed by some members that there was any significance whatever in the incident. The Chair desires to assure the gentleman from Allegheny and the members of the House that the incident was absolutely without significance. When the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Scott, had completed his remarks, the Chair saw no one on their feet and anyone who would be up here for a while would realize that in the conglomeration, especially by the gas light, the Chair often fails to notice that a man is standing. If the gentleman from Allegheny was standing, the Chair did not notice it. The Chair directed the Clerk immediately to call the roll. The Chair's impression is that the gentleman from Allegheny could not have addressed the Chair before that direction was given. After the Chair had directed the Clerk to call the roll, and I think after the first name had been called,—I am not certain—I heard the gentleman from Allegheny say "Mr. Speaker" in not a very pre-emptory manner. The Chair has no hesitation in saying that he was not encouraging the continuation of debate after the House had shown some indications of restlessness. The Chair heard the gentleman from Allegheny say "Mr. Speaker" in a sort of tentative way. I assumed that if the gentleman had much desired to speak he would repeat the expression, and simply let the matter pass and the roll go on. The incident is absolutely without significance as indicating any lack of respect for the gentleman from Allegheny. It would have been just the same had it been any other member. It was but a slight effort on the part of the Chair to discourage the continuation of debate after the Chair believed the House thought it had proceeded far enough under the circumstances. I believe the gentleman from Allegheny believes that there was not the slightest intention on the part of the Chair to be discourteous to him. I think if the gentleman from Allegheny and the members of the House look back over the nearly six months we have here and remember the courtesy that the Chair has shown, not only to the gentleman from Allegheny but to all the members, they will believe that there was absolutely not the slightest intention on the part of the Chair to be discourteous to the gentleman from Allegheny. And now that the matter has been brought up, the Chair is very glad of the opportunity to say that from the beginning of this session up to this time there has been no member on the floor of this House who has shown the Chair more uniform courtesy and whose expressions and method of procedure, method of addressing the Chair, method of interrogation and general parliamentary procedure on the floor of the House in the relations which a member sustains to the Chair, has been more helpful to the Chair than that of the gentleman from Allegheny. I have called the attention of new members to the gentleman from Allegheny as one who always proceeded in the right way in his manner of addressing the Chair, in his manner of making interrogations and his manner of answering interrogations from a parliamentary standpoint as being the best model which any young member could follow in this House. I am sure the gentleman from Allegheny will say that he does know that there was not the slightest bit of unfriendliness in the mind of the Speaker. There is no reason why there should be. From the time the gentleman from Allegheny and I came here in 1911 to serve here on the floor of this House, there has never been between us anything but the kindest and most friendly personal relations. There is no man in the House towards whom the Chair feels more kindly and for whose future success and happiness the Chair feels more desirous than that of the gentleman from Allegheny. And while this matter is up I have no hesitation in saying also, that from the beginning of the session to the present time, in his conduct towards me as Speaker, in the conduct of the business of this House, there is no man by whom the Chair has been treated with more courtesy and more consideration while occupying this Chair than from the other distinguished gentleman who was mentioned for Speaker, the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. J. R. K. Scott. If any of the members of the House think that there is unfriendly feeling between myself and either of these gentlemen, I want to say that so far as I am concerned it is absolutely an erroneous impression.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, I quite concur in what the Speaker has said so far as the relations existing between the Chair and this humble member is concerned. For the compliments which have been extended by the Chair, I sincerely thank the Chair and of course cannot concur in those. But I did feel and do feel that the matter has not been before the members of this House in its exact light. The attention of the House might be called, Mr. Speaker, to one time before the Speakership was decided, when I called at your office in the Park Building and we discussed the matter of how we were progressing and I gave you the assurance that I was a sure winner and you assured me that we would keep it in Allegheny County anyhow. From that time until now, so far as the social relations are concerned, so far as all fraternalism and friendship means, there has been no straining of points between the Chair and this member. I give the House every assurance that Speaker Alter has no stronger admirer, no firmer friend than your fellow member, the gentleman from Allegheny.

Mr. J. R. K. SCOTT. It is needless, Mr. Speaker, for me to say that the presiding officer has shown to me, a humble member on the floor, all the respect due to me as a member on the floor, and I tried in my humble way to show that same respect to the one holding that high office of Speaker; and that for you, the successful candidate, and I, the defeated candidate, our personal relations have always been very pleasant.

Mr. S. B. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, it seems to be considered necessary that every candidate for Speaker who was not able to attain the office should express his feelings and warm appreciation toward the present occupant of the Chair. I wish to say, Mr. Speaker, that in every possible way in which a Speaker can assist the operation of a House and can exercise propriety over the House, that I believe the present Speaker has outshone every Speaker in my experience. There has been a great effort to subvert the will of the House; there has been less effort to coerce the House, and there has been an unfailing fund of common sense with which to grease the wheels and prevent friction. It gives me the greatest pleasure as an immediate candidate to make these candid remarks.

REPORT OF CONFERENCE COMMITTEE.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON HOUSE BILL NO. 118.

To the Honorable the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Gentlemen:—The Committee of Conference to which was referred the differences existing between the two houses on House bill No. 118, entitled "An Act regulating certain political parties; providing for and regulating the nomination of candidates of such political parties for certain public offices, the election of delegates and alternate delegates to national party conventions and of certain party officers including State Committeemen; a method whereby electors of such political parties may express their choice of candidates for the office of President of the United States, and the payment by the several counties and their reimbursement by the State of the expenses of the same; authorizing the state committee of a political party to make and to alter, amend and revoke rules, and providing penalties for the violation of the provisions of this act, and for the punishment of certain offenses provided for herein, and repealing inconsistent legislation," respectfully beg leave to submit the following amended bill as our report.

Under each group of names of candidates shall be printed as many blank spaces defined by light lines or rules three-eighths of an inch apart as there are to be candidates nominated for such office.

On the back of such ballot shall be printed in prominent type the words "Official primary ballot of Party" and there shall also appear on the back of such ballot the facsimile signatures of the County Commissioners of the county.

The ballot shall vary in form only as the names of districts offices candidates or the provisions of this act may require.

The names of candidates shall appear in alphabetical order under the respective offices.

Opposite or under the name of each candidate except candidate for the office of President of United States who is to be voted for by the electors of more than one county shall be printed the name of the county in which such candidate resides and opposite or under the name of each candidate who is to be voted for by the electors of an entire county or any Congressional Senatorial or Representative district within the county shall be printed the name of the township borough or ward and city as the case may be in which such candidate resides.

The voter may designate his choice as is indicated by the instructions shown on the form of ballot above set forth. If he shall vote for more persons for any office than there are candidates to be nominated or elected for such office or if for any reason it may be impossible to determine his choice for any office his ballot shall not be counted for such office but the rest of his ballot if properly marked shall be counted. No ballot shall be rejected for any technical error which does not render it impossible to determine the voter's choice.

Section 6 The names of candidates for nomination as President of the United States and the names of all other party candidates shall be printed upon the official ballot of a designated party upon the filing of nomination petitions in their behalf signed by qualified electors of the State or of the political district or division as the case may be within which the nomination is to be made or election is to be held and the filing of affidavits by the candidates as provided in this act and the names of no candidates shall be printed upon an official ballot of a political party to be used at any primary unless such petitions shall have been filed and unless such candidates except they be candidates for the office of President of the United States shall have filed affidavits as hereinafter provided.

(a) Each signer of a nomination petition shall sign but one such petition for each office to be filled and shall declare therein that he is a member of the party designated in such petition. Provided however That where there are to be elected two or more persons to the same office each signer may sign petitions for as many candidates for such office as and no more than he could vote for at the succeeding election. He shall also declare therein that he is a qualified elector of the county therein named and in case the nomination is not to be made or candidates are not to be elected by the electors of the State at large of the political district or division therein named in which the nomination is to be made or the election is to be held. He shall add his occupation and residence giving city borough or township with street and number if any and shall also add the date of signing. No nomination petition shall be circulated prior to sixty (60) days before the last day on which such petition may be filed and no signature shall be counted unless it bears date within sixty (60) days of the last day for filing the same.

Said nomination petition may be on one or more sheets and different sheets must be used for signers resident in different counties. Each sheet shall have appended thereto the affidavit of some person not necessarily a signer and not necessarily the same person on each sheet setting forth that the affiant is a qualified elector of the State or of the political district or division as the case may be referred to in said petition his residence giving city borough or township with street and number if any that the signers signed with full knowledge of the contents of the petition that their respective residences are correctly stated therein that they all reside in the county named in the affidavit and that each signed on the date set opposite his name and that to the best of affiant's knowledge and belief the signers are qualified electors and members of the designated party of the State or of the political district or division as the case may be.

(b) Each candidate for any State county or city office shall file with his nomination petition his affidavit stating his residence with street and number if any and his postoffice address his election district the name of the office for which he consents to be a candidate that he is eligible for such office and that he will not knowingly violate any election law or any law regulating and limiting nomination and election expenses and prohibiting corrupt practices in connection therewith. Provided That in no event shall any person's name be printed upon the official ballot of any party as a delegate State committeeman National committeeman or party officer unless he is a qualified elector of said party.

In the case of a candidate for nomination as President of the United States it shall not be necessary for such candidate to file the affidavit required in this section to be filed by candidates but the postoffice address of such candidate shall be stated in such nomination petition.

(c) Each candidate for election as delegate or alternate delegate to a national party convention may include with his affidavit the statement hereinafter set forth in this section but his failure to include such statement shall not be a valid ground on the part of the Secretary of the Commonwealth for refusal to receive and file his nomination petition. Such statement if any be made shall be in substantially the following form:

DELEGATE'S STATEMENT

I hereby declare to the voters of my political party in the (here insert "State of Pennsylvania" if a delegate or alternate delegate at large otherwise insert ".....District") that if elected and in attendance as a delegate to the national convention of the party I shall with all fidelity to the best of my judgment and ability in all matters coming before the convention support that candidate for President of the United States who shall have received the highest number of votes cast in the (here insert "State" if a delegate or alternate delegate at large otherwise insert ".....District") by the voters of my party for said office at the ensuing primary and shall use all honorable means within my power to aid in securing the nomination for such candidate for President.

Signature of candidate for delegate or alternate delegate

On the ballot used at the primary after or under the name of each candidate for delegate or alternate delegate to a national party convention shall appear the words "Promises to support popular choice of party in the (here insert "State" if a delegate or alternate delegate at large otherwise insert ".....District") for President" or "Does not promise to support popular choice of party in the (here insert "State" if a delegate or alternate delegate at large otherwise insert ".....District") for President" according as if the candidate included or failed to include the above statement with his affidavit.

Section 7 The nomination petitions in the case of candidates for the office of President of the United States Senator of the United States member of the House of Representatives of the United States for all State offices for the office of delegate or alternate delegate to a national party convention and for the office of member of the State or national committee shall be filed at least four weeks prior to the primary with the Secretary of the Commonwealth. Nomination petitions in all other cases shall be filed at least three weeks prior to the primary with the county commissioners of the respective counties.

Nomination petitions of candidates shall be signed

(a) If for the office of President of the United States or of Senator of the United States by at least one hundred qualified electors in each of at least ten counties of the State.

(b) If for a State office to be filled by a vote of the electors of the State at large for the office of Representative from the State at large in the Congress of the United States for the office of delegate or alternate delegate at large to a national party convention or for the office of member of the national committee by at least one hundred qualified electors in each of at least five counties of the State.

(c) If for the office of a member of the House of Representatives of the United States to be filled by a vote of the electors of a Congressional district or of delegate or alternate delegate to a national party convention other than delegate or alternate delegate at large or of judge of any court other than a court whose judges are to be elected by a vote of the electors of the State at large or of State Senator by at least two hundred qualified electors.

(d) If for the office of a member of the State House of Representatives or for the office of member of the State committee or an office to be voted for by the electors of the entire county by at least one hundred qualified electors.

(e) If for the office of inspector of election at least five qualified electors.

(f) And for all other offices and all other party offices by at least ten qualified electors.

Section 8 No nomination petition shall be refused or set aside except for

(a) Material error or defects apparent on the face thereof or on the face of the appended or accompanying affidavit or

(b) Material alterations made after signing without the consent of the signers or

(c) Want of a sufficient number of genuine signatures of persons qualified with respect to age sex residence and citizenship to be electors.

The invalidity of any sheet of a petition shall not affect the validity of such petition if a sufficient petition remains after eliminating such invalid sheet.

Application to set aside any nomination petition shall be by petition to the Court of Common Pleas of the county in which such nomination petition has been filed setting forth specifically the matters objected to and must be filed within five days after the last day for filing said nomination petition. Upon the presentation of such a petition the court shall make an order fixing a time for hearing which shall not be later than ten days after the last day for filing said nomination petition and specifying the time and manner of notice that shall be given to the candidate named in the nomination petition sought to be set aside.

If the matters objected to are such as are specified in subdivision (a) of this section the court upon hearing the case may in its discretion permit amendments within such time and upon such terms as to payment of costs as the said court may specify.

In case the petition to set aside a nomination petition is dismissed the petitioner shall pay the whole of the costs of the proceeding including all witness fees.

Section 9 The Secretary of the Commonwealth immediately after the last day fixed for the filing of said petitions with him shall forward to the county commissioners of each county a correct list of candidates of each party for the various offices as shown in such petitions with their respective residences and postoffice addresses as shown in their affidavits and shall also at the same time notify the said candidates by mail that their names have been so certified to said county commissioners. In the case of each candidate for delegate or alternate delegate to a national party convention the Secretary of the Commonwealth shall certify as to whether such candidate has included with his affidavit the statement provided for in subdivision (c) of section six of this act.

The county commissioners shall have on file in their office on and after the Wednesday preceding the primary open to public inspection forms of the ballots with the names and such statements and notations as may be required by the provisions of this act printed thereon which shall be used in each election district within such county.

Section 10 The county commissioners shall prepare and furnish to the election officers for use at the primaries as many official ballots of each party as are equal to double the largest entire vote cast for any candidate of said party within the election district at any of the last three preceding general elections. Provided that the county commissioners upon request made in writing by any candidate of any party within four weeks prior to the primary shall furnish such additional number of ballots in any election district as said county commissioners may deem necessary.

The county commissioners shall also furnish specimen ballots for the use of electors at the polls equal in number to one-fourth the whole number of official ballots said specimen ballots to be printed on colored paper and to be of the same size and form as the official ballot.

On the back of each specimen ballot for the primary next preceding the election of a President of the United States the county commissioners shall print subdivision (c) of section six of this act.

The official ballots shall be bound in books of one hundred each in the same manner as ballots at elections and shall be delivered to the officers of election in the same manner as ballots are or hereafter may be required by law to be delivered to officers of election for use at elections.

The county commissioners shall prepare and furnish to the election officers at the primaries such ballot boxes properly numbered for each election district lists of voters forms including forms of affidavits for obtaining assistance in marking ballots and for voters challenged as to identity party membership residence and bribery blanks return sheets blank books and other supplies as they are or hereafter may be required to furnish by law to said officers for use at elections and shall deliver them in the same manner as at elections. The said supplies shall have printed upon them appropriate instructions and shall be in appropriate form for use at the primaries. They shall also provide for the opening of the polling places for the compensation of the owners thereof shall see that they are in proper order and provided with voting booths as at elections

Section 11 The primaries shall be conducted by the regular election boards duly elected under existing or future laws who shall receive the same compensation for their services as they receive at elections. Inspectors of elections shall have the right to appoint clerks to assist them as at elections who shall receive the same compensation that clerks receive for such services at elections. Vacancies in election boards shall be filled in the manner now provided by law. Before entering upon their duties the election officers and clerks shall be sworn and execute written oaths as is now required by law.

The polls shall be open between the hours of seven o'clock ante meridian and seven o'clock post meridian. All persons licensed to sell liquors either at wholesale or retail or as bottlers shall be compelled to keep their places of business closed on said days for holding said primary only between the hours of six o'clock ante meridian and eight o'clock post meridian.

Primaries shall be conducted in conformity with the laws governing the conduct of general elections in so far as the same are not modified by the provisions of this act or are not inconsistent with its terms. Provided That no elector shall be permitted to receive any assistance in marking his ballot unless he shall first make an affidavit that he cannot read the names on the ballot or that by reason of physical disability he is unable to mark his ballot.

Section 12 The County Commissioners shall keep an accurate account of the entire expense of holding such primaries including the preparation and delivery of supplies voting materials et cetera and the total amount shall be paid in the first instance by the County Treasurer upon the order of the County Commissioners. As soon as convenient thereafter the County Commissioners shall prepare an itemized statement of the amount so paid verified by oath and send the same accompanied by the receipted vouchers to the Auditor General who if he finds the same correct shall draw a warrant on the State Treasurer for the proper county for the amount so approved which shall be paid by the State Treasurer out of the money in the State Treasury appropriated for said purpose.

Section 13 The qualifications of electors entitled to vote at a primary shall be the same as the qualifications of electors entitled to vote at elections within the election district where the primary is held except that with respect to the payment of taxes it shall be sufficient if an elector shall have paid within two years before the next succeeding election a State or county tax which shall have been assessed at least two months before the said election and paid on or before the day of the primary and in cases where personal registration is required on or before the registration day on which the elector registers. Each elector shall prove his qualifications and his identity in the same manner in which electors in the election district in which he offers to vote are or hereafter may be required by law to prove their qualifications or identity on election day and may be challenged as at elections.

Each elector shall have the right to receive the ballot of the party for which he asks. Provided That if he is challenged he shall be required to make oath or affirmation that at the last preceding election at which he voted he voted for a majority of the candidates of the party for whose ballot he asks.

If such last preceding election at which such elector voted was a general election at which Presidential electors were voted for he shall in determining the number of candidates for which he voted at such last preceding election count the group of Presidential electors as two candidates.

Upon executing such affidavit the voter shall be entitled to receive the ballot for which he has called and to cast his vote according to law. If he is unable or unwilling to take such affidavit he shall be denied the right to receive such ballot but he shall not be deemed thereby to be guilty of any violation or attempted violation of this law.

Section 14 The ballot boxes lists of voters (a copy of which shall be posted outside of the polling place) and other records shall be delivered into the custody of the officers who are or hereafter may be required by law to keep similar records of elections.

Upon the closing of the polls at such primary the election officers shall forthwith proceed to open the ballot boxes and take therefrom the ballots and first count the number cast for each party and make a record thereof and then count the vote cast for the different persons named upon said party ballots and make a record thereof and when said count is finally completed they shall certify in due and proper form to the number of votes cast for each person upon the respective party tickets. They shall then replace the ballots so counted and canvassed in the boxes and lock the same. They shall then place all stubs and unused ballots in an envelope or package to be furnished by the County Commissioners and forthwith seal the same and they shall also place the returns of votes and the register of voters aforesaid for each party together with affidavits made pursuant to the provisions of this act in separate envelopes and forthwith seal the same. All of said envelopes shall then be kept by the judge of election and shall on or before noon of the Thursday following be deposited by him in person or by registered mail with the County Commissioners who shall on the succeeding day at noon publicly commence the computation and canvassing of the returns and continue the same from day to day until completed and for that purpose to have the right to petition the Court of Common Pleas for the use of its processes to enforce the provisions of this act in relation to the returns of the election officers.

The stubs and unused ballots and all returns of votes registers of voters and affidavits returned to the County Commissioners as aforesaid shall be carefully preserved by them for a period of at least one year.

Section 15 Upon the sworn petition of five qualified electors of any election precinct division or district that any act of fraud or error which upon information which they consider reliable they believe has been committed in any election precinct division or district of the county the court of common pleas of said county shall order the county commissioners to open the ballot box of such election precinct division or district and recount the votes such recount to be conducted in such manner and under such condition as the court shall prescribe. Any person aggrieved by any decision of the county commissioners may appeal therefrom within ten days from the decision of the county commissioners to the court of common pleas of the proper county whose duty it shall be to hear the said appeal. The court on said appeal shall have full power and authority to hear and determine all matters pertaining to any fraud or error committed in said election precinct division or district and to make such decree as right and justice may require. Contests of primaries shall be originated and conducted as in cases of elections.

Section 16 The County Commissioners shall make the proper certification of returns of votes cast for the candidates of the candidates of the various political parties for nomination for the office of President of the United States, Senator of the United States, member of the House of Representatives of the United States for all State offices for the office of delegate and alternate delegate to a national party convention and members of the national committee and members of the State committee to the Secretary of the Commonwealth who shall tabulate the same and shall certify to the county commissioners of the respective counties the result of the computation of the vote for all such offices as shall be voted for at the succeeding election at least thirty days prior to the date of such election and shall also certify within said time to said county commissioners the names of the Presidential electors chosen and certified to him as hereinafter provided.

The Secretary of the Commonwealth shall forthwith prepare a statement from said returns showing the total number of votes cast in the State and in each Congressional district of the State for each candidate of each political party for nomination as President of the United States and shall make public announcement thereof. He shall also forthwith send a duplicate of such statement to the County Commissioners of each county.

The Secretary of the Commonwealth shall also forthwith ascertain from said returns the persons in each political party who have been duly elected as delegates and alternate delegates to the national convention of such party and the persons in each party who have been duly elected members of the national committee or State Committee of the party and shall forthwith issue to each of such persons a certificate of election which certificate of election in the case of delegate and alternate delegate to a national party convention shall show the number of votes received in the State or in the political district of the State as the case may be by each candidate of such delegate's and alternate delegate's political party for nomination as President of the United States. The Secretary of the Commonwealth shall also certify to the State chairman of each respective party the votes cast for each candidate for the office of State committeeman.

Section 17 Candidates of the various political parties for nomination as herein provided for except for the office of the President of the United States who receive a plurality of votes of their party electors in the State or in the political district or division as the case may be at a primary together with the candidates for the office of Presidential elector nominated as hereinafter provided shall be the candidates of their respective parties and it shall be the duty of the proper officers to print their names upon the official ballots for use at the succeeding election as is now or may hereafter be required by law.

The name of the person in each political party who receives at a primary a plurality of the votes of such party in the State at large for United States Senator shall be printed upon the official ballot for use at the succeeding election as the candidate of his party for said office under the heading "United States Senator".

Candidates of the various political parties for the office of delegate and alternate delegate at large to a national party convention who receive a plurality of the votes of their party electors in the State at large shall be the duly elected delegates and alternate delegates at large to the national convention of their respective parties. Candidates of the various political parties for the office of delegate and alternate delegate other than delegate and alternate delegate at large who receive a plurality of the votes of their party electors in the political district or division in which they are candidates shall be the duly elected delegates and alternate delegates to the national convention of their respective parties.

Candidates of the various political parties for the office of member of the State committee or for the office of member of the national committee in cases where the rules of the party provide that such office shall be filled by a vote of the party electors who receive a plurality of the votes of the party electors at a primary shall be the duly elected members of the State or national committee of their respective parties.

Candidates for other party offices who receive a plurality of the votes of the party electors at a primary shall be the party officers of their respective parties.

In case of a tie the candidates receiving the tie vote shall cast lots before the county commissioners or the Secretary of the Commonwealth as the case may be on the third Friday after the primary and the one to whom the lot shall fall shall be entitled to the nomination or election. Provided however That in any case where the fact of a tie vote is not authoritatively determined until after the third Wednesday after the primary the day for casting lots shall be the second day after the fact of such tie vote is authoritatively determined. If any candidate or candidates receiving a tie vote fail to appear before twelve o'clock noon on said day the County Commissioners or the Secretary of the Commonwealth as the case may be shall cast lots for him or them. For the purpose of casting lots any candidate may appear in person or by proxy appointed in writing.

Where a nomination petition has been duly filed under the provisions of this act and thereafter and before the day of the primary the candidate named in said petition dies the original signers of said petition or the majority of them may sign another petition proposing a new candidate for said office at any time prior to the printing of the ballot. Said petition filed shall have the same force and effect as the original petition.

Vacancies happening or existing after the date of the primary may be filled in accordance with the party rules as is now or may hereafter be provided for by law.

Section 18 The nominee of each political party for the office of President of the United States shall within thirty days after his nomination by the National Convention nominate as many persons to be the candidates of his party for the office of Presidential elector as the State is then entitled to. If for any reason the nominee of any political party for the office of President of the United States fails or is unable to make the said nominations within the time herein provided then the nominee of such party for the office of Vice-President of the United States shall as soon as may be possible after the expiration of said thirty days make the nominations.

The names of such nominees with their post office addresses shall be certified immediately to the Secretary of the Commonwealth by the nominee for the office of President of Vice-President as the case may be making the nomination.

Vacancies happening or existing after the date of nomination of Presidential electors shall be filled by the nominee for the office of President or Vice-President making the original nomination. Nominations made to fill vacancies shall be certified to the Secretary of the Commonwealth in the manner herein provided for in case of original nominations.

Section 19 Any of the candidates for nomination including candidates for President of the United States to be voted for at a primary under this act may at any time before four o'clock of the Friday next succeeding the last day affixed for filing nomination petitions withdraw his name as a candidate by a request in writing signed by him and acknowledged before a notary public or justice of the peace and filed with the Secretary of the Commonwealth if such candidate filed his nomination petition with the Secretary of the Commonwealth and in all other cases with the County Commissioners.

The Secretary of the Commonwealth upon the filing of requests for withdrawal in the manner herein provided shall forthwith certify to the County Commissioners of the proper county a correct list of candidates filing such requests.

Section 20 Upon the petition of five or more citizens who are lawful voters of any election district setting forth that the appointment of overseers is a reasonable precaution to secure the purity and fairness of the primary in said district it shall be the duty of the court of common pleas of the proper county in its discretion to appoint two overseers of election in said district who shall be entitled to remain within the polling place during the casting and counting of the ballots.

Section 21 Each candidate shall be entitled to appoint two watchers at the primary in each election district division or precinct in which such candidate is to be voted for who shall be qualified electors of the district division or precinct. Each watcher shall be provided with a certificate from the county commissioners stating his name the district in which he is authorized to act and the name of the candidate appointing him and shall have the right to remain in the room outside of the enclosed space. Watchers shall be required to show their certificates when requested to do so.

If any election officer officiating at any primary shall refuse to permit a watcher appointed under the provisions of this act to be present as herein provided such officer or officers shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and on conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding one thousand ($1,000.00) dollars or to undergo an imprisonment not exceeding one year or both in the discretion of the court.

Section 22 Any person or persons who by violence or intimidation shall threaten or drive away said watchers or overseers shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and on conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding one thousand ($1,000.00) dollars or to undergo imprisonment for a period not exceeding one year or both in the discretion of the court.

Any person who shall accompany a voter into a voting compartment without the said voter having first made affidavit as provided in this act that he cannot read the names on the ballot or that by reason of physical disability he is unable to mark his ballot or who shall accompany a voter into the voting compartment when the affidavit which the voter has made is false to the knowledge of such person or any judge of election who shall fail to properly file and return affidavits and other papers required by this act or by law to be filed and returned to the County Commissioners shall for each such offence be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding one thousand ($1,000.00) dollars or to undergo imprisonment for a period not exceeding two years or either or both at the discretion of the court.

Any election officer who permits a person to vote at any primary with the knowledge that such person is not so entitled to vote or refuses to permit any lawfully entitled elector to vote at such primary with the knowledge that such person is entitled to vote shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding five hundred ($500.00) dollars or to undergo imprisonment for a period not exceeding three years or either or both at the discretion of the court.

Any election officer or clerk who shall be guilty of any willful fraud in the conduct of his duties at a primary or who shall make a false return of the votes cast at such primary or who shall deposit fraudulent ballots in the ballot box or who shall certify as correct a return of ballots in the ballot box which he knows to have been fraudulently deposited therein or who shall write false names in the lists of voters for the purpose of concealing the deposit of such fraudulent ballots or of aiding in the perpetration of such fraud or who shall conspire with others to commit any of the offenses herein mentioned shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding five hundred ($500.00) dollars or to undergo imprisonment for a period not exceeding three years or either or both at the discretion of the court.

Any election officer who refuses to permit a person to receive the party ballot for which he asks after having executed the affidavit herein provided for shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding one thousand ($1,000.00) dollars or to undergo an imprisonment not exceeding two years or either or both in the discretion of the Court.

Any person who shall directly or indirectly give or promise or offer to give any gift or reward in money goods or other valuable thing to any person with intent to induce him to vote or refrain from voting for any particular candidate or candidates at any primary or shall directly or indirectly procure for or offer or promise to procure for such person any such gift or reward with the intent aforesaid or shall with the intent to influence or intimidate such person to give his vote or to refrain from giving his vote for any particular candidate or candidates at any primary give to or obtain for or assist in obtaining for or offer or promise to give to or obtain for or assist in obtaining for such person any office place appointment or employment public or private or threaten such person with dismissal or discharge from any office place appointment or employment public or private then held by him the person so offending shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and on conviction be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding five hundred ($500.00) dollars or to undergo imprisonment for a period not exceeding three years or either or both at the discretion of the court.

Except as modified by the terms of this act election officers and clerks shall be subject to the same pains and penalties for violations or neglect of their duties at a primary as they are or hereafter may be subject to for violation or neglect of such duties at elections. In all other respects officers and clerks officiating at primaries shall be subject to the pains and penalties provided by law for offenses committed at primaries. The existing laws relating to bribery at primaries except as modified by the terms of this act shall continue in force and shall apply to bribery at primaries as provided by this act.

Section 24. The invalidity of any portion of this act shall in no wise affect the validity of any other portion thereof which can be given effect without such invalid portion.

Section 25. That the following acts of Assembly namely An Act of Assembly entitled "An Act providing a uniform method of electing certain party officers and delegates to the State and National Conventions and of making nominations for certain public offices providing for the payment of the expenses of the same making certain violations thereof misdemeanors and prescribing penalties for the violation of its provisions" approved the seventeenth day of February Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and six and

An Act of Assembly approved the twenty-second day of May Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and seven entitled "An Act to amend Section twelve of an act entitled 'An Act providing a uniform method of electing certain party officers and delegates to the State and National conventions and of making nomination for certain public offices providing for the payment of the expenses of the same making certain violations thereof misdemeanors and prescribing penalties for the violation of its provisions' approved the seventeenth day of February Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and six" and

An Act of Assembly approved the sixth day of April Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and eleven entitled "An Act to amend Sections two three ten and eleven of an act entitled 'An Act providing a uniform method of electing certain party officers and delegates to the State and National conventions and of making nominations for certain public offices providing for the payment of the expenses of the same making certain violations thereof misdemeanors and prescribing penalties for the violations of its provisions' approved the seventeenth day of February Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and six by providing for only one primary election each year in place of two fixing the time for holding the same providing what political party shall be entitled to participate therein and what voter shall be entitled to participate in such primary fixing the time for the election of party officers and changing time for the certifying by the Secretary of the Commonwealth of the computation of the vote for State offices"

And all other acts or parts of acts inconsistent with this act be and the same are hereby repealed provided however that the repeal of said acts shall not in any way interfere with or affect any proceeding pending at the date of the approval of this act and provided further that nothing herein contained shall repeal any act or part of act providing a non-partisan method of nominating or electing candidates for any public office it being intended that any provisions of this act for the nomination of candidates for any such office shall be suspended while such other act or part of act remains in force.

This act shall not affect any nominations of candidates for borough and township officers which have been made prior to the time of the passage of this act.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the report of the Conference Committee.

Mr. JOHN ROBERT JONES. Mr. Speaker, when your Conference Committee made a statement to the House a few days ago there were points of difference between the Senate Conferees and the Conferees on the part of the House which were set forth in that statement. They related to the question of fusion, which was denied by the Senate amendments. They related to the question of the formation of parties subsequent to the primaries, and the subject of nomination papers. Upon a meeting held subsequent to the issuing of that statement, the conferees on the part of the Senate receded from their position and such amendments to the extent set forth in the statement, to which the House made objections, have been removed. As to the question of voters' assistance your conferees felt that in permitting the law upon the voters' assistance to remain as it is in the Act of 1906, that they, in accepting that, were not receding from the law as it exists at the present time with reference to primaries. These matters as I have said, have been settled satisfactorily to the members of your Conference Committee. The bill in its original form had been passed by the House some months ago and I shall not enter into a lengthy discussion of the principles involved in this bill. Suffice it to say that this bill, in the judgment of your conferences, is a bill that is fair and will give a fair and just trial to the whole principle of primary elections. Your committee therefore requests, by joining in the joint Conference Report, your support of this measure.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, the House ought to give a unanimous vote for this bill. It has been one of the greatest accomplishments of a legislature for a century. When we met at the beginning of this session there existed a hostile force against us. This House of Representatives, by its persistent urgency of this legislation, has not only dominated this House, all the House, not only dominated the Senate, but has taken a great political party and taught that party that this reform legislation is legislation that is beneficial, not only for the people but essentially to political parties, and, Mr. Speaker, acting as you do now, as Speaker of this House, the bill that was put through that bears your name, the enrollment bill, as a companion bill of this bill also speaks a strong step in advantage towards reform and the members of the House, the community generally ought to know that this legislation, which we are now about to vote on, and which I hope will receive the unanimous vote of this House, was brought about not only by the excellent, persistent work, the loyal work of our conferees from this House; but there was in the Senate, the silent voice of a silent little man holding his position as Senator who, when the last blow was necessary, threw his personality into this legislation,—a man who does not intrude, who does not throw himself strongly before the public, but who threw the force of his character into this legislation and insisted upon the people's will prevailing and giving a State-wide primary to the people, and the conferees of this House should be congratulated by all the people of this Commonwealth.

They received the great force and great extent of the strong silent force of Senator Vare in bringing this about. I ask the support of this House without question of party unanimously in favor of this bill that will make the legislature of 1913 famous for years to come.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the adoption of the conference report?

VOTE OF THANKS TO CONFERREES.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I move that the House give a vote of thanks to the conferees of the House Messrs. John Robert Jones, T. Henry Walnut and E. Lowry Humes for the faithful representation of the House on this Committee.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

By a rising vote the motion was unanimously agreed to. Mr. JOHN ROBERT JONES. Mr. Speaker, in behalf of the House conferees I wish to express to the members of the House our gratitude for this expression of confidence. If there is anything in this bill that is not what we think it should be so far as we have worked upon it, it has not been due to any lack of effort on our part to have made this bill a fair, just and equitable measure, and our only hope is that it will be in operation what we think it to be. I again thank you.

SENATE MESSAGE.

SENATE ADOPTS REPORT OF THE CONFERENCE COMMITTEE ON SENATE BILL NO. 876.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced informed that the Senate has adopted the report of the Committee on Conference on the subject of the differences existing between the two Houses on Senate Bill No. 876.

CONFERENCE REPORT.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the report.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON SENATE BILL NO. 876.

To the Honorable the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Gentlemen:—The Committee of Conference to which was referred the differences existing between the two houses on Senate Bill No. 876, entitled "An Act to provide for the nomination and election of candidates for the office of United States Senator, and the filling of vacancies in said office," respectively beg leave to submit the following amended bill as our report.

J. K. P. HALL,
WILLIAM E. CROW,
J. P. McNICHOL,

Committee on the part of the Senate.

JOHN ROBERT JONES,
T. HENRY WALNUT,
E. LOWRY HUMES,

Committee on the part of the House of Representatives.

An Act to provide for the nomination and election of candidates for the office of United States Senator and the filling of vacancies in said office.

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That candidates for the office of United States Senator shall be nominated and elected in the year next preceding the expiration of the term of office of the United States Senator whose successor is to be nominated and elected Said nominations shall be made in the manner provided by law It shall be the duty of the proper officers to print the names of duly nominated candidates for the office of United States Senator upon the official ballots for use at the succeeding election under the heading of "United States Senator" as is now or may hereafter be required by law

Section 2 The vote for candidates for the office of United States Senator shall be counted certified computed and returned as is now or may hereafter be provided by law with respect to other offices filled by a vote of the electors of the State at large Provided however That the returns of the election of United States Senator shall be made to the Secretary of the Commonwealth who shall immediately tabulate and compute the same and upon the conclusion of

In case such employer shall fail to furnish to said officer within ten days after making such written demand the required evidence of age and shall thereafter continue to employ such female or permit her to work in or in connection with such establishment before or after the hours aforesaid proof of the making of such demand and of failure to produce the evidence required shall be prima facie evidence of the illegal employment of such female in any prosecution brought therefor.

Enforcement Hindering or delaying Commissioner of Labor and Industry or His Deputies

Section 15 No person shall hinder or delay the Commissioner of Labor and Industry or any of his deputies in the performance of his duties in the enforcement of this act or refuse to admit or lock out any inspector from any place while females are employed therein and which said inspector shall be authorized to inspect or refuse to give any inspector information required for the proper enforcement of this act.

Enforcement by the Commissioner of Labor and Industry and His Deputies

Section 16 It shall be the duty of the Commissioner of Labor and Industry and his deputies to enforce all the provisions of this act. They shall visit and inspect establishments and shall have power at any reasonable time to visit and inspect any establishment in or in connection with which any female shall be employed or permitted to work. They shall investigate all complaints of violations of this act received by them and shall institute prosecutions for violations of the provisions thereof.

Prosecutions Procedure Appeals

Section 17 All prosecutions for violation of this act shall be instituted by the Commissioner of Labor and Industry or his deputy before a magistrate alderman or justice of the peace who shall issue a summons commanding the person charged with a violation of the act to appear within not less than five nor more than eight days. Upon a conviction after hearing the penalties provided in this act shall be imposed and shall be final unless an appeal be taken to the court of proper jurisdiction within twenty days after the imposition of the penalties aforesaid in the manner already provided by law in appeals from penalties.

Penalties First and Second Offenses Continued Violations Cumulative Penalties Exemption of Person from Punishment Under Certain Circumstances

Section 18 Any person who whether by himself or for another or through an agent servant or foreman shall violate any provision of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. Upon conviction for a violation of any provision of sections three four five six or seven of this act he shall be punished for a first offense by a fine of not less than ten ($10) dollars or more than fifty ($50) dollars for a second or subsequent offense by a fine of not less than twenty-five ($25) dollars or more than two hundred ($200) dollars or by imprisonment for not more than sixty days or by both at the discretion of the court and whenever any person shall have been notified by the Commissioner of Labor and Industry or his deputy or by the service of a summons in a prosecution that he is violating such provision he shall be punished by like penalties in addition for each and every day that such violation shall have continued after such notification.

Upon conviction for a violation of any of the provisions of sections eight nine ten eleven twelve thirteen fourteen or fifteen of this act the punishment shall be without regard to the number of females employed for a first offense not less than twenty-five ($25) dollars or more than fifty ($50) dollars for a second or subsequent offense a fine of not less than fifty ($50) dollars or more than two hundred ($200) dollars or imprisonment for not more than sixty days or both at the discretion of the court and whenever any person shall have been notified by the Commissioner of Labor and Industry or his deputy that he is violating such provision and shall have been given a reasonable time in which to remedy the condition which shall constitute such violation he shall be punished in addition to the penalties aforesaid by like penalties for each and every day that such violation shall have continued after the expiration of the time allowed by the Commissioner of Labor and Industry or his deputy for remedying the aforesaid condition. Provided.

First That any person who shall demand evidence such as shall be required by law for the issuing of employment certificates to minors that any applicant for employment or permission to work in or in connection with his establishment is twenty-one years of age and shall receive the same before employing or permitting such applicant to work and who shall have kept the same on file and in the case of such applicant shall have complied with all the requirements of this act applying to a female of the age stated in such evidence of age shall not be liable to punishment for the violation of section five of this act though it shall subsequently appear that such applicant was in fact less than twenty-one years of age. Provided That this provision shall not apply to any person who shall demand and receive the evidence herein provided for if he knows at the time of receiving such evidence that the applicant is in fact less than twenty-one years of age nor shall this provision prevent the punishment of any person for violating section five of this act after knowledge of the true age of the female employed.

Second That whenever a violation of any provision of this act shall also be a violation of another provision or other provisions of this act penalties may be imposed for the violation of each and every such provision.

Third That under no circumstances shall any person be sentenced to imprisonment for more than one year for any one violation of this act.

Fourth That whenever a violation of any of the provisions of this act shall also be a violation of the laws of this Commonwealth regulating the hours of labor and conditions of employment of minors penalties shall be imposed under only one of such acts.

Disposition of Fines

Section 19 All fines imposed and collected for any violation of this act shall be forwarded to the Commissioner of Labor and Industry who shall pay the same into the office of the State Treasurer for the use of the Commonwealth.

Construction of the Act Not to Affect Industrial Training or Other Education Unconstitutionality of a Part of the Act

Section 20 Nothing in this act shall be construed to prevent females of any age from receiving industrial training or other education in or in connection with any school or educational institution in this Commonwealth

Each section of this act and every part thereof is hereby declared to be an independent section or part of a section and if any section sub-section sentence clause or phrase of this act shall for any reason be held unconstitutional the validity of the remaining phrases clauses sentences sub-sections and sections of this act shall not be affected thereby

On the question,

Will the House adopt the Conference Report?

Mr. WALNUT. Mr. Speaker, in making this report, I desire to make a statement as to the position taken by the Conference Committee appointed by the Speaker of this House. The bill which originally passed the House provided for fifty hours a week and a nine hour day for women engaged in industry. The bill as it came from the Senate was amended so as to provide for a ten hour day and a fifty-four hour week for women in industry. Your committee was opposed to the amendment thus made by the Senate in the interest of securing legislation on this subject and would not recede from its position but the Senate insisted upon this particular amendment and therefore, it was agreed to by the Committee of Conference but they would not accept further amendment of the Senate and the House Committee was opposed to certain further provisions which made the hours of labor elastic. Those provisions provided for extra work during the weeks when a legal or special holiday should occur. The meaning of the word "special holiday" was altogether too broad to suit your committee. The word "special" was interpreted by the committee of the Senate to mean not only a full holiday but any portion of a day that an employee should see fit to take off or the employer should see fit to close down. The insistence of your committee resulted in the striking out of the word "special" and a limitation to two hours over time put in, three days of the week during which this special holiday should occur. Another provision of the bill to which your committee objected was the provision for over time in the case of the stopping of machinery. This was interpreted by the Senate Committee to mean that the machinery could be stopped for an hour and made that stoppage unfair to securing the extension of the hours of labor. There was no limitation whatever to the words "over-time" of work whenever machinery had been stopped for a period of thirty minutes or more. This provision was modified so that the stoppage of machinery for repairs, alteration or improvements alone constitutes a valid excuse for over-time work. The limit of over-time work is fixed at two hours a day for any three days in the week during the time of the stoppage of the work. The committee recommends the adoption of the Conference Committee's report.

Mr. PIPER. Mr. Speaker, I move the adoption of the Conference Committee's report on this bill.

On the question recurring,
Will the House adopt the report of the Conference Committee?

STATEMENT OF CONFERENCE COMMITTEE ON CHILD LABOR BILL.

Mr. WALNUT. Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Walnut.

Mr. WALNUT. Mr. Speaker, your committee of Conference appointed on the Child Labor Bill after some difficulty has secured a meeting with the Committee of Conference on the part of the Senate and feel after several hours discussion to secure the slightest concession in the amendments inserted in the bill by the other House. We feel that the measure as it passed this body was proper and would not have put Pennsylvania insofar as legislation on this most important subject is concerned in a position wherein she would not need to feel ashamed at the protection granted to her children in industry. The vital principles of the bill are those pertained to the hours of employment and the working of children between fourteen and sixteen at night. State after state including those most prominent in their industry activity have limited the hours of employment of minors between the age of fourteen and sixteen to eight hours a day and forty-eight hours a week. The Child Labor Bill as it passed this House contained that limitation. The Senate extended this time to a ten hour day and a fifty-four hour week and further added certain elastic clauses including an exception of the canning industry which provision would in many instances have made possible the employment of children for a period of twelve hours. Your Committee feel that such action is indefensible nor particularly in view of the fact that the opposition to the limitation contained in the original bill, came most directly from the textile industry of Pennsylvania and, was based expressly upon the argument that such a law would make competition with other states impossible. The fact that Illinois, Ohio, Indiana and New York, all have similar regulations was held to be no answer because Pennsylvania's great competitor was Massachusetts. One week ago the Governor of Massachusetts signed an 8 hour law for children between 14 and 16 containing no elastic provisions whatever. Nevertheless the opposition to our House measure was not withdrawn, and your Committee report that the Senate has refused to recede in the slightest degree from its position. Another vital principle of the bill is that concern with the night work for children under the age of 16. Although every effort has been made to secure the enactment of such a regulation. Two years ago a bill was introduced which passed this House but was amended as previous bills have been amended in the Senate by the insertion of a proviso that the prohibition should not apply to industries requiring continuous day and night operation, which made of the bill little more than a mockery upon the statute books. One of the amendments inserted by the Senate in the bill now under discussion was this same exception. The indefensible nature of this position becomes more clear when it is pointed out that the industry for whose benefit the insertion has always been made is the Glass Manufacturing Industry and nearly every state in the glass belt including Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, New York and New Jersey have the prohibition contained in this bill when it passed the House and that Pennsylvania and West Virginia are alone wanting in this proper regulation. In many other particulars amendments were inserted by the Senate which tend to weaken the regulations of the original bill and the provisions for enforcement.

Your Committee did not rest its efforts with the termination of the meeting of the Committee of Conference, but through other Senators attempted to secure some reasonable concession. We finally agreed to accept a provision limiting the hours of labor to nine and one-half per day and fifty-one and a half per week. In order that some step in the direction aimed at by this bill might be taken. We have waited until this late hour in making our statement in the hope that this proposition might be agreed to. We are however, finally convinced that further delay will avail us nothing. We are frankly of the opinion that in certain particulars covering questions of enforcement that the bill in its present form represents some slight advance over existing law, but we feel that, to accept it would be injurious to the fundamental principle for which this bill in its original form has stood. We are convinced that this measure which once promised so much for the advancement of child labor legislation in Pennsylvania would accomplish so little that the principle which we advocate will ultimately be advanced far better by its rejection than its acceptance.

Mr. Speaker, I would like to state further in reference to this matter, I would like to give to the House from this Committee a statement which I believe the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Vare, deserves, that he was the only Senator in the other body of this Legislature who showed sufficient interest in this matter to take up the matter and make effort to secure a further reduction in the hours of labor, so that this House might properly act on a bill regulating the hours of labor at this session. I would also like to state that after consultation with the other members of your conference committee that the responsibility for the determination of this question should not rest wholly with us.

CONFERENCE COMMITTEE DISCHARGED.

I therefore move, Mr. Speaker, that your conference committee appointed for the consideration of the child labor bill be discharged from further consideration so that the question of concurrence in the Senate amendments may properly come before the House. I am making that motion Mr. Speaker, and I wish further to state that if the question comes before this House I propose to vote against its passage.

Mr. MATT. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.
The motion was agreed to.

SENATE MESSAGE.

SENATE ADOPTS REPORT OF THE CONFERENCE COMMITTEE ON HOUSE BILL NO. 118.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has adopted the report of the committee of conference on the subject of the differences existing between the two Houses on House Bill No. 128, entitled:

An Act regulating certain political parties providing for and regulating the nomination of candidates of such political parties for certain public offices the election of delegates alternate delegates to National party conventions and of certain party officers including State committeemen a method whereby electors of such political parties may express their choice of candidates for the office of President of the United States and the payment by the several counties and their reimbursement by the State of the expenses of the same authorizing the State committee of a political party to make and to alter amend and revoke rules and providing penalties for the violation of the provisions of this act and for the punishment of certain offenses provided for herein and repealing inconsistent legislation

RESOLUTION RECONSIDERING VOTE BY WHICH THE HOUSE ADOPTED THE CONFERENCE REPORT ON HOUSE BILL NO. 221.

Mr. WALNUT. Mr. Speaker, I offer the following resolution.

The SPEAKER. The resolution will be read by the Clerk. The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the vote by which the House adopted the Conference Committee Report on House Bill No. 221 be reconsidered.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the resolution?

Mr. WALNUT. Mr. Speaker, I want to say that House Bill No. 221 is the Register of Wills' bill applying to Philadelphia County. There report has already passed the House, but the printer made a mistake, or possibly I made a mistake in giving the printer the wrong copy of the conference report. We have now a reprint of the real report of the Committee and that is the reason I make this motion to reconsider our action on the wrong print.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the resolution?

The resolution was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, my understanding about the position of the Child Labor Bill at the present time is that the Conferees cannot agree and that the Committee has been discharged. I ask that as a query to the Chair. That is correct is it not?

The SPEAKER. The Speaker was not in the Chair when action was taken. The gentleman who occupied the Chair at the time action was taken informs the Chair that the Committee was discharged.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, if I am not out of order in reference to that bill, I think it would be only fair if the Chairman of that Committee should state to the House how much of a concession in the present law in the number of hours in the Child Labor Bill has been made by the Senate, so that the House may take action on the bill as to whether it will recede from its position and accept the Senate amendments. I would therefore, if not out of order, ask the Chairman of that Committee to make that statement to the House. I suppose the Chair is in the same position as the gentleman from Delaware. I am under the impression that the Senate has agreed to a reduction of four hours in the legal holiday. I would like the Chairman of the Committee to explain.

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman state his point of order.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Delaware is out of order, because he is not discussing any matter before the House.

The SPEAKER. The point of order, of course, is well taken.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Then, Mr. Speaker, for the sake of bringing that bill before the House, I move that the House accept the Senate amendments to the bill.

Mr. HOWARD. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is out of order, because the House has already non-concurred.

The SPEAKER. The point of order is well taken.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, then I will further inquire whether the bill is in possession of the House.

The SPEAKER. The bill is not in possession of the House. The bill has not been returned to the House by the Committee.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Then, Mr. Speaker, do I understand by that that this House has no method of getting possession of that bill, no parliamentary means of getting possession of that bill?

The SPEAKER. Of course when the House discharged the Committee it was the duty of the Committee to return the bill to the House, but the Chair's information from the Clerk is that this has not been done.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, all this is out of order. The motions of the gentleman from Delaware are out of order. The Chairman of the Committee reported what they have done and have the consent of the House to discharge the conferees. There has been no report to the Senate on that question.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, it is a new proposition to me to discover that the House cannot get possession of a bill, simply because a committee that has been discharged has not returned it to the House. The Speaker so stated, at least I understood him to say, that it was the duty of the Chairman of the Committee to return the bill to the House. The bill is in possession of the House, legally ought to be in possession of the House at the time the report is made. I do not know how the Chairman of a Committee that has been discharged can retain possession of the bill.

Mr. JOSIAH HOWARD. Mr. Speaker, I move that the gentleman from Delaware be delegated by this House to inquire from the Senate as to whether the bill is coming over to us tonight.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, such a motion would be highly improper to send a member over to the Senate on such a mission.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Walnut.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WALNUT. Mr. Speaker, yes, sir.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, my understanding is that Mr. Walnut is Chairman of the House Committee on Conference on this bill. Is that correct?

The SPEAKER. That is correct.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, does the Chairman of that Committee understand that he should return the bill to the House after being discharged?

Mr. WALNUT. Mr. Speaker, I will state that I never secured the bill from the transcribing room. We met once and we used copies of the bill as it passed the Senate. The bill is still in the hands of the Clerk in the transcribing room.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I am speaking legally. I am not speaking physically.

Mr. WALNUT. Mr. Speaker, that is all I know about the bill.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, there is no question but what the bill legally should be in the hands of somebody.

Mr. WALNUT. Mr. Speaker, I understood the gentleman to inquire where was that bill. As far as I know, it is there.

The SPEAKER. The Chair has directed an investigation to ascertain whether the bill remains in the transcribing room of the House. When this fact has been ascertained, it will be reported to the House.

Mr. RONEY. Mr. Speaker, when I understand this bill is not now before the House.

The SPEAKER. The Chair is having the question investigated as to whether the House has possession of the bill. The bill is not now before the House.

Mr. RONEY. Mr. Speaker, the Chair will inform the House whether the bill is over there.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. HOWARD. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. HOWARD. Mr. Speaker, I am very much in favor of a Child Labor Bill, and I think it would be a shame for this House to sit here until twelve o'clock arrives and allow the Child Labor Bill to die. I think, Mr. Speaker, that if the Child Labor Bill provides health regulations, factory regulations and other regulations that are beneficial to child labor, and as I understand it there is only the question of a half hour's difference, that the House Conference Committee have proposed 9-1-2 hours and the Senate amendment calls for ten hours.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

If that is the only difference between us I rise as a question of personal privilege to state that we are making a great mistake if we allow this bill to die without getting this bill back in some way to accept the Senate amendments.

The SPEAKER. The Chair desires to inform the House that the bill referred to in the discussion is now in the possession of the House.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE.

Mr. RONEY. Mr. Speaker, I do not think this House could afford to pass the child labor bill as it came from the Senate but I do feel Mr. Speaker, that the conference committee on the part of the House was a little hasty in asking that it be discharged from further consideration of this bill. It is possible that the Senate and House Committees can affect a compromise and in the interest of the passage of the Child Labor Bill, or at least a sincere and conscientious effort to do so, I move that the vote by which the conference committee was discharged be reconsidered.

Mr. HOWARD. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion, and in doing so I will suggest that the Committee report back to the House immediately if any amendment is made.

The motion was agreed to.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE.

Mr. WALNUT. Mr. Speaker, I might say acting for the conference committee that I am very glad that we are to be continued in our duties and we will make every effort to secure any reasonable concessions on the part of the Senate, as I am sincerely interested in securing the passage of this Child Labor Legislation. Furthermore I would ask leave of absence for myself and my two committeemen.

The SPEAKER. Is there any objection? The Chair hears none and the leave of absence is granted.

SENATE MESSAGE.

SENATE ADOPTS REPORT OF CONFERENCE COMMITTEE ON HOUSE BILL NO. 105.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced informed that the Senate has adopted the report of a committee on conference on the subject of the differences existing between the two Houses on bill numbered and entitled as follows

House Bill No. 105.

An Act to protect the public health and welfare by regulating the employment of females in certain establishments with respect to their hours of labor and the conditions of their employment by establishing certain sanitary regulations in the establishments in which they work by requiring certain abstracts and notices to be posted by providing for the enforcement of this act by the Commissioner of Labor and Industry and others by prescribing penalties for violations thereof by defining the procedure in prosecutions and by repealing all acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions thereof

BILLS SIGNED BY SPEAKER.

The Seaker announced that the Chief Clerk having reported that the following bills had passed both Houses of the General Assembly and the same being correct, the titles were publicly read as follows:

House Bill No. 118:

An Act regulating certain political parties providing for and regulating the election of such political parties for certain public offices the election of delegates and alternate delegates to national party conventions and of certain party officers including state committeemen

a method whereby electors of such political parties may express their choice of candidates for the office of President of the United States and the payment by the several counties and their reimbursement by the State of the expenses of the same authorizing the State committee of a political party to make and to alter amend and revoke rules and providing penalties for the violation of the provisions of this act and for the punishment of certain offenses provided for herein and repealing inconsistent legislation

Senate Bill No. 876:

An Act to provide for the nomination and election of candidates for the office of United States Senator and the filling of vacancies in said office

Senate Bill No. 103:

An Act to provide that certain teachers of long experience in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania shall be appointed permanently and defining the manner of changing their positions and salaries making it the duty of the president and secretary of each school board in this Commonwealth to enter into certain contracts and providing penalties for the neglect or refusal to perform such duty

Whereupon,

The Speaker, in the presence of the House, signed the same.

COMMUNICATIONS FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Private Secretary to the Governor being introduced presented communications from the Governor which were read as follows:

VETO OF HOUSE BILL NO. 402.

Executive Chamber, Harrisburg Pa., June 27, 1913.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen: I return herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 402, entitled "An Act regulating policies of insurance against liability arising under Article two of the Workmen's Compensation Law of one thousand nine hundred and thirteen."

This bill should be considered with House Bill No. 403, entitled "An Act to provide for the incorporation and regulation of Employers' Mutual Liability Insurance Associations."

House Bill No. 402 regulates "policies of insurance against liability arising under Article two of the Workmen's Compensation Law of one thousand nine hundred and thirteen."

House Bill No. 403 provides "for the incorporation and regulation of Employers' Mutual Liability Insurance Associations" of employers in the State of Pennsylvania "who have accepted the provisions of article two of the workmen's compensation law of one thousand nine hundred and thirteen."

The Legislature having failed to enact the compensation law recommended by the Industrial Accidents Commission and referred to in both these bills as the "Workmen's Compensation Law of one thousand nine hundred and thirteen" this bill is useless and approval is therefore withheld.

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection the communication will lie upon the table. The Chair hears no objections.

VETO OF HOUSE BILL NO. 403.

Executive Chamber, Harrisburg Pa., June 27, 1913.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen: I return herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 403, entitled "An Act to provide for the incorporation and regulation of Employers' Mutual Liability Insurance Associations."

This bill is not approved for the reason set forth in my message disapproving House Bill No. 402.

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection the communication will lie upon the table. The Chair hears no objections.

VETO OF HOUSE BILL NO. 635.

Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, Pa., June 27, 1913.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen: I return herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 635, entitled "An Act to exempt certain buildings from the provisions relating to fire towers and outside fire escapes of the following acts of Assembly the act approved the eleventh day of June one thousand eight hundred seventy-nine entitled 'An Act to provide for the better security of life and limb in cases of fire in hotels and other buildings' as amended by an act approved the third day of June one thousand eight hundred eighty-five entitled 'An Act to amend an act entitled 'An Act to provide for the better security of life and limb in cases of fire in hotels and other buildings' approved eleventh day of June Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and seventy-nine and as further amended by an act approved the twelfth day of July one thousand eight hundred ninety-seven entitled 'An Act to amend section one of an act approved the third day of June Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and eighty-five entitled 'An Act to amend an act entitled 'An Act to provide for the better security of life and limb in cases of fire in hotels and other buildings' approved the eleventh day of June Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and seventy-nine extending the provisions thereof to buildings used in whole or in part for offices not of fire proof construction' also the act approved the seventh day of June one thousand eight hundred ninety-five entitled 'A supplement to an act entitled 'An Act amending section one of article three of an act entitled 'An Act for the better government of cities of the first class in this Commonwealth' approved the first day of June Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and eighty-five regulating the construction maintenance and inspection of buildings' approved the eighth day of June Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and ninety-three regulating the construction alteration and ventilation of tenement houses and providing for the safety of the inhabitants thereof and providing penalties for the violation of the same' also the act approved the twenty-fifth day of April one thousand nine hundred three entitled 'An Act to further regulate the construction maintenance and inspection of buildings and party walls in cities of the first class.'

In vetoing a similar bill in 1911, I said:

"No good reason is apparent for relaxing, as this bill proposes to do, the safeguards provided by law for the protection of tenants of lodging, boarding, apartment or tenement houses, from fire or panic."

For the reasons then expressed, I withhold my approval from this bill.

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection the communication will lie upon the table. The Chair hears no objections.

VETO OF HOUSE BILL NO. 1575.

Executive Chamber, Harrisburg Pa., June 27, 1913.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania

Gentlemen: I return herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 1575, entitled "An Act to further amend section twenty-one of an act entitled 'A further supplement to an act entitled 'An Act to provide revenue by taxation' approved the seventh day of June Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and seventy-nine' approved June first one thousand eight hundred and eighty-nine."

This bill is not carefully drawn. It purports to amend section twenty-one of the Act of 1879, as it was amended in 1889. Since 1889 this same section was amended in 1891, in 1893, and in 1911, and instead of quoting the section as it was amended in 1889, as its title sets out, the bill quotes the section as it was amended in 1893, but does not quote the law as it now stands.

For this reason the bill is not approved.

(Signed,) JOHN K. TENER.

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection the communication will lie upon the table. The Chair hears no objections.

APPROVAL OF HOUSE BILL NO. 1065.

Strike out from line 26 to 139 inclusive.

Amend section 28, strike out "28" and insert "21."

Amend section 29, strike out "29" and insert "22."

The SPEAKER. The Chair would inform the House that the Senate reprint showing the amendments is on the files of the House on page 12863. Since that reprint the Senate has further amended Section 13, page 20. The Clerk will read the section at length.

The Clerk read the section as follows:

Section 13 The candidates for nomination at any primary for any office within the provisions of this act to be filled at the succeeding election equal in number to twice the number to be elected at the succeeding election who shall have received at such primary the highest number of votes cast for nomination to the office for which they are candidates (or if the number of all the candidates voted for as aforesaid be not more than twice the number to be elected then all the candidates) shall be the nominees for such office and their names and none other except as hereinafter provided shall be printed as candidates for such respective offices upon the official ballots which are provided according to law for use at such succeeding election Provided That whenever at any primary any candidate for nomination to any of the aforesaid offices to which but one person is to be elected at the succeeding election a number of votes greater than one-half of the total number of votes cast for such office at such primary and greater than one-half of the number of ballots cast in the political district or division within which the nomination is to be made such candidate shall be the sole nominee for such office and his name and none other shall be printed as candidate or such office upon the official ballots for use at such succeeding election

In case of a tie the candidates receiving the tie vote shall appear and cast lots before the county commissioners or the Secretary of the Commonwealth as the case may be on the third Friday after the primary and the one to whom the lot shall fall shall be entitled to the nomination Provided in any case where the fact of a tie vote is not authoritatively determined until after the third Wednesday after the day of the primary the day for appearing and casting lots shall be the second day after the day on which the fact of such tie vote is authoritatively determined If any candidate or candidates receiving a tie vote fail to appear before twelve o'clock noon on said day the county commissioners or the Secretary of the Commonwealth as the case may be shall cast lots for him or them For the purpose of casting lots any candidate may appear in person or by proxy appointed in writing

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, following the section just read it would appear that the only amendment here consists in striking out that portion placed in lines 25 and 26.

The SPEAKER. That is correct.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, at the line preceding "regular elections."

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, does not that change the whole of that?

The Speaker. If the gentleman will analyze that he will see that it is quite consistent in itself.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments of the Senate?

Mr. JOHN ROBERT JONES. Mr. Speaker, this is House Bill No. 117 and is the bill as it passed the House with the Senate amendments. I want to make it clear to the House what the effect of the amendments are which were made by the Senate. This bill passed the Senate and House and applied to the non-partisan primary election for all officers to be filled at the municipal election, in the odd years and all judges whether elected at the municipal election or the general election. I urged the passage of this bill to apply, as I have stated, this purpose when it was introduced. The Senate, however, refused to pass the bill as it passed the House and has amended it to this effect that it now applies solely to the office of judge, whether that judge be elected at the municipal election or at the general election and also applies to cities and I will read that part:

That hereafter all candidates for any elective office of cities of the second class or for the office of judge of any court of record whether such office of judge be filled by the vote of the electors of the State at large or of the electors of any county or judicial district in the State

This then applies to non-partisan principle with these offices. While I urged the passage of it, they refused to do it. They have amended the bill this evening and I want to explain all the facts. Where a candidate at this primary should receive a number of votes greater than one-half of the total of votes cast at the primary, then such candidate shall be the sole nominee; it practically elects him. The number of votes for the office of judge in which there will be a separate non-partisan primary ballot at the primary election. For instance, upon that same non-partisan ballot for example, a candidate for mayor and also a candidate for judge does not only have a majority of all votes cast for the office, but also a majority of all those non-partisan ballots.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Schuylkill, Mr. John Robert Jones, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. JOHN ROBERT JONES. Mr. Speaker, yes, sir.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, do I understand the gentleman to say in reference to the amendment made to-night on the question of the nominee being the sole nominee to go on the general ballot, that is he receives 51 per cent. or greater than one-half of all the votes cast at the primary that gives him the sole nomination on the general election, or does it require him to have at least 50 per cent. of the votes cast in that office at the preceding general election.

Mr. JOHN ROBERT JONES. Mr. Speaker, the bill as it was originally introduced had been clear that when a man or candidate received such majority vote that he was the sole nominee. For example, where there is but one office to be filled, for example, a judge. Under the non-partisan principle there are two candidates receiving votes the one receiving the highest number will be the candidate at the election. This provision means where one of these two should receive a majority of the votes cast for that office in addition to a majority of the ballots cast for that office, he would be the sole nominee and, of course, as the sole nominee it means he would be elected. I am stating my interpretation of the Senate amendment.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I think before we pass this bill by concurring in the amendments of the Senate, we ought to appreciate what this amendment might be. To my mind it is a very simple process of taking out a few words but it certainly is revolutionary in its effect. What it means is this: That the majority of the votes cast at the primary in the second class cities for the nominations, the nominee who receives 51 per cent. of those votes goes on the general ballot at the general election and is the only nominee for that office. It means for the office of judge throughout the whole Commonwealth where there is one office to be filled that the judge who receives 51 per cent. of all the votes cast for the primary election on that ballot is the only nominee for that position.

As this bill read before it was amended to-night, it contained a proper restriction. It was thought that the 51 per cent. of all the votes cast at the primaries would give that nominee the sole position on the general ballot, provided that 51 per cent., or more than half, using the language in the bill, was equal to one-half of all the votes cast for that same office at the general election proceeding. Now, that is taken out. In other words, if, in the City of Philadelphia, there were cast 20,000 votes for the office of judge and 11,000 votes had by one candidate, that one candidate would have his position alone at the next general election on the ballot and be the only nominee for that office. And the ballot for the coming general election for that same office, at the preceding election there had been 100,000 votes cast for it; now, as I read the amendment quickly here, because this is my first knowledge of it, it looks to me as though that is an extremely drastic act. Now, a non-partisan ballot is a non-partisan ballot for the purpose of taking these various offices out of politics and out of political machinery. In a non-partisan ballot, when the two other nominees are selected at the primary, those two are placed on the general ballot at the general election, and of those two at the general election the highest number of votes determines the successful candidate. Now, that removes all politics from the non-partisan ballot. But here we are going to have the particular office filled at the primary where we have only a few voters, compared to the vast number going to the general election, go to the primary election. It is extremely doubtful whether we should adopt this amendment. Of course, I appreciate the fact that the sponsor of this bill was moved to concur in the amendments of the Senate. I don't feel satisfied myself by such an amendment as was put in that bill to-night.

Mr. McALEER. Mr. Speaker, if the provisions of this bill are as explained by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. J. R. K. Scott, it would be taking the most partisan ballot that a person could well imagine.

Mr. McCLINTOCK. Mr. Speaker, I feel that the stand taken by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. J. R. K. Scott, is proper. It certainly means this, that the primaries we do not bring out the regular percentage of voters. You say that by this amendment a man can be elected at the primaries. That is a mistake and this amendment is unfair and we should not concur in it.

Mr. JOSEPH GRAY. Mr. Speaker, if what the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. J. R. K. Scott, has said and also the gentleman who has just sat down is true that you get an election at the primary, does it not follow that when the people once know that the election at the primary or the primary election is sufficient for an election or means an election, then they will turn out for a primary just the same as they do at a general election.

Mr. NEELY. Mr. Speaker, speaking for second class cities, the city which in part I represent, I would say this: That in the primary election for Pittsburgh a large percentage of the vote turns out, within one, two or at least five per cent. of the vote at the regular election, and I believe that in Pittsburgh the effect of this amendment would be nothing. I think that in Pittsburgh our people would be well satisfied with the bill as it now reads.

Mr. ALWORTH. Mr. Speaker, it seems to me that this amendment offered by the Senate does not change the practical effect of the law as it exists at the present time. If there is a candidate or two candidates for an office, one Republican and one Democrat, the Democrat or the Republican may go into the Republican primaries or the Democratic primaries and succeed in getting a certain proportion of votes and become the nominee on the Democratic ticket or Republican ticket. I think that this provision was made to meet that condition, and I do not believe the effect of it will be detrimental to the bill.

Mr. J. R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Lackawanna. Mr. Alworth.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ALWORTH. Yes, sir.

Mr. J. R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, doesn't the gentleman from Lackawanna know that under the non-partisan ballot a candidate goes on every ticket at the general election?

Mr. ALWORTH. Yes, but we know that sometimes a Republican goes into a Democratic caucus and if he gets the Democratic votes he is the Democratic nominee as well as the Republican nominee and he is the sole candidate for that particular office, and I believe that this amendment is intended and the purpose of it will fully meet that condition. I believe, gentlemen, that it is very proper.

Mr. J. R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I move that we non-concur.

Mr. WILLIAMS in the Chair.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. ALTER. Mr. Speaker, it seems to my mind that the objection which has been suggested is not an objection which should cause this House to lose the opportunity of giving to the people of Pennsylvania the right to choose judges of the court, particularly in a non-partisan manner. Now the objection which has been under discussion is simply this: The bill provided, prior to this last amendment, that if a candidate at the primary received fifty-one per cent. of the votes cast for the office for which he was a candidate and that number was equal to fifty-one per cent. or more than one-half of the number of votes cast at the last preceding regular election, then he should be the sole nominee at the following election. As now changed by the Senate it requires him to have more than half of the votes cast for the office for which he is a candidate and that number must be more than half of the total number of ballots cast at that primary. That means that if at the primary say 10,000 voters vote for the office of judge, but 3,000 of the voters who turn out at the primaries do not express any choice for judge, the total number of voters turning out at the primaries is 13,000. Then it is not sufficient for the candidate for judge to have simply 5,001 votes or more than half of ten thousand, the number or votes cast for the office of judge; but he must have 6,501 votes or more than one-half of the total number of voters who turn out at that primary. Now as I understand the gentleman from Philadelphia, the apprehension which occurred to his mind when the matter first came before the House, was this: That there might not be at the primaries a very large turn out of voters and that therefore a judge receiving more than half of the number of votes cast at the primary might not receive such a large proportion of the total number of votes in the district as to justify making him the only candidate at the following election; but, Mr. Speaker, I think the suggestion made by the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Gray, is sound, that the voters knowing that under the provisions of this bill the man nominated at the primaries may have the exclusive right to be on the ticket at the election; in other words, that the choice at the primary may be final, then there will be an inducement on the part of the voters to turn out at the primaries that we are quite safe in giving to the man who receives more than half of the number of voters turning out the exclusive nomination. We are perfectly safe. We are endangering no public policy by permitting that candidate to be the sole candidate at the election, while allowing the choice of that primary to be final, and we know, Mr. Speaker, since the uniform primary act has been in operation that in very many sections of the State, when there is any important contest for a nomination, the number of votes cast at the primary is frequently greater than the number of votes cast at the general election. I know such has been the case in the County of Allegheny. In the primary of 1911 there were more than 100,000 votes cast, and it seems to me, as I said in the first place, Mr. Speaker, that such apprehension as may arise in the minds of the members from this suggestion, is not a sufficient reason, is far from being a sufficient reason why this House should not take this opportunity of giving to the people of Pennsylvania the opportunity to choose their judges in a non-partisan way and I think if we refuse to concur in this amendment the strong probability is that by so doing we will miss the opportunity to give the people that right, because at this time and from what I have learned through private sources of information from the other end of the capitol, if this bill is non-concurred in and sent back, it is almost certain that we shall not have again the opportunity of accomplishing this much desired result.

Mr. S. B. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I wish to point out briefly for the benefit of the Philadelphia delegation, that the particular section of the bill under discussion can have no effect whatever, upon cities of the first class. In the first place, the bill in its terms applies to judges all over the State and to municipal officers in cities of the second class, so that all the municipal officers at least or the first class cities, are totally out of consideration, and we have for consideration only the office of judge. Now there has recently passed the Legislature an act to consolidate the Courts in the County of Philadelphia. Whether or not that act is constitutional is a question for future determination; so that at present there is only one point and there will always be a case of the most extreme rarity when there is only one judge to be elected and since it is only in cases where there is one officer to be elected that this particular clause has any bearing whatsoever, the chances when it can affect the cities of the first class are so rare that I feel that no member of the Legislature coming from Philadelphia can be justified in casting an adverse vote against the bill for that reason.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, for six months I have devoted my whole life to this legislation and when this question was brought to my attention as it was with the remarks of the Speaker, then in the Chair, at first glance I thought that the amendment was fatal to this bill, and I am not as optimistic now as the two gentlemen who preceded me, but it has been very forcibly expressed to me by the Speaker of the House, that in this last hour of our session to now insist upon my motion of non-concurrence, which would likely receive the support of many in the House, might result in the losing of a non-partisan ballot, not only for the judiciary, but a non-partisan ballot for all the officers of the cities of the second class. We have this session passed a bill making a commission form of government for Cities of the Third Class; so I, Mr. Speaker, do not propose to let my own individual judgement stand against the judgment of others, when the Speaker of this House has the force of character to come from the Chair down to the floor and openly and candidly express the fact that in his judgement it would be a mistake to insist upon this motion and against his judgement, that the Senate has placed a knife in this bill, cutting out these words in lines 25 and 26 reading "At the last preceding election," and when the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. S. B. Scott, takes the position that he does, though I do not fully agree with him in his view, I do think there is alarm in this amendment, but I think there is also more alarm in ruining the legislation. Therefore, Mr. Speaker, I do not propose to insist upon my motion of non-concurrence, and withdraw it.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, personally I am not by any means satisfied with this bill, with the provisions of this Act, but I do think, perhaps that it might be a step in the right direction, at least worth trying the experiment. It will only affect such districts as I represent in the nomination and election of candidates for judge. Now I recognize, Mr. Speaker, that the party of which I am a member is committed to a non-partisan ballot, having adopted a plank in their State platform to that effect. Therefore I feel that it is at least worth while experimenting with this proposition and if the experiment is to be carried out I know of no better place to do it than with our candidates for judge. In the so-called county districts these contests become very bitter, so much so that very often a candidate after he has gone through the primaries and made his fight, after he has gone through the general election and made another fight, when he is elevated to that high office it almost destroys his usefulness for the administration of justice in some cases of which I have been informed. I think perhaps if you could limit these contests to the primary which might be done under the Senate amendment to this bill that would at least have the effect of eliminating that bitter contest for this high office. On the other hand, if the bill were restored to its original form before those words were stricken out by the Senate you might just as well eliminate that whole paragraph from the bill for the reason that it would be next to impossible for any candidate to receive at the primaries fifty-one per cent of the highest vote cast at the last preceding or general election. Therefore, I think the House should support the Senate amendments to this bill.

On the question recurring,

Will the House concur in the Senate amendments?

CONFERENCE REPORT.

The SPEAKER laid before the House the report of the committee on conference on House Bill No. 1027.

The report of the Conference Committee was read as follows:

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON HOUSE BILL NO. 1027.

To the Honorable the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Gentlemen: The Committee of Conference to which was referred the differences existing between the two houses on House Bill No. 1027, entitled "An Act to amend section one of an act approved the twenty-ninth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and one, entitled 'An Act relating to anthracite mines and providing for the care and life and attention of employees injured in and about said mines,' requiring the erection of medical rooms in the mines or on the surface," respectfully beg leave to submit the following amended bill as our report:

JOHN F. MANNION,
PETER MURPHY,
W. W. LENKER,

Committee on the part of the House of Representatives.

J. W. ENDSLEY,

Committee on the part of the Senate.

An Act to amend section one of an act approved the twenty-ninth day of May one thousand nine hundred and one entitled "An Act relating to anthracite mines and providing for the care and life and attention of employees injured in and about said mines" requiring the erection of medical rooms in the mines and on the surface

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section one of an act approved the twenty-ninth day of May one thousand nine hundred and one entitled "An Act relating to anthracite mines and providing for the care and life and attention of employes injured in and about said mines" which reads as follows—

"Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That within six (6) months after the passage of this act it shall be unlawful to operate any anthracite mine employing ten (10) men or more in the State of Pennsylvania unless said mine is provided with a sufficient quantity of linseed or olive oil bandages line splints woolen and waterproof blankets Said articles shall be stored in a room erected at a convenient place in the mine which room shall not be less than eight by twelve feet and sufficiently furnished lighted clean and ventilated so that therein medical treatment may be given injured employes in case of emergency The furnishings shall be sufficient to accommodate two or more persons in a reclining and sitting posture" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That within six (6) months after the passage of this act it shall be unlawful to operate any anthracite mine employing ten (10) men or more in the State of Pennsylvania unless said mine is provided with a sufficient quantity of linseed or olive oil bandages line splints woolen and waterproof blankets Said articles shall be stored in rooms erected at a convenient place in the mine and on the surface which rooms shall not be less than eight by twelve feet and sufficiently furnished lighted clean and ventilated so that therein medical treatment may be given injured employes in case of emergency The furnishings shall be sufficient to accommodate two or more persons in a reclining and sitting posture

Section 4 Any corporation or individual violating the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof in the courts of the proper county shall be sentenced to a fine of not less than one hundred dollars collectible as such fines are by law collectible and payable into the proper funds of such county

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative, and the conference report adopted.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I expect the House appreciates that when the General Appropriation Bill is passed there would not be many members left many minutes afterward.

The SPEAKER. If that is the case, the Chair will hold the Appropriation Bill as the last thing.

STATEMENT FROM CONFERENCE COMMITTEE ON HOUSE BILL NO. 119.

Mr. WALNUT. Mr. Speaker, I will state on behalf of the Committee of Conference on House Bill No. 119, on which I labored quite hard, that I interviewed the Chairman of the Senate Conference Committee and he gave me exactly the same statement that was given to me the first time I saw him. He told me distinctly that there was absolutely nothing he could give except the modification which had already been introduced in the Woman's Club. That is all he said. He never gave me any points and never gave me reasons to believe, in what conversation I had with him, that he would do anything or could do anything and practically his remarks were that we have gotten all there was to get and I now ask that the committee be discharged.

Mr. FORSTER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the Committee be discharged from further consideration of this bill.

Mr. MATT. Mr. Speaker, before discharging the committee, I would like to make a statement. It has been reported that the committee, on the part of the House, had been offered concessions by the Committee of the Senate offering to recede from their amendments as to the number of hours that they would recede—fifty-one and a half hours. Officially, that is untrue. At our last meeting the last words from the Committee on the part of the Senate were these: I asked the question whether or not they "stood pat" as the bill passed the Senate. They said, "absolutely so;" but not only one said so, but the three said so and there had been no official notice to us that they would recede from any of the amendments on the part of the Senate.

Mr. LENKER. Mr. Speaker, merely a word which corroborates what my colleagues on the committee have said. There has been all sorts of rumors as to offers made to compromise, made by the members of the Senate or made by the committee of the Senate or by this committee. I desire to say that that is an absolute and unqualified falsehood. From the very first meeting that your conferrees had with the members of the conference committee of the Senate, they have consistently refused to deal with us unless we would absolutely recede from the position of the House and support the bill as amended by the Senate. I know nothing of trades between politicians but I do know that we should be vitally concerned about the interests of the child workers of the State. The Senate, to my mind, has absolutely disregarded all campaign pledges. They have taken the position that your committee could not consistently come back and ask you to concur in what has been done and I trust that this House will stand by the committee in their report and not hand the children of this State a lemon.

Mr. SPEISER. Mr. Speaker, I believe I owe a statement to the House of the facts with reference to negotiations pending toward a compromise bill, so far as the Child Labor Bill is concerned. Mr. Lenker made remarks about negotiations between politicians. He surely did not have me in mind or those with whom I have had personal relations on this bill. Last evening, acting upon the suggestion made by you, I got in consultation with the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Walnut, the Chairman of the conference committee on the part of the House, who at that time was in the company of the President of the Child Labor Association of Pennsylvania and by his secretary, also, I believe, and by the legal representative of the organization. When I requested from Mr. Walnut the exact status of the two conference committees he told me in a very frank and brief manner. I asked whether he thought there was any opportunity of there being a compromise effected, and at that time he was rather optimistic in his opinion. Previously, Senator Vare had endeavored to effect a compromise between the members of the conference committee and suggested that it might be possible that instead of fifty-four hours, as the Senate amendment made it, fifty-one and a half hours might be obtained for them. I then requested to know what was the paramount issue between the members of conference committees, and was informed that fifty hours was desired on the part of the House conferees and the elimination of night work so far as the glass works were concerned. I then wanted to know whether there could be any compromise on that statement and was told if the elimination of the glass night workers were effected possibly the hours would be compromised and on that statement of fact I got in consultation with Senator Vare. The Senator informed me, and since that time the statement made to me has been verified by the man with whom he spoke, that on yesterday morning, I believe, Mr. Walnut had requested him to interest himself in this matter because Senator Vare had been so successful in having the women's labor bill compromised and passed and the Senator did endeavor and came back to Mr. Walnut and he said to Mr. Walnut that he believed he would be able to get the fifty-one and a half hours, and Mr. Walnut was then accompanied by Mr. Holmes, a newspaper representative of this House, and Senator Vare was then informed that they would not accept fifty-one and a half hours but that they would stand on fifty hours and nothing else. Senator Vare suggested to me that efforts were futile. He said he tried once and was turned down and he didn't think he was justified in going any further. After some time we went to him and finally he consented to go into the matter of the bill again and see what he could do. When I mentioned the fact of the glass night workers elimination, he referred me to Senator Crow, who was more familiar with that matter, and I went to Senator Crow accompanied by Senator Salus and after a conference of two and one-half hours, from 12.45 to 3.30 this morning we conferred, and Senator Crow authorized us to say that he would eliminate that feature of the bill relating to the glass works but objected to making it effective July 1st, 1914, as was suggested by Mr. Walnut and Mr. Wasson; he wanted the compromise so as to make it January 1st, 1915. We then returned to Senator Vare and informed him of our success in that effort and then Senator Vare got busy and in about a half an hour or three-quarters of an hour, he said: "I think we now have the thing in proper shape. Fifty-one and a half hours will be agreed to," and at that time I went on the floor of the House and told that the persons representing the glass interests were in the Senate Chamber and those interested in manufacturing interests in the eastern part of the State with other representatives of the Manufacturers' Association, and had agreed to it. The proposition was formulated as I stated without any glass works hours and the proposition stated was fifty-one and a half hours with the elimination of the glass works so far as the night work was concerned after January 1st, 1915, which Mr. Walnut had requested in the original instance to get from him. I reported this statement and I noticed the President of the Child Labor Association and the secretary and one of them whose name is Mr. Elliott thought it the best course on the Child Labor Bill. They immediately set Mr. Walnut to draw these conference negotiations and Mr. Walnut was in constant activity going and coming from the Senate Chamber either accompanied by Mr. Wasson or Mr. Holmes. We then went to Mr. Walnut with the President and Secretary of the Child Labor Association and the proposition was carefully placed? There were no "buts," "ifs" or "maybes," and then Mr. Walnut and Mr. Wasson said they would not want to take less than fifty hours. I pleaded more earnestly with Mr. Wasson because I firmly believed then, and I believe now, that if Mr. Walnut, who was the Chairman of the committee and therefore had the most responsibility on his shoulders, had been left alone, because he appeared to be greatly pleased at the proposition of fifty-one and a half hours, and if he had not been tampered with and followed the dictates of his conscience, would have absolutely agreed to that proposition there and then. And we would have agreed to it providing fifty-one and a half hours, nine hours a day during the week and a half a day on Saturday. I argued with Mr. Wasson. I hardly did any arguing with Mr. Walnut, as to my mind he seemed very ready to accept the proposition. but Mr. Wasson was very arbitrary. Mr. Wasson took it upon himself that he would rather have no Child Labor Bill unless he could have what he wanted. From one standpoint he took such a responsibility. He assumed that responsibility and he said he would take that responsibility even if they didn't have any Child Labor Legislation for the next two years.

Of course, Mr. Speaker, it might be asked, or I might be questioned as to why I took this matter up with Mr. Wasson, who is not a member of this House, nor a member of the conference committee appointed by this House. It would have been impossible, Mr. Speaker, to have spoken with Mr. Walnut without speaking to Mr. Wasson, with the exception of one single instance when I saw Mr. Walnut without seeing Mr. Wasson. I never had the pleasure of seeing the other members of the committee. Now, Mr. Speaker, I have made this statement of facts as they actually happened, and can only add to that statement that this afternoon the president of the Child Labor Association again appealed to me, but I felt as though my humble efforts should cease, nothing could be depended upon so far as Mr. Walnut and his associates were concerned, they would not take a fair position, would not make a proposition, and there was nothing left to do. Under these circumstances, Mr. Speaker, I can excuse my colleague, Mr. Lenker, for the remarks that he made and believe that he could not have meant me or Senator Vare, concerning every one other than Senator Vare and myself he possibly was right.

Mr. WALNUT. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Speiser, appears to have gone into this question with considerable detail. After hearing his statement you will probably realize that the conference on this particular measure was not conducted with the same degree of formality that some others have been conducted. You will note that the conference committee of the Senate did not enter into the question at all. They stood pat. The only gentleman who did take any interest in the matter apparently was Senator Vare. I expressed my appreciation for the interest he took, and I will express my appreciation for the services rendered by Mr. Speiser. But he refers to the extra official as an assistant of the two committees, there were two committees, because I heard from Mr. Speiser something that I was not altogether sure of then, although I had my suspicions of the fact that while I was conferring with Mr. Wasson and Mr. Holmes, who are both interested in this child labor bill, Senator Vare seems to have been conferring on the other side with Mr. Grundy, I assume of the textile interests and a representative of the glass manufacturers. I cannot conceive that the construction that could be placed upon my act of consulting with Mr. Wasson and Mr. Holmes would have any sadder interpretation than on the fact that Senator Vare was consulting on the other side with the glass manufacturers and the textile manufacturers. I have no objection to find with the Senator's consulting with these gentlemen. They have as much right to be heard, as much right to be consulted with, as anybody in the Commonwealth. But it is, Mr. Speaker, most extraordinary that at three o'clock on the morning of Friday, June 27, Mr. Grundy, the representative of the manufacturers of textiles and the representative of glass products, had agreed to fifty-one and one-half hours and our proposition of the partial elimination or a modified elimination of the glass business, and that on the same morning at 10.30, when we found that they did not come to the original proposition, we then said "we will hold out no longer, it is manifest that we have gotten all we can get. We will go back to the Senate and say, 'gentlemen, we are ready to accept your proposition,' and we find either that the Senate never could have produced their original proposition, or that the gentlemen who had agreed to our proposition had gone back to Pittsburgh, to conduct their glass factories, and to Bucks County to conduct their textile factories; and therefore the gentlemen of the Senate found that it was absolutely impossible for them to agree to our proposition. They have had that proposition before them ever since 10.30 this morning and have never come to it. It is my earnest conviction that it is possible the proposition never could have been fulfilled. I do not question the good faith of the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Vare, and I do not question the good faith of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Speiser. but I do say that it seems strange to me that if their proposition was there and could be delivered last night why could not it have been delivered this morning.

I think, gentlemen, we probably have discussed this question far enough, except I do not exactly understand,

Mr. Speaker, I believe I have forgotten the character of the question that we are discussing. Is it a motion to recede. I believe it is a motion to discharge. I might say in reference to that fact that I consulted Mr. Wasson, that the other members of the committee consulted Mr. Wasson, Mr. Holmes, Mr. Humes, Mr. Jones and Mr. S. B. Scott, and other members of this House, upon the question as to what was the right course for us to pursue. It was, I admit, the most perplexing question that I have had presented to me this session. I did not know just exactly where we should yield, and where we should stand firm. It is not a question that you can say, "This is right, and that is wrong." It is a question of degree, and a question of seeing where we should yield, and where we should stand firm. We stood for fifty hours, and I honestly believe that we probably could have gotten fifty hours. We discussed the situation and we decided that if we stood firm we could get fifty and nine, which would make substantially what we were after. We found, as it appears, that we could not get fifty and nine, we then said we will take fifty-one and one-half, and we could not get it.

Mr. PIPER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Walnut.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WALNUT. Mr. Speaker, yes, sir.

Mr. PIPER. Do I understand that you had a conference with the committee of the Senate until three o'clock Friday morning?

Mr. WALNUT. As I recall it now, the last conference we had with the committee of the Senate was Thursday. We never had any conference to that time. There were rumors of proposals, but none of them were made to the committee when it met, none of those suggestions came from the committee.

Mr. PIPER. I further desire to interrogate the gentleman. Was there a proposition at that time made to you personally by any member of the Senate committee so that you could get fifty-one and one-half hours per week?

Mr. WALNUT. Absolutely none.

Mr. PIPER. Mr. Speaker, I further desire to interrogate the gentleman. At the finish of your conference with the Senate committee, whatever morning it may have been, was there any agreement between the representatives of the House and the representatives of the Senate to meet again in further conference?

Mr. WALNUT. Mr. Speaker, there was absolutely none, because we found that the Senate had refused to concede one fractional part of the bill, one fractional part of the amendments. They had given us their position on the amendments and there was no further necessity of getting together.

Mr. PIPER. Then after that had been settled is it true that those who are interested in their own interests, such as Mr. Grundy and Mr. Wood, left the City of Harrisburg, with the understanding that that was the last conference?

Mr. WALNUT. Mr. Speaker, I am afraid I cannot answer that question. I do not recall if I saw them afterward or not. I, of course, saw Mr. Grundy since that time.

Mr. PIPER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman how the other conference was brought about yesterday.

Mr. WALNUT. Mr. Speaker, there was no further conference. The representative of the Child Labor Association told me that he had seen Senator Vare and he told him that he would make every effort to secure some concession from the Senate committee, which would result in the passage of this bill.

Mr. PIPER. Mr. Speaker, I further desire to interrogate the gentleman. In the conference that I understand you held last evening, was there any proposition made then by any member of the conference committee of the Senate concerning fifty-one and one-half hours per week?

Mr. WALNUT. Mr. Speaker, there was not.

Mr. PIPER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman whether Senator Vare, of the Senate, made any offer of that kind.

Mr. WALNUT. Mr. Speaker, as I recall it, I did not see Senator Vare last night. I saw Mr. Speiser, but I do not think I saw one of the Senators.

Mr. SPEISER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Walnut.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WALNUT. Yes, sir, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SPEISER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know from the gentleman whether Senator Vare did not propose an offer of fifty-one and one-half hours to him.

Mr. WALNUT. Mr. Speaker, my recollection is that Senator Vare did not at any time say that fifty-one and one-half hours could be secured. We discussed it, but I do not recall that he said he would secure or had secured an agreement that fifty-one and one-half hours would be satisfactory.

Mr. SPEISER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia if it is not true that after such an offer had been made and had been refused by Mr. Holmes, who accompanied Mr. Walnut, Mr. Holmes said that they would not take anything less than 48 hours?

Mr. WALNUT. Mr. Speaker, at that time we were discussing whether or not we should accept fifty-one and one-half hours. Senator Vare was discussing it with Mr. Mowitz, of the Child Labor Association, another ex-officio member of the conference committee, as it will appear. Mr. Holmes was standing there with him. He said: "I think you should stick on that being forty-eight hours." Mr. Mowitz was of the opinion that if we could secure fifty-one and one-half hours that the proposition would be satisfactory.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Now, Mr. Speaker, I think that the House fully appreciates the motion to have the committee discharged. It does not mean any reflection on the committee. We have reached that period in our legislative life when we are soon going to close. Here is a bill that has been very much talked about and the public press of the State have published a great deal of news respecting it and its course in this Legislature. The discharge of the committee simply means that the members of the House can express their wish on the bill as it is now printed and lies before us. We know, most of us through the House by this time, that there was quite a disturbance in the Senate over this bill to-night and there was some pretty heated talk over the manner in which some persons who were not members of the House, I will not call them lobbyists, were also mixed up in it. Contradictions were made. I heard them and I think the House knows that such a condition existed over there, such a condition existed over there that it has caused the Senate to send a resolution to the House so that the public at large may have full information of exactly the situation over there that has been discussed here. We must confess that it is due to the public to know just exactly what the real situation is, exactly who is responsible for the condition in which this bill has now appeared before us. It is manifest to every member of the House that there has been, ever since this bill was introduced, a wide difference of opinion as to just exactly what the hours and regulations of child labor in the State should be. I am going to concede that those who stood for the smallest possible number of hours and for what we might call the strictest regulations were doing so honestly and conscientiously; but it must, I think, also be conceded that those who took the opposite view had interests at stake, men who understood how the bill would affect them. They came here to explain their side of the proposition, bad blood sprung up, ill feeling existed and as a result of that this is the best bill that we can get before the House to-night at this late hour, it being practically impossible to further confer on the matter, and I hope the House will allow the bill to come to a vote. Personally, I think this bill—

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of information first. What motion is before the House?

The SPEAKER. A motion to discharge the committee.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. What character of motion?

The SPEAKER. Merely a motion made by the gentleman from Delaware to discharge the committee.

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order, that the motion is out of order.

This is a conference committee and to move to discharge the conference committee he must do it by joint resolution. We cannot discharge the conference committee.

The SPEAKER. The point of order is well taken, according to the precedents of this House.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I presume the Chair is looking up some data, or did he make that as a decision?

The SPEAKER. Not the decision of the House; the Chair is stating a reason for the ruling that he is compelled to make on this point.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, may I ask if the motion includes the discharge of both the Senate and House committee, or the House committee only?

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, the House committee only.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, in view of that I would certainly take issue with the ruling of the Chair.

The SPEAKER. No, the Chair is not ruling. The Chair is simply stating that the Chair has a precedent on this point. The Chair would be glad to hear the suggestion of the gentleman from Elk.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, would you allow me to make a statement at this time? I would like to call the Chair's attention to the fact that there has none of those rules contained in Smull's Hand Book been adopted.

The SPEAKER. This is not a rule. Page 958 of the Hand Book, among the decisions of the House, is this: The Speaker submitted to the House the question, "Is the motion to discharge the committee of conference and recede from its non-concurrence in order?"

"The House decided in the negative."

This is the only decision on this point.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, what is the date of this decision?

The SPEAKER. That has stood as the law of the House on this subject since the year 1840.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, does the Chair intend to take that position at the present time?

The SPEAKER. The Chair will be glad to hear from a limited number of gentlemen who have anything to suggest.

Mr. MITCHELL. Mr. Speaker, is it the point of the gentleman from Philadelphia. Mr. John R. K. Scott, that the conference committee of the House cannot be discharged without a concurrent resolution?

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, he said a joint resolution. It don't need a joint resolution.

The SPEAKER. The Chair understood the gentleman to mean concurrent resolution.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I meant concurrent resolution.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, the House by its action this very night discharged this committee and it seems to me that this committee, being a committee of this House, that the Senate would have absolutely nothing to do with either the discharge or retention of the committee.

The SPEAKER. The House to-night adopted a motion discharging this committee, but no point of order was raised. The logic of the situation as it appeals to the Chair is this, that the House and Senate, by their joint action, have committed this bill to a joint committee and the bill cannot be taken from that committee except by the joint action of the two bodies, who jointly gave it into the hands of the committee.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, so far as the appointing of a conference committee on the part of this House that in no way depends upon the powers of the Senate whatever. The Senate had no power whatever to create this conference committee in so far as the House was concerned. It became a joint consideration of the two houses and each House with its own power appoints its own committee. Therefore it seems to me that the only power to act upon the question of appointing a conference committee on the part of the House rests entirely with the House, and if the House alone has the power to appoint a committee, I cannot possibly conceive how we can get into such a position that the House cannot discharge its committee. It seems to me that it is totally unreasonable, and the decision of 1840 is so many years old, that it makes us powerless as a body to have anything to do with our own legislation.

Mr. WALNUT. Mr. Speaker, I for one am perfectly willing to let Mr. Baldwin argue his advocacy of the passage of this bill, but I am perfectly willing to resign, if that will help the difficulty.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, it seems to me that this is not the time to stand upon a technicality. If there is any chance of passing the child labor bill that will in any way improve the conditions of the people of this State I for one stand on the floor of this House tonight and say that if it is necessary to take the Senate amendments to get the legislation, then let us take it, unless some one gives us a good reason why we should not.

Mr. J. R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, this does not clear the difficulty. It is not raising any technicality. To do this would make this body, under your leadership, Mr. Speaker, look very foolish indeed.

Mr. JOSIAH HOWARD. Mr. Speaker, in page 974, a case is stated where the Senate was informed that the House had insisted upon its amendments non-concurred in by the Senate. The Speaker appointed a committee of conference of the House, to confer with a similar committee of the Senate, if such a committee be appointed on the subject of the difference existing between the two Houses. It seems to me that if the House has the power to appoint its own committee it would have the right to discharge it.

Mr. J. R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman has not grasped the situation. There is no desire to raise a technicality. When we have a conference committee appointed, that conference body is given its life by the two bodies, and the life cannot be taken away by one body. If we agree with the gentleman from Delaware and discharge the committee, we would be doing something we had no power to do and our vote would be a nullity, to say that we can pass this bill that has been amended by the Senate, there would be nothing before us which we could consider under any parliamentary rules whatsoever. I think the gentleman from Delaware should see that his motion is not what it should be, that it would require a concurrent resolution. Let him prepare his resolution, and let it go to a vote. If the Senate sees fit, they can adopt the concurrent resolution. If it does not, the responsibility then is upon the Senate, if there is any responsibility.

The SPEAKER. The discussion of a point of order is prohibited by the rules of the House. The Chair has taken the responsibility in this case of asking for a limited number of suggestions. The Chair is clearly of the opinion that the point of order being raised, the Conference Committee can only be discharged by a concurrent resolution, therefore, the point of order of the gentleman from Philadelphia is sustained.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, it seems to me that for this body to —

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, my point of order is that there is nothing before the House.

The SPEAKER. The point of order is well taken.

Mr. MITCHELL. Mr. Speaker, I move the House reconsider the vote by which it non-concurred in the Senate amendments and appointed a conference committee.

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. J. R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. J. R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, my point of order is that this motion is practically the same as the one ruled out previously.

The SPEAKER. The point of order is well taken.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. I do not care to appeal from the decision of the Chair. We will prepare a concurrent resolution, but perhaps the Senate is not in session.

The SPEAKER. Yes, the Senate is in session.

RESOLUTION THAT THE COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON HOUSE BILL NO. 119 BE DISCHARGED.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer a resolution.

The SPEAKER. The resolution will be read by the Clerk.

The Clerk then read the resolution as follows:

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the Committee on Conference on the Child Labor Bill (House Bill No. 119) be discharged.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

SENATE MESSAGE.

RESOLUTION FOR CONCURRENCE.

In the Senate, June 27, 1913.

Whereas, It is alleged that Henry G. Wasson, of Pittsburgh, and certain persons connected with the Philadelphia North American and Child Labor and Woman's Labor Legislative Committees acted in bad faith with the view and for the purpose of defeating the Child Labor and Woman's Labor legislation of this session for political purposes when an opportunity had been given to obtain legislation which would have been acceptable to the Child Labor Organizations of the State of Pennsylvania, the manufacturers and other employers of labor affected by it and the representatives of labor in the State, and

Whereas, It is desirable that the members of the Legislature by whom this legislation has been considered and the public now so much interested in the subject and so anxious at this time to see enacted into law fair and equitable legislation on these subjects have full knowledge of the facts and circumstances under which this legislation has been throttled and finally defeated; therefore, be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That the President pro tempore of the Senate shall appoint three Senators and the Speaker of the House of Representatives shall appoint three members who shall constitute a joint committee whose duty it shall be to make a full and thorough investigation as to the truth of the allegations herein referred to. Said committee shall have power to elect its own Chairman, to sit after the adjournment of the Legislature, to employ legal counsel and such other officers and employees as may be needed to enable it to properly perform its duties as aforesaid; and the expenditure for the same shall be provided therefor in the General Appropriation Bill to be passed at the next session of the Legislature and shall be paid out of the State Treasury upon vouchers signed by the Chairman of said committee. Said committee shall have power to issue subpoenas signed by its chairman requiring the attendance of persons and the production of papers as in its judgment will assist in the performance of its duties as aforesaid.

Said committee shall make a full report in writing to the Governor of the Commonwealth of its findings together with the testimony as soon as possible and the Governor shall transmit the same to the next General Assembly.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the resolution of the Senate?

Mr. S. B. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, it seems to me that this resolution is the very acme of the absurd and the grotesque. It seems to me to be an attempt—

The SPEAKER. The resolution is not before the House for consideration. Under the rules of the House the resolution will have to lie over for printing.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I move the suspension of the rules of the House to permit the immediate consideration of this resolution.

Mr. FORSTER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, is not the resolution now before the House for consideration, before we take the vote on the suspension of the rules? Does that not bring the resolution into discussion? Am I out of order in discussing the resolution at this time?

The SPEAKER. The Chair is of the opinion that on the motion to suspend the rules, the reason for suspending the same are relevant for consideration, and that might permit some discussion of the resolution. The Chair will not commit himself as to how far the discussion may go.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, every member of this House knows that there have been charges and counter-charges as to who stifled the Child Labor bill in Pennsylvania, during this session. It seems to me that those who have been so ready in their charges for the past four months, that certain parties associated with the Senators have caused it, should jump at this chance to show these Senators up, and show up these manufacturing interests. To my surprise, I find the political faction, with which my friend from Philadelphia has been largely associated at this session, I am surprised that they through him would rise and call this a ridiculous proposition.

If there is one thing that the public ought to know and the members of this body ought to know and the press and deserves to know is true information as a protection from false information that goes abroad. Here will be the sworn testimony and if these Senators have been guilty they will be convicted under evidence on oath. There have been some very prominent business men in the State of Pennsylvania who have been pictured in the public press and condemned in article after article and charged with being bad citizens—that they want to murder children. They don't pretend to let the testimony be supported by proof to be under sworn testimony. Since the question has started, we can as well afford to hew to the line and let hit wherever it may. If there is any resolution—one effecting this body which ought to be for the purpose of giving the truth to the public and of showing it to the public this is the resolution, of all resolutions, that I would be willing to vote for. Those who have made the charges so frequently in this House will not force the resolution. I have always believed when there has been an honest difference between parties, that matters could be adjusted, but I have heard those advocating this measure severely criticised and testimony* which I have at hand and if I had agreed perhaps to have read some of that testimony, I could have given you more than what you read in the papers. These men having appeared and testified, under oath before our committee. I think this resolution should be passed and the rules be suspended for the purpose of passing it.

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, as I heard that resolution read I understood it that the resolution stated that the Child Labor legislation had been defeated. The bill has not been defeated and may be still enacted into a law. Therefore, it seems to me that part of the resolution is certainly out of place. I ask that the resolution be again read.—that part of it.

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. ROCKWELL. I rise to the point of order that the resolution would not be in order; that it would undertake to investigate a subject that does not exist at this time.

The SPEAKER. The fact that the resolution contains a statement that is inaccurate does not bar the subject.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, here is a resolution that many of us would like to have voted for—the difference between fifty-four and fifty-one and a half that was proposed in this legislation. It was under consideration on that very proposition. That has led to this resolution. As this bill stands, is there not a necessity for a resolution owing to a quarrel over the difference of fifty-one and a half and fifty-four hours. Many of us think that we should have accepted the proposition. Not that we are blaming anybody for keeping that bill from passing but I consider the resolution is in due form and germane to the subject.

Mr. FORSTER. Mr. Speaker, I think it is only due to the House to relate a conversation that took place in the Senate this evening. That may be responsible for the introduction of this resolution. In reply to a question from the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Salus, the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Walnut, was asked whether or not he would have accepted the offer of fifty-one and a half hours if Mr. Wasson had not said "no." Mr. Walnut said "Yes." I think it is due to the House to know where the responsibility for the defeat of this part of the legislation lies. At least one other gentleman of the House was present who heard it. I refer to the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Bergey.

Mr. WALNUT. Mr. Speaker, so far as that resolution is concerned I assume that it is directed at the end of this Child Labor Controversy that appears upon the House side. For one, as a member of the Conference Committee of the House members, I am perfectly willing to make any statement whatever covering the conversations that I had with Mr. Wasson or anybody else in relation to what attitude we should assume on this bill. I think if you will have any confidence in my statements, you will be able to secure, under affidavit, all the information you want to secure if this resolution passes.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, the thought that comes in my mind which perhaps the House has overlooked is that it is not the intent to punish anybody; it is not to put anybody to jail. It is going to give testimony on oath, evidence of what the conditions were at the Capitol relating to that Child Labor Bill. It has been one or the campaign propositions. Different parties have been pledged to it; now we are going to know who is going to carry the responsibility. I was not in favor of the House bill at first, but I want the thing cleared up and let the public know and I cannot see why anybody would oppose it. Nobody is accused of doing anything in violation of the statutes of Pennsylvania. It is simply to give public authority to get the story and then let those who aspire for office give their opinion, when they go back to their counties, and it is only just that the public ought to know what is done.

Mr. WALNUT. Mr. Speaker, I have just offered to give all the information bearing on this point from my point of view. I am willing to go on oath and give any information that the gentleman from Delaware desires. The gentleman from Delaware wants me to take an oath and give evidence. I am perfectly willing to make an affidavit and answer any questions that I can from my point of view.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I hope the gentleman from Philadelphia has not thought that any of my remarks were directed at him at all. I simply feel that the gentleman from Philadelphia does not know all about everything that happened. He would not assume that responsibility. Truly, what has happened in regard to influences that worked in regard to this bill, as in others, the gentleman from Philadelphia certainly don't know all that has occurred.

Mr. McDERMOTT. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman from Delaware Mr. Baldwin, know everything.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I know something. I can say something if I was put on oath and I would talk about a great deal that has been put into the public press on the acts that have occurred in this House. I will say to the gentleman that I saw persons here mingling among the members in their seats talking and arguing and the public ought to know it and they ought to know who was doing it.

Mr. HUMES. Mr. Speaker, it is a very great surprise to me that the gentleman from Delaware, in the investigation that he has been carrying on as a member of the Investigating Committee of this House intended to investigate the lobbies as to whether they were insidious lobbies or otherwise has failed to discover those charges of fraud that have been perpetuated upon the people of this State. I say it has added to-night as an absolute refutation of his own actions representing in this House a committee authorized by this body. The gentleman from Delaware has said that it is his desire to fix the responsibility. I believe that the facts that are conceded by all in the discussion we have had tonight fixes the responsibility and fixes it right here. The responsibility rests on the fact that the Senate Conference Committee on this bill did not act as a Conference Committee but delegated their powers in the Conference Committee to the manufacturers of the State who were interested in this legislation. It is conceded absolutely by the remarks that were made here tonight that the Conference Committee didn't advance a thing in these conferences but that the entire matter was turned over to the manufacturers themselves and that they dealt with the conference committee through an agent, (I don't use "agent" in any wrong sense) through a representative who was not even a member of the Conference Committee of the Senate and when that Conference Committee refused to act in its official capacity the Senate, as it was appointed to do under its oath, refused to take the responsibility. I say there is where the responsibility lies and there is no need of going any further.

Mr. BERGEY. Mr. Speaker, since I have been drawn into this discussion I think it is not more than fair to make a statement. I crossed over to the Senate this evening and noticed a very animated discussion up near the President's stand which I heard. I heard the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Salus, in a heated manner, say that the question of fifty-one and a half hours was put up to Walnut and he agreed to accept it but he refused later from the fact that Wasson would not let him, or words to that effect. I want to say further that all through this session

I have contended that a political plot existed. I have contended that politics were being played and I want to say further that on this side of the House we have played the game fair. We have consistently stood for progressive legislation whether it was child labor or any other progressive legislation.

Mr. WALNUT. Mr. Speaker, I did not desire to be drawn into this again, but when I was on my feet before I forgot to make a statement. In reference to my conference with Senator Vare, I do not recall very distinctly what our conversation was, but so far as the substance of the conversation is concerned I can state that after the conference committee postponed further action by reason of the absolute failure to get together, the representative of the Child Labor Association, as I before stated, saw Senator Vare, and then came over and saw our three members of the conference committee. We discussed the probability of accepting a compromise of fifty-one and one-half hours, and after discussing it we decided that we personally were in favor of accepting that compromise. We then said, "Well we will not come to a definite conclusion until we have consulted some of the other members of the House who are interested in this bill." We did that, we discussed the matter with the other members of the House and with Mr. Wasson, whose name has been mentioned, and with Mr. Holmes, and I believe with some other gentlemen interested in the bills. We decided that the better plan was to stick for fifty hours as we thought we could get that.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, I believe that the rules ought not to be suspended and that the concurrence of the House should be refused to this resolution, and that for this reason: The resolution as laid before this body and is now being considered by it, draws the attention of this body first to one H. G. Wasson, who, as the members of this House know, is a member of the Legislative Committee appointed by the Republican Convention in this Commonwealth. Another one to whom it draws attention is some one on the North American. Then it calls attention to the legislative representatives, I cannot give the exact wording, but such representatives of the child labor and woman's labor organizations as would naturally look after legislation of this character. And there it stops. It says when you adopt this resolution that upon their shoulders rests the responsibility of what? The disagreement between the House and the Senate, in the first place, and in the second place between the conference committees made up of members of the House and of the Senate. Mr. Speaker, I would indeed be in favor, and I think it would be just to this House and to all parties concerned if that resolution called for the interference of such people who stood in the way of the turning out of a bill affecting child labor which would be a bill which would protect child labor. But it calls attention to one horn of the dilemma and leaves the other horn of the dilemma entirely off. Is it possible, Mr. Speaker, that only one side of the House was interested in this question. Is it possible that only those who were standing firm to protect children, and to write such a statute on the statute books of this Commonwealth as might protect them, stood in the way of perfecting legislation of that respect. When you adopt this resolution we unfortunately place the stamp of approval upon the action of those people. We absolutely wink at, if you please, Mr. Speaker, those people who have interested themselves on the other side, in demanding the pound of flesh. Do not overlook that when you vote upon this question to set aside the rules for the consideration of this question now. Here is a bill which is in here to be finally acted on and which attacks the honesty and the integrity of those members with whom this House entrusted that bill, not only their honesty of purpose but that of certain individuals who voluntarily stood in their position of representing child organizations on this child labor bill, that this resolution should be directed so pointedly at them and at the same time lose sight of the other side of the House, and the other horn of the dilemma. What of those people who have failed from the time this bill came up for consideration in the other House? If this be an investigation Mr. Speaker, if it is offered here with an honest and sincere purpose on the part of the august body that now wants to wash its linen; if that were to be the purpose, then I say, in the name of God and all that is good and holy, why don't they come into court with clean hands and say "Let us investigate this case from the ground up." The rules ought not to be set aside. This resolution ought to go down with the stamp of disapproval of this House upon it and when a resolution is offered which is fair, which is just, which explains the true state of affairs, which wants to get to the heart of the real affair, then and then only then should this House say "aye."

Mr. SPEISER. Mr. Speaker, a question more important than which is now before the House I presume will shortly come before us. Mr. Speaker, I have listened to the explanation made by my friend and colleague Mr. Walnut as to the attitude of the conference committee, that they had agreed to accept fifty-one and one-half hours. If that be true there can be no question that those people most vitally interested so far as the children are concerned, representing organizations organized for the purpose of protecting those children were satisfied with fifty-one and one-half hours. Then we have the intervention, gentlemen of the House, of whom? Of two men neither of whom were members of the committee, who were here in a political character. Why was it that those men would have interfered with our conference committee, and those people who had a perfect right to advise them, the officer of the organization organized for the purpose of protecting children. Had those two men a right to do that, and if it was a right, did it amount to anything higher than a political right. Was it for the purpose of saving those children from several hours work a week, or was it for the purpose, knowing that they could not get the hours they wanted, that they would rather have no child labor bill, but political capital.

Mr. SWIFT. Mr. Speaker, it seems to me, if we are to discuss the question of locating the responsibility, we need to go beyond this present hour and this day. I think the child labor bill was passed in the other end of the House in March, or the early part of April, and I have been querying all during this discussion, running over in my mind how it is that a bill of such vital importance, a bill that tries to protect the life, the future, the welfare of our children, of our nation, how it is that a question of such vital importance can be locked up in a committee in one part of this House and kept there for two months, and then at the very close of the Legislature that matter be rushed before us and an attempt made to consider it carefully and candidly not moved by any political conditions or any political interests. Mr. Speaker, it seems to me that if we are to locate the difficulty, we must locate it with the party that has locked this bill up and kept it locked up for two or three months and then at the very close of the Legislature, when men are tired and weary and are ready to turn their faces toward home, to plunge this question here upon us and compel us to consider it. It seems to me, sir, that there are influences that have been brought to bear, that some political game is being played which does not belong to this end of the House; and we are to begin the consideration now of such a vitally important question. It is not the question of to which party or what party the responsibility for this position depends on for this condition. I think, sir, we ought to open our eyes to the childhood of this State of ours and this Nation. We ought to lose sight, if you please, Mr. Speaker, for the time, of our own ambitions, our own selfish ideas, or whatever may come to us that we look for ourselves and see the tolling, struggling masses of childhood in this great country of ours. These children will be the men and the women of tomorrow and we are settling tonight very largely the destiny of the men and women who shall stand in these halls and the homes of this State and elsewhere to give us legislation to give us homes, to give us the coming generation, and the question is what shall we give them that shall best protect them as they now stand and as they must be in the future. Dollars and cents and factories and institutions for the time being must be buried when we consider life, when we consider character, when we consider manhood and womanhood. I tell you, as I said before, the business of this Legislature and every Legislature is not simply to protect any interests. Any great interest is not supreme over the protection of its men and its women, its boys and its girls, and so I say, it seems to me that we may bury and ought to bury at this very moment everything that seems to put in or appear as political play or what not and get right down to the question this moment, "what obligations are upon us concerning children in this State?" and if we shall not bury everything else, why my fiends thousands of children will lose their strength and power, and possibly manhood and womanhood while this investigation might be going on. Let us in this moment, I say to you, and I appeal to this House, forget the possibilities of political playing and let us ask ourselves the question first, "what does childhood demand?" Does it demand our protection? Does it demand legislation in its interests? And if it does, in the name of God and of truth let us give it to them. I haven't any idea that there is any factory that will go to the wall because of the passage of this bill. Around us, in the States about us we have heard of no such thing.

We have heard from every State that the passage of the child labor law has worked good, not simply for the child, but for the manufactories, and I say in the name of sense and right and righteousness and truth, let us give our loaves to the boys and girls for the time being and lose sight of politics and manufactories and give what we have all pledged to this State and then we shall accomplish our work and our mission.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to inquire whether the concurrent resolution has come back. We had better take up the bill.

Mr. RONEY. Mr. Speaker, I had intended some time ago to rise in place and ask the House out of consideration for the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Walnut, to keep away from him as much as possible, interrogation or anything else, which, after his very arduous day must be inconsiderate to say the least. So, Mr. Speaker, following out that thought and as we cannot now in all fairness ascertain facts which should be ascertained from Mr. Walnut out of brotherly consideration for him, it seems to me very important that this resolution should go through. Of course, as the gentleman from Beaver, Dr. Swift, has said, no politics should play any part in this child labor bill, and if politics has played any part, the mean type of manhood that would inject politics into it should be brought to the notice of the public. Mr. Speaker, I consider in this child labor bill, that there is a certain moral responsibility resting on every person having anything to do with it, and in this connection I hear in my ears now, the statement of the Secretary of the Child Labor Association, and the attorney for the Child Labor Association, who said to me that this present bill was a better bill than the present law and for that reason, even though it only gives the child a mite, this House will recall that only a short hour ago I moved to reconsider that vote by which the conference committee was discharged. Therefore I, out of the conscientious consideration of my responsibility in regard to children, should not be called to vote upon that Senate bill if this House could get a better bill. But, Mr. Speaker, when it was found impossible to get a better bill, then I said to myself, and I know ever member in the House said to himself, regardless of politics, "what is the best course for us to take now? Is this a better law than the present? If so, we must pass it." Then let the next Legislature educate itself up to the point of realizing what we have got to do, because public opinion will have its way, and then give the children of this State what they want. Mr. Speaker, I think this resolution should go through. I think we should know exactly what is keeping back the child labor bill from being the best possible bill we can get. Pass that resolution and we get that information and we have been further educated in the drafting of a real child labor bill.

Mr. MATT. Mr. Speaker, the whole argument seems to be on fifty-one and one-half hours.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I think we have now reached the limit of discussion on the suspension of the rules.

The SPEAKER. Yes, the discussion has gone considerably beyond the question of suspension of rules. The discussion of the bill will be in order when the House has before it the concurrence of the Senate in the discharge of the committee.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. MATT. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. MATT. Mr. Speaker, there seems to be an accusation against the committee, that the committee on the part of the Senate had made and would make concessions and I simply want to state, Mr. Speaker, that it is absolutely false. No concessions had been offered at all from the committee on the part of the Senate to the committee on the part of the House. More than that they absolutely gave this answer: That it is a bill that passed through the Senate; absolutely that or nothing. To hurl it broadcast over the State and over the Nation that this committee of three held up this child labor bill is absolutely false and if there is any politics in it it is on the other side, not on this side.

Then Mr. Baldwin made the remark that the lobby was sitting in the seats of the members of the House. It is here to-night, if you please. In connection with that I only wanted to set myself right, Mr. Speaker.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion to suspend the rules?

The SPEAKER declared the nays appeared to have it.

Whereupon, a division was called for, 48 voting in the affirmative and 68 in the negative. and the motion was not agreed to.

SENATE MESSAGES.

RESOLUTION CONCURRED IN BY SENATE.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has concurred in the resolution from the House of Representatives as follows, viz:

In the House of Representatives, June 27, 1913.

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the Committee of Conference on the Child Labor Bill, House Bill 119, be discharged.

RESOLUTION FOR CONCURRENCE.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, presented the following extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows, viz:

In the Senate, June 27, 1913.

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), that the Chief Clerks of the Senate and House of Representatives be directed to have the copy of the Journals of the two houses of this session prepared and placed in the hands of the Superintendent of Public Printing and Binding within thirty days after the close of the session and the Superintendent of Public Printing and Binding is hereby directed to have said Journals printed, bound and delivered to the Chief Clerks of the Senate and House of Representatives within ninety days after receipt of the copy therefor.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the resolution?

It was concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

MOTION TO RECEDE.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the House recede from its non-concurrence in the Senate amendments to House Bill No. 119, the Child Labor Bill.

Mr. MITCHELL. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. I take it, Mr. Speaker, that the motion of the gentleman from Delaware is out of order.

The motion is not to recede but the motion is to reconsider the vote.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I amend my motion so that it is to reconsider the vote by which we non-concurred in the amendments of the Senate.

The SPEAKER. Is that agreeable to the gentleman from Erie?

Mr. MITCHELL. Mr. Speaker. it is.

The SPEAKER. The motion then is that the House reconsider the vote by which it non-concurred in the Senate amendments to House Bill No. 119.

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. HEIDINGER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. HEIDINGER. Mr. Speaker, the House non-concurred in these amendments more than five days ago, and the motion is out of order for that reason.

The SPEAKER. The point of order is well taken.

Mr. SPEISER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the rule applying to the point of order shall be suspended to permit the motion to reconsider.

Mr. O'NEILL. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I now renew my motion to reconsider the vote by which the House non-concurred in the Senate amendments to House Bill 119.

Mr. MITCHELL. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. WALNUT. Mr. Speaker, I believe I have already made my position clear as to why the committee returned with the statement that they believed under the circumstances that the ultimate question of child labor would be advanced more by refusal to accept this bill offered to us by the Senate than by accepting it.

Our position is this. Our position is concurred in by every member in this House who has the interest of labor mostly at heart. Everyone of the gentlemen on this committee is equally interested in the interest of labor as any man in this House, but we felt that this bill constituted but a slight advance over the present law. In it children can be worked ten hours a day. There is a provision in it permitting of the working of children for more than ten hours, up to twelve hours. I do not believe that is going to mend matters a great deal.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I think the gentleman made a mistake when he made the remark that they could work them up to twelve hours a day.

Mr. WALNUT. Mr. Speaker, that is one of the considerations that convinced us that we are not getting very much of a change under this bill. There is another provision that provides for the working of children at night. For three different sessions, I believe, there has been an effort made in this Legislature to secure the passage of a bill that would prohibit the working of the children at night. I made an effort myself two years ago and introduced a bill. In that bill as it went through the House was a provision prohibiting the working of children at night. When it came back from the Senate it came back with the provision permitting the working of children at night in a business that required continuous day and night work. Of course there is no real need for employing children consistently at night, except in a business requiring a continuous day and night operation. I therefore feel that such a law is considerable of a mockery on our statute books. The Senate has amended this bill in exactly this particular, in the provision covering the working of the children at night.

In other particulars also the bill has been changed. The provision as to the enforcement of the bill was changed. We came here asking for a forty-eight hour week and an eight hour day. The Senate came back and asked for a fifty-five hour week and a ten hour day. That is the customary working in the textile or silk manufacturies. They have been working fifty-five hours a week in Luzerne and Lackawanna since 1908. In the textile manufacturing plants they have been working fifty-five hours a week and ten hours a day. The bill as it comes back is very little changed from the present law. It cuts it down apparently one hour. It cuts it down to fifty-four, instead of fifty-five as it now is. In stating my position on this bill, I want to explain clearly to the House just wherein this bill is a betterment on the present law, and wherein it does not do us any particular service. In the bill as it came from the Senate, relative to messengers, the change was made that no messenger boy under the age of eighteen could be employed after eleven o'clock P. M., and under the age of sixteen not after eight o'clock P. M., while the bill as it left the House prohibited the employment of a messenger boy under the age of twenty-one after eight o'clock in the evening. That is no better than the provisions of the present law regulating street trades. They have cut out the only effective means of enforcing that provision by striking out the provision that was, as I recall it opposed by certain members of the House, and that is the provision requiring boys between the ages of fourteen and sixteen to wear badges. To my mind that provision was a perfectly proper one, and the only way that I could conceive in which it could be properly enforced, and that is, making them wear badges. There would be no way for a police officer to determine the age of the boy engaged in a street trade, unless he wears a badge. I therefore think they have weakened the limitations of the street trades by striking out the most efficient way of determining the age or enforcing the provisions of the act. I feel that the present law that the Senate has sent over here, while it in some degree might be better than the present law on the statute books, in one particular at least it is worse. That is the clause relative to the canning business. It exempts that from the limitations under the act. There is no such exemption in our present law. You will therefore find that the hours of labor, I don't believe, are changed to any appreciable degree. You will find there is an elective clause in there which compares with the elective clause in the present act, which will accomplish the same purpose. In the bill as it now is upon the desks, we have a provision relating to a special holiday. Should the employer give the employes a holiday, then for the balance of the week the employer can insist upon them working two hours a day overtime to make up for the time taken off. There is another provision in there, relative to the stopping of machinery. Should the machinery stop for thirty minutes or more, there is no limitation whatever put upon the number of hours that the employer may require his employes to work to make up for that time. In the woman's bill we limited that. There is no conference committee report on this bill, and that, in its present form, is not limited. Taking it all in all, I feel myself, as probably most of you men will feel, that there is not a degree of advancement. We weaken the issue that was present when child labor was made a political issue. You cannot get away from that. It means the people of the Commonwealth are all taking an interest in this, so it is a public issue. When it ceases to be talked about, it will cease to be a political issue. Should this bill pass as it is now, and if we should come here next session and asked for further legislation, you will find that the proposition will at once be advanced that we have already secured something, why are we not satisfied with that. It promises a great deal, while it really does not accomplish anything like what we ask for. I call your attention to the fact that state after state in this Union have advanced an eight hour day and a forty-eight hour week. When you remember we asked for that, and when you remember that when the matter was discussed with the manufacturing interests they always said, "We are perfectly satisfied to work eight hours a day and forty-eight hours a week, but to do that it is going to place us in a position where we cannot compete with the manufacturers in other states where they do not have this law, you will appreciate the position they now take. I told them that Ohio, New York and Illinois had a eight hour day law. They said they did not enter into competition with them. They said, "We are competing with states engaged in the textile industry." I said, "New York has some textile industries, and Illinois has too." They said, "They are not engaged in exactly the same kind of work as we are. We do not fear their competition." I did not recognize the distinction. I said, "Where is your competition?" They said, "Massachusetts." They said, "We cannot compete with Massachusetts if you are going to give us an eight hour day." They said that they had a fifty-four hour week law in Massachusetts. Only two weeks ago the Governor of Massachusetts signed a forty-eight hour law, without any restrictive elective provisions in it whatever. Do you suppose the gentlemen then withdrew from their position on the proposition they advanced to me and other members of the legislature, that they were only insisting upon their legislation because they could not compete with Massachusetts? They did not recede one bit, but they stood pat on this subject. We have had a great deal of discussion about fifty-one and a half hours and fifty-four hours, and whether or not we could have gotten fifty-one and a half hours, or something else, or anything but a fifty-four hour week and a ten hour day. I do not ask anybody in this House to vote against this bill. I am stating the reasons that led me to feel the way I do. I may have read the provisions of this bill wrong as it came from the Senate, but I do not feel that we are getting a great deal out of this bill. The Child Labor association has not taken the position of either favoring or opposing the passage of this bill. I have talked with a number of the members of the association, and they have felt about it to some degree as I have. They did not know, and probably don't today whether they are convinced that the better way to advance child labor legislation in the long run is to oppose or reject this bill. I am of the opinion that you will weaken the provisions of the law if you pass this bill in its present condition. These are the reasons that led me to make this statement. I merely wanted to state the reasons that led up to this statement. I do not ask that anyone vote with me or against me on this proposition.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I will be very brief. I will hardly speak more than three or four minutes (cries for question all over the House interfered with the speaker continuing)

The SPEAKER. The question before the House is on the motion to reconsider the vote by which the House non-concurred in the amendments of the Senate?

The motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House concur in the amendments of the Senate?

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, it is a great pity that a bill of this very great importance is coming now to our consideration when all of us are so tired physically and mentally. It is a very great pity that we are being forced, exhausted as we are, to place ourselves to a vote on this bill, which is now upon final passage, through the Legislature to get it into the hands of the Executive, if it is successful, and make it into a law. A great deal of the night has been taken up by criticising the motives for and against this bill. Criticising those who have been for it and against it; criticising the conference committee that had charge of the bill, but I think that the statement that was made to this House candidly, fully, explicitly, by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Walnut, ought to convince us all that it would be a very great mistake for us to put ourselves on record as favorable to this legislation. When we started out with his remarks he told you frankly that he was in doubt. He has related his struggle. He has related to you the present law in the State of Pennsylvania and he has told you of the laws in the surrounding states. He has shown you the fallacy of the arguments of the manufacturers and stated that they opposed this law at first because competition would overcome them and swamp them. He has shown you how the act passed in Massachusetts and was signed by the Governor and their very foundation of a complaint from that standpoint has been removed. But he has not told you one thing which is indeed apparent in this case that the real reason for the objection and the delay in this case is the greed of the manufacturers. This bill was delayed in the Senate and it was held mercilessly by those in the Senate who had no right to oppose legislation of this character, and it was by the effort of the gentleman from the Senate (Senator Vare), who now sits in, or did in a seat of this House just a few moments ago, who forced the issue; who forced these same manufacturers to agree to fifty-one hours and when we come to meet that condition, when the House sends back its conference to accept the fifty-one and a half hours, we find again that we had to do with subterfuge and as was said by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Walnut, we have the highest faith in the actions of Senator Vare. We appreciate highly his strong efforts. Pennsylvania should not forget because that it was through his effort that we put the reform bills in the Governor's hands in the last forty-eight hours. The gentleman from Delaware says, that while he appreciates the efforts of the young man from Philadelphia, he does not believe that the message he brought back, came back from honest lips when it came from the manufacturers. He believes that they would have failed to reduce the bill to fifty-one and a half hours but we have proof that by sending it back to the Conference, by the remarks of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Speiser, on the floor of this House who speaks for his Senator; who was working all last night and today to bring about aid for the children and all this day he has been evaded by its representatives who gave him the promise of fifty-one and a half hours. Why? men in the House, because they didn't intend to keep the promise; because they were evading the promise the same as they evaded the proposition when they urged under the pretense of objecting to it on account of competition, and when they attempted to hide their greed in the pretense that Massachusetts in competition would over-come their industry, and when the Massachusetts Legislature and the Governor made the law eight hours, that subterfuge was refused. Now, we are met with what? We are met with a bill that comes from the Senate with nothing. Not one help to the child. We find now, as was said by the Representatives having child labor under consideration, that they work the children for fifty-five hours; that the law says they could work them for fifty-eight hours. They now offer us by statute to make it fifty-four hours, but in fact it is more than fifty-four hours with their special holidays; with their cunning exceptions; with their glass house exceptions, they attempt to give to us by statute that which is worse than we have on our statute books today. They give us specifically fifty-four hours a week and then with their exceptions they take that much more from it. I have the highest faith in the integrity of the gentleman from Philadelphia, (Senator Vare) representing the lower sections in which there are thousands of working children who are living in the State of Pennsylvania, and I have fought with him in his political fights and I am proud to stand by his side. When he came to the rescue as he did for the children but he gained nothing for the children if he allows this bill now, as it comes from the Senate and writes itself on the statute books, that puts the child and the advocate of the child's protection in this position. What is the object? It is that when we come to the next session and they are asked for this great reform, we are met by a very appropriate answer: "You got your reform last session. We gave you a law last session. Why do you come back and ask us again? Do you want to drive our industry from the State? Do you want to crush us down?" They give us that answer when ever they give us any relief whatever. I am sorry that our conferees didn't accept the fifty-one and a half hours if they possibly had it in their hands. I am sorry they didn't say they would take it and then use the force of reference to the messenger who brought it and if denied he could rise in his silent might and condemn publicly in the House those manufacturers if they had falsified. We missed that. That is a tactic that we passed and we are now meeting a big issue after passing that one technical error. I don't say that with any displeasure with the conferees. I believe they worked hard. We are now meeting a great responsibility; perplexing, as was said by the gentleman, Mr. Walnut. The gentleman must have been misled. Don't let us put ourselves on record as giving the child something as we are really giving the child nothing. Rather let the news go out in this broad land that the Senate prevented by their delay, by their own unfair amendments, to give to the children working in the factories a proper protection and men of the House, don't let us be misled by the gentleman from Delaware who speaks about getting something better than we have now. Do you remember when this bill was before the House, how different it was then? How he fought for delay? Do you remember how he fought for delay and how he voted against it? Now, after all this time, after fighting for delay and voting as he did, he is in favor of the bill and desires to vote for the bill against which he voted before. Don't be misled by his desiring to rush this through to the Governor. There is something back of the giving of help to this bill and to giving the child protection. Something must have caused that change of heart. I wish, Mr. Speaker, that I could have a bill here before me to vote for such as I hoped, when I saw the Senator with whom I have associated, working in the Senate to get. I wish I could stand here with his other friends and vote for the fifty-one and a half hour bill, for a bill that would bring to this Legislature the honor that it deserves. Before taking my seat, I want to say I will register my vote against this bill, thinking that I do so to the best interest of the working child in this Commonwealth. If there is an extra session, the Governor dare not eliminate this from his call. If there is no extra session, in two years time, the people in their night will bring the responsibility of the failure of this and will see that it is put in its proper form and placed where it belongs in the State of Pennsylvania, and, Mr. Speaker there will be no one man in that Senate who has put himself so clearly before the people as a friend of the working child, the friend of the people, who have demanded reform legislation. Though this bill fails tonight, as it ought to fail, yet not one whit of responsibility will they lay at his door and he deserves all praise in this House and the praise of the people for the efforts that he has brought to bear on this bill. This has not brought fruit to this bill tonight but it will bring fruit two years from now.

Mr. PIPER. Mr. Speaker, I rise tonight to speak on this bill, not in a political manner because I have no love for any political party in so far as this bill is concerned but because as I have had from the beginning of this session the cause of labor at heart in my work here. When I cast my vote tonight, it will be under protest. The arguments set forth tonight for and against this bill have gotten me into a position where I hardly know what to do. If I had the labor in the City of Philadelphia, where I reside, here tonight listening to the arguments, I might be able to secure good advice from them, but on the other hand, none of them being present, to give any advice as to what they are willing to accept, it is left to me to use my best judgment. I have had some of them from time to time tell me to get in this State Legislature, the best that could be gotten and I feel that it is my duty tonight to lay aside all thoughts of partisanship, to lay aside all questions of politics and consider what will be to the best interests of those whom I serve. I realize that the Grundys and the Woods in the State of Pennsylvania have used every effort in their power to defeat this bill as it was drawn up. They have been unsuccessful, but they have been successful in having the bill amended where it is finally not a much better bill to us than the present law now on our statute books. We have this day passed a bill in this House, bill No. 105, where women shall work 54 hours per week. That bill in itself, gentlemen of the House, will force every child to come under the same hours and therefore the bill that is now before us is not much better than the bill that has been passed for the women of Pennsylvania. And for that I will have to answer to my constituents. I will have to answer to those who work in factories where they have no women to conduct or regulate when it is necessary for children to be in them. And so I say that my mind has been wandering as to what is best for me to do here tonight. Whether or not I may be criticized, I do not know, but I am going to do what I feel in my mind is the best thing to do. And therefore I am going to cast my vote tonight in favor of this bill. But let it be remembered, Mr. Speaker, and members of the House, that when I cast my vote in favor of this measure, it is under protest. The Senate has not treated the laboring child of this Commonwealth as it should be treated. They have not treated this House of Representatives as it should be treated.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. Speaker, when this bill was first introduced in this House, I voted for it and I voted for it with the expectation that the bill would become a law but as the conferees representing the House could not get all they asked for and the statement has been made that they did get something of a beneficial character. I feel that the members of this House will not land themselves to any plan whereby political capital may be made. The statement has been made upon this floor that they will do away with this bill and there will be no child labor legislation for this General Assembly. Political capital. We are not here interested in politics. The question that concerns us most deeply is that of humanity, and I want to say for the information of my fellow members that the representatives of the organizations that have been clamoring for legislation beneficial to the child, on the floor of this House, asked the members of this House to vote for this bill. If it were that there but one hour of benefit given to the children, it is so much gained, and when my friend says that to come back to the next Legislature with legislation already enacted along these lines that we could not get any further concession, that is ridiculous. A step in the right direction leads for another to follow and I say to the gentlemen of this House that I put this matter squarely before the representatives of the various organizations who seek legislation beneficial to children and they said that they were satisfied. I believe that any man on the floor of this House who fails to vote for this bill will be submitted to severe criticism, and I ask the gentlemen of this House to vote in favor of this bill.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I hope gentlemen you will bear with me only for a few minutes. The first thing that I desire to say is that it shall not be written in the records of this House that the manufacturers of the State of Pennsylvania are insensible to the interests of their employees, all of them or even one-third of them. I want to say that under my observation of the various manufacturing concerns of my county when I go down and see the employees of the textile plants and the other industries and see the people turn out I will back them against any people of that class on the map of the globe. It is not fair to hold up the great manufacturing interests of our State as people who are insensible to the interests and the welfare of their people and regardless of their conditions, and are grabbing every dollar for themselves. There is a difference of opinion as to this labor question and on the propositions contained in this bill, and there is an honest difference of opinion. I have mingled among the textile workers of my county, and I have talked this question over with them, and I never heard one of them ask for less than fifty-five hours. I want to say to the members of the House in answer to the gentleman who said I was unfriendly to this bill, that I was unfriendly to it when it contained a forty-eight hour clause. I believe a forty-eight hour law put upon our statute books would work exactly opposite to what those who are advocating a forty-eight hour law intend it to work. It would drive that class of labor out and then where would the family having four or five helpers be. It is a question that should be approached with consideration. It might be well to let this question go for another eighteen short months and then you will get this question again before you and you will then be able to more intelligently consider it and give it more consideration than you can tonight. Now what surprised me most is this, that the gentleman who represented this committee, who studied the bill clear through should come into the House and try to give the impression that there is not a reduction of four hours in a legal weeks work in the State of Pennsylvania. The statute was fifty-eight hours a week, now this bill reduces it to fifty-four. I am not going to discuss the action over in the Senate. I would have voted for fifty-one and one half hours, and it might be that I would have voted for fifty hours I think this bill has many features in it that will benefit the child laborers of our State, and that it is a step in the right direction, and I do think this House will make a great mistake if it does not accept this bill in its present form.

Mr. ISLER. Mr. Speaker, I am going to vote for this bill, the same as my friend from Philadelphia, under protest. One of my arguments in the campaign in coming to the Legislature was to enact better child labor laws. There are still good features in this bill, but some of the very best have been eliminated by the Senate. You talk about manufacturers being put out of business by shortening the hours. Twenty-seven years ago in the city or Pittsburgh, we all worked ten hours a day. We asked for nine hours. They said, "What do you fellows want?" We said, "We want nine hours." We got it and also got a great deal better conditions for manufacturers and employees. And a few years later we went for eight hours a day and we had quite a fight but prevailed, and I want to tell you gentlemen that they are still in business and they are making just as much and more money today than even before and there are better contented more prosperous and healthful mechanics working in the shops and they are doing better and more work in eight hours than they had done in ten. The textile manufacturers think it is all right to grind people down for fifty-four hours, but it is not right to work babies that way and that is what they do. I do not know so much about the textile industry, but I have seen babies in the tobacco factories, cigar factories and toby factories in the City of Pittsburgh, that were not really able to pronounce their own names, working from six in the morning until six at night. Why gentlemen it is an outrage for any one to come and tell you or tell anybody that he has to have these children in there or he cannot exist. It is outrageous. But I will vote for the bill, but under protest that it is not what it should be.

Mr. J. A. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, I would like the opportunity to say something on this question.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman from Philadelphia want a minute.

Mr. J. A. DUNN. Two minutes, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. Go ahead.

Mr. JAMES A. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, coming from the ranks of labor, having charge of children, women and men for the past twenty years, I think I have a right at this time to say a few words in regard to this very important bill that is on the floor now. When I was elected a member in this session and placed on the Labor and Industry

Committee, it was my purpose to see that Labor should be benefitted by laws enacted in the session of this Legislature. When the Child Labor bill was before that Committee, I was one of the most active members on that Committee to try to see that the child labor, the labor with which I have been in contact for twenty years, should be helped in their condition, and when this bill was referred to a sub-committee I, with the other members of that sub-committee, sat long hours after this session adjourned one day trying to perfect a bill and bring into this House what we thought was a perfect bill in regards to child labor and we passed it. I spoke to a newspaper member on this particular bill that night after we thought we had perfected that bill and one of the leaders of that labor movement came to me and says: "Mr. Dunn, I want to tell you something now that I would not tell you before. I was informed by a newspaper representative here—

The SPEAKER. The time has expired.

Mr. J. A. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, I will vote for the bill.

On the question recurring,

Will the House concur in the amendments of the Senate? Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken, and were as follows, viz:

Less than the majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the negative, and the amendments not concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

Mr. NEELY. Mr. Speaker, "aye" to "no."

Mr. RONEY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Neely.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman from Philadelphia desire to challenge the vote of the gentleman from Allegheny?

Mr. RONEY. No sir, Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman.

The SPEAKER. Not unless the gentleman challenges his vote.

Mr. RONEY. Mr. Speaker, then I challenge his vote. I was going to ask the gentleman whether he voted under a misapprehension?

Mr. NEELY. Mr. Speaker, I did.

Mr. RONEY. Mr. Speaker, did he listen to the argument of Mr. Scott.

Mr. NEELY. Mr. Speaker, I did.

Mr. RONEY. Mr. Speaker, as the gentleman has decided the question of his misapprehension, I have no further challenge.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman's vote is not challenged.

Mr. GRAMLEY. Mr. Speaker, I vote "aye" under protest.

REASONS FOR VOTE.

Mr. BERGEY. Mr. Speaker, convinced that the interest of Child Labor has been betrayed by the arbitrary conduct on the part of the Senate, I vote "no."

Mr. HEMMINGER. I vote "no" on the Child Labor Law, believing that the Senate Law is a "makeshift" and is drawn in the interest of manufacturers and does not give justice to the children.

REPORT OF CONFERENCE COMMITTEE.

The SPEAKER. The Chair lays before the House the report of the Committee on Conference on House Bill No. 1117, known as the General Appropriation Bill.

The Chair calls the attention of the members to the fact that on page 37, line 964, the word "Commission" has been changed to "Commissioner" and the gentlemen will read their bills accordingly.

NAYS—2.

Humes,

Metzenbacher,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative, and the conference report adopted.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, I suspect that every member of the House knows in the passage of the last bill, just what the Conference Committee did. Doubtless all members of the House are aware of the fact that the Conference Committee presented to this House a bill reduced by one million three hundred and thirty thousand dollars over the way it came into this House from the Senate. A great credit belongs to every member of that Committee, especially knowing as I do the workings of that Conference Committee, and this House is indebted to that faithful, honest, sincere and earnest member, Mr. W. H. Wilson, and I move that in recognition of the services rendered by the Conference Committee that a rising vote of thanks be tendered to them.

Mr. SASSAMAN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

By a rising vote the motion was unanimously agreed to.

SENATE MESSAGE.

SENATE ADOPTS REPORT OF CONFERENCE COMMITTEE.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced informed that the Senate has adopted the report of the conference committee on the subject of the differences existing between the two houses on House Bill No. 1117, entitled:

An Act to provide for the ordinary expenses of the Executive Judicial and Legislative Departments of the Commonwealth interest on the public debt and the support of the public schools for the two fiscal years beginning June first one thousand nine hundred and thirteen and for the payment of bills incurred and remaining unpaid at the close of the fiscal year ending May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred and thirteen

BILL SIGNED BY THE SPEAKER.

The Speaker announced that the Chief Clerk having reported that the following bill had passed both Houses of the General Assembly and the same being correct, the title was publicly read as follows:

COMMENDATION OF SPEAKER.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, is there anything before the House at this time?

The SPEAKER. There is not.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, I desire on behalf of my Democratic colleagues to extend to the Speaker of this House their thanks for the uniform kindness and courtesy which he has shown us during the entire session just ending. This has been a long and trying session and one in which there were many situations which were no doubt very critical and were it not for the unfailing patience and courtesy of the Speaker, it is difficult to contemplate what might have been the result at different times; but I want to say that in all my past experience I have never been treated more fairly by a Speaker of this House and I feel sure that I but voice the sentiment of my colleagues, when I say that each and every one of us desire to thank you for the kind treatment which you have accorded us as presiding officer of this body.

The SPEAKER. The Chair certainly appreciates the remarks of the gentleman from Elk and the Chair is glad to be able to testify that throughout this session there never has been in any way the slightest effort on the part of any member of the minority party to in any way embarrass the Speaker.

RESOLUTION THANKING SPEAKER ALTER.

Mr. DICKINSON offered the following resolution, which was twice read and agreed to:

Resolved, That the thanks of the House of Representatives be and is hereby tendered to the Honorable George E. Alter, Speaker of the House of Representatives, for the able and efficient and impartial manner in which he has presided over the deliberations of the House during the present session.

RESOLUTION THANKING PRESS.

Mr. WHITAKER offered the following resolution, which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

Resolved, That the thanks of the House of Representatives be tendered the Representatives of the press for the faithful performance of their duties in reporting its proceedings to the public.

Mr. McDERMOTT. Mr. Speaker, I have an objection to that. On last Saturday the Harrisburg "Patriot" published an article about the investigation and stated that your humble servant partook of the good stuff in Number 249. All of the others got it right with the exception of the Patriot. I do not blame the paper, but I do blame the gentleman who wrote the article, because I believe he knew better. I gave them a chance to correct it and called at their office and they did not do so. I think the gentleman made a mistake, an unjust mistake, and I hope he will apologize, if he is in the House, and then I will let the resolution go through.

Mr. WHITAKER. Mr. Speaker, I am willing that the resolution shall be amended so as to except the article to which the gentleman refers.

NOTIFICATION TO THE HOUSE THAT THE SENATE IS READY TO ADJOURN.

Messrs. Salus and Hunter, a Committee on the part of the Senate being introduced informed the House that they were instructed by the Senate to notify the House that the Senate is ready to adjourn at 12:00 o'clock midnight, this day.

RESOLUTION THANKING LEGISLATIVE JOURNAL REPORTERS.

Mr. McALEER offered the following resolution, which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

Resolved, That the House of Representatives extend its appreciation to the reporters for the Legislative Journal for the highly satisfactory way in which its debates and speeches of the body have been reported.

RESOLUTION THANKING THE PAGES.

Mr. WILTBANK offered the following resolution, which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

Resolved, That the thanks of the members of the House of Representatives be tendered to the pages for their agility and fleet-footedness.

RESOLUTION THANKING THE CHAPLAIN.

Mr. MOSES offered the following resolution, which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

Resolved, That the thanks of this Legislature be extended to the Rev. J. Elliot Wright for the strict attention to his duties and the kind thoughts expressed of our afflicted members, as well as their families.

RESOLUTION THANKING CLERKS AND OFFICERS.

Mr. McNICHOL offered the following resolution, which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

Resolved, That the thanks of the House of Representatives is hereby tendered to the clerks and officers of the House of Representatives for the faithful and efficient performance of their duties.

RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO APPOINTMENT OF A COMMITTEE TO WAIT UPON THE SENATE.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN offered the following resolution, which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

Resolved, That a committee of three be appointed to wait upon the Senate and inform that body that the House is ready to adjourn at 12:00 o'clock midnight, June 27th, 1913.

APPOINTMENT OF COMMITTEE TO WAIT UPON THE SENATE.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will appoint as said committee, Messrs. Glenn, Roney and Swift.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE TO WAIT UPON THE SENATE.

The Committee appointed to wait upon the Senate and inform that body that the House was ready to adjourn "sine die" at 12:00 o'clock midnight, this day, reported that they had performed the duty for which they were appointed.

SENATE MESSAGE.

RESOLUTION FOR CONCURRENCE.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced presented the following extract from the Journal of the Senate.

In the Senate, June 27th, 1913.

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That a committee of three be appointed to wait upon the Governor in conjunction with a similar committee (if the House shall appoint such committee) and inform him that the General Assembly will be ready to adjourn sine die at 12 o'clock midnight.

Messrs. Snyder, Beidleman and Huffman have been appointed on behalf of the Senate.

Ordered, That the Clerk present same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the resolution?

It was concurred in.

APPOINTMENT OF COMMITTEE TO WAIT UPON THE GOVERNOR.

The SPEAKER. The Chair appoints as a committee to wait upon the Governor Messrs. Mitchel, Spelser and Metzenbacher.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE TO WAIT UPON THE GOVERNOR.

Mr. MITCHELL. Mr. Speaker, the committee appointed by the House of Representatives to wait upon the Governor begs to report that it has communicated to his Excellency, the Governor, the message on the part of the House, that the Assembly is about to adjourn sine die. His Excellency has stated that he has no further communications to send to either branch. He wishes us to extend his congratulations and his thanks for the uniform courtesy and kindness that every member of both bodies has shown to him.

The SPEAKER. The Committee is discharged with the thanks of the House.

ADJOURNMENT.

The SPEAKER (George E. Alter): The hour fixed by the concurrent resolution for the adjournment of the General Assembly having now arrived I now declare this House adjourned "sine die."

COMMENDATION OF SPEAKER.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, is there anything before the House at this time?

The SPEAKER. There is not.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, I desire on behalf of my Democratic colleagues to extend to the Speaker of this House their thanks for the uniform kindness and courtesy which he has shown us during the entire session just ending. This has been a long and trying session and one in which there were many situations which were no doubt very critical and were it not for the unflinching patience and courtesy of the Speaker, it is difficult to contemplate what might have been the result at different times; but I want to say that in all my past experience I have never been treated more fairly by a Speaker of this House and I feel sure that I but voice the sentiment of my colleagues, when I say that each and every one of us desire to thank you for the kind treatment which you have accorded us as presiding officer of this body.

The SPEAKER. The Chair certainly appreciates the remarks of the gentleman from Elk and the Chair is glad to be able to testify that throughout this session there never has been in any way the slightest effort on the part of any member of the minority party to in any way embarrass the Speaker.

RESOLUTION THANKING SPEAKER ALTER.

Mr. DICKINSON offered the following resolution, which was twice read and agreed to:

Resolved, That the thanks of the House of Representatives be and is hereby tendered to the Honorable George E. Alter, Speaker of the House of Representatives, for the able and efficient and impartial manner in which he has presided over the deliberations of the House during the present session.

RESOLUTION THANKING PRESS.

Mr. WHITAKER offered the following resolution, which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

Resolved, That the thanks of the House of Representatives be tendered to the Representatives of the press for the faithful performance of their duties in reporting its proceedings to the public.

Mr. McDERMOTT. Mr. Speaker, I have an objection to that. On last Saturday the Harrisburg "Patriot" published an article about the investigation and stated that your humble servant partook of the good stuff in Number 249. All of the others got it right with the exception of the Patriot. I do not blame the paper, but I do blame the gentleman who wrote the article, because I believe he knew better. I gave them a chance to correct it and called at their office and they did not do so. I think the gentleman made a mistake, an unjust mistake, and I hope he will apologize, if he is in the House, and then I will let the resolution go through.

Mr. WHITAKER. Mr. Speaker, I am willing that the resolution shall be amended so as to except the article to which the gentleman refers.

NOTIFICATION TO THE HOUSE THAT THE SENATE IS READY TO ADJOURN.

Messrs. Salus and Hunter, a Committee on the part of the Senate being introduced informed the House that they were instructed by the Senate to notify the House that the Senate is ready to adjourn at 12:00 o'clock midnight, this day.

RESOLUTION THANKING LEGISLATIVE JOURNAL REPORTERS.

Mr. McALEER offered the following resolution, which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

Resolved, That the House of Representatives extend its appreciation to the reporters for the Legislative Journal for the highly satisfactory way in which its debates and speeches of the body have been reported.

RESOLUTION THANKING THE PAGES.

Mr. WILTBANK offered the following resolution, which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

Resolved, That the thanks of the members of the House of Representatives be tendered to the pages for their agility and fleet-footedness.

RESOLUTION THANKING THE CHAPLAIN.

Mr. MOSES offered the following resolution, which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

Resolved, That the thanks of this Legislature be extended to the Rev. J. Elliot Wright for the strict attention to his duties and the kind thoughts expressed of our afflicted members, as well as their families.

RESOLUTION THANKING CLERKS AND OFFICERS.

Mr. McNICHOL offered the following resolution, which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

Resolved, That the thanks of the House of Representatives is hereby tendered to the clerks and officers of the House of Representatives for the faithful and efficient performance of their duties.

RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO APPOINTMENT OF A COMMITTEE TO WAIT UPON THE SENATE.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN offered the following resolution, which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

Resolved, That a committee of three be appointed to wait upon the Senate and inform that body that the House is ready to adjourn at 12:00 o'clock midnight, June 27th, 1913.

APPOINTMENT OF COMMITTEE TO WAIT UPON THE SENATE.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will appoint as said committee, Messrs. Glenn, Roney and Swift.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE TO WAIT UPON THE SENATE.

The Committee appointed to wait upon the Senate and inform that body that the House was ready to adjourn "sine die" at 12:00 o'clock midnight, this day, reported that they had performed the duty for which they were appointed.

SENATE MESSAGE.

RESOLUTION FOR CONCURRENCE.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced presented the following extract from the Journal of the Senate.

In the Senate, June 27th, 1913.

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That a committee of three be appointed to wait upon the Governor in conjunction with a similar committee (if the House shall appoint such committee) and inform him that the General Assembly will be ready to adjourn sine die at 12 o'clock midnight.

Messrs. Snyder, Beidleman and Huffman have been appointed on behalf of the Senate.

Ordered, That the Clerk present same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the resolution?

It was concurred in.

APPOINTMENT OF COMMITTEE TO WAIT UPON THE GOVERNOR.

The SPEAKER. The Chair appoints as a committee to wait upon the Governor Messrs. Mitchel, Speiser and Metznerbacher.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE TO WAIT UPON THE GOVERNOR.

Mr. MITCHELL. Mr. Speaker, the committee appointed by the House of Representatives to wait upon the Governor begs to report that it has communicated to his Excellency, the Governor, the message on the part of the House, that the Assembly is about to adjourn sine die. His Excellency has stated that he has no further communications to send to either branch. He wishes us to extend his congratulations and his thanks for the uniform courtesy and kindness that every member of both bodies has shown to him.

The SPEAKER. The Committee is discharged with the thanks of the House.

ADJOURNMENT.

The SPEAKER (George E. Alter): The hour fixed by the concurrent resolution for the adjournment of the General Assembly having now arrived I now declare this House adjourned "sine die."
